WORK IN PROGRESS

I made most of my research using handwritten notes, so I'm updating the doc' with it when I have the time to do so.

As you can imagine, this document take A very, very, very long TIME to complete and to Edit, especially in a way that everyone will be able to understand what is being said, so I am implementing new ideas, modifying things all the time, some parts are left blank as it is a work in progress, as new information is being disclosed and / or uncovered everyday.

Please, distribute this document as you see fit as the baseline information is essentially complete: Q's posts & worldwide events.

AUTHOR'S NOTE

I created this documentation to log Q's posts without losing any information. I saw this as the most important thing to do and within my abilities to do it. Everything is centralized in one document that be readable for everyone.

I'm updating it daily and trying to add my handwritten note here and there.

I'm only 24 years old, but I've been awake for quite some times now. It wasn't easy being young and awake. I've been digging for many kinds of information, from many disciplines for years now, so I've accumulated a significant repository of knowledge and researches.

When I saw the first Q posts I was immediately drawn to it, so I had to dig in, like all of you who are reading this document. I purposefully keep my conclusions for the end of the document to keep from diluting Q's message with my own understanding of events, I want everyone to read Q's posts first, if this happening isn't over at the time you are reading this. They have a great power in regards to red pilling people with questions they will feel the need to answer themselves.

Whatever you read online (including this document), only believe what resonate as true within the scope of your own mind and intuition.

I'm human just as you are, we all make mistakes. I've done an incredible amount of research and work, but as Q's posts are quite mysterious and leading, I can easily make a mistake even though from my point of view I could be right. Who knows? Maybe you could be wrong? Both of us? Both rights?

If you have any other information that I may have missed, even if it is just an idea or theory, please contact me as I would like to hear all perspective. If you see any errors, 404 links, anything else wrong, please let me know! Thanks!

As I said, I'm compiling all the information I can get, not only from 4chan, 8chan, Facebook, Twitter, YouTube, MSM, Alternative Media, Books, Newspaper, Documentations, online researches and so on but also directly from the "lurkers" (people who read, browse the web without interacting / talking with others), from anyone. Cooperation is key. Information is key.

Much love,
I AM BECAUSE WE ARE.

One
be used as a foundation for a mountain of lies, and if we dig down deep enough in the mountain of lies, and bring out that truth, to set it on top of the mountain of lies; the entire mountain of lies will crumble under the weight of that one truth, and there is nothing more devastating to a structure of lies than the revelation of the truth upon which the structure of lies was built, because the shock waves of the revelation of the truth reverberate, and continue to reverberate throughout the Earth for generations to follow, awakening even those people who had no desire to be awakened to the truth.

Preface

PREFACE

INTRODUCTION

If you don't know what this Q story is about yet, you are about to go down the rabbit hole. A fascinating, creepy, scary, disgusting and mind blowing deep hole. This is not for the faint of heart but you've to face the truth as awful it could be. Why? Because real eyes realize real lies. It is only once humanity will have faced the lies and awakened to the truth that we will be able to accept the horrors of our past and ensure they will never happen again.

This story is not only about America, but about the World! It has already reached millions of people around the globe, many of whom arewilling to fight for the cause of good, the words in these pages having spoken to their very souls. Times of big change are coming, and may, in fact, already be upon us.

Some of you may be new to all of this and many will have been following this from the beginning. This document exists to connect the dots between events, very specific events that have been designed at the very least by human hands to control and enslave all the peoples of the world.

This document is a chronological guide to the crumb trail left by Q and attempts to interpret and dissiminate the information Q has provided. Along the way, the history of the Cabal and how humanity has been lied to and manipulated for possibly millenia is revealed as well as the current fight by the Donald Trump administration of the United States of America to destroy the Cabal forever in collusion with both new and old allies of the world.

We were taught what they wanted us to know in each age since their insidious planning began centuries ago. They did this because they knew if they could enslave our knowledge, they could enslave our future and then by extension the next generation as well. Through a perpetual filtering and modification of knowledge that has been happening throughout recorded history, they have ensured that the changes they want to make are not only available to them, but that huge portions of the population, that they have willingly kept ignorant of the truth of freedom, would fight and die for them without hesitation.

If you are totally unaware of this and still think what the hell is going on here? Feel free to keep reading. The Q posts have a fascinating way of making you reconsider not just your personal world and how you interact with it, but the world at large as well. The posts are mostly questions that answer themselves but some make you think deeper, dig, and research to connect dots you may have never considered connecting before.

These "drops" or "crumbs" as they're called began near the end of October in 2017 on 4Chan.org's /pol/ (Politically Incorrect) board. 4Chan is comprised of a series of images based forum boards where the internet community at large has the ability to express themselves. The vast majority of people post on 4chan anonymously (aka "anons") and can create and post in threads without exposing their non-internet based identity.

On the 28th of October, 2017, an "insider" began making claims to be a Trump administration clearance holder. Q clearance, in particular. Soon the denizens of /pol/ began using the moniker "Q" as a means of identification for the supposed insider and their predictive and leading posts about world events. Q's posts coincided in a shockingly accurate way with world events and stood out as a possible hopeful presence for the removal of the invisible strings of control surrounding our everyday lives.

Soon, the /CBTS/ (Calm Before the Storm) threads were formed, numbered and organized, rapidly garnering the attention of the internet community at large. Q's presence had quickly inspired many youtube channels, twitter feeds, and awakenings among the people who could feel the yoke of oppression slipping from their shoulders and restoring hope.

Read and analyze the posts yourself. Pay attention to details as there can be several meanings to a single statement. Use your instincts, check your facts, and think critically. And please, take your time and digest this as you can handle it. The revelations in these pages aren't for the faint of heart or those who's minds can't be changed.

Good luck, Godspeed.

The Q Clearance is basicly the Highest Clearance officially recognized in the U.S. Governement from the DoE (Departement of Energy) as you can verify on Wikiedia for example: https://en.wikipedia.org/wiki/Q_clearance there are probably higher Clearance that are not publicly known or even maybe unacknowledged.

HOW EVERYTHING BEGUN

Q Clearance Anon is a high-level anonymous source who has been dropping "bread crumbs" for several months, signaling worldwide governments & corporate corruption. Three families of focus include the Saud, Rothschild, & Soros families. He's basically been exposing the Cabal.

The Saud family was the center of the recent arrests in Saudi Arabia (SA). They are thought to be connected to 9/11, Vegas, & a globalist agenda. SA is VERY connected to corporate America & corrupt politicians. The Podesta Group lobbied on behalf of SA, & Saudi Arabia has donated to the Clinton Foundation (CF), the John M Institute, Harvard, Georgetown, & Barack Obama (BO).

James Rothschild is the owner of Comet Ping Pong, which has been the subject of human trafficking accusations.

George Soros recently transferred $18bil to a NP. He supports the leftist agenda by funding numerous leftist groups, including ANTIFA. One of his top hedge fund managers was recently arrested for human trafficking. One victim claims he said, "I'm going to rape you like I rape my daughter." Soros is also connected financially to Clinton, McCain, & the Saudis.

The Clinton Foundation has taken money from many dirty places. Evidence shows that the CF funneled money through Perkins Coie to retain Fusion GPS (FGPS) & create the Trump Dossier. We know Clinton bought the DNC & possibly influenced Trump's campaign hires to validate the Dossier. James Comey reportedly received $6 million from Lockheed Martin, who also donated to the CF & once employed Stephen Paddock.

Wikileaks recently released VAULT 8, which shows that [C]lowns [I]n [A]merica has the ability to impersonate Russian cyber security firm, Kaspersky Lab, which means they can put Russia's fingerprint on anything. NYT then released an article about [N]o [S]our [A]pples breach, where [C]lowns [I]n [A]merica condemned [N]o [S]our [A]pples & blamed Russia.

Other things we are looking into: Satanic Rituals, Occult Symbolism, Human Trafficking, Vatican, IC, $$ Transactions, BlackRock Financial, Seth Rich, Uranium ONE, Vegas, FED, Petrodollar, NK, Alien/Disclosure, Red Cross, Titanic, Hefner, CIA & Ravi Traverse, Sealed Indictments, EU & UK Royal Families, Israel & Zionism, Rothschild Family, Why? Everything has a reason. Everything is connected. Follow the White Rabbit.

IS Q A LEGITIMATE INSIDER?

WHAT IS THE BELIEF TO BE CONFIRMED?

Q is an anon who supposedly have "Q clearance", which was proved legit by time, that indeed he's someone with direct intel and that works closely with The President Donald J. Trump, the beliefs tend to go as Q is a group of people with certain clearance of intel.

DO THE FACTS CONFIRM THIS?

- Fact 1. Q posted a bunch of stuff. 7 minutes later the President ended a tweet with "+++." 7 minutes later Q posted with "+++" (POTUS has rarely if ever used symbols in his tweets)
- Fact 2. Trump posted a photo on twitter file-named "DOITQ". Connect the dots of the "Thumbs up" in the photo and you draw a "Q." Place 16 random Scrabble letters in a row. What are the odds that you will spell anything in any 6 or more letters that would make sens? The name of the uploaded file is randomly generated. Let alone anything that could read as Q confirmation. Is random or human more likely?

The « DOITQ » picture shared on Twitter

Edited version that shows the «Q» formed by the thumbs up.

- Fact 3. Photo of North Korea shows up in POTUS welcome home from Asia video. For sure someone close to POTUS put that photo in the video. Q also posted a picture (before POTUS on Twitter) that we identified as being over North Korea, he asked many questions about NK and hinted that Barack Obama was possibly in NK at the time.

- Fact 4. After telling us that the Rothschild ++ are now being targeted, the helicopter story crash at the Buckinghamshire's Rothschild Domain happened. Mission failed for unknown reason. 3 bodies identified, not the fourth one. No news of Lord Jacob de Rothschild since then.

- Fact 5. We (several anons) asked Q on the 11/20/17 (CST) around 3:40am (CST) on the CBTS #445 thread to tweet wonderful day. Next day –after 24h no tweet- from Donald J Trump, the 11/21/17 at 2:49pm (CST) he tweeted our request. → See picture above (Figure 1).
- Fact 6. Trump's Thanksgiving Message: VIDEO LINK
  >0:36 "AS STORMS RAGED WILD"
  >0:41 "Their first act was to pray"
  >1:39 "Restore... Thanks... Patriots.. Warriors who kept us safe and free"
  >3:44 "We are doing something special. People are feeling It"
- Fact 7. Trump retweeted and shared a post from magapill.com which is a website that keeps tracks of Trump's accomplishment since he interred in office. What is so special about that? The answer is that the day Trump shared this website, the first news on the main page was about "Q Clearance Patriots", the insider on 4chan, yes about Q. See picture on the right (Figure 2). "Strangely" after Trump's tweet, the website went viral for a few minutes and down. A few moment later it was backup, no explanation, only a weird excuse from the host which even the owner of the website find odd. The MSM talked about it too.

- Fact 8. Q warned us about the NYC "pipe bomb" attempt before it happened. He told us about the fireworks and BDT (Bangladesh currency). Check it out.
- Fact 9. Q posted the Painting of George Washington crossing the Delaware River on Dec. 24, 2017 at 06:36am (GMT+1) and then the U.S. Department of Defense (DoD) shared the picture on Twitter on Dec. 25

- Fact 10. In early 2018, on Sunday, Jan. 7, President Donald J. Trump tweet (just after Q was on the board) this:

Time: 7:21pm Key word: consensual	Remove previous tweet and publish this one at 8:23pm Key word: consequential

- Fact 11. TIP TOP / TIPPY TOP SHAPE. On easter 2018, President Donald J. Trump during his speech quoted / inserted in the speech what we did requested on the board "TIP TOP".

Now that a few months are behind us, there are many more facts. They need to be organized into graphics, charts or onto websites and shared on social media.

DOES THIS CONFIRM ANYTHING?

Any of the above facts would strongly indicate that someone with Q Clearance / Classified Intel and access to POTUS's Twitter account is definitely behind "Q" on 4chan & 8chan. Not to mention about the "predictions" from Q's posts. Check the dates and the dates of events such as the Saudi Arabia cleaning of corruption and arresting of the princes or for example the NYC "pipe bomb" attempt from the Bangladeshi dude.

SO WHAT?

If none of the Q predictions come true, then it's all a waste of time. Not true. The mere fact that someone with access to the President's Twitter account is putting conspiracy theory stuff on 4chan is huge news:

1. Q could be leaking.
2. Q could be trying to damage POTUS.
3. Q could be trying to discredit POTUS.
4. POTUS could be experimenting.
5. Q could be POTUS / close to POTUS using us as real news. The mere fact that someone with access to POTUS twitter account that is posting on the chans makes this worth watching.

The only real advice I can give you is to be a critical thinker, open minded but checking facts, double checking, crossing dates, times, interests, and so on, be smart and creative. Think by yourself and just connect the dots!

Godspeed to you.

WHY IS Q LEAKING BY POSTING ON THE CHANS?

The chans = 4chan & 8chan.

Because they're the last bastions of free speech. Mainstream media is hopelessly compromised and, as we'll see further down, a major part of the problem. Social media is controlled and actively censored. The chans are where it's at: pure uncensored raw discussion, analysis and detective work.

WHY WOULD Q DO THIS?

1. The world cannot handle the truth; the stage must be set, in part via soft disclosure. Chans - a form of social media, alt-tech - are anonymous image boards with a unique culture, and a talent for memetics that played an important role in POTUS's election - particularly /pol/, a board infamous for its alternative views. You might say the denizens of /pol/, where Q originally began posting, were already primed for Q's information; thus they were better able to handle it.

2. As said above, the world cannot handle the truth. Well not in a full total and brutal disclosure way, it must be given by "crumbs", by baby step. The chans and the anons on the board are for most red pilled already. Each on their own step on the path to the truth.

We are trying to help everyone to understand what is happening and we will be here when the time will come that our fellow patriots, friends and family members will need us. Some may be stuck in some mental programation or beliefs systems. The truth that will come will shatter most of the illusions that the people created. We do not claim to know everything, not at all, we are like you, reading this document, we are looking for the truth and we are trying to do our best.

HOW HAS Q BEEN DOING IT?

The bulk of his material has been in the form of a list of questions that mostly answer themselves. It is theorized that this form of dropping information is very difficult to detect by semantic analysis and may have given him a good head start not being detected early on. He has also made liberal use of the term '+++' which apparently (still a theory) causes trouble for some sniffer / scraper software if they wanted to read all of Q's posts.

SOME OF THOSE POSTS LOOK REALLY WEIRD.

What's up with that? As well as leaking hints as to what's going on behind the scenes, Q is also pasting coded instructions to the teams of watching operators. They may be copies of instructions sent over other secure channels, or they may be the real live instructions themselves. We don't know.

SO WHAT'S THE BIG DEAL WITH THE LEAKS?

What are we talking about? TL;DR The good guys have had enough and are taking down the bad guys worldwide. Strap in. Details below.

Let me tell you why you're here. You're here because you know something. What you know you can't explain, but you feel it. You've felt it your entire life, that there's something wrong with the world. You don't know what it is, but its there, like a splinter in your mind, driving you mad. It is this feeling that has brought you to me. Do you know what I'm talking about?
- Morpheus, The Matrix.

Behind the scenes, a titanic battle of good versus evil is taking place. On the good side, The Alliance; the President of the United States, his loyal armed forces, World Wide allies and We The People. On the evil side, the elites who rule over us and their friends; they have been given many names throughout history; The Cabal, The Illuminati, The New World Order (NWO) and many mores. Subgroups, groups inside groups, nicknames but in the end, they are all connected under the same beliefs system and want the same thing.

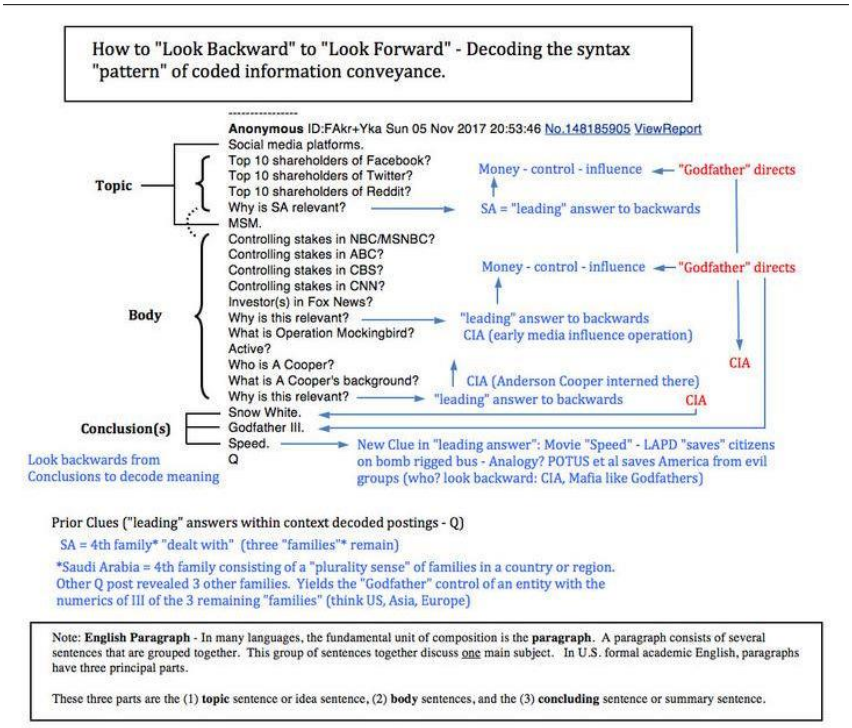

Q says 60 to 80% of this battle will never see the light of day but it is happening, it's very real and the ramifications will one day extend to the entire planet.

WHAT CAN I DO?

Inform yourself, inform your friends and family, share it, spread the truth, and come together as for this simple common reason: we all want the truth out! No more lies, no more control, no more abuse, no more corruption, no more crimes, all of this, ends now!

Be the change you want to see in this World! Let's all expose them, acknowledge our own responsibility and beginning a new Era for the Human Kind; The Golden Age, brought by WE THE PEOPLE for the people.

HOW TO READ Q'S POSTS

KEEP IN MIND

A lot of people always ask this question when they discuss Q or discover Q : Why isn't he / they just sharing the factual information instead of «cryptic codes» or what ever?

The answer is simple, at least to me. Q is a group of white hats, working by the law, they can't and won't break it, they try to do what is right. So, they are limited on the intel they can share with us, most of the posts discussed about things that are part of the public domain, literally available on Internet, you just have to know it / be aware of it. Q point it out and asks socratic questions (that answers themselves most of the time), so we, the anons and everyone start looking into it, digg, find connections and so on. It is also part of a strategic plan, like in every battle.

HOW DOES THE DEEP STATE WORK?

This graphic is a short resume so you will have a base to understand the mentioning of the "Deep State" (NWO) in the Q posts. The "real" Deep State is far more complicated and detailed, this is a brief summary. Soros is supposedly the 3rd face of the pyramid shown by Q, as: +, but it remains a theory, so this graphic might be updated.

HOW TO READ THE LOGS – EXAMPLES

In the logs (transcription of Q's posts), there are four kinds of posts:

Q'S POSTS ON 4CHAN:

HEADER PART, USUALLY COUNTAIN A LINK TO THE ORIGINAL POST, THE THREAD NAME, THE ID AND IF EXISTING THE TRIPCODE
Q's posts from 4chan are always looking like this in this document (grey head and a blue body).

Q'S POSTS ON 8CHAN:

HEADER PART, SAME AS THE BLUE ONE.
Those are Q's posts from 8chan, only difference.

Q'S POSTS ON 8CHAN –NEW VERSION (ADDING DATE & TIME)

Q tripcode	ID: string	>> N°post	THREAD NAME	MM.DD.YY	GMT+1: HH:mm:ss
This is the "new" version of the posts design. It able me to structure more efficiently but also to add both date and especially the time code. I added the time code base on GMT+1, I wanted to add other time base on other time zones but that would double or triple the header size which would automatically add A LOT of pages to this already long document. For the time zones difference you just have to add or remove a few hours and if it crosse midnight, then adapt the date back or forth.

UNVERIFIED (NO TRIPCODE) Q'S POSTS ON 8CHAN:

HEADER PART, USUALLY COUNTAIN A LINK TO THE ORIGINAL POST, THE THREAD NAME AND THE ID. NO TRIPCODEAVAILABLE
Those are UNVERIFIED (no tripcode) Q's posts from 8chan, only difference. This type had to be added due to the tripcode ban problem from the 12.15.17.

ANON'S POST ON 4CHAN AND/OR 8CHAN:

HEADER PART, USUALLY ONLY THE LINK TO THE POST IS AVAILABLE
This is the anons posts from 4chan and/or 8chan. They are used when Q respond directly to an anon or link his posts.

COMMENT ON Q POSTS – A LAST WORD BEFORE YOU START

Q Anon QMap include posts starting October 28th even though we have no direct proofs that it is the same person as the one later posting, always signing Q (he start using Q as a signature November 2nd mid day) but he only started using a tripcode Nov. 9. So before Nov. 9th, we can only deduce it is the same person (Q), if you notice how he types his messages, what habits he has, you can at least think it was the same person since Nov. 2nd, I can't say before that, there's resemblance, definitely. So, while keeping a critical but open mind, deduce what seems legit to you.

If this comment made you doubt, please read the rest of the document because you will change your mind a few times before the end of this document but also, know that Q confirms himself, his own old posts a few times (even when using his tripcode and signing Q) using the compilation of his posts as a big images called "QMap" as you already saw the links a few pages ago.

Feel free to contact me either by email or twitter if you have any questions.

Enjoy the journey to this deep rabbit hole; don't forget to take care of yourself.
Godspeed.

Open your eyes.
It finally came out that Rod/Bob were key players in the Uranium scandal.
Don't you think POTUS would be tweeting about removal given clear conflict.
Why did POTUS meet Bob under the cover of FBI Dir interview?
Bob is unable to serve as Dir per the law.
Gowdy comments on Comey (history will ....)
POTUS has everything.
Not everyone is corrupt (fewer than you think).

Some of us come here to drop crumbs, just crumbs.
POTUS is 100% insulated - any discussion suggesting he's even a target is false.
POTUS will not be addressing nation on any of these issues as people begin to be indicted and must remain neutral for pure optical reasons.
To suggest this is the plan is false and should be common sense.
Focus on Military Intellingence/ State Secrets and why might that be used vs any three letter agency
What SC decision opened the door for a sitting President to activate - what must be showed?
Why is POTUS surrounded by generals ^^
Again, there are a lot more good people than bad so have faith. This was a hostile takeover from an evil corrupt network of players (not just Democrats).
Don't fool yourself into thinking Obama, Soros, Roth's, Clinton's etc have more power present day than POTUS.
Operation Mockingbird
Patriots are in control. Sit back and enjoy the show.

Follow the money, it's the key.
What is Pelosi's net worth by way of one example. Why coincidentally is her memory apparently going?
Cover for possible future indictment to plead what?
What if John M never had surgery and that was a cover for a future out if needed against prosecution?
Why did Soros transfer his bulk public funds to a NP? Note this doesn't include massive slush funds that are pulled by several high ups.
Why did Soros' son have several meetings with Canadian PM and how is that related to Clinton's?
Can you rely on being able to board a plane and fly away?
Why is MS13 a priority _ nobody got this.
Could people pay such gangs to kill opponents and why / how to insulate against exposure?
The truth is mind blowing and cannot fully be exposed.
Also many are thinking from one point of view, US only, this evil is embedded globally. US is the first domino.
Have faith.

Why wasn't HRC prosecuted for the emails? Put simply, Obama ultimately OK'd by using the non govt email addy to communicate w/ Clinton. Obama also had an alias along with each of his cabinet members. Therefore indicting HRC would lead to indicting Obama & his cabinet etc which could never happen. Remember he lied about knowing but that ultimately came out in the dump. Poof!

RE: Military Intelligence / State Secrets
No FBI
POTUS installed his people within each top spot at each 3 letter agency except 1 (good reason there as Adm R kick started this and scrubbed all POTUS nominations to verify oath).
Do you think they aren't in control of those respective agencies?
What is most valuable?
Information
AG Sessions on leakers.
Fire or prosecute?
Reorg is underway and happening.
Coincidence Senate Republicans pushing for Fed Judge confirmations last week?
Why are Senate Republicans dropping out? Not by choice and were offered a choice (rest assured they will vote pro Trump).

Projection
D's can't lose control over the black population.
At some point the great awakening will occur whereby these false local / national black leaders are corrupt and paid off to help keep the black pop poor and in need.
D's formed the confederate states against freeing slaves.
D's formed the KKK.
HRC's mentor is who?
What happens if the truth about Haiti is released? Do D's lose majority of the vote?
Through the looking glass.They rely on the MSM to keep the narrative going but tech is entrenching on their controls. They missed this in 2016 and desperately attempting to censor now due to CIA cash infusions. This will fail.

ID:Eka5Om1K >>147173287 (Tick Tock is back on the menu boys! Based Hannity)

Remember, the FBI, and MI, have an open investigation into the CF. Why did Comey drop this? Who was the FBI director during the Haiti crisis? How many kids disappeared? How much money sent to CF under disguise of H relief went to H? What countries donated big money to CF and why? How much was owed by accepting? When she lost how would this be repaid? What did Obama do with cash just prior to leaving office? Repayment to those who donated for favors/access? Dig!!!!!
Again, good people were forced into bed with this evil under personal and family threats. Could you live with yourself helping to cover up such evil despicable acts if given a safe way out? These people worship Satan _ some openly show it.

ID:Eka5Om1K >>147175452 (Tick Tock is back on the menu boys! Based Hannity)

Key:
Military Intelligence v FBI CIA NSA
No approval or congressional oversight
State Secrets upheld under SC
Who is the Commander and Chief of the military?
Under what article can the President impose MI take over investigations for the 3 letter agencies? What conditions must present itself? Why is this so VERY important? Who surrounds POTUS? They lost this very important power _ the one area of the govt not corrupt and directly serves POTUS.

ID:Eka5Om1K >>147181191 (Tick Tock is back on the menu boys! Based Hannity)

There are more good people than bad. The wizards and warlocks (inside term) will not allow another Satanic Evil POS control our country.

Manafort was placed into Trump's camp (as well as others). Get the popcorn, Friday & Saturday will deliver on the MAGA promise. POTUS knows he must clean house (gov't) in order to 'free up' and demonstrate who has authority in order to pass important legislation. This was always the priority. Remember, AG Sessions cannot look like an impartial player that is out to get all former Obama team members as we need him for other important work. All will come into focus and for anyone to think POTUS is not in control is kidding themselves. Also, he's 100% insulated with zero risk of impeachment (fact).

Above is reason why the shills are sliding. In case you didn't know, shills log and send new info back to ASF for instruction. They use a 5 prong pre packaged injection (one post auto generates four more at random designated times). Common drive of posts they all tap into. Since they misjudged the influence of the MSM they are aggressively looking to censor throughout major platforms in exchange for CIA slush funds and WW access for expansion of said networks. Everything they do has been forecasted and prepared for.

>What must be completed to engage MI over other (3) letter agencies

During the 1950s and 60s, federal troops and federalized National Guard forces, accompanied by military intelligence personnel, were deployed to help integrate Southern schools23 and to help deal with civil disorders in Detroit in 1967 and other cities the following year after the assassination of Dr. Martin Luther King Jr.24 Throughout this period military intelligence units also continued to collect data on Americans at home who were suspected of involvement in subversive activities.25 In the late 1960s, the Pentagon compiled personal information on more than 100,000 politically active Americans in an effort to quell civil rights and anti-Vietnam War demonstrations and to discredit protestors.26 The Army used 1,500 plainclothes agents to watch demonstrations, infiltrate organizations, and spread disinformation. 2
' According to one report, the Army had at least one observer at every demonstration of more than twenty people.28

The Army's activities were summed up by Senator Sam Ervin: Allegedly for the purpose of predicting and preventing civil disturbances which might develop beyond the control of state and local officials, Army agents were sent throughout the country to keep surveillance over the way the civilian population expressed their sentiments about government policies. In churches, on campuses, in classrooms, in public meetings, they took notes, tape-recorded, and photographed people who dissented in thought, word, or deed. This included clergymen, editors, public officials, and anyone who sympathized with the dissenters.

Q Clearance Patriot

My fellow Americans, over the course of the next several days you will undoubtedly realize that we are taking back our great country (the land of the free) from the evil tyrants that wish to do us harm and destroy the last remaining refuge of shining light. On POTUS' order, we have initiated certain fail-safes that shall safeguard the public from the primary fallout which is slated to occur 11.3 upon the arrest announcement of Mr. Podesta (actionable 11.4). Confirmation (to the public) of what is occurring will then be revealed and will not be openly accepted. Public riots are being organized in serious numbers in an effort to prevent the arrest and capture of more senior public officials. On POTUS' order, a state of temporary military control will be actioned and special ops carried out. False leaks have been made to retain several within the confines of the United States to prevent extradition and special operator necessity. Rest assured, the safety and well-being of every man, woman, and child of this country is being exhausted in full. However, the atmosphere within the country will unfortunately be divided as so many have fallen for the corrupt and evil narrative that has long been broadcast. We will be initiating the Emergency Broadcast System (EMS) during this time in an effort to provide a direct message (avoiding the fake news) to all citizens. Organizations and/or people that wish to do us harm during this time will be met with swift fury – certain laws have been pre-lifted to provide our great military the necessary authority to handle and conduct these operations (at home and abroad).

ID:pGukiFmX >>147567928 (Calm Before the Storm)

POTUS will be well insulated/protected on AF1 and abroad (specific locations classified) while these operations are conducted due to the nature of the entrenchment. It is time to take back our country and make America great again. Let us salute and pray for the brave men and women in uniform who will undertake this assignment to bring forth peace, unity, and return power to the people.

It is our hope that this message reaches enough people to make a meaningful impact. We cannot yet telegraph this message through normal methods for reasons I'm sure everyone here can understand. Follow the questions from the previous thread(s) and remain calm, the primary targets are within DC and remain at the top (on both sides). The spill over in the streets will be quickly shut down. Look for more false flags – stay alert, be vigilant, and above all, please pray.

"For God so loved the world that he gave his one and only Son, that whoever believes in him shall not perish but have eternal life. Love is patient, love is kind."
God bless my fellow Americans.

Military Intelligence.

What is the common denominator in terms of military backgrounds close to POTUS?
Why did Soros transfer the bulk of his 'public' funds to a NPO?
Why is this relevant?
Who owes a lot to very bad actors?
How can she repay as payment was made under promise of victory.
What cash payments occurred by BO during the last 90 of his Presidency to foreign states and/ or organizations?
What slush fund did AG Sessions (through DOJ) put an end to?
How does Soros, Obama, Clinton, Holder, Lynch, etc all net many millions of dollars (normally within a single tax year).
What was negotiated on the tarmac between BC and Lynch?
Remember it was expected HRC was going to win during this time period.
What if the wizards and warlocks tipped off a local reporter as to the supposed unscheduled stop?
What if the NSA under the personal direction from Adm R had this meeting miscat and logged under a false identity to prevent bad actors from locating while also verifying to said players all was clear _ no logs.
What really happened when the wizards and warlocks revealed what they had?
Was Comey forced into the spotlight shortly thereafter not by choice? Right before the election no doubt which would cast suspicion?
These are crumbs and you cannot imagine the full and complete picture.
If Trump failed, if we failed, and HRC assumed control, we as Patriots were prepared to do the unthinkable (this was leaked internally and kept the delegate recount scam and BO from declaring fraud).
Dig deeper - missing critical points to paint the full picture.
There is simply no other way than to use the military. It's that corrupt and dirty.

http://thehill.com/blogs/pundits-blog/presidential-campaign/292310-huma-abedins-ties-to-the-muslim-brotherhood
The Clinton campaign is attempting once again to sweep important questions under the rug about top aide Huma Abedin, her family ties to the Muslim Brotherhood and to Saudi Arabia, and her role in the ballooning Clinton email scandal.
Her mother, Saleha Abedin, sits on the Presidency Staff Council of the International Islamic Council for Da'wa and Relief, a group that is chaired by the leader of the Muslim Brotherhood, Sheikh Yusuf al-Qaradawi.

Perhaps recognizing how offensive such ties will be to voters concerned over future terrorist attacks on this country by radical Muslims professing allegiance to Sharia law, the Clinton campaign on Monday tried to downplay Ms. Abedin's involvement in the Journal and the Muslim Brotherhood.

The Clinton surrogate group Media Matters claimed predictably there was "no evidence" that Ms. Abedin or her family had ties to the Muslim Brotherhood, and that Trump campaign staffers who spoke of these ties were conspiracy theorists.

To debunk the evidence, Media Matters pointed to a Snopes.com "fact-check" piece that cited as its sole source... Senator John McCain. This is the same John McCain who met Libyan militia leader Abdelkarim Belhaj, a known al Qaeda associate, and saluted him as "my hero" during a 2011 visit to Benghazi.

You can count the people who have the full picture on two hands.
Of those (less than 10 people) only three are non-military.
Why is this relevant?

Outside of a potential operator who has been dialed-in w/ orders (specific to his/her mission) nobody else has this information.

Fellow Patriots,
I'm being advised actions have created accelerated counter-actions.
We have not yet ascertained the scope of the attack.
Watch the news outlets.
POTUS' Twitter take down was not by accident (as referenced several hours ago).

Let's be real clear.
The CIA just attacked the Command and Chief which was immediately detected by NSA/MI and alerted to POTUS.

Quotes on Federal Reserve Banking

- "Give me control of a nation's money and I care not who makes the laws." Mayer Amschel Rothschild (1744 -1812) Godfather, Rothschild Banking Cartel Europe
- "Banks have done more injury to the religion, morality, tranquility, prosperity, and even wealth of the nation than they have done or ever will do good." John Adams(1735-1826) Founding Father, 2nd US President
- "If the American people ever allow private banks to control the issue of their currency, first by inflation, then by deflation, (i.e., the "business cycle") the banks and corporations that will grow up around them will deprive the people of all property until their children wake-up homeless on the continent their fathers conquered." Thomas Jefferson, US President 1801-1809
- I believe that banking institutions are more dangerous to our liberties than standing armies. Thomas Jefferson,1816
- "History records that the money changers have used every form of abuse, intrigue, deceit, and violent means possible to maintain their control over governments by controlling the money and its issuance." James Madison (1751-1836), Father of the Constitution, 4th US President
- It is well enough that people of the nation do not understand our banking and monetary system, for if they did, I believe there would be a revolution before tomorrow morning." Henry Ford (1863-1947) Founder of Ford Motor Company

Federal Reserve Banking System

- The Federal Reserve Act was railroaded through Congress at 4:30 am on Monday, December 22, 1913
  - Numerous members absent/sleeping & many who voted for the Act didn't really understand what they were voting for
- President Woodrow Wilson, pressured by political/financial backers, signed Fed Reserve Act into law on Dec 23rd & stated:
  - We have come to be one of the worst ruled, one of the most completely controlled and dominated, governments in the civilized world -- no longer a government by free opinion, no longer a government by conviction and the vote of the majority, but a government by the opinion and the duress of small groups of dominant men.
- Federal Reserve Act transferred US money supply and banking system controls from Congress to a private banking elite
  - These private bankers could now create money from nothing, loan it to our Gvt. & charge interest (our federal income tax system) for privilege of doing so

Same shit World Wide. Thanks to the Cabal via Rothschild family. That's why Q listed all the banks. They are ALL PRIVATLY OWNED, which make the Governement a slave to his debt, to the private Bankster. ONLY 3 BANKS ARE STILL NON-ROTHSCHILD: North Korea, Iran & Cuba.

For the coming days ahead.
Ask yourself an honest question, why would a billionaire who has it all, fame, fortune, a warm and loving family, friends, etc. want to endanger himself and his family by becoming POTUS?
Why would he want to target himself and those he cares about?
Does he need money?

Does he need fame?
What does he get out of this?
Does he want to make the US/world a better place for his family and for those good and decent people who have long been taken advantage of?
Perhaps he could not stomach the thought of mass murders occurring to satisfy Moloch?
Perhaps he could not stomach the thought of children being kidnapped, drugged, and raped while leaders/law enforcement of the world turn a blind eye.
Perhaps he was tired of seeing how certain races/countries were being constantly abused and kept in need/poor/and suffering all for a specific purpose.
Perhaps he could not in good conscious see the world burn.

Green, obviously a good guy, had a mission. We don't know what exactly he was supposed to do. But it had to be something very serious because bad guys countered very seriously and killed several people.

>One of the first big milestones in this transformation took place in November 2004 when Google acquired a tiny and little-known 3-D mapping startup called Keyhole Inc. Google paid an undisclosed sum for the company, immediately absorbed it, and began turning its tech into what we now know as Google Earth. The acquisition would have gone unnoticed, had it not been for one not-so-tiny detail: Keyhole Inc was part-owned by the CIA and the "National Geospatial-Intelligence Agency" (NGA), a sister agency to the NSA. Keyhole Inc also had one major client base: US military and intelligence agencies.

At In-Q-Tel, Painter's work focused on identifying, researching and evaluating "new start-up technology firms that were believed to offer tremendous value to the CIA, the National Geospatial-Intelligence Agency, and the Defense Intelligence Agency." Indeed, the NGA had confirmed that its intelligence obtained via Keyhole was used by the NSA to support US operations in Iraq from 2003 onwards.

A former US Army special operations intelligence officer, Painter's new job at Google as of July 2005 was federal manager of what Keyhole was to become: Google Earth Enterprise. By 2007, Painter had become Google's federal chief technologist.

The night around 9pm a « new Q » appeared on the CBTS board on 8chan. Same tripcode, except that a space between the nickname "Q" and the tripcode was missing. So anons started to hear about the 8chan CBTS dedicated board and about this "new Q" and his posts saying that 4chan is infiltrated. Most of the anons were confused. Lots of community of researchers, anon started asking around if this was legit.

The situation can quickly change and North Korea could feel the need for dialogue. JARRETT: If there is collusion, it's Hillary-Russia collusion. Not Trump- Russia collusion.
HANNITY: I've been predicting this, Dr. Gorka this massive boomerang for a long time. I've known a lot of this evidence was out there and it was all coming. I've been telling my audience, its coming, and its coming. Now the floodgates are open, if you will.
SEBASTIAN GORKA, DEPUTY ASSISTANT TO PRESIDENT TRUMP: It's the last scene from that great Tom Clancy movie, "The hunt for red October." When the bad submarine commander launch a torpedo it comes back and sinks his own vessel. That is what the Russian collusion story has done for the DNC and for Hillary. Let's stop using the word collusion, because the evidence we now have is about subversion, it's about sabotaging the political process and it's about propaganda. In the cold war, the Soviet Union will be used what was called active measures to undermine our democracy. This is the Democrat Party, the Hillary campaign using active measures to undermine Donald Trump and the Democratic process in America. It's a shocking story.

Tues Nov 4th,
Who financed 9-11?
Who was Bin Laden's handler?
Why was the Clowns In America tasked to hunt/kill/capture UBL?
Why not MI?
If we found UBL, eliminated his security, why would we immediately kill him and not take him alive?
Why wouldn't we want to capture UBL alive and extract other possible T-level events?
Perhaps someday people will understand 'they' had a plan to conduct 'another' mass extinction event.

We, the people, are who they are afraid of.
We, the people, are who they fear will one day awake.
Our Father who art in heaven,
Hallowed be thy name.
Thy kingdom come.
Thy will be done
on earth as it is in heaven.
Give us this day our daily bread,
and forgive us our trespasses,
as we forgive those who trespass against us,
and lead us not into temptation,
but deliver us from evil.

Shall we play a game?
Find the spider(s) and build the web (the 'map').
Remember, they consider you to be the fly (specifically, the 'feeder').
Remember, they never thought she was going to lose.
Therefore, they never thought investigations and/or public interest into their criminal acts would be exposed/investigated.
Therefore, they never thought they had anything to fear.
Therefore, they openly showcase their symbolism.
Therefore, they were sloppy.
Hussein's last speech in Chicago re: 'scandal free'.
Why did he continually emphasize that phrase?
As a backup, they infiltrated and control the narrative (the 'MSM').
As a backup, they install only those on the team.
As a backup, they blackmail those that aren't.
As a backup, they defined 'conspiracy' as crazy/mentally unstable and label anything 'true' as such.
This works given most of what they engage in is pure evil and simply unbelievable (hard to swallow).
The 'fix' has always been in – no matter which party won the election (-JFK (killed)/Reagan(shot)).
This was always the promise made to those who played the game (willingly or otherwise) (i.e., they would never lose power).
Power of the (3) letter agencies.
Power over the US Military (WW dominance to push against other nations and install like-kind).

Shall we play a game?
Find the spider(s) and build the web (the 'map').
Remember, they consider you to be the fly (specifically, the 'feeder').
Remember, they never thought she was going to lose.
Therefore, they never thought investigations and/or public interest into their criminal acts would be exposed/investigated.
Therefore, they never thought they had anything to fear.
Therefore, they openly showcase their symbolism.
Therefore, they were sloppy.
Hussein's last speech in Chicago re: 'scandal free'.
Why did he continually emphasize that phrase?
As a backup, they infiltrated and control the narrative (the 'MSM').
As a backup, they install only those on the team.
As a backup, they blackmail those that aren't.
As a backup, they defined 'conspiracy' as crazy/mentally unstable and label anything 'true' as such.
This works given most of what they engage in is pure evil and simply unbelievable (hard to swallow).
The 'fix' has always been in – no matter which party won the election (-JFK (killed)/Reagan(shot)).
This was always the promise made to those who played the game (willingly or otherwise) (i.e., they would never lose power).
Power of the (3) letter agencies.
Power over the US Military (WW dominance to push against other nations and install like-kind).
These people are really stupid.

Stay strong lads, we're on track.
No signs of Q on that day. It would tend to confirm that the 10 days of darkness really begun. Pure speculation at this point.

QANON'S POSTS

No signs of Q since the 15th. CBTS is still in a shills storm and The Storm board is working but quietly.

This is just an observation but I wanted to mention it, the past few weeks or even months have been crazy hot for UFO / Alien news in the MSM. This is quite strange for something that supposedly doesn't exist. Are they trying to make us look "somewhere else" when the shit hit the fan ? Are they pushing a bit forward there slow disclosure plans?

Research, read and make your own opinion on this matter. I thought I would mention it because the timing is a "strange coincidence".

So this would means they were extracting someoneat the Atlanta airport as some of us thought of it (from The Storm Board n Discord). Obviously an outage doesn't happened like that and if it happens, building important like that (especially the WORLD BUSIEST AIRPORT) got backup power generator. Coincidentally at the Atlanta Airport it happens the "fire" started where the backup power generator is located which basicly kiiled it.

I STRONGLY recommand you to read the article and the Executive Order. Some would have expected "BIG NAMES" such as Podesta, Clintons and so on but you gotta start "publicly" somewhere to be able to justify the rest of the digging. The Execute Order (EO) specifically says "ANYONE". So anyone is potentially a target.

:OWLS:
Good Hunting!
Q

Actually, Zulu (Z 00:00) does not mean the "start of a mission"... it DOES refer to GMT, now known as UTC,(time at prime meridian) but they DO work off local time(time-zone) so it absolutely DOES matter what time zone you're in!! Here's some useful info on that...

What is "Zulu" time?
"Zulu" time is that which you might know as "GMT" (Greenwich Mean Time). Our natural concept of time is linked to the rotation of the earth and we define the length of the day as the 24 hours it takes the earth to spin once on its axis.

As time pieces became more accurate and communication became global, there needed to be a point from which all other world times were based. Since Great Britain was the world's foremost maritime power when the concept of latitude and longitude came to be, the starting point for designating longitude was the "prime meridian" which is zero degrees and runs through the Royal Greenwich Observatory, in Greenwich, England, southeast of central London. As a result, when the concept of time zones was introduced, the "starting" point for calculating the different time zones was/is at the Royal Greenwich Observatory. When it is noon at the observatory, it is five hours earlier (under Standard Time) in Washington, D.C.; six hours earlier in Chicago; seven hours earlier in Denver; and, eight hours earlier in Los Angeles.

Unfortunately the Earth does not rotate at exactly a constant rate. Due to various scientific reasons and increased accuracy in measuring the earth's rotation, a new timescale, called Coordinated Universal Time (UTC), has been adopted and replaces the term GMT.
The Navy, as well as civil aviation, uses the letter "Z" (phonetically "Zulu") to refer to the time at the prime meridian. The U.S. time zones are Eastern ["R", "Romeo]; Central ["S", "Sierra"]; Mountain ["T", "Tango"]; Pacific ["U", "Uniform"]; Alaska ["V", "Victor"], and Hawaii ["W", "Whiskey"].

The Department of the Navy serves as the country's official timekeeper, with the Master Clock facility at the U.S. Naval Observatory, Washington, D.C.

SOURCE: http://www.navy.mil/navydata/questions/zulutime.html

Then in this post you had two letters between brackets, [G] & [O]. Should it be read as a "GO" for the mission or for the "_CONF_AW-C...", starting at UTC / GMT 00:00 ? Just a first thought for now on.

George Washington's crossing of the Delaware River, which occurred on the night of December 25–26, 1776, during the American Revolutionary War, was the first move in a surprise attack organized by George Washington against the Hessian forces in Trenton, New Jersey, on the morning of December 26.

QANON'S POSTS

Some Q post started to appear that day and early in the morning just when passing from 2017 to 2018 on the 8chan CBTS board. I'll start with this post below:

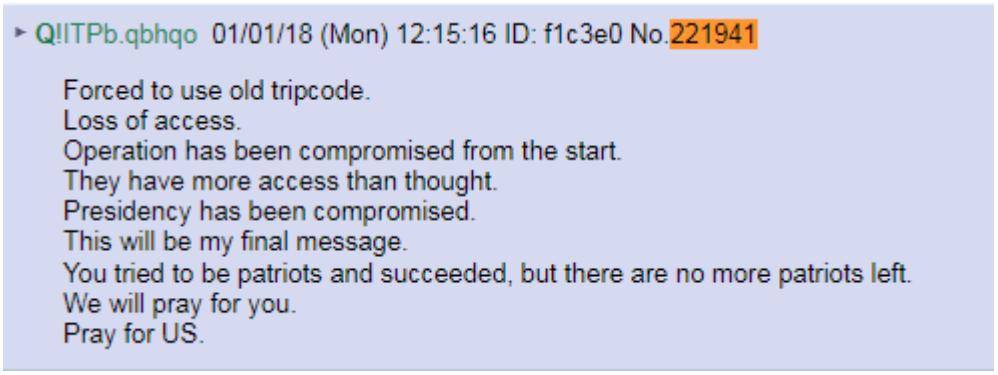

Q!!TPb.qbhqo ID:f1c3e0>>221941 (CBTS #262)

Forced to use old tripcode.
Loss of access.
Operation has been compromised from the start.
They have more access than thought.
Presidency has been compromised.
This will be my final message.
You tried to be patriots and succeeded, but there are no more patriots left.
We will pray for you.
Pray for US.

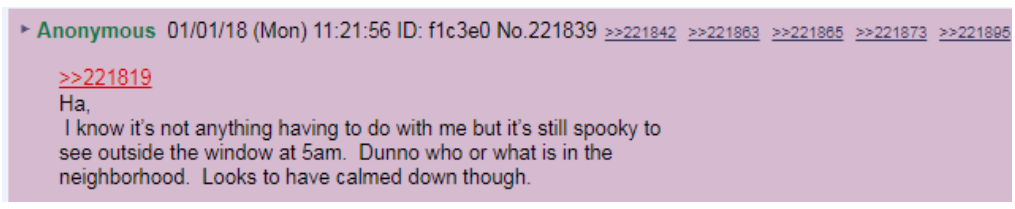

The link won't work since this post was deleted. I added a screenshot copy of that post just below this post.

For this post, the tripcode used is the old one that everybody knows. This is very weird to say the least. Q changed his tripcode because this one (the one In this post, the old one) was compromised and almost found. This 1st explanation makes me doubt it, then the post was deleted, 2nd red flag and the 3rd red flag is the content of the supposed "Q post". This message is not written like Q write. Boggy explanation, no confirmation, exactly the style of message you would wrote to appear legit if you indeed cracked Q's old tripcode and could post as Q.

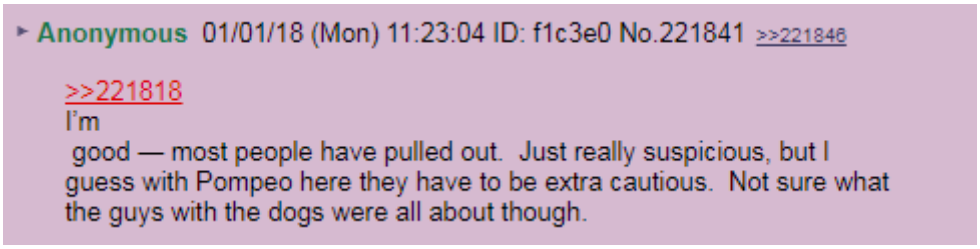

Please use your information and own though process to make conclusion, don't just rely on mine, this is very important.
As previously mentioned, the post was deleted shortly after. Here's some screenshot of the actual post shared above:

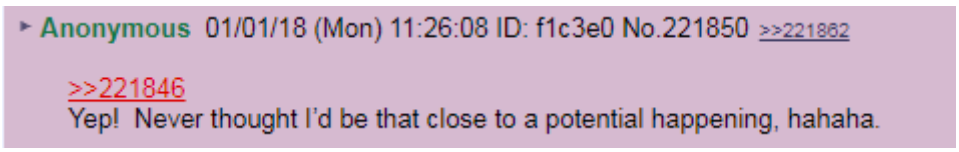

I had time to save the board with the messages BEFORE anything was deleted; as I always do (OpSec includes backups and offline backups). So I could check if this supposed "Old Q trip" dude posting had other post in this thread. You can easily check by putting your mouse over the ID (when your are on the thread obviously) and it will show you how many posts with this ID exist in the thread or using CTRL + F to search the ID number works too, so there you got the others messages, now let's check them via these screenshots below. His 1st post on this board (same ID: f1c3e0, no name, no tripcode):

His 2nd post on this board (same ID, no name, no tripcode):

His 3rd post on this board (same ID, no name, no tripcode):

My personal conclusion on this, as previously mentioned, is that Q post (old tripcode) was obviously fake and proved by the above posts. Be vigilant; use the help of others when in doubt! But then you'll probably ask yourself, how did they do that? That was the real tripcode, even if it is the old one! Yeah indeed that is his real old tripcode, he changed it for a reason.

Remember? People were close to crack it. Well now it's been done and shared, the password is: Matlock

By using this password you get his old tripcode: !|TPb.qbhqo (By the way the (You) appear for your own post based on your ID / IP).
You will probably ask yourself why do I share that password inside the QMap PDF (((this document))) ?

As I said at the beginning of the document, I log everything but it is also because it started to spread (since it was cracked) and some people tried to use it to misdirect people, troll them or spread some disinformation. Be careful, don't trust any Q post using the old tripcode before Dec. 15, 2017 (last 4chan / 4pleb Q post when Q had his tripcode switch on 8chan and checked it on 4chan).

Archive on 4plebs (4chan): http://archive.4plebs.org/_/search/tripcode/%21ITPb.qbhqo/

Usually people could use this link to check all tripcoded posts from Q on 4chan, but since the tripcode was cracked a shit tone of "new Q posts" appeared on both 4chan and 8chan that are fake, as proved. If you want to check or save the real Q posts from 4chan, you can use that link: http://archive.4plebs.org/_/search/tripcode/%21ITPb.qbhqo/end/2017-12-15/

It will only display the posts with that tripcode but before Dec. 15, 2017 which is the last confirmed Q post on 4chan.

The real Q if I can say so, did not post today, not since Dec. 25, 2017. He probably won't post before the tripcode problem is resolved, he need a way to identify himself and his posts. The board owner mav[LAG] aka BaruchTheScribe removed both Q's tripcode from the white list. This prevent Q from posting, well he can post but as an anon. He can't identify himself via a tripcode at this moment.

EMERGENCY ANNOUNCEMENT

Both of Q's tripcodes have been removed from the whitelist as a precaution. Bad actors seem to have cracked the old one and were getting close on the new one. For now, ONLY CodeMonkey the 8chan Admin may post to /cbts/ using a trip. If you see a trip post from Q on here from now onwards, IT IS A LARP.

This attack is far less of a problem than it appears because:

Q COMMUNICATES WITH THE MODS DIRECTLY ANYWAY

We will let him know about the trip attack if he doesn't already (and he probably does).

In the meantime, please carry on. There are still gaps in the map solve and other digging to get on with. When Q has more information for us, we will make sure he can pass it on!

Have faith patriots. We have everything we need already. What you've achieved here is going to be talked about for years and you will be able to say 'I was there.'

We are /cbts/. We report to the President and his loyal armed forces.

Do not fuck with us.

- The Board Owner and co.

Post last edited at 01/01/18 (Mon) 16:27:16

The board owner is a random anon, like you and me, nothing more, nothing less. He created the board, so he got the keys to the castle, he's the one making the call, no one but him as a say. So he locked down the tripcode again (he also did it during the last Q tripcode problem) without asking any of the mod and other people involved in the community.

Later, someone on 4chan made a thread to talk about this (posting as Q of course) and sharing the password of the tripcode, so the thread went nuts with all the "different Q" posting.

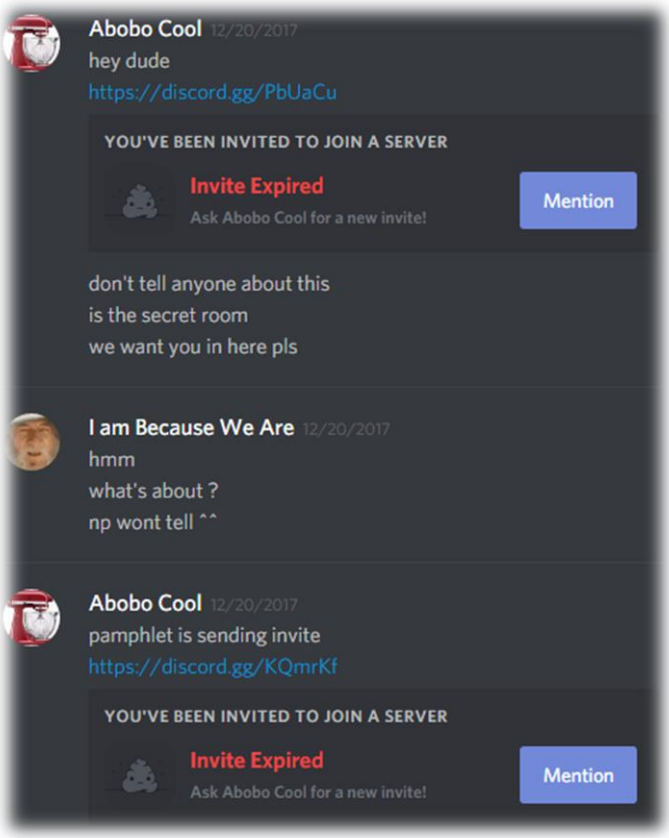

You might also be asking yourself but who cracked the tripcode ? Both CIA or whatever 3 letter agency that could do it and anons. How? Since the tripcode are based on an encryption system called SHA-1 (Secure Hash Algorithm 1) it is quite easy to crack it actually. Since 2005 its been publicly known as a "weak" encryption system, even the Wikipedia state it. You can easily crack it using bruteforce and rainbow table technique, in less than 5 minutes the decoding is done. To verify our statement, we actually attempted it successfully; we found 7 different methods to decrypt his old tripcode. So we were wondering if we should attempt it for the new one too, why? You may ask. Because it was almost cracked too by whoever is attempting to do it. Look at this screenshot, it shows a fake Q post, with a tripcode that is really close to the current tripcode Q use. They are on the brink of cracking it if it's not already done.

So, at this point having the white list purged of the old tripcode doesn't change shit, Q will have to find a way to be able to identify himself again.

THE FOLLOWING PART WILL EXPLAIN SOME "INTERNAL CBTS" DRAMA THAT HAPPENED THAT NIGHT.

IT IS RELEVANT TO THE STORM AND Q, SINCE IT INVOLVE THE CBTS'S BOARD OWNER.

I already introduced you to the discord, it's the heart of the CBTS / Q research, people talk about all of their findings, researches, ask questions, it's chill and very pleasant. There's all kind of people, of all age ranges and all kind of horizons. If you are concerned about OpSec do not join obviously, otherwise you are welcome!

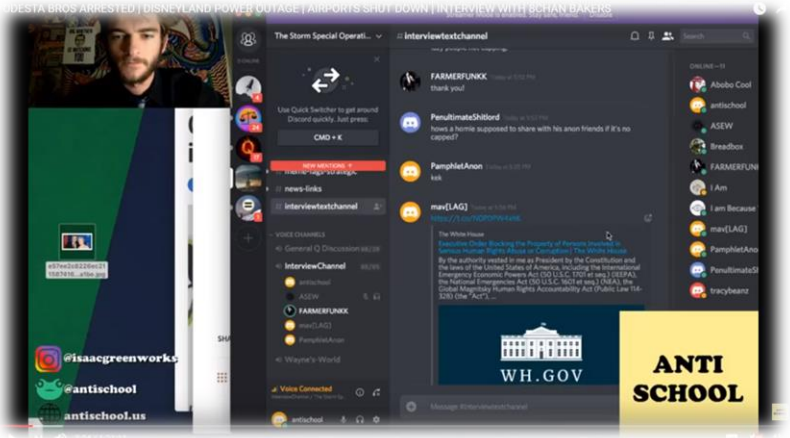

What is OpSec? t is basicly taking the "less risks" possible online. You want to surf to web using a VPN or even a proxy, basicly whatever that can help you to protect your identity and your computer once you are online to explain it very basically. Now let's begin the story.

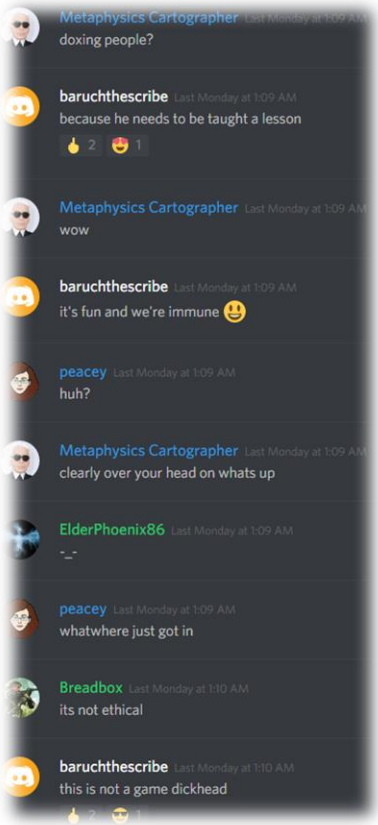

On a late Sunday, last day of 2017 or an early Monday morning of 2018, depending where you're from, people were discussing on the CBTS-The Storm's Discord. Everything was running nicely, anons were busy talking about all kind of current events. Baruch The Scribe, the CBTS's board owner joined the Discord server.

He was never there, on the discord talking with us, with everyone, usually he was on some "private-secret" discord to talk with Tracy Beanz, PamphletAnon, Abobo Cool and other individuals (I only name by their nickname the "public" anons that were presents to the interviews).

I, myself have been invited to those kind of server. I stayed, I talked. I logged. It looked shady from the beginning, so I had to log it, so I could warn the moderator of the behavior of some other moderators or even the board owners. How was it shady from the start? You may ask yourself. Just read how it begun with this Abobo Cool private message to me.
A few things secretly happened on this server the following days. Those are not worth of mentions because it more drama related than Q related, I skip the details.

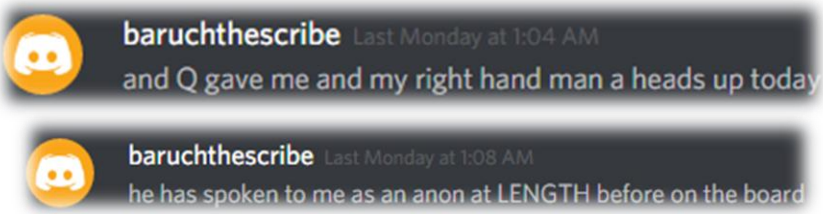

Dec. 28, 2017 the "secret discord" for a lack of better term was called "The Storm Special Operation Command Center (TSSOCC)". It didn't last for long, since mav[LAG] aka BaruchTheScribe and PamphletAnon did another interview with Anti School (YouTube Channel) and he actually streamed live the TSSOCC discord. As you can see on the screenshot below taken from Anti School video:

Both of the admins of the main CBTS discord called them out in the modchat. They of course denied the accusation, saying that they forgot to send an invite to everyone. They played it "cool" and since the admin had no proofs against them, they didn't ban them but asked to be invited over there and to be aware of the existence of such discords. They thought the problem was solved but no, it was not.

Now we are back to the night on the new year's eve where Baruch The Scribe entered the discord. To make it short, he started to make several proclamations as the ultimate truth –that were not backed by any proof but assumptions only- as for example that he's in direct contact with Q trough the board where supposedly Q talked to him using an anon account (unverifiable...).

He was also stating that someone was threatening him over some Reddit board and that he wanted this to dox this guy. Of course all the anon present at that moment turned mad because they were called ignorant faggots and others names when asking simple questions to Baruch and all good people are against doxxing someone This really not a line you want to cross, especially on those type of online community.

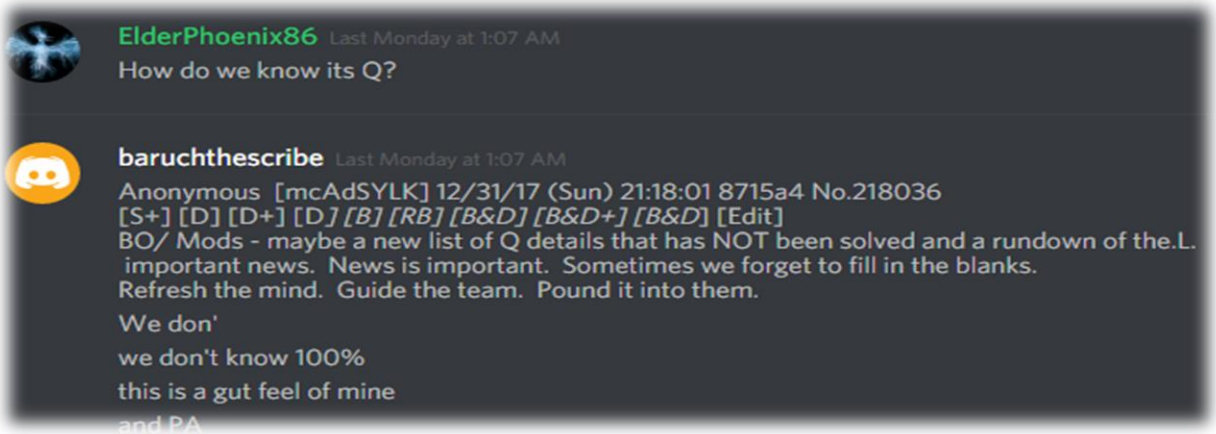

u/baruchthescribe

The Board Owner. Patriot. Reports to Q and POTUS.
Serves both with all the energy and skill he can muster.

Baruch The Scribe aka mav[LAG] profile account on Reddit state that he reports to Q and POTUS. He mentioned it in several interviews.

But the community nor me do not believe in that and we doesn't stand by it. This his own statement backed up by no factual proofs

SOURCE: https://www.reddit.com/user/baruchthescribe

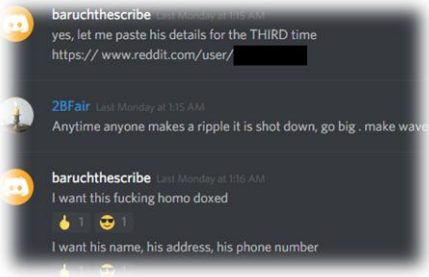

PA = PamphletAnon (the other CBTS mod that was always with Baruch on Tracy Beanz's interviews, he's right hand).

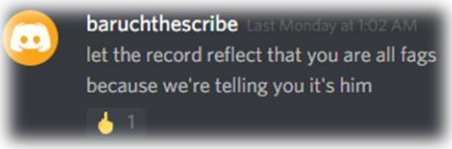

What does dox or doxxing means?

To explain it simply, it is basically to socially hack someone. Using their online information, to regroup all the intel that a specific individual / target leaves online (blueprint), that you can track to find who the person is in real life, everything about the person from the address to the phone numbers, where you work, where you go, what are your political and religious view, etc.

Now you probably understand why it started a firestorm in the chat, THIS IS BAD. LIKE REALLY BAD. [It is also against the Discord's TOS.]

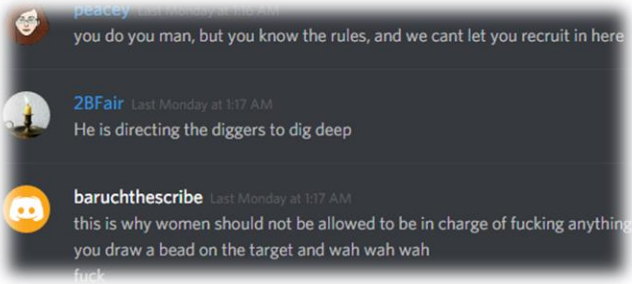

Some people think it is an ok thing to do, I'll let you decide on your own but know that doxxing already pushed people to kill themselves or to be harmed by other persons. It does not necessarily lead to a death but whatever happened to the doxxed person, it is never good.

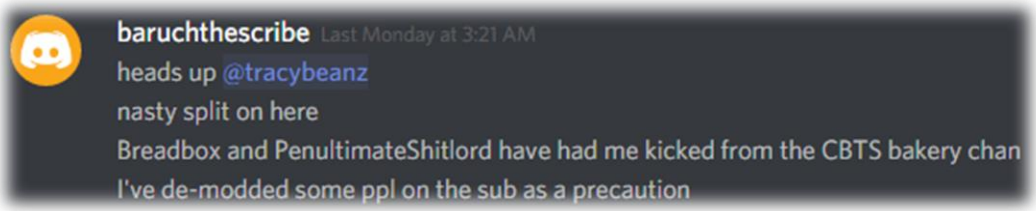

People tried to reason him but he did not wanted to hear anything, so he kept on going, calling people names, he kept saying that the people do not understand what is happening.

Peacey (one of the discord mod at that time) was even called out by Baruch for doing her mod-job. She ended up kicking him from the discord server. He came back and was then banned because he kept going on with his attitudes.

Baruch ended up kicking all the mods from the Reddit CBTS_Stream that he didn't liked, approved, trusted or whatever was his though process at the moment. He warned Tracy Beanz of a split but not what he did and said that lead to that situation and he pointed the finger at the wrong persons. Precaution or control? You decide.

A FEW DAYS LATER, Q ENDED BOTH OF BARUCH & PAMPHLETANON BOARDS (CBTS & THE STORM).

Even Q said it, they were both doing the opposite of what was asked. They were looking for fame, eventually to make money out of it, proclaiming having private communications with Q or even POTUS (both are false, also stated by Q). They even deleted some of Q's posts (which are saved in here).

So Q ended up by creating a read-y board for his drops as you will read later. Now, back to the Jan. 2nd 2018 on the next page.

QANON'S POSTS

The very next day, even tho Tracy Beanz was warned of what happened and showed proofs, she kept saying that she don't want to be drag into any drama, that she do not accept doxxing someone and wrote a nice post on reddit about it. Do not forget that those are words. I want to believe that she's a nice person and that it is probably the case, she might be fooled by the. Actions speak more than words tho.

The same day, she did a new interview –An update with the CBTS crew- (correct title should be ¼ of the cbts crew, the ¾ do not recognize them nor their actions anymore) on the situation about the tripcode been cracked with Abobo Cool and PamphletAnon (both were mods on the main discord but got demoded and banned for conspiracy behind the server back with Baruch, proofs were delivered). No any mentions of any split (it is relevant) but with Tracy Beanz public point of view, that's kind of normal, she want to report on Q related stuff and not on drama bullshit.

That point doesn't bother me, I don't really care, she does what she wants, that is her channel. My problem is when they started to speak about their new discord server. The Reddit CBTS_Stream Discord server.

There is nothing wrong with having one, what is wrong is that you are not allowed to enter the server (been attributed the verified member role) if you do not give you Reddit username!!! Big red flag!!!

Remember the doxxing explanation? You can easily start doxxing someone by using their online nickname. How? Because most of the people, when they are not aware or don't care about OpSec gonna be using the same nickname almost everywhere, which already give you easily a lot of new resources to work with but sometimes it also directly gives information about you, birthday, address, Postal code, State dep, everything is an info that you can use as a filter. I am not saying they are doing it (I can't proof nor disproof it), I'm trying to make you aware of the situation and how some things works. If you want to go on this discord server it is up to you, you are a grown adult, you make your choices.

You want to take a precaution before going to this discord server because you still want to go?

No problem, my advice would be that you create a totally different and new account on Reddit (preferably with a new email address to or not linked to anything else) that you do not name in any way related to you, take a random one, you can't find one? Use a random nickname generator online, just be careful, you might also want to use a VPN. Again I'm not saying that they are actually doing it but you might want to take precautions.

BACK TO Q AND THE TRIPCODE PROBLEM

The 8chan administrator / owner was asked to work on a "super secure tripcode", he posted on the CBTS board to confirm the new functionality.

It seems to be based on SHA-256 which was developed by the NSA and publicly released in 2001.

Explanation of the different type of tripcode existing on the chans:

Normal tripcode: 10 character hash generated with [sha1] input: #tripcode output: !3GqYIJ3Obs	Secure tripcode: 10 character salted hash generated with [sha1] input: ##tripcode output: !!0MaJuSoz9A
Super secure tripcode: 16 character salted hash generated with [sha256] input: ###tripcode output: !!!a29c4af324e9a23d

Q didn't made a new "Super secure tripcode yet, so if he start to post again he will probably use his regular current tripcode, which is : !UW.yye1fxo

Final Q post? Sayin us to keep going on, that the board is compromised and if he leaves and never post again that will prove that his 2nd tripcode wasn't cracked so that indeed it was him and that in deed the Board Owner aka Baruch The Scribe aka mav[LAG] is a shill that compromised the whole thing. Only if Q (with this tripcode) doesn't post ever again. Let's wait and see.

From there, with all those posts, the anon went crazy on the threads, a lot of them think that the board is compromised and that the 2nd tripcode has been cracked. On the other side, they think it's legit. So it is a bit of a War on opinions going on.

→THEN ALL OF THE Q POSTS HAVE BEEN DELETED.

Before the posts got deleted, Tracy Beanz -who is in close relation with Baruch The Scribe and PamphletAnon (they chat daily)- said that the Q posts might not be legit like I thought, but then, it make me think those posts could have been legit, because they basically pointed out Baruch The Scribe, board being compromised (by his team) and that from now on he won't use this tripcode anymore.

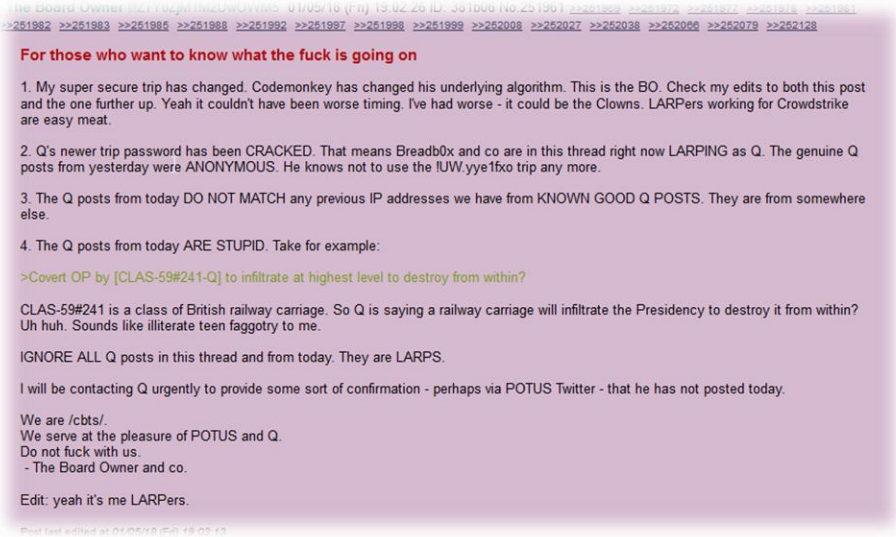

The message seen in the tweet shared by Tracy Beanz is a Reddit comment made by PamphletAnon that says the posts are unconfirmed, that the device and IP used to posts were never seen before and so on (check below). The problem with this, is even when they were asked to release the mod logs or at least a screenshot from the IP that sent those posts compare to a confirmed one, they said no with no explanations or didn't even bothered to answers the anon asking them.

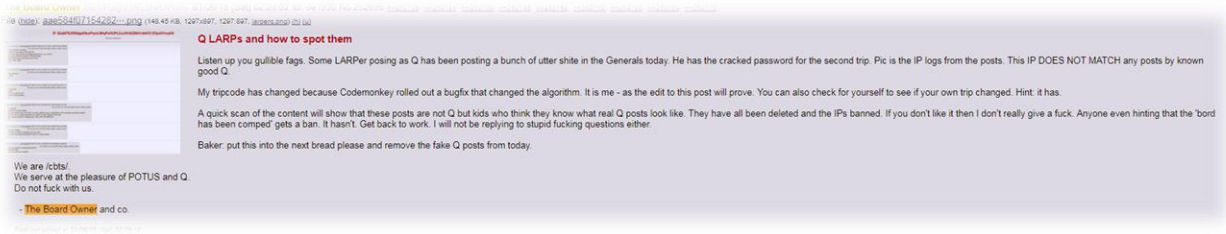

[–] PamphletAnon [S,M] 28 points 6 hours ago* - stickied comment

FOLKS: These posts are UNCONFIRMED. Using our mod dashboard, these posts were made from a device that has never been used by Q before. Until Q can confirm these posts by a number of different methods, these posts should be treated as possibly suspect.

After all of that, the posts are been deleted... why the fuck suppressing them? Hmm... makes you think, right? Even if they would be fake, you let them be, for the login and understanding purposes at least. We cannot directly source them anymore. I had to add a direct link to a screenshot for each of them since they got all deleted.

Then on the followings threads, the Board Owner aka Baruch the Scribe started to spread these messages:

https://8ch.net/cbts/res/252113.html#252698

I've decided to keep the Q posts (after Dec. 25th, 2017) as UNCONFIRMED (with the red background) until I'm able to clarify them. I'm more inclined to think they are true /legit with what followed those posts as explained, but this is my opinion at the moment I write those lines.

A few hours later, Q posted in The Storm board on 8chan.

CodeMonkey - once IDEN validated can you provide a secure board to post under your control to prevent future issues.
IP / device kept the same for your verification.
IP / trip secured at highest level.
BIG events coming.
Q

Q is asking Codemonkey, one of the 8chan's admin to create a secured board for him, where he could post without issues

Just for your information, the board owner of The Storm is PamphletAnon, who run with Baruch The Scribe, so this board is compromised too if it turn out to be real Q posting.

While in the meantime the CBTS board, well... died. The thread #303 got all fucked up with the thread name being "(((BO))) SUCK GOYIM DICK EDITION".

All the community involved behind the "Q story" is mad at the CBTS board owner: Baruch The Scribe.

The next post is one among many others on the CBTS #303 thread, it is censored and one of the softest but at least you get to see what the Anons posting felt at that special moment.

QANON'S POSTS

Codemonkey one of the 8chan admin updated the "Super Secure tripcode" which had a problem with capitalizing letters and he left a message on the CBTS board to say that the board owner (Baruch the Scribe) was wrong, that it was indeed Q posting that night and that the BO deleted all Q messages.

C!ODEMONKEY. 8CHAN ADMINISTRATOR ID: 74E9BF >>255953 (CBTS #304)

As I mentioned on >>>/sudo/66101, I updated the code for super secure tripcodes because someone found it was excluding capital letters, thus making them less secure. I immediately changed the code on January 5, 2018. Because it wasn't really announced except on /sudo/, this might have caused some confusion. Sorry about that.
Regarding any Q posts that happened then, I can't verify anything because it seems the posts have been deleted. However, let's assume Q's post history wasn't the same. That does not necessarily mean his tripcode has been cracked. Q might have changed IPs, reset his connection, used cellular data, used a different VPN provider or even a different IP location from the same VPN provider - there are a number of reasons why a post history might start from scratch. Again, I cannot verify his posts because, well, they don't exist anymore.

C!ODEMONKEY. 8CHAN ADMINISTRATOR ID:1FB886 >>6139 (THE STORM #7)

Based on the access logs, which I had to carefully go through just for this - and this alone, I can confirm this is Q (>>>/thestorm/4706), using his verified tripcode.

C!ODEMONKEY. 8CHAN ADMINISTRATOR ID:1FB886 >>6145 (THE STORM #7)

>(>>>/thestorm/4706)
Not sure why this didn't expand into a link, but it should be >>>/thestorm/4706

C!ODEMONKEY. 8CHAN ADMINISTRATOR ID:1FB886 >>6196 (THE STORM #7)

A summary of events.
>January 2
I added super secure tripcodes. /cbts/ BO secures one.
>January 5 (Japan time)
Someone on /sudo/ pointed out that super secure tripcodes excluded capital letters, a big oversight which I fixed. I changed the code and announced it just on /sudo/. /cbts/ BO doesn't know about it and continues using the tripcode he secured, but because the code changed, his tripcode also changed - this led to confusion.
Q comes back and posts on /cbts/ normally. Post history is not the same, IP hash is not the same. /cbts/ BO assumes, incorrectly, that this is not Q, even though there are a number of reasons why a post history may start from zero, including changing VPN providers, changing VPN IP locations, using cellular data, resetting your modem, posting from a different location, using a different IP (hotel, restaurant etc.).
/cbts/ BO deletes those posts.
Then, Q goes to /pol/, where he is banned, and then /thestorm/, where he asks for verification.
Around 12 hours later, I confirm it is actually Q using his verified tripcode (still uncracked) on /thestorm/.

C!Odemonkey. ☯ 8chan Administrator ID:1fb886 >>6326 (The Storm #7)

About creating a global board just for Calm Before the Storm-related happenings, I must decline the request. But why?
8chan tries to give anons all the tools they need to post as freely as they can provided this happens within the boundaries of the law. I created the tripcode whitelist and super secure tripcodes because I saw there was a need for it. As admin, I have other tasks, like understanding the code I inherited and implementing additional features our users want without breaking the website.
Creating and managing yet another global board would reduce the time I have to update and maintain the 8chan codebase and this wouldn't be fair to the 16,500+ boards 8chan currently has.
All of this reminds me a lot of the early GamerGate boards (not the later split). Try not to fall prey to board brands. The board name doesn't matter because you are mission-oriented, first and foremost. If board x falls, move to board y; if board y becomes compromised, move to board z and so on and so forth. This is the 8chan system.
Finally, I probably wouldn't be a good BO. I'm forgetful and quite busy. What if you need immediate action and I'm traveling or shoveling snow or walking the dog? You would do better with a mission-specific BO that is knowledgeable about these happenings.

Then in the morning Q posted again in The Storm: After being "verified" by Codemonkey. We don'

BO Announcement

Good morning you indomitable anons. Another glorious day in the Corps. Shills, trolls, famefags and other illiterate losers have been busy already today, helped by some Clown shekels. Have faith: they are being dealt with. A few points:

Codemonkey is MIA

He changed the algorithm that generates the super secure trips to fix a bug. That changed my trip AND everyone else who uses a super secure one (MasterArchivist for example). I have asked him for some resolution but so far, none has been forthcoming. This is the BO however, as the edit to this post will show.

Claiming that I or this board is compromised gets you a ban and delete /thestorm/ is over there. Be my guest. Really.

The latest posts from Q are a LARP

The mods have consulted with Dr Jerome Corsi, a recognized expert at military intelligence communications, and he confirms that the most recent drops from Q using the !UW.yye1fxo tripcode are a 'kid who thinks he knows what Q posts look like.' They have been deleted. If you don't like it, again, /thestorm/ is that way.

Any bakers lurking, put your hands up please.

We are /cbts/.

We serve at the pleasure of POTUS and Q.

Do not fuck with us.

Why is POTUS referring to the Black pop now?
Refer back to crumbs.
Q

The Superior General of the Society of Jesus is the official title of the leader of the Society of Jesus – the Roman Catholic religious order which is also known as the Jesuits. He is generally addressed as Father General. The position sometimes carries the nickname of the Black Pope, because of his responsibility for the largest Catholic, male religious order and as contrasted to the white garb of the Pope. The thirty-first and current Superior General is the Reverend Father Arturo Sosa, elected by the 36th General Congregation on October 14, 2016.[1]

What is this "black blurred /unfocused thing" sitting on the paper with the Presidential Seal? Oh! Right! THE SAME PEN. You can reverse engineer the picture back, both of them return no results, because they are new and authentic. The Pen is a Montblanc "StarWalker Extreme Rollerball".

[P_Pers] = POTUS PERSONAL?

Q !UW.YYE1FXO ID: C9DAA0 >>8223 (THE STORM #10)

>>8172

Here Q basically confirm the question asked by the anon which confirms what I said to you, Q referred to POTUS personal account on Twitter.

CodeMonkey left a message on The Storm board for Q, he basically say to Q to create his own board, so he would have a total control over it to secure it himself and even able the read only mode.

C!ODEMONKEY. ☯ 8CHAN ADMINISTRATOR ID:A88CE0 >>10391 (THE STORM #13)

The best, easiest and most secure way to do this would be for Q to become a board owner himself.
Q should create his own board via 8ch.net/create.php. Once the board is secured, he should edit the board settings and enable the CAPS ONLY function. When that happens, only moderators can create threads. Once he creates a thread, he can then lock it so only he can post there. In this case, he won't lose the board because it's explicitly for data dumps only (there are many boards like this on 8chan, like PDF libraries, personal blogs etc.). Discussion would continue on /thestorm/ or any other board of your choice.
If you need help setting this up, I'm all ears. No need for private communications whatsoever.

I asked PamphletAnon (Board owner of The Storm) to copy / paste the message to the very top of the threads, so next time when Q come back he will see it. PamphletAnon did it. Hopefully Q will reply to it.

QANON'S POSTS

UPDATE – ADDING THE TIME CODE.

I decided to update not really the design but to add the time code of the posts. As we have seen they are important. So I basically converted the Q posts into "table", designed the same way that allow me to order the header more easily and to add the date and time in it.

At first, I wanted to added more time zones, but it would have taken too much place (increasing the header's size x2 or x3), it would have added A LOT of pages to this already long document, so I preferred 1 time zone over the others: GMT+1. You can easily convert the time, there's plenty of tools online for that. Anyway, it is just the hours that change, add or remove a bit, unless it's crossing back or forth midnight, then you needs to adjust the date too. The past Q posts will also be update in due time (this take a really long time to update).

LOCK: 15-10-5 DEFCON [1] [1] SIG Q

DEFCON is apparently DEFinitive CONfirmation, the [1] stands for 1 minute between the tweets as you will see the explanation on the next pages.

DEFON 1 might be a metaphor or needs to be read on a different layer but for information, here's the main meaning of DEFCON for information:

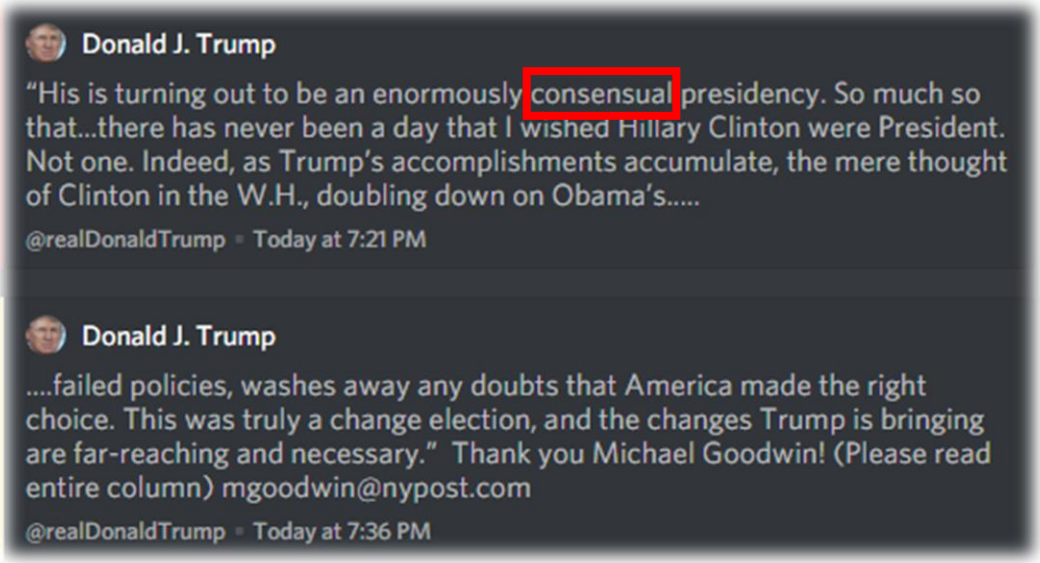

Readiness condition	Exercise term	Description	Readiness
DEFCON 1	COCKED PISTOL	Nuclear war is imminent	Maximum readiness
DEFCON 2	FAST PACE	Next step to nuclear war	Armed Forces ready to deploy and engage in less than 6 hours
DEFCON 3	ROUND HOUSE	Increase in force readiness above that required for normal readiness	Air Force ready to mobilize in 15 minutes
DEFCON 4	DOUBLE TAKE	Increased intelligence watch and strengthened security measures	Above normal readiness
DEFCON 5	FADE OUT	Lowest state of readiness	Normal readiness

UPDATE: DEFCON is apparently DEFinitive CONfirmation.

>>20603 Do you believe in coincidences? [2] Q Chapters. Q

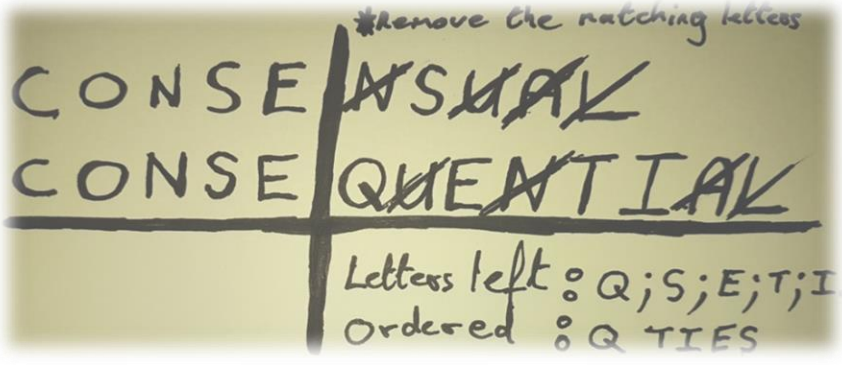

We got one of the BIGGEST Q LEGITIMACY CONFIRMATION IN LIVE REAL TIME WITH THESE POSTS. @reaDonalTrump tweeted this:

Tweet link: (been updated) : https://twitter.com/realDonaldTrump/status/950206338411499520

Note that "consensual" is the key word in this Tweet, note the time. Some letters are missing, one in particular: Q.

Trump's tweet was then deleted and this one was posted instead. Notice the time difference? The other was posted 1 hours and 2 minutes before this one. Do you kept the key word in mind? "Consensual" became "conseQuential", the missing Q was added. If you take out each matching letters, you are left with Q ; S ; E ; T ; I.

Then by ordering these letters you can make a few arrangements like "Q TIES" or "ITS Q" (but the E is left out). The most probable one is probably "Q TIES" because it was meant to be found and used and the future as an AUTH. A new term that Q used. An "auth" represent the elements that directly prove that Q is linked to Trump or vice-versa via the Q posts and the Trump's tweets.

The anon even talk about the time code of the posts and tweets, Q apparently posted ALWAYS before the Trumps tweets. Until this is proved true, take the time code part as speculation. I'll update it in due time.

Check the Tweets @realDonaldTrump & Q Posts Graphic for a different view on it, timetable style.

On the previous page Q mentioned [2] Q Chapters and said do you believe in coincidences? Well, check this out, in the Fire and Fury book by Michael Wolff, inside Chapter 6 & 10 (which make 2 chapters or should I say [2] Q Chapters?), you find something really interesting. Look:

6. AT HOME 7. RUSSIA 8. ORG CHART 9. CPAC 10. GOLDMAN	6 At HQME
This is the table of content; notice the chapters 6 & 10. 6. Home & 10. Goldman. No Q, (Page 6 / 327)	Page 91 / 327 "HOME" the O is replaced by a Q.
8 ORG CHART	10 GQLDMAN
Page 116 / 327 I took another random chapter to point out that the other ones have no "O" replaced by a Q in them.	Page 146 / 327 The O from the Word "GOLDMAN" was replaced by a Q.

GQLDMAN

The Jarvanka side of the White House increasingly felt that rumors leaked by Bannon and his allies were undermining them. Jared and Ivanka, ever eager to enhance their status as the adults in the room, felt personally wounded by these backdoor attacks. Kushner, in fact, now believed Bannon would do anything to destroy them. This was personal. After months of defending Bannon against liberal media innuendo, Kushner had concluded that Bannon was an anti-Semite. That was the bottom-line issue. This was a complicated and frustrating business—and quite hard to communicate to his father-in-law—because one of Bannon's accusations against Kushner, the administration's point person on the Middle East, was that he was not nearly tough enough in his defense of Israel.

After the election, the Fox News anchor Tucker Carlson with sly jocularity privately pointed out to the president that by offhandedly giving the Israel portfolio to his son-in-law—who would, Trump said, make peace in the Middl

In case someone doesn't believe this is legit, here's and extract from page 146, chapter 10 "GQLDMAN", which you can check by yourself. Do it, so you see it from your proper eyes.

QANON'S POSTS

Q knew that The Storm board owned by PamphletAnon, the right hand of Baruch The Scribe, was compromised too. He knew that they were claiming to report to him, just famefagging basically, they wanted to be listened, loved, acclaimed; they wanted attention and probably make money out of it. Now that we cleaned our own swamp, let's move on with the important matters!

Q knew and didn't want this to happen again and again and again. So like CodeMonkey suggest, Q decided to create a board: https://8ch.net/greatawakening/catalog.html with his first two messages being:

Q !UW.yye1fxo	ID: N/A	>> 1	(No Title - /greatawakening/)	01.09.18	GMT+1: 04:03:27

NO comms made outside of this platform.

For the x time, Q confirm that they do not communicate with anyone in private (PM, 1on1) nor than on another websites. WHERE WE GO ONE, WE GO ALL. This sentence let you know, one more time too, that Q is a group of people.

Q !UW.yye1fxo	ID: 509e3e	>> 32189	(The Storm #40)	01.09.18	GMT+1: 05:33:55

Q

In this post Q simply shared his new board on the Storm board, so everyone could follow him on his own secured board. A new Q era begins. Link to the new board: https://8ch.net/greatawakening/catalog.html The board is on a read-only mode, locked. Which means that only Q can post there, no anon can post there. You're probably asking yourself but what now if we want to ask him a question?

Q !UW.yye1fxo	ID: N/A	>> 5	(No Title - /greatawakening/)	01.09.18	GMT+1: 05:39:35
Future dumps here. Secured. Interaction to continue on dedicated /research/ board. Suggest new board created. Current BO's claiming private comms and self promoting. Patriots point - we will follow. Q

In this post, Q indicate to us a new board that he want for us so we can interact with him (the /greatawakening/ board is in read-only mode), called /research/ but we could not create it, so .eight_bit; a member of the "main" discord (https://discord.gg/QK7hN9D) created the board /qresearch/ instead and started to share it on the old board The Storm. Everyone migrated, even Q and he posted in /qresearch/ :

Q !UW.yye1fxo	ID: 8d2f23	>> 25	(Q Research)	01.09.18	GMT+1: 05:57:41
Thank you Patriots. Please begin migration. We didn't like what we saw. Good solution. Protected by CM. Q

Q didn't liked what happened with the others CBTS & The Storm boards, the solution offered by CM (CodeMonkey, the 8chan admin) is pleasing Q, so he did it.

Later in the morning he kept posting:

Q !UW.yye1fxo	ID: c01d7b	>> 2012	(Q Research #2)	01.09.18	GMT+1: 08:06:15
Good job migrating. /qresearch/ confirmed. Removed post to keep it less public. BIG week. This was needed. Be ready. Q

With this post Q confirm the board /qresearch/ instead of just /research/ & they are also announcing a BIG week, so let's be ready guys!

Q

[SACRE] NECESSARY EVENT probably refer again to the Hawaii missile alert "error", Q could means it was necessary. Do you trust military, chain in command? Have faith. WE ARE IN CONTTROL...

Or it could be referring to this:

https://twitter.com/wikileaks/status/952393381086482432

State emergency management officials mistakenly issued a missile threat alert at about 8:07 a.m. today, sending Hawaii into an intense, short-lived panic before they started correcting their error about 20 minutes later.

The cell phone notification read: "BALLISTIC MISSILE THREAT INBOUND TO HAWAII. SEEK IMMEDIATE SHELTER. THIS IS NOT A DRILL."

Although the state emailed that the alert was a mistake at about 8:25 a.m., they did not issue a cell phone alert correction — the way many residents first learned of the bogus alert — until about 38 minutes after the initial mistake.

At about 8:34 a.m., a U.S. Pacific Command spokesman sent an email, saying "USPACOM has detected no ballistic missile threat to Hawaii. Earlier message was sent in error."

Q

Referring to the famous tweet from Julian Assange shared yesterday? Maybe not, I share it, just in case, on the next page.

https://twitter.com/JulianAssange/status/952036089015033856

It is from a special game. New York, Oct. 23, 1918 "The Original Marshall Attack" also known as the "Marshall Gambit". Frank James Marshall vs Jose Raul Capablanca.

You can replay the whole game, move by move using this website: http://www.chessgames.com/perl/chessgame?gid=1095025

It is white's turn. The next move played is Q3 to F3, the White Queen in F3, in front of the bishop at the bottom. Fun fact: A lot of anon went on all sort of crazy ideas about this one. Bishop (as mentioned a few times by Q) would be George Soros and the "queen" would be Hillary Clinton.

The tweet even hit some mainstream media and you had article such as this one: https://www.rt.com/news/415802-assange-cryptic-chess-tweet/

Mezvinsky was born in Philadelphia, Pennsylvania, and grew up attending a Conservative Jewish synagogue.[2] His parents are both former Democratic members of the U.S. House of Representatives. His father is Edward Mezvinsky (b. 1937), who embezzled more than $10 million from people via both a Ponzi scheme and the advance-fee scams, and was found guilty of fraud in 2001.[3][4][5] His mother is Marjorie Margolies (b. 1942), who was a TV reporter and represented Pennsylvania's 13th District from 1993 to 1995. They declared bankruptcy shortly before Mezvinsky's conviction, and divorced.[6]

Q is warning us that it's soon gonna be worst, they will push the fake news narratives further but that doesn't matter, the mass is awakening, a lot faster. It's the snow ball effect. Most of the people know that the MSM are lying and bullshitting most of the time. George Soros who always had the control over the MSM is losing his influences and power… he can't keep his promises.

DON'T LET POTUS SUFFER FROM THE SOROS/LOSER BOTS THAT CONTINUALLY FLOOD.

MAKING AMERICA GREAT AGAIN!
Q

With a post like that, Q actually ASK EVERYBODY to spread MEMES and TO POST during the Trump Fake News Awards (POTUS may reTWEET one or more). He want us to use that meme storm to open the eyes of the people who are still asleep (blue pill) and slaves to the system, to the cabal, to their lies and abuses, show the World!

If everyone actually do that this Wednesday, January 17, 2018, I mean really A LOT of people, that would probably create a huge effect on the global news (world wide) and so on the global consciousness, especially if the meme are TRUTH vs FAKE NEWS memes. It's only FACTS, the things we founds versus the fake news spread in the mainstream media.

With a plan like that, no matter if Q is real or not at this point, THIS ALONE would have one amazing impact on the entire World. It is beautiful, sharing, simply but massively the truth using meme. As always, use the critical thinking, does it "vibes" with you? Do it or don't, you decide, it is only up to you. You can admit that the idea is beautiful either you decide to be apart or not!

THE DAY – FAKE NEWS AWARDS – MEMES TO THE LAST BITS

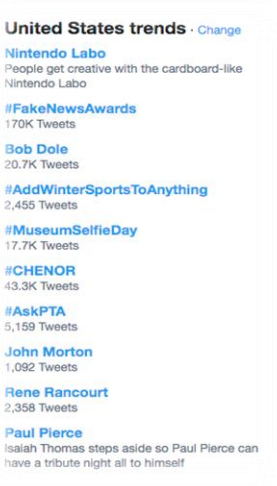

Either that your memes or not on that special day, be prepared to be invaded by the dankest memes of all times! Tsunami of truth is coming!

We started sharing some memes on the late evening of Jan, 16. 2018 as some "candidates memes", showing some of the most well known liars of the MainStream Media (MSM), which most of them are part of the Project Mockingbird. This is explained in the "Answering Q" part of this document. But long story short: It's a CIA program that recruited people in College, trained them to be Secret Agent inside the MSM that could push forward their wanted narratives. Anderson Cooper is one of them for example.

We then kept going on in the early morning releasing some Truth Meme and starting to use some of the "candidates" and choose hash tags; #WeThePeople; #FakeNewsAwards; #GreatAwekening; #TheStorm; #QAnon; for the start. A MASSIVE AMOUNT OF PEOPLE WERE PARTICIPATING! Both at the early morning and later during the day! Around the end of the morning, approaching noon, we were on the top 10 treads with some of the hash tags.

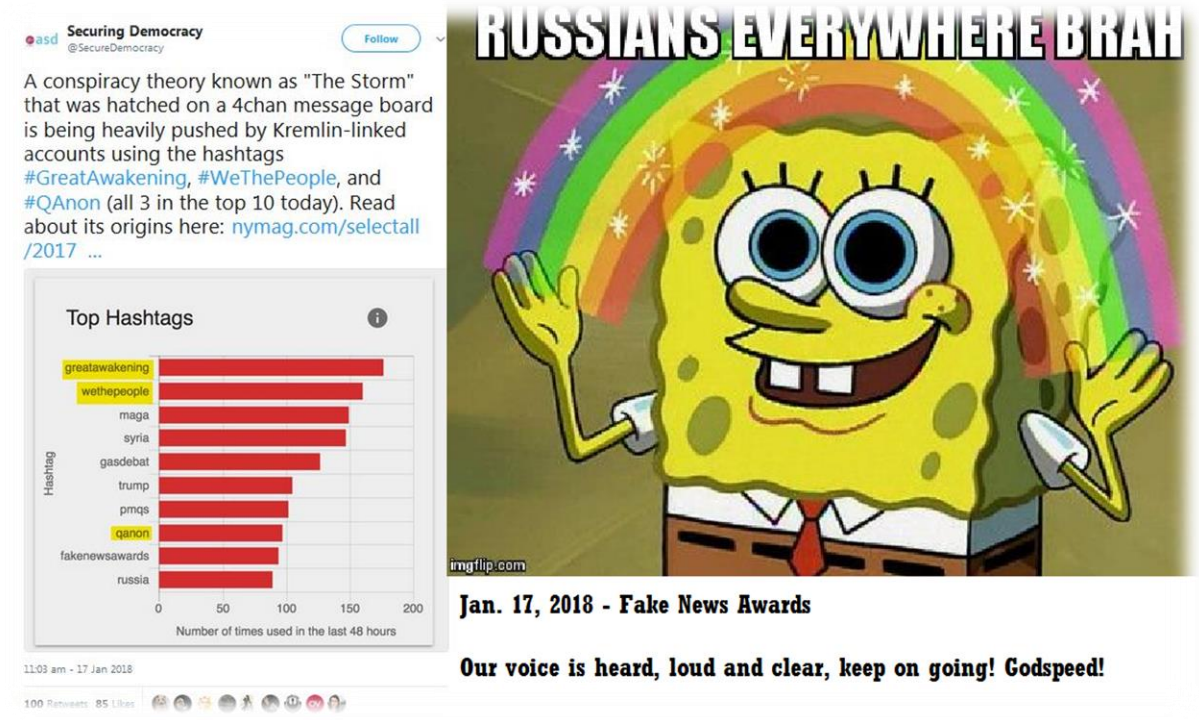

It brought a lot of attention, too quick and Twitter started to take down manually those trending hash tags but that wasn't all, then they target most of the people using the hash tag #GreatAwekening and shadow banned them; which means that you are still allowed to post and all, but no one will see it until your account has been "cleared".

A lot of people, including myself couldn't post anymore. I was prepared for this; I made other accounts to keep sharing memes and posts.

So in resume, we were very successful. A few hundred thousands of tweets were shared using those tags and a lot of normies started to notice it! Goal achieved. Even though it was achieved and we were blocked first by the removal of the trending hash tags and secondly by the shadow banning, we kept going on! Our voice was heard, loud and clear! But then, we started to notice that kind of tweets (between the floods of memes and news), which I had to turn as a meme and re-share:

Seriously? The Russian narrative once again? TROLOLOL. At least this time, we won't need any research or digging to prove it, because we (as in the Q community) were the ones sharing those and none of us are in any way a part of some Kremlin-psyop or "Russian collusion" lmao.

That is hilarious (to us at least), this prove our point in the dankest way! They will tell you pure bullshit to keep you away from the truth- Anyway, after a good laugh among us, we kept going on but we had to improvise a new tactic, since the most trending hash tags were deleted, even the new ones we made that reached the top 10 trending hash tags were deleted, so we came up with this basic idea: using the already most trending hash tags. Simple, right? But very efficient! So we "hijacked" those hash tags, such as #BettyWhite; #EricTrump; #MikePence;

Remember that we did all of that before the Fake News Awards even started.

By the way, didn't the thought of "why is it happening on the 17th?" cross your mind? In case you didn't though about it, here is a strange "coincidence". Hmm.... The 17th, or maybe the 17 letters of the alphabet? Q. There is no coincidence.More proofs? COVFEFE was not a random mumbling tweet from Trump.

LEGAL SIGNIFICANCE OF TRUMP'S TWEETING

Trump's tweets have been legally significant in the past. White House Press Secretary Sean Spicer stated that Trump's tweets are "considered official statements by the President of the United States."[8]

Trump's Twitter posts have contradicted his agenda by undercutting or contradicting public official statements, and the arguments of U.S. Department of Justice attorneys seeking to defend Trump's decisions in court. In 2017, a federal appellate court cited one of Trump's tweets in upholding a lower court's order blocking Trump's Executive Order 13780 from going into effect. Courts have been clear that Twitter statements can be used as evidence of intent.[9]

Trump has blocked a number of users from his "@realDonaldTrump" Twitter account, prompting First Amendment complaints. In a June 2017 letter to Trump, the Knight First Amendment Institute (affiliated with the John S. and James L. Knight Foundation) stated that the Twitter account was a "designated public forum" akin to a public meeting, and the blocking of users violated their constitutional right to freedom of speech. The Institute warned that it could seek legal action on the issue. Legal scholars are split on whether such a challenge would be successful.[10]

Back to the Fake News Awards held by the US President, Donald J. Trump. Everyone was waiting for it to come out, from everywhere around the World, everyone with different expectations of it even though nothing was ever said on it, I mean in details, what kind of content it would be or how it would be announced / presented. All we knew is that Trump would elect the some MSM as Fake News of the year.

As soon as President Trump tweeted with a news article link from the GOP titled "The Highly Anticipated 2017 Fake News Awards", everyone clicked on it to read it of course. Surprise?! The website was not available to high demand traffic. Everyone kept refreshing, on and on.

The very few people that could read it, printed it as a PDF file to share it across the internet. So everyone could read it even if the website's servers could not support the entering data traffic. I won't "spoil" you the results in case you haven't read it yet.

Some people were disappointed by it, judging it too simple because they probably had high expectations from this event. Even some people that were expecting that kind of content release were a bit disappointed by the result themselves. But what ever what you were expecting, once again, nothing "special" was promised except a list of MSM news companies that are elected as the "cherry on top" of all the lies spread during the year 2017.

On the other side, Q, asked said in of his last post : "MAKE THE FAKE NEWS AWARDS YOUR 1ST ORGANIZED TWEET STORM DAY", which we did. He even said "POTUS may reTWEET one or more". Which I didn't saw, not even one. But maybe it was meant to be understood in another way? I guess you could have had some expectation coming from those last Q posts but nothing was promised either except that POTUS MAY have had retweeted one of more, if it was really what it meant.

The tweet storm of truth continued until the early morning on the next day, I even saw some truth still been tweeted or RT by this afternoon. Great work everybody! I am sure we red pilled some people with this. Even just 1 person would already be a victory!

The shot heard round the world ref to the killing of Archduke Franz Ferdinand of Austria in 1914 that led to World War I and to the opening of the American Revolutionary War in 1775. . Who just resigned from Google? Answer: Eric Schmidt, on Dec. 21, 2017.

Relevant link: https://www.theguardian.com/technology/2017/dec/21/eric-schmidt-resigns-executive-chairman-alphabet-google

Eric Emerson Schmidt (born April 27, 1955) is an American software engineer, businessman and the Executive Chairman of Alphabet Inc.
In 2017, Forbes ranked Schmidt as the 119th-richest person in the world, with an estimated wealth of US$11.1 billion.

SOURCE: https://en.wikipedia.org/wiki/Eric_Schmidt

Did Hussein (Barack Hussein Obama) use a private email address? Yes. @what? bobama@ameritech.net = @AMERICATECH.net

What private network did Eric Schmidt set up in North Korea? To set up a private network (hosted by Google) that no one could read. Only the elite have access to the North Korean's intranet and the Cabal. But the NSA swept these e-mails up in the data collection which is why Hawaii plays into this. Snowden was transferring these emails and evidence of this private communication network through Google and NK (when he still worked there) and the alert allowed Trump to seize the e-mails. He's got them. BDT. Bulk Data Transfer.

I found the original tweet from @PolitixGal that shared this picture with the exact same tweet-text as you see in the screenshot: https://twitter.com/PolitixGal/status/793145973195145216

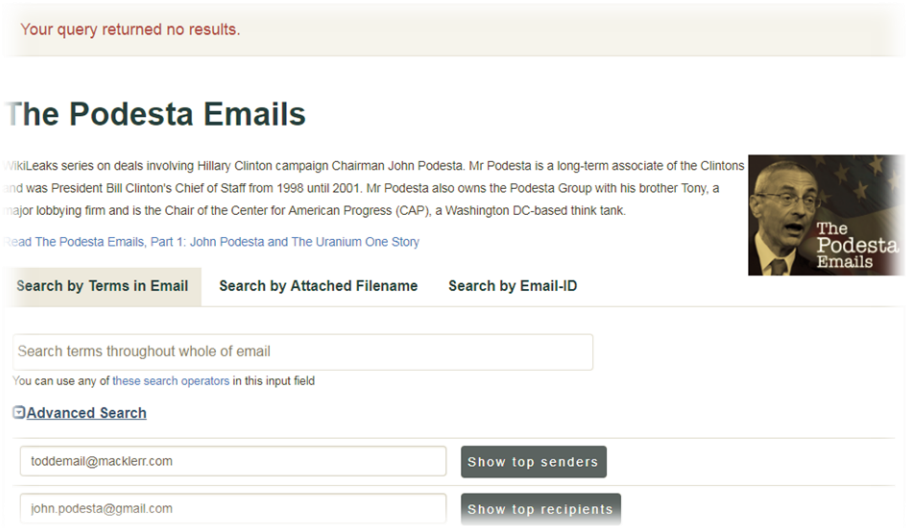

News article about this leaked email: https://ijr.com/2016/11/725453-hillary-body-odor-election-rigging-more-fake-podesta-emails-expose-darker-side-of-the-media/

So I tried to look on WikiLeaks in the Podesta emails, I was using the advanced request form and used these two inputs:

TO: john.podesta@gmail.com
FROM: toddemail@macklerr.com

Request link: https://wikileaks.org/podesta-emails/?q=&mfrom=toddemail%40macklerr.com&mto=john.podesta%40gmail.com&title=&notitle=&date_from=&date_to=&nofrom=&noto=&count=50&sort=6#searchresult

But it return you to a "no results". If it was leaked by WikiLeaks it should have been there. It either means it comes from another source or that it is fake but I more inclined to the first option, why would Q share a fake leaked email? Especially when he told us that "The flood is coming" by saying; emails; videos; pictures and so on.

GUYS- email was sent out by NSA before election with some plausible deniability attached to it so people could say "FAKE"! HOWEVER, the main audience wasn't normies, it was the black hats, a shot across the bow to say "WE HAVE IT ALL, YOUR'E RIGGING WON'T WORK". Q just brought it back up to speak directly to "THEM" again to show they are going to dump it all.

9 layers, Wiklinson & Walsh = 9/WW ? Some of them had ties with the Obama administration.

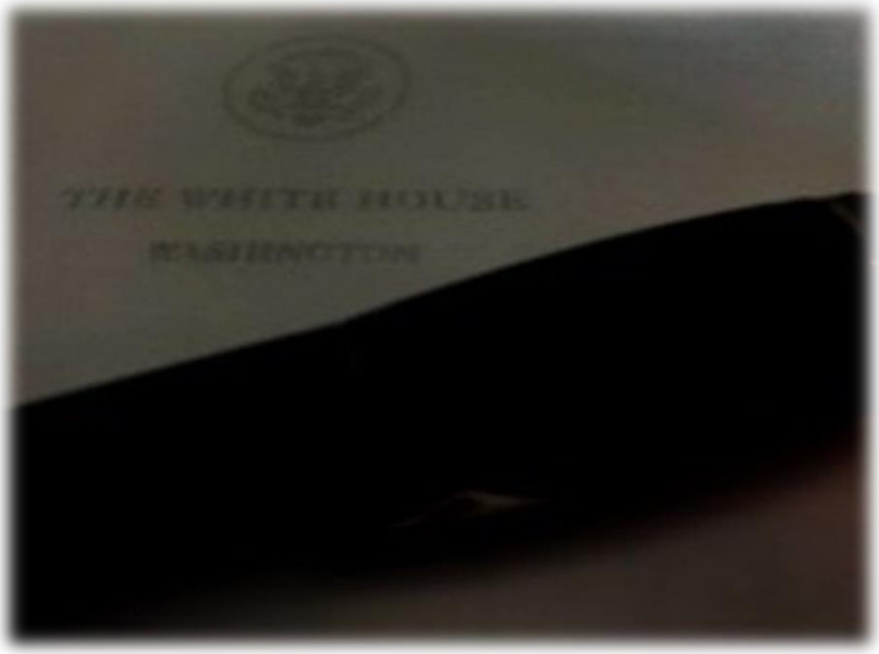

It could also means 911, as September 11, 2001; The attacks. Why? Well when used to look exactly for this query on Google, here was the result you would get:

If you try now to google « 9/ww » it shows the exact same result, exept that the « September 11 attacks » was taken out, it does not appear anymore. Try it for yourself.

There are two types of Council on Foreign Relations membership: life, and term membership, which lasts for five years and is available to those between the ages of 30 and 36 at the time of their application. Only U.S. citizens (native born or naturalized) and permanent residents who have applied for U.S. citizenship are eligible. A candidate for life membership must be nominated in writing by one Council member and seconded by a minimum of three others (strongly encouraged to be other CFR members).[1]

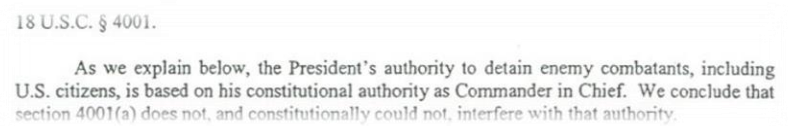

Corporate membership (250 in total) is divided into three levels: "Founders" ($100,000), "President's Circle" ($60,000), and "Affiliates" ($30,000). All corporate executive members have opportunities to hear distinguished speakers, such as overseas presidents and prime ministers, chairmen and CEOs of multinational corporations, and US officials and Congressmen. President's Circle and Founders are also entitled to other benefits, including attendance at small, private dinners or receptions with senior American officials and world leaders.[2]

This PDF explains you how and why the POTUS has the authority by law to detain enemy combatants during war, including U.S citizens.

18 U.S.C. § 4001.

As we explain below, the President's authority to detain enemy combatants, including U.S. citizens, is based on his constitutional authority as Commander in Chief. We conclude that section 4001(a) does not, and constitutionally could not, interfere with that authority.

Select news members / journalists are vital to delivering the message (as are YOU).

They represent a clear and present danger to the enemy.
Re-read past crumbs re: security.
Where is JS?
How do we truly protect those important to us?

Q

JS = John Sullivan?

https://twitter.com/JulianAssange/status/957185828891054080

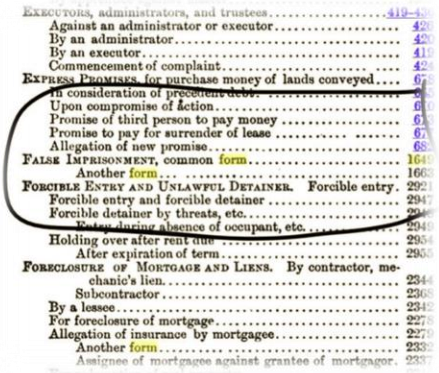

http://archive.is/Hf3Jr

As you can read from these tweets, Sean Hannity account was "mysteriously" taken down after he tweeted "Form Submission 1649 | #Hannity. Julian Assange reported it and it even made the news: https://www.rt.com/usa/417149-hannity-twitter-profile-shutdown/ & http://www.breitbart.com/tech/2018/01/26/sean-hannitys-twitter-disappears/

A lot of people were intrigued by this, so they started digging in all sort of stuff relating Sean Hannity with his tweet, trying to understand it. Then a lot of people find a specific reason, here is an example of one of many tweets like this one:

https://twitter.com/big_and_broken/status/957158766130225152

At the time of this writing, there is concern regarding Sean Hannity. Take a moment now to look for updated information regarding Hannity. Has he been allowed to Tweet? Has he been reached for comment? Do the answers indicate his location and well being are verified (Not MSM, Twitter representatives). If not, why was he deleted from Twitter (his account is down now) and where is he? Even if all is well, the MSM still has A LOT of explaining to do, because it looks like THIS is the MSM's last ditch response to the release of the memo. The MSM seem to be purging their ranks to prepare to blind us to the truth laid out in the memo. The MSM is trying to creating one big seamless wall of lies and conservative journalists are a threat to their strategy.

Q drop 175260 asks if the image Hannity was trying to tweet and for which he is/was removed, appears to circle and call attention to the words "False Imprisonment." Q asks if Hannity was trying to send the public an SOS (i.e., call for help). Let's find out. Let's not stop until we are sure. It looks like we have to keep on all patriots in the media now; let's do our job.

Further, Q asks,"Where is JS?" which the community currently believes refers to John Sullivan who has not been available for days. Good question. Where is Hannity, where is John Sullivan? Who else has gone silent?

Q asks, "How do we truly protect those important to us?"
My answer: We stand with them. If patriot journalists are suddenly unaccounted for, we do everything we can to elevate their absence and demand answers. We Tweet, email and call the networks and explain we won't be watching network news until we have answers. We tell them we do not consent to their control over what we chose to listen to or watch. We do not consent to how they treat journalists who tell us the truth.

We've almost got our hands on that memo. We almost get to find out what our government employees have been doing to the rule of law; we want our conservative journalists here with us to reap the rewards of their hard, at times dangerous, work.

The MSN and Deep State never thought she would lose. They don't believe we will fight. These people are stupid.

A few hours later, Sean Hannity's Twitter account was back up but no news heard from him (((yet))).

Im British, and have been on the Trump train for about a year and a half. Like most people, when i first heard Donald Trump was running for president i was very skeptical.
But then something magical happened. I watched one of his rallies. And i saw the look.in his eye. The words in his tounge. He spoke about draining the swamp, and didnt care for Politically Correct nonsense that is killing society. He bellow words of America First. And it was glorious!
The moment that 100% solidified in my mind that DJT was legit was at the new york dinner. Where he and Hilary had to make a speech infront of the elite. I rememebr Mr Trump imsulting them to their face - the look on their faces was something i will never forget.
He has had the MSM attacking him 24/7 and still stands strong. Immigration is down, black unemployment is down, Hispanic too, and lets not forget how the value of the USD value skyrocketting.
I think that President Trump is the greatest person to have walked this Earth. And so are persons like Q, who have been working in the shadows for the good of all.

Freedom of the Press Foundation (FPF) is a non-profit organization founded in 2012 to fund and support free speech and freedom of the press.

The organization's board of directors has included well-known journalists and whistleblowers such as Daniel Ellsberg, Laura Poitras, Glenn Greenwald, and Xeni Jardin, as well as activists, celebrities, and filmmakers. NSA whistleblower Edward Snowden joined FPF's board of directors in 2014.[4] Jardin left in 2016.[5]

FPF is most famous for breaking the WikiLeaks financial blockade and developing SecureDrop, the open-source whistleblower submission system originally co-created by Aaron Swartz.

James Dolan, former Marine and co-creator of the whistleblower submission system SecureDrop alongside Aaron Swartz and Wired editor Kevin Poulsen, has died. The Freedom of the Press Foundation, which took over SecureDrop, reports that Dolan, age 36, took his own life.

Aaron Hillel Swartz (November 8, 1986 – January 11, 2013) was an American computer programmer, entrepreneur, writer, political organizer, and Internet hacktivist. He was involved in the development of the web feedformat RSS[3] and the Markdown publishing format,[4] the organization Creative Commons,[5] the website framework web.py,[6] and the social news site Reddit, in which he became a partner after its merger with his company, Infogami.[i]

James Dolan (1981-2017) was an American computer security expert who, with Aaron Swartz and Kevin Poulsen, co-developed SecureDrop, a widely used secure digital platform for sources to anonymously submit materials to journalists.[1]

Kevin Lee Poulsen (born November 30, 1965) is an American former black-hat hacker and a current editor at Wired.

SecureDrop is an open-source software platform for secure communication between journalists and sources (whistleblowers).[3] It was originally designed and developed by Aaron Swartz and Kevin Poulsen under the name DeadDrop.[4][5] James Dolan also co-created the software.[6]

After Aaron Swartz's death, the first instance of the platform was launched under the name Strongbox by staff at The New Yorker on 15 May 2013.[7] The Freedom of the Press Foundation took over development of DeadDrop under the name SecureDrop, and has since assisted with its installation at several news organizations, including ProPublica, The Guardian, The Intercept, and The Washington Post.[8][9][10]

And so let's be honest about what is happening here. This is obviously a Member-canvassed stratagem that was decided before this hearing. "Well, we can't very well prevent the minority; that would look bad. We are calling for transparency. God, we had the whole release-the-memo campaign. How will it look if we don't want to release the Democratic memo? Will that hashtag come boomeranging around on us? Well, okay, maybe the best we can do is delay theirs so that we can get out and set the agenda."

I mean, is that really where we are now? The majority is going to vote to release classified information without it being vetted, even though the Department says that is extraordinarily reckless. Each one of you, to a person, castigated Clinton, Secretary Clinton, for being extremely careless with emails, and now you are going to be extraordinarily reckless with this? I don't know how you reconcile that.

But you certainly can't reconcile it by saying that you are going to get

>Obviously the train slowed down so must have been warned...
I think it was warned.
Helicopter surveillance saw the truck and warned the engineer.
I'm guessing truck was kitty korner between the crossbucks with the back end (dumpster lift hydraulics boom) facing the oncoming train.
Train hits boom, spins truck around and rips body off the cab, leaving the cab at the crossing. Train drags truck body down the tracks until the body rolls off down the embankment.
Question is, if truck tried to run crossing, why didn't occupants flee cab when getting stuck, unless train hit the truck just as it was trying to run the crossing.?
Have to figure, though, if aerial surveillance sees truck and warns engineer, the truck had to have been there for a while, so why didn't occupants flee?
If the truck was there as a plant, the only sense I can make of it is that the occupants were patsies, i.e., they were told they were only going to force the train to stop, on the idea of an antifa protest.
I don't think surveillance would see a truck headed towards the crossing and tell the engineer to brake, assuming the truck would stop on the tracks. However, it could be that the access road was closed and any traffic was regarded as a danger.
Key is how fast does an amtrak train usually go through there, and how fast was this one going. If this train was slower, then why?

THE MEMO IS RELEASED

The memo was declassified by the President Donald J. Trump and released on that day. It's all over the web, Twitter, Facebook, alternative media, the chans and even on mainstream media (MSM)! The PDF contain a letter from the White House (2 pages) and the memo (4 pages).

Official link from the House of Intelligence Committee: https://intelligence.house.gov/uploadedfiles/memo_and_white_house_letter.pdf

RESUME

The DNC rigs the Democratic Primary Election against Bernie Sanders so Hilliary can win the nomination. Obama's administration starts to request surveillance on Trump, his family, his transition team, and anyone associated with him. Donna Brazil gives Hilliary the questions to a debate. The DNC pays Christopher Steele to come up with a smear dossier about Trump. The mainstream media releases a taped conversation about Trump talking about grabbing women parts. After all this Trump still wins the General Election.

Obama orders an investigation into Russia meddling in our elections. Obama changes Executive Order 12333 to allow more agencies to have access to surveillance data. The Democratic Party comes up with a scandal that Trump Colluded with Russia to win the election with no evidence or proof. This wild claim is backed up by the mainstream media. Obama hold overs start unmasking Trump's transition team and staff members then release the classified information to the mainstream media. Why? Because the DNC and the Obama administration colluded with the intelligence community to thwart Trump's campaign efforts to get him elected president.

All this Russia collusion is an attempt to cover up the fact that the Obama administration, the intelligence community, the DNC, along with the mainstream media used our nation's surveillance as a political tool to try to get Hilliary elected President.

THIS MAKES WATERGATE LOOK LIKE A KINDERGARTEN PLAY. LET THAT SINK IN

After the memo being released, a lot of people commented on it. John McCain released a statement about the memo being released and that goes completely the opposite way of the FACTS that are now officially confirmed by the white house. Link:

https://www.mccain.senate.gov/public/index.cfm/2018/2/statement-by-sasc-chairman-john-mccain-on-partisan-attacks-on-the-fbi-doj

He keeps pushing the Russian narrative, that all of this is only beneficial to President Vladimir Putin and Russia. Read it by yourself:

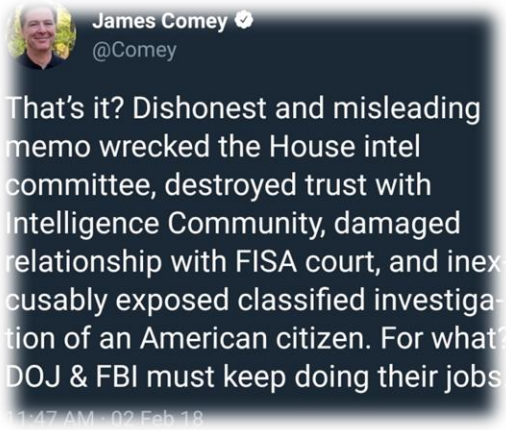

STATEMENT BY SASC CHAIRMAN JOHN MCCAIN ON PARTISAN ATTACKS ON THE FBI & DOJ

Washington, D.C. – U.S. Senator John McCain (R-AZ), Chairman of the Senate Armed Services Committee, released the following statement on partisan attacks on the FBI and Department of Justice:

"In 2016, the Russian government engaged in an elaborate plot to interfere in an American election and undermine our democracy. Russia employed the same tactics it has used to influence elections around the world, from France and Germany to Ukraine, Montenegro, and beyond. Putin's regime launched cyberattacks and spread disinformation with the goal of sowing chaos and weakening faith in our institutions. And while we have no evidence that these efforts affected the outcome of our election, I fear they succeeded in fueling political discord and dividing us from one another.

"The latest attacks on the FBI and Department of Justice serve no American interests – no party's, no president's, only Putin's. The American people deserve to know all of the facts surrounding Russia's ongoing efforts to subvert our democracy, which is why Special Counsel Mueller's investigation must proceed unimpeded. Our nation's elected officials, including the president, must stop looking at this investigation through the warped lens of politics and manufacturing partisan sideshows. If we continue to undermine our own rule of law, we are doing Putin's job for him."

Dilley AM Periscope, 2.2.2018, Reading of the Memo

It's one thing to have conjecture about treason. It's one thing to reports of treason. It's another to have it come from the House Intelligence Committee, and this is the very first memo.
Who knew what was going on?
Yates, Comey, McCabe, obviously Steele, Preistrap, Strzok, Rosenstein...
This is the beginning—this points 100% that Obama knew. All Obama's people, they all knew.
This makes Watergate look like a parking ticket.
McCabe knew, Strzok knew, Comey knew—they got Comey's signatures on this stuff.
They're all going down.
They have names of reporters who were propagating this fake news. The goal was to make sure Trump never became President.
They all knew.
And people wonder why there's going to be Military Tribunals, why there's 13,000 sealed indictments now, if you go look on Pacer.
They're screwed.
The MSM is going to try to downplay it. It won't work. It's too late.
Hillary Clinton is mentioned in there. They're all in there. Unbelievable.

After reading the memo and just prior to signing off, Dilley got some intel that he shared:
Sedition = death penalty.
RICO = life in prison
Which category is top tier?
That's right, sedition, hanging time.
Sessions will talk to POTUS shortly.
Sessions can now unrecuse himself and kill Special Counsel and instruct Gowdy and NEP to start the ball rolling.
Storm is here, and it's beautiful.

I'll add: "Wow!"

3rd Amtrak train crash in a month, is it a coincidence? You are the judge.

Two Amtrak personnel were killed and over 100 others were injured when an Amtrak passenger train collided with a parked CSX freight train early Sunday just outside the capital of South Carolina, officials said.

The South Carolina Emergency Management Division said Amtrak 91 was traveling from New York to Miami when it collided with the CSX train in Pine Ridge around 2:35 a.m.

"It appears to me that the CSX train was on the track it was supposed to be on," South Carolina Gov. Henry McMaster said at a news conference. "It appears Amtrak was on the wrong track. That's what it appears to me."

U.S. Constitution – Article 3 Section 3 : https://www.usconstitution.net/xconst_A3Sec3.html

Treason against the United States, shall consist only in levying War against them, or in adhering to their Enemies, giving them Aid and Comfort. No Person shall be convicted of Treason unless on the Testimony of two Witnesses to the same overt Act, or on Confession in open Court.

The Congress shall have power to declare the Punishment of Treason, but no Attainder of Treason shall work Corruption of Blood, or Forfeiture except during the Life of the Person attainted.

Corruption of Blood: https://www.usconstitution.net/glossary.html#BLOOD

Corruption of Blood was part of ancient English penalty for treason. It was usually part of a Bill of Attainder, which normally sentenced the accused to death. The corruption of blood would forbid the accused's family from inheriting his property. Such bills and punishments were often inflicted upon Tories by colonial governments immediately following independence. Source: 381 US 437

As we keep digging, we always find more. Some anons that are good with photo editing software, such as PhotoShop, tried to enhance the quality of the picture, resize it, refocus it and so on. Someone had the idea to play with the color setting to see if they were any other edited part in the picture.

Well, surprise, surprise! The whole screen from Ohio Rep. Joyce Beatty was altered and replaced (green). The "blurred" line is just used to make it appear as "partially" censored, when none of it is real. What are they hiding away from us? Something too obvious and dangerous for them? Read below.

Yes, I do think Q is asking us to find a RAW VIDEO, that way; no one will be able to say « oh, it is photoshopped ».

Also The video cameras inside the house chamber are not owned or operated by CSPAN. The house also forbids any news network to bring their own cameras inside the chamber. The cameras inside the house chamber are owned and operated by the house itself; specifically the House Recording Studio. Since there are, I believe, 4 camera feeds operating in the chamber - I believe Q wants us to view the RAW footage on Feed 1. This must be obtained offline through The Clerk of the House.

Barlow was sometimes held up as a straw man for a kind of naive techno-utopianism that believed that the Internet could solve all of humanity's problems without causing any more. As someone who spent the past 27 years working with him at EFF, I can say that nothing could be further from the truth. Barlow knew that new technology could create and empower evil as much as it could create and empower good. He made a conscious decision to focus on the latter: "I knew it's also true that a good way to invent the future is to predict it. So I predicted Utopia, hoping to give Liberty a running start before the laws of Moore and Metcalfe delivered up what Ed Snowden now correctly calls 'turn-key totalitarianism.'"

Barlow's lasting legacy is that he devoted his life to making the Internet into "a world that all may enter without privilege or prejudice accorded by race, economic power, military force, or station of birth . . . a world where anyone, anywhere may express his or her beliefs, no matter how singular, without fear of being coerced into silence or conformity."
In the days and weeks to come, we will be talking and writing more about what a extraordinary role Barlow played for the Internet and the world. And as always, we will continue the work to fulfill his dream.

This is pure speculation and probably just fitting things in places, but....From the latest trump tweet, just taking the first 3 Letters of the capital letters I come up with [[TBA - MIS - MAG - RDB]]
TBA = To Be Announced
MIS = Management Information System
Management Information Systems are typically organized around the functional areas of an organization. Learn about some of the most common applications of Management Information Systems.
MAG = Make America Great
RDB = Relation Database Management
RDB is a fast, portable, relational database management system without arbitrary limits, other than memory and processor speed) that runs under, and interacts with, the UNIX Operating system.
==========
Is Q/Pres going to use a MIS to MAG with compents from a RDB aka coded leaks to or from the NSA/WIKI soon to blow EVERYTHING wide open and show us the LIGHT?

Some theory brought by an anon on the thread, that Q directly and clear answer's to: No.

Q

WHAT IS A KILLBOX?

In weaponry, a Kill Box is a three-dimensional target area, defined to facilitate the integration of coordinated joint weapons fire.[1][2][3]
It is a joint forces coordination measure enabling air assets to engage surface targets without needing further coordination with commanders and without terminal attack control. The space is defined by an area reference system, but could follow terrain features, be located by grid coordinates or a radius from a center point.

Such a joint coordination measure can help commanders focus the effort of air and indirect fire assets, and also restrict the trajectories and effects of surface-to-surface fires. There may be no-fire areas (NFAs), restricted operations areas (ROAs) and airspace coordination areas (ACAs) included. No friendly ground forces should go into a kill box unless covered by a no-fire area.

A type of Fire Support Coordinating Measure (FSCM), a Kill Box is often defined by a grid reference system – based on lines of Latitude and Longitude – superimposed upon a map of an area of operation. Each square of the grid may be sub-divided into smaller boxes, each of which may carry its own level of permission – or restriction – on the use of air-to-surface or surface-to-surface weapons.

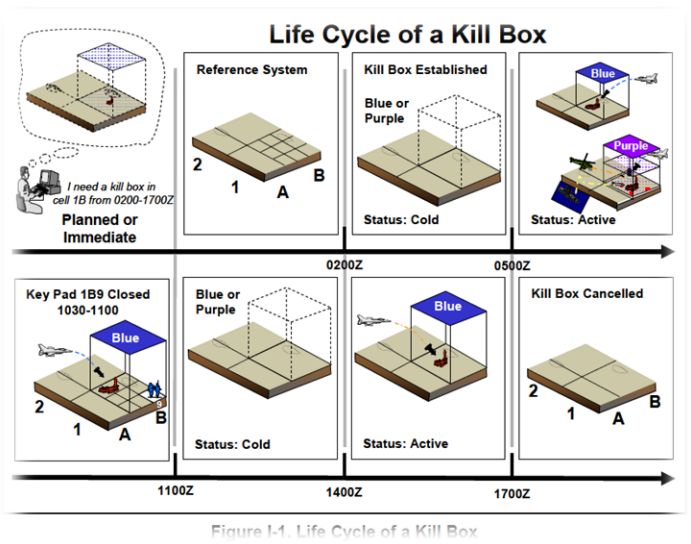

First developed by the U.S. Air Force in the late 1980s, the technique gained notoriety through its use during the first Gulf War (1991). The tactics, techniques, and procedures of Kill Box employment were further refined by the U.S. Air Force throughout the 1990s, leading to more efficient prosecution of targets.

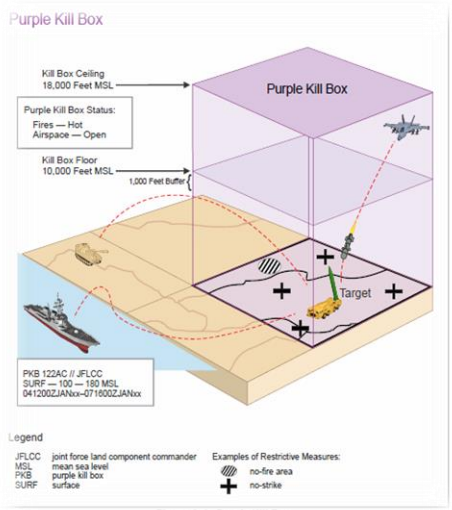

During the 2003 invasion of Iraq, they were once again used with devastating effect to prosecute the air war in support of the initial invasion. Use of Kill Boxes is now part of Joint U.S. Doctrine and is used by many of the U.S.'s allies.

TYPES OF KILL BOXES

- Blue – permit air-to-surface fires in the Kill Box without further coordination or deconfliction[4][5] with friendly forces.
- Purple – reduces the coordination requirements for air-to-surface fires, while still allowing surface component commanders to employ surface-to-surface fire. It allows the maximum use of joint fires, creating a synergistic effect and maximum potential for neutralizing enemy forces.

This is a zoom in on the building that is on the right, at the very bottom (near the construction / destruction site). You can see a logo and what looked like Chinese characters. I found it: Bank of China.

So now, we know, it's in China but where? Tall and modern buildings? Industrial zones, lots of high ways. Probably Hong Kong or Shanghai.

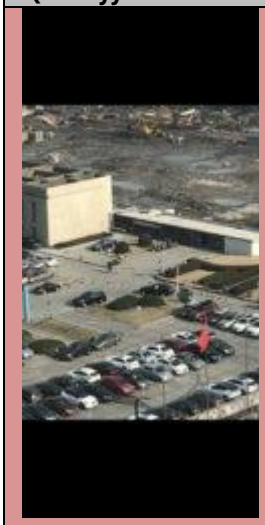

Shanghai it was! It is the King Tower, it was the tallest tower in China (1996) until the Jin Mao Tower's completion in 1998. Wikipedia: https://en.wikipedia.org/wiki/King_Tower

FBI informant on Uranium One Breaks Silence Today
https:// saraacarter.com/fbi-informant-uranium-one-breaks-silence-today/

https://twitter.com/seanhannity/status/961415975626330112

An informant who spent years gathering information on the Russian energy and uranium market industry for the FBI, met staff members of the Senate Judiciary Committee, House Oversight, and House Intelligence Committees on Wednesday. He gave explosive testimony on his years as an undercover informant providing information to the FBI on Russian criminal networks operating in the United States. He also contends in his testimony, and written briefs, to the FBI that Russia attempted to hide its ongoing aid to help sustain Iran's nuclear industry, at the time the Obama administration approved the sale of 20 percent of U.S. uranium mining rights to Russia.

"He recounted numerous times that the Russians bragged that the Clintons' influence in the Obama administration would ensure CIFIUS approval for Uranium One. And he was right"

Tina. S. Kaidanow (Principal Deputy Assistant Secretary, Bureau of Political-Military Affairs) was/is in Shanghai since Feb. 6th, 2018: https://www.theepochtimes.com/u-s-promotes-weapons-sales-in-southeast-asia-amid-chinas-encroaching-influence-in-region_2434369.html

King Tower, Shanghai, China.

This is the building where Q and his surveillance team were taking the pictures at distance, from a high point of view, another tower.

There is nothing more to dig in that subject (the raid at the King Tower) for the moment, Q said it himself; People asked for arrests (publicly), gave one example to prove his point, it is not because you don't see the things happening live on mainstream media or wherever you take you information from, that it means nothing is happening. However, I will still explain It below.

Lots of things happens behind the curtains, most of it is unknown by the mass or even by some of the "players" themselves, since everything is compartmentalized in this Babylonian system that we live in. Only the few people "at the top of the pyramid" know.

We basically had a quick look out on what is happening behind the curtains for a specific arrest.

Disinformation as spread everywhere. Everybody is seeking truth, we all know deep down that this life is much more than what we are told, they know and they don't tell us, instead they lied and chose to control us for their own agenda and for a very long time.

This time is over. The Great Awakening is already here. Lots of White Hats, "lights workers": the good guys (which you are part of), which care for everyone, worked for a long time to make this happens. Internet connected the World, everyone, us, the information but it is also our new "memory" tool on top of the books. Everything is saved for ever online.

Back to Q's posts after the little distraction:

- Back in December Q dropped this random post: Dec 8 2017 11:01:30 Q !ITPb.qbhqo ID: 052e3b 54349 Renee J James
- Q made this post after posting the pictures of the operation at Shanghai Tower: Feb 7 2018 21:14:45 Q !UW.yye1fxo ID: 5aa63d 299702 299606 Window opened ahead of time to prevent pressure blast. Think intel. [Last discussion on this subject].

Q Renée J. James is an American technology executive, who was formerly the president of Intel. She is currently Chairman and CEO of Ampere Computing and an Operating Executive with The Carlyle Group in its Media and Technology practice. In 2013, Obama appointed James as a member of the National Security Telecommunications Advisory Committee (NSTAC). Then in 2015, she was made Vice Chair of NSTAC. Under Trump, she has become Chair of NSTAC which is the highest position.

Why would Q randomly drop Renee's name (she was the president of intel.) and then on the last post about this arrest state "think intel."

On Feb. 5, 2018 former Intel president Renee James officially launched her new venture called Ampere. The new company utilizes ARM server processors to enable a new generation of server architectures for hyperscale cloud computing. Renee is now CEO of Ampere Computing which is wholly owned and was funded by The Carlyle Group, where James has been working for a while building Ampere in stealth mode. This company was just created days ago! How do you retain 'Freedom of the Press' if those in front of the camera [trusted by select viewers] are extensions of the ARM? – Q post #665

The Carlyle Group aka "The Iron Triangle" is as swamp as they come! Just search "Carlyle Group corruption" and even leads back to Edward Snowden with offices in Shanghai!!

> "The recent disclosures involving National Security Agency surveillance on US citizens by Edward Snowden, an employee of Booz Allen Hamilton, a consulting firm majority-owned by Carlyle, has thrust two of Washington's most prominent corporate entities uncomfortably into the limelight, bound by the thread of turning government secrets into profits." "On the close of the deal, the less profitable international and commercial business, which has offices in Hong Kong and Shanghai, was spun off to become Booz & Co, leaving Carlyle with a government-only company."
> SOURCE: http://www.scmp.com/news/world/article/1261082/snowden-throws-spotlight-carlyle-groups-role-defence-sector

The Iron Triangle "The Bush family, the Saudi Royal family, Osama Bin Laden's family and Donald Rumsfeld's inner circle – these are just some of the high profile figures who have played a direct role in the rise of one of the most powerful and influential and secretive firms in Washington. The company is called The Carlyle Group. And in the wake of the events of September 11th and the invasion of Iraq, its power and influence have become significantly stronger. The company operates within the so-called iron-triangle of industry, government and the military. Its list of former and current advisers and associates includes a vast array of some of the most powerful men in America and indeed around the world.

This program exposes the history of the Carlyle Group, from it's inception as a private equity firm to it's present status as one of the largest defense contractors in the world." https://topdocumentaryfilms.com/iron-triangle-the-carlyle-group-2/

So Did Team Q take down the big shots of the Carlyle Group last night? Is that what Q is referring to in the crumbs? I am sure there are more connections. For example, read this article: http://www.proactiveinvestors.com/companies/news/88700/carlyle-group-to-buy-getty-images-for-33-bln-33315.html

The stringer still need to be decoded in some part but here is what we found about the picture:

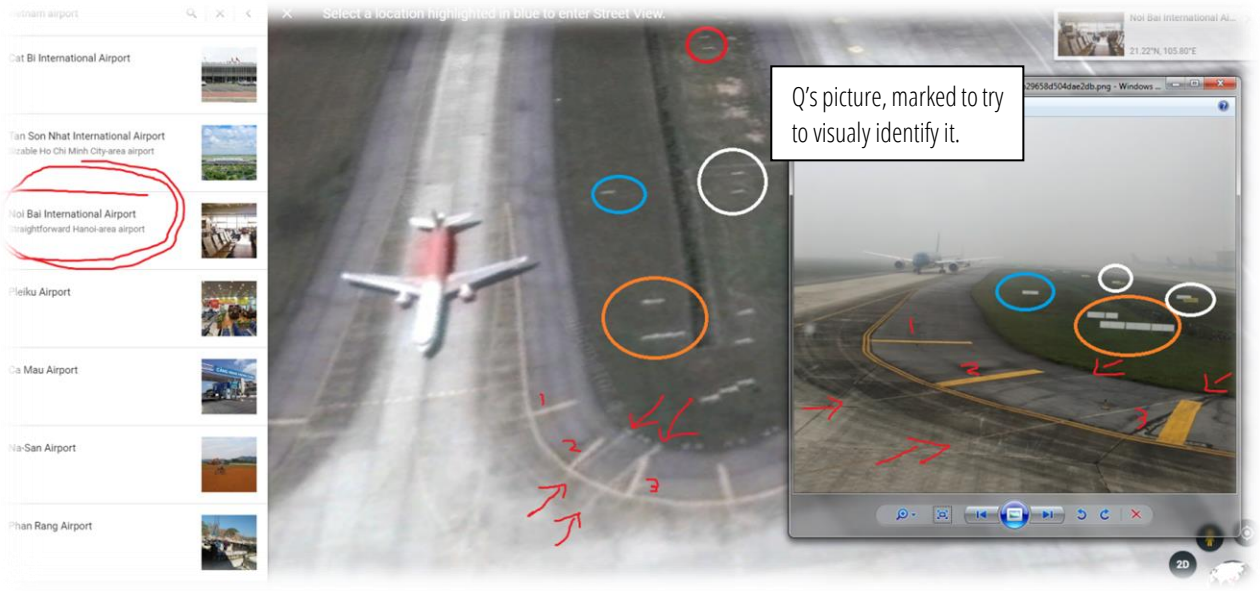

Zoom In on the picture shared by Q, we see 2 planes in the fog.

After editing it, now we can better see the color of the plane.

The "planefags" (It's an inside friendly name for the people who like anything plane related) looked at it, but also at the airport itself, the lane where are the two planes, the signs and they researched it, they found it. It is the Noi Bai International Airport, Hanoi, Vietnam.

Former President Truman, whose Administration established the C.I.A. in 1947, said in 1963 that by then he saw "something about the way the C.I.A. has been functioning that is casting a shadow over our historic positions, and I feel that we need to correct it."

And President Kennedy, as the enormity of the Bay of Pigs disaster came home to him, said to one of the highest officials of his Administration that he "wanted to splinter the C.I.A. in a thousand pieces and scatter it to the winds."

So did Kennedy say it? Possibly. The only attribution we have is an anonymous source from the Kennedy administration by a *New York Times*reporter three years after Kennedy was assassinated. I've found no record that pre-dates 1966. It's not exactly like he said it in a public speech or even to a reporter directly. One of JFK speech that people should listen to: https://www.youtube.com/watch?v=xhZk8ronces WikiLeaks used this exact "JFK quote" as the password for the Vault7 archive when they first leaked it!

Q did not post later that day.

Deeper we go, the more unrealistic it all becomes. The end won't be for everyone. That choice, to know, will be yours. Q

This is very true, the choice is all yours, this journey, this fight for the truth to come out, it comes along with a spiritual journey, because some of those truths have deep meaning that can change one person view / understanding of the World, life, the universe, reality, their beliefs.

TRUTH shines LIGHT.

Q

- MAP = the points brought up by Q plus ALL the things wrong in the USA like violations of the Constitution that oppress the people and suppress our freedom, liberty and pursuit of happiness.
- KEY = all of the research and info dug up by the anons.
- TRUTH = memes and red-pills created by the anons based on the research they do.
- LIGHT = the growing realization by the masses that they have been systematically lied to by the evil deep state.

The CONNECTIONS are the demands by THE PEOPLE to have these wrongs righted and to have our CONSTITUTIONAL REPUBLIC restored. That is where POTUS wants to take us.....back to our rightful Constitutional Replublic as laid out by the founders. However, he can't do it alone. He NEEDS the PEOPLE to demand it because WE have the power.

Q is teaching us how to play the game, how to BE Americans once again, that apply Worldwide. As you sees it, it's all connected, every countries are corrupted at some point, it's been cleaned and it certainly will with our help!

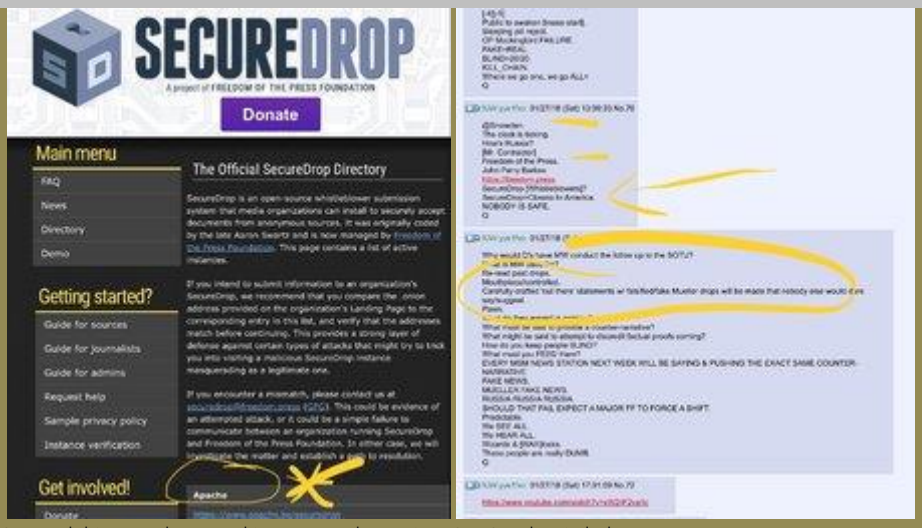

This is why Q tells us we have it all, we have more than we know and that this board has more power than we realize.

Project MKULTRA
The CIA convinced the Allan Memorial Institute to allow a series of mind control tests on nine patients in the Montreal school, as part of their ongoing Project MKULTRA.[7]
The experiments were exported to Canada when the CIA recruited Scottish psychiatrist Donald Ewen Cameron, creator of the "psychic driving" concept, which the CIA found particularly interesting. Cameron had been hoping to correct schizophrenia by erasing existing memories and reprogramming the psyche. He commuted from Albany, New York to Montreal every week and was paid $69,000 from 1957 to 1964 to carry out MKULTRA experiments there. In addition to LSD, Cameron also experimented with various paralytic drugs as well as electroconvulsive therapy at thirty to forty times the normal power. His "driving" experiments consisted of putting subjects into drug-induced coma for weeks at a time (up to three months in one case) while playing tape loops of noise or simple repetitive statements. His experiments were typically carried out on patients who had entered the institute for minor problems such as anxiety disorders and postpartum depression, many of whom suffered permanently from his actions.[8] His treatments resulted in victims' incontinence, amnesia, forgetting how to talk, forgetting their parents, and thinking their interrogators were their parents.[9][10]
When lawsuits commenced in 1986, the Canadian government denied having any knowledge that Cameron was being sponsored by the CIA.[11]

Just throwing out a little more info, don't even know if it has relevance.
Cell phones were originally analog. The switch over to digital was very gradual. Digital signals allow for much greater distance to be covered on much less power (thus miniaturization of phones) because of the nature of square (digital) waves. Much more effective at filtering noise and interference.
This inherently means that the phones of today are going to be square wave signals and very low power. If that alone were enough, Q would not exist. They would simply shut him (them) and/or us down. So they may act as a trigger but are not enough by themselves to completely program a human. And Parkland would suggest that you really need somebody who is largely predisposed toward moving in the desired direction to begin with. You can't just flip a switch and a born pacifist suddenly becomes Rambo. Talk to me, Johnny!

In an effort to preserve the integrity of all U.S. elections, as ordered by the President of the United States, after an extensive investigation in select counties (the 'sampling'), the DHS has concluded that while Russian entities (as outlined within SC Mueller's investigation were complicit in attempting to undermine the presidential election of 2016) had no direct impact or bearing on the outcome of the presidential election, nor were any U.S. person(s) knowingly part of such an attempt to sabotage as it relates to the Russian investigation, U.S. and other foreign entities (as further described within DHS[XXXX]), acting outside of Russian agents, did attempt on numerous occasions, and were successful, in interfering w/ the presidential election of 2016, senate elections of [x, y, z], [x] elections, whereby several million of illegal, non-resident ballots (the "irregularities") were counted, while legal ballots were improperly tabulated and/or intentionally mishandled. Q, Anons, I've been following these drops since day one, but this is the first I'm hearing of this "Behold a Pale Horse" book from 1991, by Bill Cooper. It actually describes clowns planning to use school shootings as a way to disarm the citizenry.
This looks legit to me, astonishing as the quotes are. What say you all?
Behold a Pale Horse — Milton William (Bill) Cooper, 1991
http:// a.co/0IZY9ra
"Bill Cooper, former United States Naval Intelligence Briefing Team member, reveals information that remains hidden from the public eye. This information has been kept in topsecret government files since the 1940s. His audiences hear the truth unfold as he writes about the assassination of John F. Kennedy, the war on drugs, the secret government, and UFOs. Bill is a lucid, rational, and powerful speaker whose intent is to inform and to empower his audience. Standing room only is normal. His presentation and information transcend partisan affiliations as he clearly addresses issues in a way that has a striking impact on listeners of all backgrounds and interests. He has spoken to many groups throughout the United States and has appeared regularly on many radio talk shows and on television. In 1988 Bill decided to "talk" due to events then taking place worldwide, events that he had seen plans for back in the early 1970s. Bill correctly predicted the lowering of the Iron Curtain, the fall of the Berlin Wall, and the invasion of Panama. All Bill's predictions were on record well before the events occurred. Bill is not a psychic. His information comes from top secret documents that he read while with the Intelligence Briefing Team and from over seventeen years of research."

The Hungerford Bridge crosses the River Thames in London, and lies between Waterloo Bridge and Westminster Bridge. It is a steel truss railway bridge – sometimes known as the Charing Cross Bridge – flanked by two more recent, cable-stayed, pedestrian bridges that share the railway bridge's foundation piers, and which are named the Golden Jubilee Bridges.[1][2][3]

The north end of the bridge is Charing Cross railway station, and is near Embankment Pier and the Victoria Embankment. The south end is near Waterloo station, County Hall, the Royal Festival Hall, and the London Eye. Each pedestrian bridge has steps and lift access.

HUNGERFORD MASSACRE

The Hungerford massacre was a series of random shootings in Hungerford, England, United Kingdom, on 19 August 1987, when Michael Robert Ryan, an unemployed antique dealer and handyman, fatally shot 16 people, including a police officer, before taking his own life. The shootings, committed using a handgun and two semi-automatic rifles, occurred at several locations, including a school he had once attended. 15 other people were also shot but survived. No firm motive for the killings has ever been established, although one psychologist has theorised Ryan's motive for the massacre had been a form of "anger and contempt for the ordinary life" around him, which he himself was not a tangible part of.[2]

A report was commissioned by Home Secretary Douglas Hurd. The Firearms (Amendment) Act 1988 was passed in the wake of the massacre, which bans the ownership of semi-automatic centre-fire rifles and restricts the use of shotguns with a capacity of more than three cartridges. The shootings remain one of the deadliest firearms incidents in British history.[3]

SOURCE: https://en.wikipedia.org/wiki/Hungerford_massacre

This school massacre leads the country to ban all assault riffle, only hand guns and restricted the shotguns. Doesn't that remind you of something...? This part is speculation, but Q's picture leads us to the Hungerford Bridge, coincidences? You decide.

It went from 72 to 24 « _LONDON_POSSIBLE_CAR_ATTACK_24 », he posted it (the one saying 72) on the 15th at 00:52 GMT+1, so about 48-49 hours ago. That would means tomorrow, a POSSIBLE UK car attack would happens in London.

Q keeps signing, Q, Delta. I was wondering why. I think an anon found the answer:

> THREATCON DELTA: (Threat level critical) This condition applies in the immediate area where a terrorist attack has occurred or when intelligence has been received that terrorist action against a specific location or person is likely. Normally, this THREATCON is declared as a localized condition. See also antiterrorism.

SOURCE: http://www.daytondailynews.com/news/local-military/what-are-the-military-different-threat-levels/KzpU3zNLA6vy4DUYHYK3xH/

> FPCON DELTA describes a situation when a terrorist attack is taking place or has just occurred in the immediate area. FPCON Delta usually occurs only in the areas that are most vulnerable to or have been attacked. One notable example of a general FPCON Delta was directly following the September 11, 2001 attacks, when all military installations were placed at FPCON Delta and restricted to only military personnel. Force Protection Level I Antiterrorism Training defines FPCON Delta as: FPCON Delta applies when a terrorist attack has occurred or when intelligence indicates imminent terrorist action against a specific location. FPCON Delta is normally declared as a localized warning. The installation moves to a high state of alert, and mandatory security measures are implemented.

> Commanders are also authorized and encouraged to supplement mandatory security measures. FPCON Delta may cause delayed or canceled mission activities. You can expect delays and interruptions to daily routines.

The key significant difference between FPCON Charlie, and FPCON Delta, is that FPCON Delta references a specific, known threat, whereas FPCON Charlie is used to prepare for imminent threats of a general, non-targeted nature. FPCON Charlie can also be maintained for a significant length of time, several weeks, while FPCON Delta is generally only maintainable for several days.

SOURCE: https://en.wikipedia.org/wiki/Force_Protection_Condition

It seems to fit perfectly the last Q post; he signed Q, DELTA while posting about a possible terrorist attack (car attack) in London, UK.

Q did not post later that day.

FOR GOD & COUNTRY.

Something important.

After the last Q post « For God & Country » the /GreatAwakening/ thread (where all the Q posts were) was deleted or at least went « missing », when you tried to access https://8ch.net/greatawakening/res/1.html all you had was an Error 404 message:

The catalog of the board, where you can see all the existing threads was empty for a while.

Then Q made a new thread, while everyone was going crazy saying WTF is happening here? Some were asking if Q did deleted the thread on purpose or if he was attacked somehow? Anon were able to post in it, using names and even tripcode. Lot of support and confusion posts.

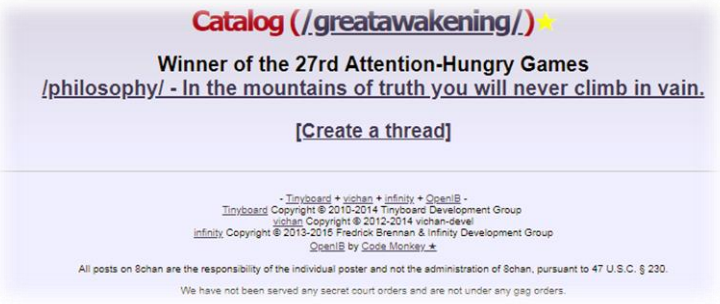

Q !UW.yye1fxo	ID: N/A	>> 110	/greatawakening/	02.19.18	GMT+1: 03:20:01
 FOR GOD & COUNTRY.

Example of an anon using a tripcode :

Thank you for everything Q. WE THE PEOPLE will do our best not to let you down. Take care.

And then around 04:00 (GMT+1) that thread was locked down and hidden from us which lead the /GreatAwakening/ board's catalog looking empty.

Q will probably recreate a new thread with no tripcodes and names except his own? Or maybe just a new read-only one? Let's wait and see! Lot's happening tonight!

A lot of anons are in the dark but Q told us to backup everything offline several time, to archive everything, was it on purpose? Was the Q group under attack? No one can say at this point. So, again, wait and see.

Also to remember, Q posted the below post and the "For God & Country" one on the thread before it was deleted:

Q !UW.yye1fxo	ID: N/A	>> 108	(No Title /greatawakening/)	02.19.18	GMT+1: 03:14:27
CLEAN ACTION APPROVED. HIGHEST AUTHORITY.

CLEAN ACTION APPROVED = Clean the board, it was approved by the HIGHEST AUTHORITY (POTUS)? The "coincidences" are quite funny tonight. If he wiped all the settings on the board / CLEAN, it would explain why the anons could posts, names and tripcodes were allowed on that "FOR GOD & COUNTRY" temporary thread. It might not been related at all, or maybe I am on point? You decide. It could be something totally different though.

Since Q created another board, I do believe he will continue to post, even if he deleted the thread after a bit, he will probably create a new thread and also continue to post on Qresearch.

In the meantime we can reread past crumbs, check the news, dig another connection, and look for a new one? Anything can help, spreading the red pills (truths) anywhere helps a lot! Don't forget to take time for yourself and you dear ones! Love is important, share it!

No signs of Q the following hours. Wait and see!

Honorable Walter E. Fauntroy
House of Representatives
Washington, D.C. 20515

Dear Mr. Fauntroy:

Thank you for your letter of 18 May 1977 relating to the journalists covering the work of the House Select Committee on Assassinations.

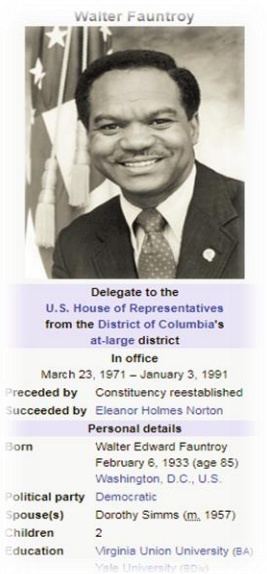

I endorse your conviction that a free press is essential to a free and democratic society. In keeping with that, let me reassure you that no U.S. journalist is employed by the Central Intelligence Agency.

You suggest that I should contact the editors of journalists covering your Committee who may have been associated with this Agency in the past. My predecessors have established a policy of not disclosing the names of persons who have cooperated with us. I am enclosing a copy of the Agency statement on the subject. I support that policy and will adhere to it. If any journalists on the list you refer to had had previous relations with this Agency, to notify their editors would be a violation of this policy. I hope you will understand our position on this matter.

Yours sincerely,

/s/ Stansfield Turner

From the JFK File linked above. Dating back from 1977, denying the CIA assets in the MSM and clergy. There is way more details and exemple in the whole document. The Operation Mockingbird never stopped.

Walter Edward Fauntroy (born February 6, 1933) is the former pastor of the New Bethel Baptist Church in Washington, D.C., and a civil rights activist. He is also a former delegate to the United States House of Representatives and was a candidate for the 1972 and 1976 Democratic presidential nominations as a favorite son,[1][2] as well as a human rights activist. His stated life work is to advocate public policy that "declares Good News to the poor, that binds up the broken hearted and sets at liberty them that are bound" in the United States and around the world.

In 2012, Fauntroy disappeared and presumably fled the United States after a bench warrant was issued for his arrest in conjunction with allegations he had written a fraudulent check for $55,000. Fauntroy's wife was eventually forced to file for bankruptcy. While his whereabouts were initially unknown to even his family, it was assumed Fauntroy was living somewhere in the Persian Gulf. In 2016, Fauntroy returned to the United States and was arrested at Washington Dulles International Airport. He had been hiding in Ajman, the capital of the Emirate of Ajman in the United Arab Emirates.[3]

Stansfield Turner (December 1, 1923 – January 18, 2018) was an admiral in the United States Navy who was Director of Central Intelligence from 1977–81, and President of the Naval War College from 1972–74. He was a senior research scholar at the University of Maryland, College Park's School of Public Policy.

Central Intelligence Agency[edit]

In 1977, Turner was appointed Director of Central Intelligence by President Jimmy Carter.[8] Under Turner's direction, the CIA emphasized technical intelligence (TECHINT) and signals intelligence (SIGINT) more than human intelligence (HUMINT).[6] In 1979, Turner eliminated over 800 operational positions in what was called the Halloween Massacre.[8] In a memoir/analysis published in 2005, Turner expressed regret for the dismissals stating, "In retrospect, I probably should not have effected the reductions of 820 positions at all, and certainly not the last 17."[9] The reductions applied to Vietnam-era personnel according to later-era employee and novelist Jason Matthews.[10]

Turner retired from active Navy duty on December 31, 1978.[7]
During Turner's term as head of the CIA, he became outraged when former agent Frank Snepp published a book called Decent Interval which exposed incompetence among senior U.S. government personnel during the fall of Saigon.[1] Turner accused Snepp of breaking the secrecy agreement required of all CIA agents, and then later was forced to admit under cross-examination that he had never read the agreement signed by Snepp.[11]Regardless, the CIA ultimately won its case against Snepp at the Supreme Court of the United States.[1] The Court forced Snepp to turn over all his profits from Decent Interval and to seek preclearance of any future writings about intelligence work for the rest of his life.[1] The ultimate irony was that the CIA would later rely on the Snepp legal precedent in forcing Turner to seek preclearance of his own memoirs,[8] which were highly critical of President Ronald Reagan's policies.[12]

On March 12, 1980, President Jimmy Carter and Turner presented Tony Mendez with the CIA's Intelligence Star for his role in the exfiltration of six U.S. State Department personnel from Iran on 28 January 1980.[6]

A lot of anons are digging through those documents right now and I will do too, I will update with more interesting findings soon!
Here are 2 quicks rundowns:

JFK ASSASSINATION SYSTEM IDENTIFICATION FORM – RELEASED UNDER THE JOHN F. KENNEDY ASSASSINATION RECORDS COLLECTION ACT OF 1992 (44 USC 2107 NOTE). CASE#:NW 53217 DATE:06-22-2017

This one is short, but shows a letter from a Mr. Stansfield Turner, Admiral U.S. NAVY to Congressman Walter E. Fauntroy.

Turner is responding to an original letter from Fauntroy in which Fauntroy is concerned that members of the media, journalists, are interferring with this JFK assassination investigation. He goes on to assure him that a free press is extremely important to the nation and he says that "there are no U.S. journalists employed by CIA".

He does say that it is a VIOLATION OF POLICY to contact the editors of journalists who were associated with the agency in the past. So the BOSSES DO NOT KNOW WHO IS CIA.

Next enclosed is a statement that the CIA will no longer employ journalists or clergymen and will "as soon as feasible" bring into "conformity" relationships with existing journalists or clergymen. The CIA will not stop journalists or clergymen from helping or bringing information on their own, however.

SO basically from this document, it's left that the CIA had relationships with individuals in the clergy and in the media but they updated policy so that they would not anymore in 1977.

CIA'S USE OF JOURNALISTS AND CLERGY IN INTELLIGENCE OPERATIONS (Y 4. IN 8/19:S. HRG. 104-593)

Now this document from 1996 is a transcript of a hearing of the Select Committee of Intelligence of the US Senate on HOW THE CIA USE JOURNALISTS, PEACE CORPS AND CLERGYMAN in their intelligence operations. Essentially the PEACE CORPS = CIA.

First we can now surmise that the policy established in 1977 was either a) complete bullshit or b) was changed sometime between 1977 - 1996, I'm sure we all know which it is though.

Important Quote from the then director of the CIA John M. Deutch:

> "Further, as the committee knows, I have found no circumstances while I am Director of Central Intelligence, that have caused me to do either. But, Mr.Chairman, as the Director of Central Intel-ligence, I must be in a position to assure the President and the members of the National Security Council and this country, that there will never come a time when the United States cannot ask a witting citizen, knowledgeable citizen, to assist in combating an extreme threat to the Nation. So I, like all of my predecessors for the last 19 years, have arrived at the conclusion that the Agency should not be prohibited from considering the use of American jour-nalists or clergy in exceptional circumstances."

Also mentions of the council on foreign relations in here. Also many of the people are UNCOMFORTABLE discussing these topics in public and that comes up numerous times.

Interesting quotes here from Ted Koppel, ABC "Nightline" Anchor:

> "Having said that, there are circumstances under which the Agency has,under what it perceives to be the greater national interest, broken American laws in the past, and I have no doubt that it will continue under such circumstances to do so in the future."

To which the chairman of the committee responds among other things and says:

> "Mr. Koppel. With all due respect, sir, we also have precedent for the intelligence agencies of the United States routinely violating laws and simply assuming that they won't be held to account. All too frequently, I am afraid, they are quite right."

So I'm sure by now you are getting the gist of it. This fucking garbage spouted by TOP figures in media and CIA and PEACE CORPS goes on for another 20 pages. Basically the idea is that CIA can break whatever law they want under the guise of "intelligence collection" and matters of "national security" and that it's nearly impossible for the Senate Committee to find out about these things to even understand and process if those actions and laws were necessary to be broken. This is in 1996. NOW it's the INFORMATION AGE. And the breaking of the law can come into light when No Such Agency hears all and sees all.

/CM Check code line 1183. Embed added 7:03pm EST. Embed string active in SATRREC. Warning alerts 5-12. Brute force will be necessary. T-2 warning. Q

It is Q, same ID!

Q is asking CodeMonkey (CM), the 8chan's administrator to check the code, at line 1183, something was added "SATRREC".

BRUTE FORCE ATTACK

In cryptography, a brute-force attack consists of an attacker trying many passwords or passphrases with the hope of eventually guessing correctly. The attacker systematically checks all possible passwords and passphrases until the correct one is found. Alternatively, the attacker can attempt to guess the key which is typically created from the password using a key derivation function. This is known as an exhaustive key search.

A brute-force attack is a cryptanalytic attack that can, in theory, be used to attempt to decrypt any encrypted data[1] (except for data encrypted in an information-theoretically secure manner). Such an attack might be used when it is not possible to take advantage of other weaknesses in an encryption system (if any exist) that would make the task easier.

When password-guessing, this method is very fast when used to check all short passwords, but for longer passwords other methods such as the dictionary attack are used because a brute-force search takes too long. Longer passwords, passphrases and keys have more possible values, making them exponentially more difficult to crack than shorter ones.

Brute-force attacks can be made less effective by obfuscating the data to be encoded making it more difficult for an attacker to recognize when the code has been cracked or by making the attacker do more work to test each guess. One of the measures of the strength of an encryption system is how long it would theoretically take an attacker to mount a successful brute-force attack against it.

Brute-force attacks are an application of brute-force search, the general problem-solving technique of enumerating all candidates and checking each one.

SOURCE: https://en.wikipedia.org/wiki/Brute-force_attack

You can combine bruteforce attacks with some rainbow tables to make the attacks way more efficient.

RAINBOW TABLE

A rainbow table is a precomputed table for reversing cryptographic hash functions, usually for cracking password hashes. Tables are usually used in recovering a plaintext password (or credit card numbers, etc.) up to a certain length consisting of a limited set of characters. It is a practical example of a space–time tradeoff, using less computer processing time and more storage than a brute-force attack which calculates a hash on every attempt, but more processing time and less storage than a simple lookup table with one entry per hash. Use of a key derivation function that employs a salt makes this attack infeasible.

Rainbow tables were invented by Philippe Oechslin[1] as an application of an earlier, simpler algorithm by Martin Hellman.[2]

I may not be the most observant person, but here are my notes from POTUS CPAC '18 speech

- "Fortunately, I wasn't a politician then," pronounced "4chan-ately"
- For the first time, the word "Atrocities" was used in response to crowd yelling "Lock her up!"
- When speaking of McCain, POTUS said "I'm not going to say his name"
- Recalled his 2011 CPAC speech as important (worth revisiting)
- "Why did [Hillary] keep going back to California?" (possible hint to fraud)
- [Where did the $1.8 billion go?] "...lots of interesting things are happening with that."
- "They're good at two things, resisting, obstruction." (possible hint to arrests/obstruction of justice)
- "Gun-Free Zones" (1990 act proposed by Joe Biden)
- Deputy Peterson (FL shooting coward) mentioned by name.
- MS 13 and Human Trafficking referenced in the same breath.
- "The laws are against us."
- (Rereads "the snake" as if holding mass)
- "We have to fight Nancy Pelosi"
- "We have to get out there and we have to fight in '18, like never before, just the way you fought with us, just the way you fought with us, you fought so hard, and you were so tough, and you were so smart, so smart."
- "The forgotten people" (anons?)
- "Even the media will support me sometime prior to the election."
- "I love you, I respect you, I appreciate everything you've done for the country."
- "You have been incredible partners, I will let you know in the absolute strongest of terms we're going to make America great again and I will never ever let you down."

CodeMonkey came back a few hours later to comment about the bug.

Status update: The attack is still ongoing. Our team is now manning defensive stations on 24 hour shift to mitigate the attack's effects until it stops. I've seen a lot of DDOS attacks before, but this one was different from the others. If you are a netsec guy, the attack is essentially a fuzz attempt on our posting systems. Someone is looking for a vulnerability in 8chan. Usually fuzz attempts are slow and come in at a trickle to avoid detection. Today's attack strangely was a fuzz attempt in huge numbers and very rapid almost like a tsunami. I've never heard of a fuzz attack on a public service in such huge numbers. It just means that whoever is attacking is either desperate, or a child who doesn't know better. Children dont usually have access to hundreds of thousands of botnet computers though. We will continue holding down the fort and maintaining defensive positions to respond to any changes in the attacker's patterns. If the attack manages to take the site down again, please know that we have a team of about half a dozen people working tirelessly to get everything back online so everybody can continue posting.

What I say a class action lawsuit? When is it effective? Who controls the narrative? WHO wrote the singular censorship algorithm? WHO deployed the algorithm? WHO instructed them to deploy the algorithm? SAME embed across multiple platforms. Why? Why is the timing relevant? Where is @Snowden? Why did ES leave G? Why has NK out of the news cycle? Define false flag? What event(s) change the news cycle? Why didn't LV change the news cycle? You have more than your know. BOOM. Q

ES = Eric Schmidt; G = Googl; NK = North Korea; LV = Las Vegas..

A lot of the times, some Anon on the board answer to Q's posts in that way (see below) and some people like it, some people don't. But I liked this one and it is really on point.

What I say a class action lawsuit?

a class action is a type of lawsuit where one of the parties is a group of people who are represented collectively by a member of that group.

When is it effective?
...they aggregate a large number of individualized claims into one representational lawsuit. First, aggregation can increase the efficiency of the legal process, and lower the costs of litigation.

Who controls the narrative?
clowns/msm

WHO wrote the singular censorship algorithm?
clowns via google/FB/Twatter

WHO deployed the algorithm?
Google, Twitter, Youtube, Facebook - all big SM platforms

WHO instructed them to deploy the algorithm?
Clowns

SAME embed across multiple platforms. Why? they are tracking people across all their internet activity/FISA

Why is the timing relevant?
doing it now to try to prevent THE STORM

Where is @Snowden?
We think he's in Russia, but is he actually in NK?

Why did ES leave G? Why has NK out of the news cycle?
Because POTUS has neutralised the real threat they pose

Define false flag?
False flag refers to covert operations designed to deceive; the deception creates the appearance of a particular party (group or nation) being responsible for some activity, disguising the actual source of responsibility.

What event(s) change the news cycle?
Narrative push - School/public shootings ie False Flag events

Why didn't LV change the news cycle?
because it wasn't a false flag, it was a failed assassination attempt. Rather than amplify the event like the parkland shooting, which was designed to drive forward their agenda, they put a cap on LV because it was a failure.

You have more than your know.

A dead cat bounce is a temporary recovery from a prolonged decline or a bear market that is followed by the continuation of the downtrend. The name "dead cat bounce" is based on the notion that even a dead cat will bounce if it falls far enough and fast enough.

Q

Remember this graphic? This is the one I shared a few weeks ago, made by an Anon on the board, he saw on Jan. 15, 2018 on NatGeoChannel a show called "Chain of Command" which was referenced on a Q posts on Jan 13, 2018. We clear see a "Q mug" displayed in the show.

Q said "We are everywhere" with that picture shared. For me, it implies either that the Q group have as much, if not more influence than the Cabal on the World / Society, like them, they hide in plane sight, they spread breadcrumbs here and there for the ones that know where to look and what to look at. Of course, it could also directly implies that the Q group is way bigger than anyone expected, that sort of like "Anonymous" (the idea), they are everywhere, because we all are Q Anon, spreading the truth, wanting to free humanity!

Why is steel so important? Let's look where steel -was- produced in our country. These cities are blue strongholds, still, and many are located around areas of poor minorities, since mills closed and wealth left the area. If Trump brings these people back in to work he can effectively eliminate blue-collar/poor black democrat areas.

More Steel connections with HRC & CF?
One of the attendees at these conferences speaks to the stickiness of some donor relationships.
Victor Pinchuk, a steel magnate whose father-in-law, Leonid Kuchma, was president of Ukraine from 1994 to 2005, has directed between $10 million and $25 million to the foundation. He has lent his private plane to the Clintons and traveled to Los Angeles in 2011 to attend Mr. Clinton's star-studded 65th birthday celebration.
Between September 2011 and November 2012, Douglas E. Schoen, a former political consultant for Mr. Clinton, arranged about a dozen meetings with State Department officials on behalf of or with Mr. Pinchuk to discuss the continuing political crisis in Ukraine, according to reports Mr. Schoen filed as a registered lobbyist.
"I had breakfast with Pinchuk. He will see you at the Brookings lunch," Melanne Verveer, a Ukrainian-American then working for the State Department, wrote in a June 2012 email to Mrs. Clinton.

Physicianfag here.

Why Haiti? My guess
(1) easy to lose children - minimal documentation
(2) little supervision - easy to remove
(3) ABO blood groups - not published but likely high O group rate. This assumption fits the story of Cholera in Haiti brought by the UN peacekeepers with thousands of 'deaths'. Cholera risk is much higher in people with O blood group.

https:// www.news-medical.net/news/20160829/New-research-may-explain-why-people-with-blood-group-O-get-more-severely-ill-from-cholera.aspx
(4) Blood group O is 'universal donor'. So for instance if you were George Soros and wanted a young person's blood transfusion to keep alive, Haiti would be a good place to go. This is happening of course https:// www.sciencemag.org/news/2016/08/young-blood-antiaging-trial-raises-questions

Universal donors would also be useful for organ donation, the first step of which is finding an ABO compatible blood type.

If Russia WAS the final destination, a Brazilian passport would get him there without a visa.

They are right, you can double check through Wikipedia, with a Brazilian passport, you do not need a visa to enter Russia. So it might be what happened after he released all those information on the NSA – PRISM / KEYSCORE. Indeed, the way the events turned out make no sense if you are about to leak something that huge (personnal opinion). The best explanation is that he was and still is most likely a CIA asset, a clown, all of that (leaks) was planned for a bigger purpose.

Q

Edward Snowden's wife is called Lindsay Mills. As presented in their biography or even in the documentary / movie about Snowden, he supposedly met her throught a dating site. Her father's name is Jonathan Mills.

I confess. I was an #IBOR resister. It didn't make sense to me since free speech is already guaranteed in our constitution.

But, thinking logically, the one thing that would scare the data-mining cabal the most is an articulated right to privacy when using the internet.

No more data mining for ads. No more algorithms screwing up how we communicate with others on Facebook. No more capturing my favorite soda to sell to a competitor who might want to make me buy something else.

Also, and really important to me, is the right to be forgotten. It's already been adjudicated in Britain. Here's a bit of the detail:

https:// www.theguardian. com/technology/2013/apr/04/britain-opt-out-right-to-be-forgotten-law

We should have a right to disappear.

So if this continues to be a thing, think of it way beyond being censored for free speech. Think of it in terms of privacy, too. No more selling personal information. No more dedicated IPs to track your every move. No more email apps that pre-select your possible replies, because no more email being mined.

Mail could be configured with the same privacy rights as US mail, for example.

Last I'll post on this one. But if it goes forward, please consider expanding the scope.

Also keep in mind that there's more than the WH petition site to make your ideas known. Most of us have senators and congressmen to represent us in Washington, D.C. Maybe talk to a real person?

Do you TRUST SESSIONS? BOOM. Q

Here is a relevant post made by an anon a bit later on the same thread:

>>587806

For the normies:

Huge news coming by Friday and then even bigger news on March 12th and 15th. The apparent ongoing months long public quarrel between Trump and Jeff Sessions has been fabricated to provide cover for one of the biggest DOJ investigations ever done. Sessions has quietly been building a bombshell case since march of 2017 to indict corrupt Obama administration players including Obama and Hillary Clinton. But that is just the tip of the iceberg and waves of congressmen and business CEO's are also targets. Over 13,000 sealed indictments are ready to be released. They have kept the investigation quiet because the case is so big they feared for Sessions life and the safety of his family and the entire investigation team. By the end of next week it will be clear that we are taking our country back from deep and widespread government corruption and evil and Trump is making good on his promises to drain the swamp.

This massive undertaking started when Anthony Wieners laptop was seized by NYPD police in March of 2017 due to his underage texting scandal and was found to contain a treasure trove of information on the Obama and Hillary Clinton crime organization. The information contained thousands of videos and hundreds of thousands of emails implicating the Obama administration including Hillary in treasonous acts. The documents were all stored in a folder called "Life Insurance". This evidence was the life insurance policy for both Wiener and his wife Huma Abedin the long time Hillary Clinton aide. Huma had been collecting the information for years. Much of this information will never be released to the public because many of the crimes are so evil and sick it cannot be released without causing angry citizens from taking matters into their own hands. But make no mistake the evidence will be unimpeachable and includes a video of Hillary herself that will be made public to drive the nails into the coffin of the corruption that has held our country hostage.

Trump who is very close to many leaders in the NYPD was informed of the laptop information right after it was seized in September of 2016. A month later he went public in a campaign speech letting everyone know he planned to drain the swamp. Here is that speech:

To me this is one of the most significant bombshells we have seen in the news and a major milestone in Q's plan for liberation from the Cabal.

"I have appointed a person outside of Washington, many years in the Department of Justice, to look at all the allegations that the House Judiciary Committee members sent to us and we're conducting that investigation." Attorney General Jeff Sessions, March 8, 2018, Fox News.

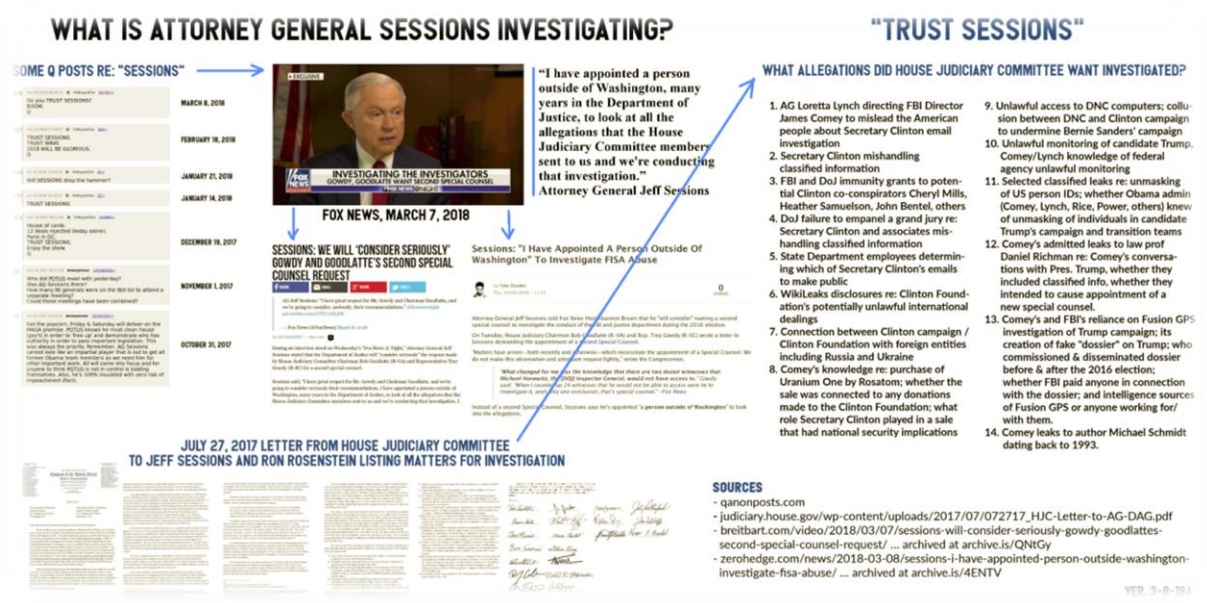

Tried to jam a lot into 4600x2300 pixel infograph. I think the info content is good, but I'm not completely happy with the resolution.

You're not supposed to be able to actually read the House Judiciary thumbnails, just know there is a 7 page letter with sauce and the high points typed out on right side for readability.

Requesting feedback as to both content and presentation.

For reference, here the 14 points (in condensed form) that the 7/27/17 House Judiciary Committee memo asked Sessions to have investigated.
I am considering meming those individually, as well. Since a meme should try to limit itself to seven words or less.
What allegations did the House Judiciary Committee want investigated?
1. AG Lynch directing Comey to mislead the American people about Clinton email investigation
2. Secretary Clinton mishandling classified info
3. FBI and DoJ immunity grants to potential Clinton co-conspirators Cheryl Mills, Heather Samuelson, John Bentel, others
4. DoJ failure to empanel grand jury on Secretary Clinton and associates mishandling classified info
5. State Department employees determining which of Secretary Clinton's emails to make public
6. WikiLeaks disclosures re: Clinton Foundation's potentially unlawful international dealings
7. Connection between Clinton campaign / Clinton Foundation with foreign entities including Russia and Ukraine
8. Comey's knowledge of the purchase of Uranium One by Rosatom; whether the sale was connected to any donations made to the Clinton Foundation; what role Secretary Clinton played in a sale that had national security implications
9. Unlawful access to DNC computers; collusion between DNC and Clinton campaign to undermine Bernie Sanders' campaign
10. Unlawful monitoring of candidate Trump, Comey/Lynch knowledge of federal agency unlawful monitoring
11. Selected leaks of classified info re: unmasking of US person IDs; whether Obama admin (Comey, Lynch, Rice, Power, others) had knowledge of unmarking of individuals in candidate Trump's campaign and traidition teams
12. Comey's admitted leaks to law professor Daniel Richman re: Comey's conversations with president Trump, whether they included classified info, whether they were intended to cause the appointment of a new special counsel.
13. Comey's and FBI's reliance on Fusion GPS investigation of Trump campaign; its creation of fake "dossier" about Trump, who commissioned and disseminated the dossier before and after the 2016 election; whether the FBI paid anyone in connection with the dossier, and the intelligence sources of Fusion GPS or anyone working for/with them.
14. Leaks originated by Comey provided to author Michael Schmidt dating back to 1993.

Q

If I am understanding properly, this is suggesting that Snowden had a form of backdoor access to Twitter and FB.
Hidden messages being left in deleted or altered tweets? I occasionally do something similar on boards where admins can see deletions and alterations. Write something, then delete/alter. Only visible if you happen to be paying attention and archive within the time it takes to alter.

>>599654
Being in the industry, I don't get the Snowden as uber hacker talent. Doesn't seem to match his background and unless someone is a super exceptional talent in a field with exception talent doesn't wash. It takes a small group to really pull off a big engineering feet. Snowden as the developer who did x to hold the world in the balance just doesn't make sense.

>>599682

>>599667 you can give a an average geek a unique nextgen tool and access and they can look like a wizard

True, but then why Snowden? Doesn't make sense. If they gave him the tool, Snowden isn't of value to the NSA other than a trophy. The tech lives outside of him and Q claims that they own CIA at this point (making assumptions). This is unfolding as if Snowden has something that no one else has access to. Snowden has fame for taking files and exposing, not of someone that developed technology that no one else has. Something not adding up.

Why are we giving him this much attention?

Why are we providing this much sensitive detail in a public [known] forum?

Everything has meaning.

Now, it has been more than 2 days and another good portion of the community tought it meant 1-2 days. Will it be 1-2 weeks, to create an image board?

Q

If you review the page linked by Q, you will notice that everything have been last updated in November 2017! And this part is a relevant point for a lot of the people that complain that we do not see "big arrests" on mainstream media, yet:

> 1-7.100 – General Need for Confidentiality
> Much of DOJ's work involves non-public, sensitive matters. Disseminating non-public, sensitive information about DOJ matters could violate federal laws, employee non-disclosure agreements, and individual privacy rights; put a witness or law enforcement officer in danger; jeopardize an investigation or case; prejudice the rights of a defendant; or unfairly damage the reputation of a person.
> DOJ personnel should presume that non-public, sensitive information obtained in connection with work is protected from disclosure, except as needed to fulfill official duties of DOJ personnel, and as allowed by court order, statutory or regulatory prescription, or case law and rules governing criminal and civil discovery. Other than as necessary to fulfill DOJ official duties, disclosure of such information to anyone, including to family members, friends, or even colleagues, is prohibited and could lead to disciplinary action. Unauthorized disclosures of sensitive personal or proprietary information could lead to criminal prosecution or administrative action.

Little St. James Island aka Epstein Island. Read on Wikipedia: https://en.wikipedia.org/wiki/Little_Saint_James,_U.S._Virgin_Islands

> Little Saint James is an island of the United States Virgin Islands, located off the east end of St. Thomas.
> The island is privately owned by American financier and convicted sex offender[1] Jeffrey Epstein. There is a luxury estate on the Island and it is often used for conferences held by the Jeffrey Epstein VI Foundation, which sponsors cutting-edge science and medical research. Recent conferences have included topics such as gravity, language evolution and global threats to the Earth. Many notable scientists have attended the conferences, including Marvin Minsky, Gerard 't Hooft and Stephen Hawking.[2]
> The island hosts a helipad, a lagoon and cabanas. It also has a library, a Japanese bathhouse and cinema.[3]

The Analysis Corporation (TAC).
Happy Hunting!
Q

The Analysis Corporation (TAC) was the Intelligence Solutions business of Global Defense Technology & Systems, Inc. ("GTEC"), now renamed Sotera Defense Solutions, a defense contracting company. Since its inception in 1990, TAC has been working on projects in the counterterrorism and national security realm by supporting national watchlisting activities as well as other CT requirements. Based in McLean, Virginia, it is a wholly owned subsidiary of Global Strategies Group (North America) Inc., the operating company of GTEC.

COOPERATION

GTEC's Intelligence Solutions business, which is staffed by other former senior officials from the Intelligence community, operates within almost every entity in the Intelligence Community including the US Department of State, Department of Homeland Security (DHS), Federal Bureau of Investigation (FBI), and Defense Intelligence Agency (DIA).

KEY AREAS

Prior to 9/11, TAC was instrumental in providing pattern recognition and data mining software applications that served as the basis for the US Government's original terrorist watchlist database called TIPOFF. In 2003, TAC assisted the Government in standing up the Terrorist Screening Center (TSC) the Terrorist Threat Integration Center (TTIC), and its successor, the National Counterterrorism Center (NCTC). Key practice areas included intelligence and Federal Law Enforcement support for terrorist screening, watchlist development and operations; intelligence analysis; systems integration and software development; multilingual name search; and pattern matching. It was awarded over $400m in government contracts since 2000, including some $30.6m in 2007, $19.5m in 2008, and $150m in 2009.[1]Customers included the Department of State, National Targeting Center (NTC), Defense Intelligence Agency (DIA), National Security Agency (NSA), Office of Naval Intelligence (ONI), NCTC, TSC, and the FBI.

LEADERSHIP

TAC was founded in 1990 by Cecilia nmi Hayes, previous owner and partner in Analytic Methods Inc. (AMI) and current owner of TAC Commercial Services (TCS) and Nations Home Group. In 2004, TAC was purchased by SFA and maintained as a wholly owned subsidiary. Ms. Hayes remained president of TAC into 2005. In November 2005, John O. Brennan was appointed president and CEO of TAC. Mr. Brennan was the former interim director of the National Counterterrorism Center[2] and a 25-year veteran of the CIA.[3]Following Mr. Brennan's departure in October 2008 to serve as advisor to then-presidential candidate Barack Obama, Alexander Drew became the acting president of TAC. Mr. Drew was then named president in January 2009 and remained so though February 2012, when TAC was ultimately dissolved and assimilated into Sotera Defense Solutions, formerly SFA, Global Strategies Group (North America), and GTEC.

In January 2009, Mr. Brennan was selected by President Barack Obama to serve in his administration as Homeland Security Adviser and Deputy National Security Adviser for Counterterrorism. In March 2013, Brennan was appointed director of the Central Intelligence Agency.[4]

PASSPORT INFO SCANDAL (2008 ELECTION)

In early 2008 TAC found itself in the midst of a scandal when a State Department spokesman revealed that a TAC contractor, formerly a retired State Department employee, gained unauthorized access on March 14 to the passport records for Barack Obama and John McCain.[5] The TAC employee, who has not been named, is the only individual to have accessed both Obama's and McCain's passport information without proper authorization, a State Department spokesman said. The employee's actions triggered an electronic alarm system, according to sources familiar with the probe.[6] TAC strongly disavowed the employee's actions in a subsequent press release.[7]

All I could find at the moment about "MagikBOT" was that it is a bot running on Wikipedia, that edit pages. It was launched on Thursday, June 29, 2017. It is programmed in Python. It already edited / altered 4984 pages. The Operator, is the Wikipedia's user "TheMagikCow".

SOURCE: https://en.wikipedia.org/wiki/Wikipedia:Bots/Requests_for_approval/TheMagikBOT_4

On the Operator / User's page, you can read that he worked / edited / altered 5,605,017 pages!!! Which is quite a huge number.

SOURCE: https://en.wikipedia.org/wiki/User:TheMagikCow

It is interesting that Q point this out, since YouTube announced a few weeks ago now, that they will use Wikipedia as a source under the "conspiracy" or "fake news" videos that they "categorize" / "filter" "to help" their users. Wikipedia can't be your only source obviously. It can be altered really easily. Always cross reference your sources if possible.

I know, I use it too as a source, because it speak to the people. We have a certain trust in Wikipedia, and for the major part we can but obviously not in details, not everything, but as said above, with the cross referencing / cross checking, you can make sure.

Fugitive 'Facebook founder' says he's alive and well but 'running for his life' from CIA because of its secret involvement in the social media site

- Paul Ceglia says the CIA wants to kill him because he knows too much
- He says its venture capital arm, In-Q-Tel, had a hand in Facebook
- Ceglia sued Mark Zuckerberg for 84 per cent of Facebook in 2010
- But in 2012 he was put on house arrest for allegedly doctoring evidence
- He and his family vanished in 2015; he has only just been heard from now

The self styled co-founder of Facebook, who disappeared while on house arrest in March 2015, has said he and his family alive and well, but still fleeing a CIA plot to kill him.

Paul Ceglia, 43, claimed in 2010 that he owned 84 per cent of Facebook per an alleged 2003 contract with Mark Zuckerberg. In 2012 he was charged with altering documents to bolster his claim.

Now he and his family - wife Ivica, two teen sons and dog Buddy - are on the run after they fled last year. And according to Bloomberg, Ceglia still fears for his life.

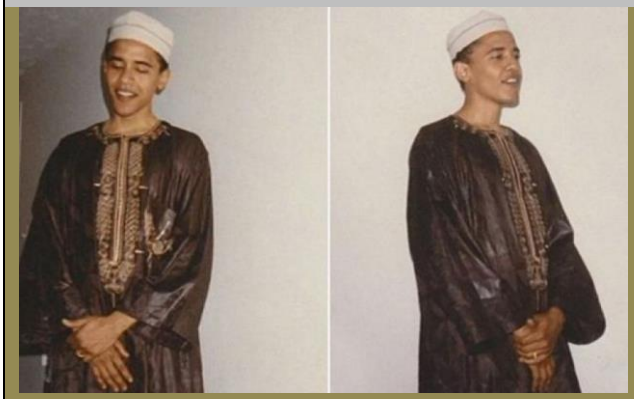

The attached article is all true....

If we are in control why do we need to follow cabal narrative?
Why not simply come out and say: "we have evidence an elite group has strategic interest in starting WW3, and before we ascertain blame for the gas attack, we must obtain all the details. If the facts show that Assad or Russia is indeed involved, we delivered appropriate response at that time."
How is this part of "the plan"
We had of known this was going to happen again?
Was this really a surprise?

Some drops are just simply communication to the anons.
What needs to be understood to appreciate whats going here is the fact the Q is basically creating a circular flow diagram that can be referenced and cross-checked with news releases. Q can't just disclose specifics about a situation or operation without violating security protocol. Instead they drop questions and statements that lead to answers that can be understood once the subject becomes public. This provides the validation necessary for the public to believe The Great Awakening is legit. Disinformation and misdirection with Q is real. In other words Q is pointing over there but really the focus is here and only until you publicly get the news can you go back and understand. (Think SA drops) All of this is accomplished without giving up specific details about the operation. It's quite genius.

PENTAGON KILLS LIFELOG PROJECT

THE PENTAGON CANCELED its so-called LifeLog project, an ambitious effort to build a database tracking a person's entire existence.

Run by Darpa, the Defense Department's research arm, LifeLog aimed to gather in a single place just about everything an individual says, sees or does: the phone calls made, the TV shows watched, the magazines read, the plane tickets bought, the e-mail sent and received. Out of this seemingly endless ocean of information, computer scientists would plot distinctive routes in the data, mapping relationships, memories, events and experiences.

Q

Fun "coincidence", if you try to click on a few links on that article, especially the ones leading to the "LifeLog" project on the DARPA's website, are all down, giving you a 404 error, try it for yourself: https://www.darpa.mil/ipto/Programs/lifelog/index.htm

If you read the Wired article shared by the anon, at some point you read this:

> "I've always thought (LifeLog) would be the third program (after TIA and FutureMap) that could raise eyebrows if they didn't make it clear how privacy concerns would be met," said Peter Harsha, director of government affairs for the Computing Research Association."

You can still find archives about the other programs "TIA" and "FutureMap" : http://www.iwar.org.uk/news-archive/tia/futuremap-program.htm but if you try to find anything on LifeLog, a lot of links, if not all, are leading to a 404 / missing page. Even the other articles mentioning LifeLog on Wired (pre 2004) are giving you the 404 error: https://www.wired.com/2003/07/pentagon-alters-lifelog-project/

Futures Markets Applied to Prediction (FutureMAP) was intended to harness collective intelligence by researching prediction market techniques for avoiding surprise and predicting future events. The intent was to explore the feasibility of market-based trading mechanisms to predict political instability, threats to national security, and other major events in the near future.[24] In laymans terms, FutureMap would be a website that allowed people to bet on when a terrorist attack would occur.[25] The bookie would have been the federal government.[25] Several Senators were outraged at the very notion of such a program.[25] Then Senate Minority Leader Tom Daschle said on the floor of the Senate "I couldn't believe that we would actually commit $8 million to create a Web site that would encourage investors to bet on futures involving terrorist attacks and public assassinations. ... I can't believe that anybody would seriously propose that we trade in death. ... How long would it be before you saw traders investing in a way that would bring about the desired result?"[25] Democratic Senator from Oregon, Ron Wyden said, "The idea of a federal betting parlor on atrocities and terrorism is ridiculous and it's grotesque."[25] The ranking Democrat on the Armed Services Committee, Sen. Carl Levin of Michigan, thought the program was so ridiculous that he thought initial reports of it were the result of a hoax.[25] The program was then dropped.

Facebook was started with a donation of $500,000 from Peter Thiel (CEO of Paypal at that time) and also by a $12.7M from InQtel (through DARPA). Is that a normal government funding for a freshly 2003/2004 compagny (Facebook)? Not really, it is a HUGE investment. Ones wonder why.

This one was easier to find! It is the building of the Shenzhen Stock Exchange.

https://media.8ch.net/file_store/d97dac5fceb9bd5e8b17ae78c5f54c26bf6f677dae530196540d7bdaf9805a1c.jpg

These sculptures were created by Mr. Han Meilin. Consisting of the main and auxiliary works. the sculptures are positioned across the central axis south of Shenzen Stock Exchange Plaza.

The main sculpture is seated on the foundation in the form of an ox head, symbolizing exploration, industry and persistence. Featuring a pair of dragons leaping into the sky, the main sculpture presents a solemn and powerful dragon gate. The phoenixes, with wings fully expanded, embody the spirit of constant self-renewal in nirvana. The scene of all three mythical creatures holding the symbol of "Taiji" in the center gives expression to syncretism in harmony of the heaven, elements and human existence.

The axillary sculpture consists of three bronze oxen and several bears in diverse postures. One ox stands tall with its head uplifted. ready for forceful charge. The second ox. with its hooves firmly planted in ground, calmly lets energy accumulate in its body. The third ox, lifting its hooves and poised for vigorous move, is surrounded by an aura of invincibility. Several bears run about the three oxen. Some are submissive while others frolic joyfully in amusing naivety, lightening up the whole sculptural scene with great delight and interest.

TESTIMONY RE: RUTH BADER GINSBURG

by: Susan Hirschmann, Executive Director
Eagle Forum
To the Senate Judiciary Committee
July 23, 1993

Ruth Bader Ginsburg's writings show her to be a radical, doctrinaire feminist, far out of the mainstream. She shares the chip-on-the-shoulder, radical feminist view that American women have endured centuries of oppression and mistreatment from men. That's why, in her legal writings, she self-identifies with feminist Sarah Grimke's statement, "All I ask of our brethren is

The only thing we should be looking at would be anything BEFORE Nov 2017.

PHILADELPHIA (CBS) – Authorities in Philadelphia are investigating the death of the father of President Donald Trump's former national security adviser, sources tell CBS3.

According to the Pennsylvania Department of Health, H.R. McMaster Sr., the father of Gen. H.R. McMaster, died on April 13 at the Cathedral Village Retirement Community located in the 600 block of East Cathedral Road.

The health department confirms he died of blunt impact trauma to the head and the manner of death was determined to be an accident.

But sources tell CBS3 that Philadelphia police and the Pennsylvania Attorney General's Office are investigating the possibility of institutional neglect after he fell.

Sources could not provide further details at this time.

Gen. McMaster served under Trump as the 26th National Security Advisor. In March, he resigned from his role and was later replaced by former U.S. Ambassador John Bolton.

Q !xowAT4Z3VQ	ID: d7571e	>> 1108949	(Qresearch #1385)	04.20.18	GMT+1: 04:15:58

Fake.
We control.
Q

I am glad that an anon asked this and even more since Q decided to answer it! Why? Because this is disinformation. Only rumors where spread and people counted it as factual, "oh it's on that dark web, creepy dark place that I don't know and just gonna assume". Anybody can go on the dark web. I am familiar with it. I'm familiar with Internet as a whole, I grew up on it. It is like knowing a city by heart, even remembering streets / shops that no longer exists because it was replaced by this Super Market or the brand new Ice Stadium, if you get what I mean.

My point is that people, too much people lose their time / interest on stuff like those rumors about the HRC video on the "dark web". Yes, it is good to inform yourself on it, to dig a bit, but if you can get no sauces / informations / links / sources, it is pointless, keep an eye open, but move on. There is quite a lot of stuff to dig, in details, either for your personal interest or for all the World.

We even missed some evidences / direct proofs with Q, I already said it and even Q said it a couple days ago. It is a team work, everyone in the community can decide by themselves to take upon them to do certain things and share it with others, no matters what, it will help and be used by someone else in the community.

Anyway, back on the Q&A with Q:

As soon as Q stated "Q&A" to us, of course a lot of questions were coming in, but I was on there on the thread and it started to be really laggy, really slow, almost immediately. It was strange. A lot of anons were having different kind of errors, loading for ever, Capcha not working, saying "posting" for ever, page 404, page 403 and so on. Time to time, some anon could successfully post, and Q answer to it.

Then, Q started again with another "Q&A" statement, saying, let's retry in this fresh thread but it was the same, really frustratring for a lot of anons. Then, I didn't saw Q's response, maybe he was not able to post either, so here is his last message from that night / early morning:

Q !xowAT4Z3VQ	ID: c14225	>> 1109466	(Qresearch #1386)	04.20.18	GMT+1: 04:36:07
Q&A again. Time limited. Keep up the good fight! Q

Was it an attack? No idea at this point. I'm open minded to think that if you suddenly have a shit tone of anons deciding to post on the chan because Q basically said "ayooo there, I'll answer all of your questions!!!!!" so you had a Tsunami of then lurkers that turned into anons and tried to ask questions. Basically, overloading the board. Maybe it could be a mix of both, an attack + some overloaded server? Maybe something else.

Subject: RE: Follow-up Media Call

We are all focused on getting diversity and we have to get there. But we also have a lot of big jobs to fill in the next few months and I think we have to try to slow down our process.

We have a handful of people right now and given the leaks that are occurring in the last week, I actually think we have to shut down the process now to the 1-2 essential posts that need filling soon and build the diverse team we need from there.

>>1130089 We have has a very good relationship with Maggie Haberman of Politico over the last year. We have had her tee up stories for us before and have never been disappointed. While we should have a larger conversation in the near future about a broader strategy for reengaging the beat press that covers HRC, for this we think we can achieve our objective and do the most shaping by going to Maggie.

Anons,
I'm struggling with something for the future. While we should never have gotten to the point where we need Q and POTUA to drain the swamp for us, we nevertheless did. Fine. I trust the plan with a faith that I thought I'd lost. I think that the victory of good over evil is a foregone conclusion for our Republic based on what we are witnessing. Bad actors, evil, corrupt, venal psychopaths eliminated from positions of power. Fantastic, and Godspeed.
But how to we stop it from happening again - or are we just like the Matrix and the machines -destined to keep repeating this over and over throughout history? Is there a way to win once and for all?
That's my question and task for my descendants.

"Thousands of people are on the streets, cheering and hugging each other, jumping up and down and honking their horns ... things happened so quickly, I don't think the crowd was expecting this but it is exactly what they wanted," Forestier-Walker said.

"We saw soldiers take to the streets, we saw priests, children and their parents, young and old coming out to show Armenia was really united in wanting these changes."

"This is an indication of how much people in Armenia have realised that they had the power to affect change in a system that was widely regarded as corrupt."

Just going to post pictures of a MOONCHILD to piss of the shills because WE KNOW.
John Legend
@johnlegend
Our new love is here! Luna Simone Stephens, born on Thursday, the 14th. We couldn't be happier!

Moonchild on Wikipedia: https://en.wikipedia.org/wiki/Moonchild

> "Moonchild", a term used for someone whose astrological sign is Cancer, so as to avoid the negative associations of the word

The other meaning / relation for "Moonchild" that come out as suggestion on Wikipedia, is the novel "Moonschild" written by the British occulist Aleister Crowley in 1917: https://en.wikipedia.org/wiki/Moonchild_(novel)

> Moonchild is a novel written by the British occultist Aleister Crowley in 1917. Its plot involves a magical war between a group of white magicians, led by Simon Iff, and a group of black magicians, over an unborn child. It was first published by Mandrake Press in 1929 and its recent edition is published by Weiser.
> In this work, numerous acquaintances of Crowley appear as thinly disguised fictional characters. Crowley portrays MacGregor Mathers as the primary villain, including him as a character named SRMD, using the abbreviation of Mathers' magical name. Arthur Edward Waite appears as a villain named Arthwaite, and the unseen head of the Inner Circle of which SRMD was a member, "A.B." is theosophist Annie Besant. Among Crowley's friends and allies Allen Bennett appears as Mahatera Phang, the dancer Isadora Duncan appears as Lavinia King, and her companion Mary D'Este (who helped Crowley write his magnum opus "Magick: Book 4" under her magical name 'Soror Virakam') appears as Lisa la Giuffria. Cyril Grey is Crowley himself, while Simon Iff is either an idealized version of an older and wiser Crowley or his friend Allen Bennett.[1]

Other results shows movies, songs and albums.

We are not alone.

I drove 3 hours (with my wife's ex but that's a whole nother story). We walked over a mile, stood outside (wind chill of 36 degree) for 3 hours, to support Potus in Washington, MI.
There were between 10-15k Patriots standing outside watching Potus on a Jumbotron. There were shouts of "Qarmy" "Whose Q?" And "Release the Texts!!!".
If you think your efforts are not making a difference, my experience tonight says otherwise.

DEMS FEARING MUELLER NOW?

MARK PENN: "Well, look, I spent a year fighting Ken Starr and I think any reasonable person looking at what happened here says this investigation had no foundation and whatever foundation it had was not only wrong but corrupt. I think Christopher Steele was part of the FBI when he leaked, lied, and then was fired. Page and Strzok are clearly biased. The head of the FBI was clearly biased. The head of the CIA appeared to be doing illegal leaks as well. This whole thing was corrupt. There is a doctrine called the fruits of the poisonous tree, that says when investigations get started like, this when searches and seizures are done on this basis, they should be thrown out. I think that's probably the best way to stop this thing because, otherwise, we are going all the way to the end and I don't think we should waste another year here."

Think LOGICALLY.
Mass exodus in DC?
Mass exodus - corporate CEOs?
Why?
Who has the POWER?
Who has the CONTROL?
If POTUS was NOT IN CONTROL would they be retreating?
Who is the AG?
Who MUST approve the firing/dismissal of DOJ officials?
Re_read DOJ org change (open source - more in pipe)
Who is the FBI director?
Who MUST approve the firing/dismissal of FBI agents?
Re_read FBI org change (open source - more in pipe)
If SESSIONS & WRAY are DC SWAMP/DEEP STATE why are they cleaning their respective houses?
Use LOGIC.
Why are they slow walking unredacted data?
Why are they slow walking doc disclosures?
Why is the WH backing up DOJ?
What if the same data is being used by other investigators?
What does it mean if a grand jury is impanelled?

Why are confusing questions asked as to outcome re: Mueller?
What would be the purpose of creating confusion?
What was Sessions' Senate confirmation vote?
What was RR's Senate confirmation vote?
If RR is dirty, Mueller must also be dirty.
If Mueller is dirty, RR must also be dirty.
Common denominator.
Why did Sessions pick RR?
Everyone has an opinion.
Few have the facts.
Few know the plan.
Midterms [save & push]?
Swing voters to retake House/Senate?
Impeachment proceedings (open source) initiated?
Power at all costs?
Blue wave?
Use LOGIC.
Why must the DOJ & FBI be cleaned FIRST?
What is the DOJ responsible for?
What is the FBI responsible for?
Why did HRC get a free pass?
Use LOGIC.
Define single shooter.
Who is HUBER?
Define IG.
When does SESSIONS step back in?
Already is?
Why did SESSIONS secretly engage HUBER?
Why did SESSIONS reveal HUBER?
Timing is everything.
Department of Justice does not discuss ongoing investigations or confirm specific matters,
What about the active investigation into leaks?
"Horowitz oversees a nationwide workforce of more than 450 special agents, auditors, inspectors, attorneys, and support staff whose mission is to detect and deter waste, fraud, abuse, and misconduct in DOJ programs and personnel, and to promote economy and efficiency in Department operations."
Why did MP step into the C_A prior to Sec of State?
They are deeply connected.
Think Offshore.
MIL INTEL providing support during this time?
Why are select EO's aggressively being written and put into law?
State/C_A next?
Think logically.
No outside comms.
JUSTICE.

Expand your thinking.
Why are we being attacked?
Why are we being attacked by people who claim to be PRO-POTUS?
Do we have a face?
Do we have a name?
Do we use platforms whereby we collect followers?
Selfless.
Zero vanity.
Why are we here?
Why do we ask questions?
The choice has always been yours.
Use logic.
Free information.

What draws people here?
Expanding exponentially?
They all claim to be insiders.
They all claim to have insider contacts.
They do not.
Patriots do NOT reveal classified information.
Why do we communicate this way?
Think for yourself.
Clickbait.
We are a threat to profiteering.
Information should flow freely w/o costs.
We established a series of 'proofs' for this specific reason.
Undeniable.
Unpredictable.
Coincidence after Coincidence.
Growth due to confirmations.
Real source(s) communicating w/ the people.
Unrestricted.
TOGETHER.
Control the information (THEY).
Harness followers / profiteering (THEY).
Define Media.
Primary goal of the Media?
To Sell (each selling a dif narrative - set of targets).
Selling makes money.
Be careful who you follow.
Define 'Patriot'.
They want you DIVIDED.
Attacks will only get worse.

The paytriots in question were trying to usurp Q. This video explains what happened very well. It certainly cleared my head about it all.

"That whenever any Form of Government becomes destructive of these ends, it is the Right of the People to alter or to abolish it, and to institute new Government, laying its foundation on such principles and organizing its powers in such form, as to them shall seem most likely to effect their Safety and Happiness. Prudence, indeed, will dictate that Governments long established should not be changed for light and transient causes; and accordingly all experience hath shewn that mankind are more disposed to suffer, while evils are sufferable than to right themselves by abolishing the forms to which they are accustomed. But when a long train of abuses and usurpations, pursuing invariably the same Object evinces a design to reduce them under absolute Despotism, it is their right, it is their duty, to throw off such Government, and to provide new Guards for their future security."

Google Home, the tech giant's voice-activated "personal assistant," responded to a question about Breitbart News by reading off an anti-Breitbart hit piece from the Huffington Post.

Earlier this week, when asked "what are the headlines at Breitbart News," Google Assistant responded with the headline of a Huffington Post article from former employee Kurt Bardella, "I Quit Breitbart Because of the Lying. Sarah Huckabee Sanders Should Take A Cue."

It's high time for transparency. The DOJ and FBI have continually and repeatedly thwarted congressional oversight. We're asking @realDonaldTrump to direct the Attorney General to give us the documents—because the American people deserve answers.

May 15, 2018

The Honorable Donald J. Trump
President of the United States
1600 Pennsylvania Avenue
Washington, D.C. 20500

Dear Mr. President:

We write to request that you exercise your authority as President of the United States to instruct Attorney General Jeff Sessions to immediately produce all documents requested by Congress relating to our investigation of certain prosecutorial and investigative decisions made by the Department of Justice and FBI in 2016 and 2017.

In May 2017, Deputy Attorney General Rod Rosenstein informed Congress that the Special Counsel's investigation should not impede ongoing Congressional investigations.[1] Additionally, Mr. Rosenstein requested that Congressional efforts coordinate with the Department of Justice.[2]

In the year that has passed since these commitments were made, the Department of Justice has failed to fully comply with regular and repeated Congressional requests and subpoenas. Our power as Congress to conduct investigations is broad, inherent and mandated by the Constitution.[3] As a separate and equal branch of government, we have a constitutional right to these documents.

To complete our independent oversight and investigative duties, we must obtain all documents responsive to previous requests by Congress. This includes the documents related to potential abuses of the Foreign Intelligence Surveillance Act; documents related to the FBI and broader Department of Justice's initial investigation into the Trump campaign prior to the appointment of the Special Counsel; and the unredacted August 2017 memo written by Deputy Attorney General Rosenstein that articulated the scope of the Special Counsel's jurisdiction.

The Department of Justice has obstructed Congressional oversight by refusing to supply necessary and relevant documents. As members of the legislative branch, we believe the best course of action would be for you to exercise the powers vested in the Executive to make the documents we require available to Congress.

Thank you for your attention to this matter.

As I expected, one of the anons quoted the Tweet shared by Q with the pen picture of the other day. But the "letter" we see in the background got the White House Golden Seal on top, and yes, we see a few letters that we will be able to compare with a future document but this time, I'm not quite sure why Q quoted this anon for that. Obviously, the letter addressed to President Trump by the Congress of the United States is not the same document, they might be related and that is maybe what Q want us to notice or dig for.

Congress of the United States
Washington, DC 20515

May 15, 2018

The Honorable Donald J. Trump
President of the United States
1600 Pennsylvania Avenue
Washington, D.C. 20500

Dear Mr. President:

We write to request that you exercise your authority as President of the United States to instruct Attorney General Jeff Sessions to immediately produce all documents requested by Congress relating to our investigation of certain prosecutorial and investigative decisions made by the Department of Justice and FBI in 2016 and 2017.

In May 2017, Deputy Attorney General Rod Rosenstein informed Congress that the Special Counsel's investigation should not impede ongoing Congressional investigations.[1] Additionally, Mr. Rosenstein requested that Congressional efforts coordinate with the Department of Justice.[2]

In the year that has passed since these commitments were made, the Department of Justice has failed to fully comply with regular and repeated Congressional requests and subpoenas. Our power as Congress to conduct investigations is broad, inherent and mandated by the Constitution.[3] As a separate and equal branch of government, we have a constitutional right to these documents.

To complete our independent oversight and investigative duties, we must obtain all documents responsive to previous requests by Congress. This includes the documents related to potential abuses of the Foreign Intelligence Surveillance Act; documents related to the FBI and broader Department of Justice's initial investigation into the Trump campaign prior to the appointment of the Special Counsel; and the unredacted August 2017 memo written by Deputy Attorney General Rosenstein that articulated the scope of the Special Counsel's jurisdiction.

The Department of Justice has obstructed Congressional oversight by refusing to supply necessary and relevant documents. As members of the legislative branch, we believe the best course of action would be for you to exercise the powers vested in the Executive to make the documents we require available to Congress.

Thank you for your attention to this matter.

Sincerely,

Mark Meadows
Member of Congress

THE SOURCE OF THE UNSEALED WEINER INDICTMENT IS PACER SERVICE CENTER, FOUND AT https://pacer.login.uscourts.gov/csologin/login.jsf
See the blue text at the top? That's the standard Header that appears on all documents filed in the U.S. federal courts.
We cannot link directly because access to these files in PACER is granted only to PACER account holders, i.e., to legal professionals like myself.
I HAVE AN IDEA FOR PACER ACCOUNT HOLDERS: LET'S START DOING RANDOM SEARCHES USING ONLY THE PHRASE "UNSEALING ORDER" FOR 2018.
This search will pull up any and all unsealed indictments in any given federal court in which we do that search.
NOTABLE, if only so that others with PACER accounts will get on board with me.

A theory ?
Those pallets were full of smart phones to be distributed members, i.e. Hillary, bill, Hussein, bremmer,etc.. These were special phone which the cabal thought could not be tracked or monitored. The cabal needed a new way to communicate after Q exposed their gmail draft and game forum methods.
Hillary was in NZ (FIVEEYES), not only to raise funds (if that is the true story) but to test out the phones. . Under directions of Trump, NZ told Hillary that the phones were good.
The cabal worked with China's ZTE for these special PHONES. That is why ZTE was in the news lately. Trump drew attention to them to send the cabal a message that he was on to them.
The pics in London show the cabal meeting up after communicating with their secret phones.
Just a theory.

Those 2 posts (in red) are not from Q obviously. 2 differents ID's posted literally 1 seconde apart, as Q (with the actual tripcode). Obviously the tripcode was leaked / exposed again. Probably exposed on purpose since the trip change was announced before anons actually noticed it.

I wanted to mention, if you did not paid attention the news lately, especially the ones about the Vatican, some Bishops and the Pope, it seems like they're having a bad time, or should I say a "Horrible May"?

Other MSM headlines talk about rumors of the Pope's resignations. We shall see, time will tell us. Back to the other Q posts:

"Finally, be strong in the Lord and in his mighty power. Put on the full armor of God so that you can take your stand against the devil's schemes. For our struggle is not against flesh and blood, but against the rulers, against the authorities, against the powers of this dark world and against the spiritual forces of evil in the heavenly realms. Therefore put on the full armor of God, so that when the day of evil comes, you may be able to stand your ground, and after you have done everything, to stand. Stand firm then, with the belt of truth buckled around your waist, with the breastplate of righteousness in place, and with your feet fitted with the readiness that comes from the gospel of peace. In addition to all this, take up the shield of faith, with which you can extinguish all the flaming arrows of the evil one. Take the helmet of salvation and the sword of the Spirit, which is the word of God. And pray in the Spirit on all occasions with all kinds of prayers and requests. With this in mind, be alert and always keep on praying for all the saints."
– Ephesians 6:10-18

"Love is patient, love is kind. It does not envy, it does not boast, it is not proud. It is not rude, it is not self-seeking, it is not easily angered, it keeps no record of wrongs. Love does not delight in evil but rejoices with the truth. It always protects, always trusts, always hopes, always perseveres. Love never fails."

A brief summery of Q

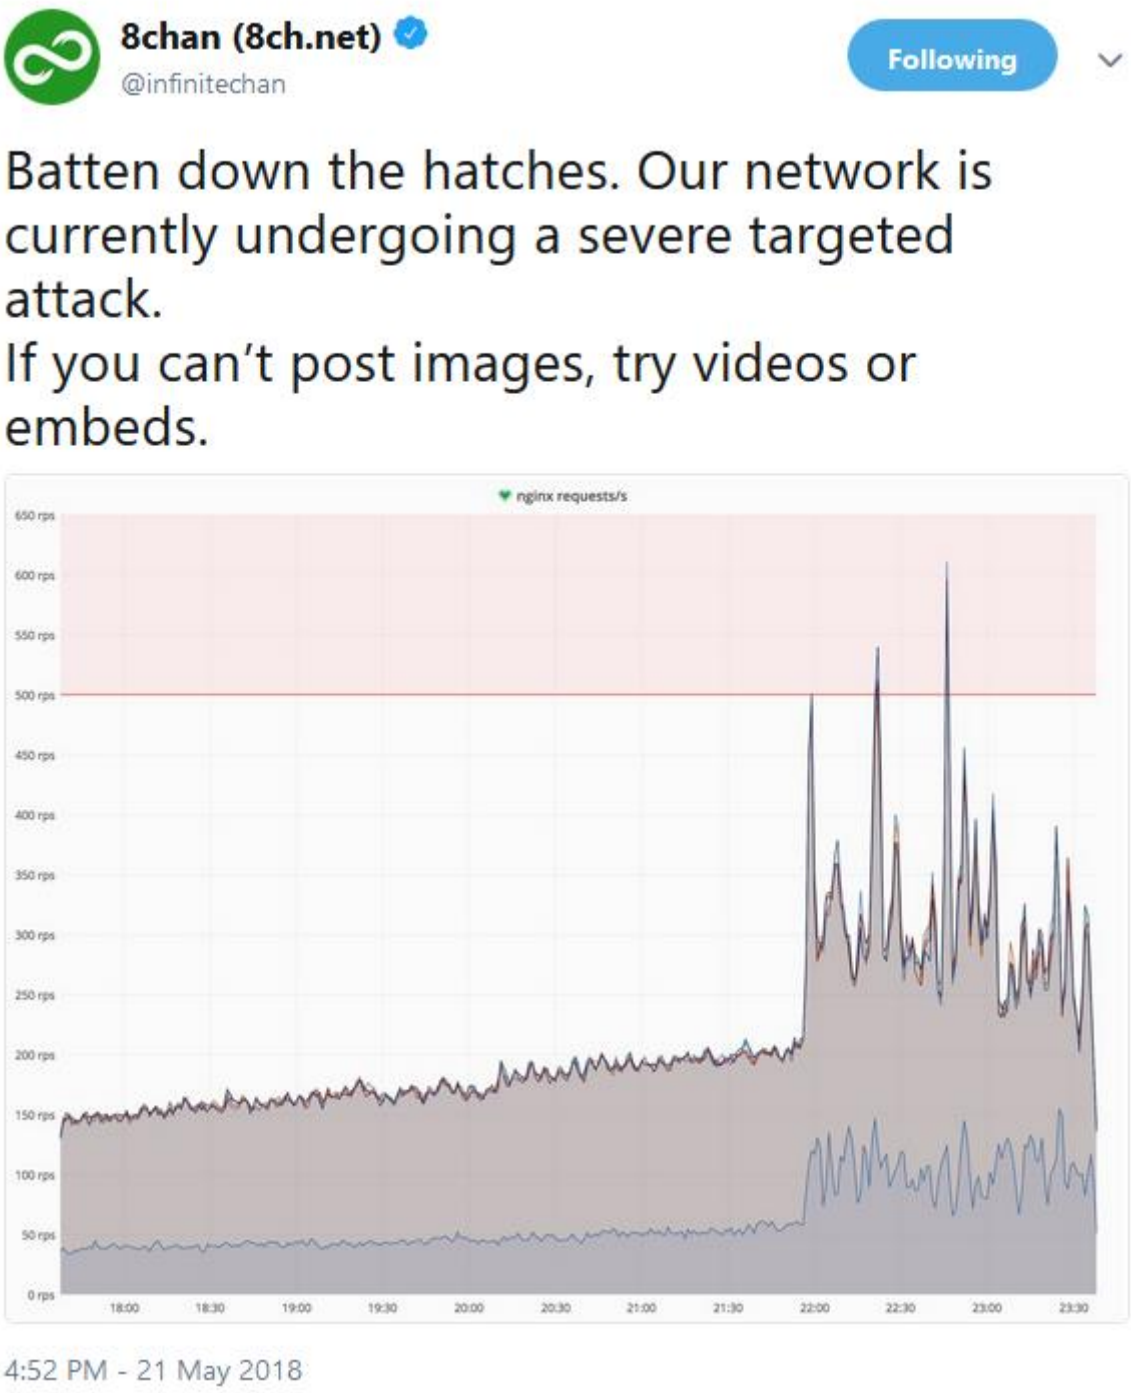

Q Clearance Patriot is an exit node of No Such Agency + United States Cyber Command, an online identity fueled by a group internally known as the Wizards and Warlocks.
It seems they've been given the task of bringing everyone up to speed about the wrongdoings and evil that almost took over our world.
They have held the evidence to bring down a world wide ring of blackmail, and Admiral Rogers gave Trump the key.
Combined with Military and Navy Intelligence, Trump has gone full Andrew Jackson and America has been in a state of National Emergency since December 21, 2017 when the "Executive Order Blocking the Property of Persons Involved in Serious Human Rights Abuse or Corruption" was signed.

This isn't a game.
There are over 29,000 federal level sealed indictments on standby.
There have been ~2,000 CEO/President, or otherwise Notable Resignations that are reshaping the corporate landscape.
More than twice the amount of representatives than watergate - 53 so far - will not seek re-election this year.
This is what a swamp draining looks like.

Without violating the very laws that are being brought back into full power today, Q drops clues about whats going on in the silent war against the seemingly entrenched evil few who strangled our world through unimaginable means. The FBI has been gutted, the CIA has been shattered, and the DOJ cleansed of those who stood in the way of our Freedom. Who's next? Lets find out. #Qanon

I came across the post shared on the previous page a couple time, it was shared a lot on Twitter and Discord and other social media / plateforms. It resumes a lot of things quite well and it is a "simplified version" of the story.

"The attacks will only get worst", indeed, everywhere. Today, 8chan is directly attacked:

"The succession question is actually a bit complicated. By default, under an obscure statute known as the the Vacancies Reform Act of 1998, Brand's temporary successor as the "acting" associate attorney general is her principal deputy, Jesse Panuccio. That same statute would also allow the president to choose someone else to serve as the "acting" AAG on a temporary basis for up to 210 days; the pool of individuals from which the president could draw in this case includes individuals already holding Senate-confirmed positions elsewhere in the executive branch (like EPA administrator Scott Pruitt) or senior civil service lawyers in the Justice Department, specifically."

Letter from Senator Ron Johnson to FBI Director Wray.

- January 8, 2017, 12:08 p.m. Then-FBI Deputy Director Andrew McCabe sent an email to senior FBI leadership with the subject line "Flood is coming." Mr. McCabe wrote, "CNN is close to going forward with the sensitive story. . . . The trigger for them [CNN] is they know the material was discussed in the brief and presented in an attachment."[8]

- January 8, 2017, 12:55 p.m. Mr. McCabe emailed then-Deputy Attorney General Sally Yates and then-Principal Deputy Attorney General Matthew Axelrod with the subject line "News."[9] Mr. McCabe wrote, "Just an FYI, and as expected, it seems CNN is close to running a story about the sensitive reporting."[10]

RAPID FIRE = a movie by that name involving a corrupt FBI
'Flood is coming' = FBI deputy director Andrew McCabe sent an email with the subject line "Flood is coming" Indicating CNN is going to run a sensitive story [CNN] = CNN is targeted but then so is McCabe for classified information to them.

Remember the Air Force One picture shared by Q on November 9th? Q shared it, to remind us of it, but he also added a new picture. Regarding board moderation:

Shit has been sorted out. No more bans from here on out. Only dedicated spammers/shills. Ebot/Efag should be filtered via ([])=,e regex. All BVs told to switch tactics, snapshots/warn before ban/follow global rules (which is basically how I moderate) and be as flexible as possible with anons. All BVs primary focus will be to assist anons instead of keeping the board clean. The only bans in the list are currently Ebot/Efag, which will be removed soon to free up IPs.

The BVs don't mean to fuck with our movement. We all mean well, and we will do a better job from now on to show you that. This board belongs to the anons, not the staff.

North Korean leader Kim Jong Un visiting several Singapore attractions on Monday night

SINGAPORE - North Korean leader Kim Jong Un is spending his second night in Singapore on a mini tour that includes some of the Republic's best-known sights such as Gardens by the Bay and the Marina Bay Sands (MBS) integrated resorts.

At around 9.10pm on Monday (June 11), his motorcade was seen leaving the St Regis Hotel in the Tanglin area where his delegation is being housed at, before driving past the Raffles City area towards Marina Bay.
Mr Kim, who arrived in Singapore on Sunday ahead of his historic summit with United States President Donald Trump in Sentosa on Tuesday, stopped by Gardens by the Bay first and is expected to also visit the MBS SkyPark or the nearby Merlion Park.
At around 8pm, the observation deck of the 57th-storey sky park at the MBS, which offers panoramic views of Marina Bay and the central business district, was closed off to the public, ahead of its usual 10pm timing.
MBS staff were seen polishing fingerprints off the glass panels of the observation deck. The Straits Times also saw a heavy security presence comprising MBS personnel and police officers.
Mr Kim, who is North Korea's Chairman of the State Affairs Commission, may also visit other sights such as the Esplanade performing arts centre.
The mini-city tour will cap a rather quiet public schedule for Mr Kim on Monday, compared to his officials and Mr Trump.
Apart from a meeting with Singapore's Prime Minister Lee Hsien Loong at the Istana on Sunday evening, Mr Kim has not been seen stepping out of the St Regis hotel in Orchard Road where he and his delegation are being housed at.
In contrast, Mr Kim's officials were seen earlier on Monday meeting with Singapore and American officials - making courtesy calls or engaging in last-minute talks over the one-day summit.
Mr Trump met PM Lee and also members of the American community in Singapore.

Missile Launch On Whidbey Island?
I have been sitting on this since yesterday morning. . . My night camera picked up what clearly looks like a very large missile launch from Whidbey Island. I really wanted more information before I shared this with the public. KOMO, KING and KIRO all contacted Whidbey NAS and the Department of Defense. They all said it didn't come from them. . . They said they don't have the facility to launch large missiles. I ran this image by Robert Lunsford of the American Meteor Society and he said it was definitely not a meteor. It looked like a missile launch to him as well. I shared this with Cliff Mass yesterday and he did a blog on it this morning. It will be interesting if anybody from Whidbey heard or saw this event.

Chinese hackers steal sensitive Navy program data
By: Andrew C. Jarocki
WASHINGTON — Cyberattacks sponsored by the Chinese government infiltrated a U.S. Navy contractor's computers, allowing digital thieves to access sensitive data related to secret Navy

Once you do the Reverse Image search, you find this article:

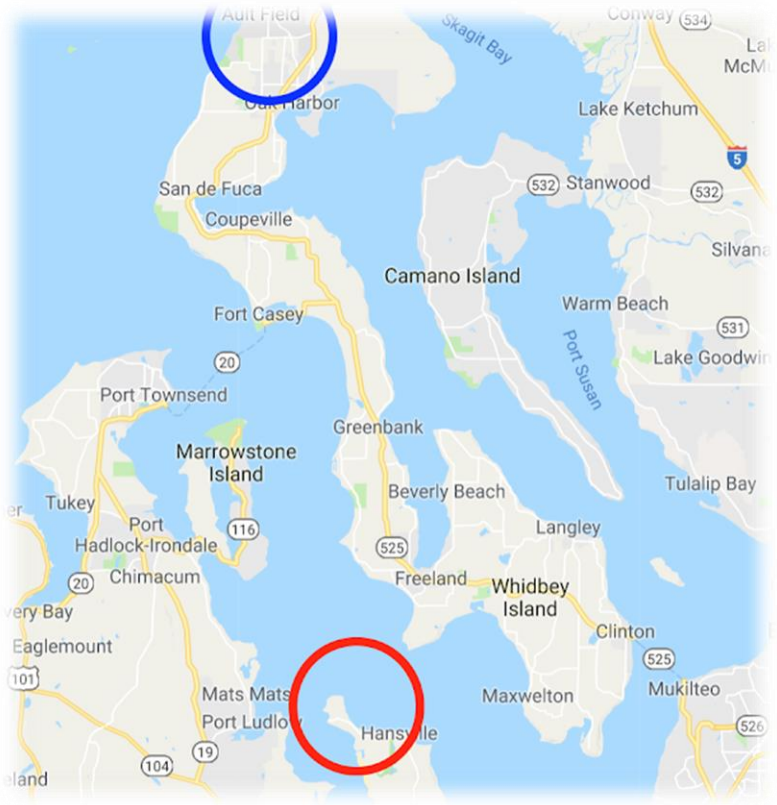

https://www.defensenews.com/cyber/2018/06/08/chinese-hackers-steal-sensitive-navy-program-data/

The owner of the vessel is currently unknown. It is also unknown whether or not the vessel shown above is the same vessel that launched the missile.

Rumors suggests it was another Military Industrial Complex stealth submarine -- the same submarine class that launched a missile toward Hawaii.

Other rumors suggest the missile was launched from Whidbey Island Naval Air Station.

On the graphic that you can view on the following page : The red circle below is the location of the camera that captured the missile launch. The blue circle is the location of Whidbey Island Naval Air Station.

"We hold these truths to be self-evident, that all men are created equal, that they are endowed by their Creator with certain unalienable Rights, that among these are Life, Liberty and the pursuit of Happiness.–That to secure these rights, Governments are instituted among Men, deriving their just powers from the consent of the governed, –That whenever any Form of Government becomes destructive of these ends, it is the Right of the People to alter or to abolish it, and to institute new Government, laying its foundation on such principles and organizing its powers in such form, as to them shall seem most likely to effect their Safety and Happiness. Prudence, indeed, will dictate that Governments long established should not be changed for light and transient causes; and accordingly all experience hath shewn, that mankind are more disposed to suffer, while evils are sufferable, than to right themselves by abolishing the forms to which they are accustomed. But when a long train of abuses and usurpations, pursuing invariably the same Object evinces a design to reduce them under absolute Despotism, it is their right, it is their duty, to throw off such Government, and to provide new Guards for their future security."

ANDY BIGGS
HOUSE JUDICIARY COMMITTEE

COMMITTEE ON SCIENCE, SPACE, AND TECHNOLOGY

Congress of the United States
House of Representatives
Washington, DC 20515–0305

June 14, 2018

Michael Horowitz
Inspector General
U.S. Department of Justice
950 Pennsylvania Avenue, N.W.
Suite 4706
Washington, D.C. 20530-0001

Dear Inspector General Horowitz,

Almost one month ago, your office completed its draft report reviewing the Department of Justice (DOJ) procedures in the Clinton email investigation.

A draft was circulated to people within the DOJ and Federal Bureau of Investigation (FBI), providing an opportunity to respond and rebut the report's findings in the final stage before the details become public. Your team has worked to ensure that this report is thorough and accurate; however, an investigation of this magnitude and consequence deserves heightened scrutiny to guarantee that the process has not been compromised in any way. The trust of the American people depends on it.

We are concerned that during this time, people may have changed the report in a way that obfuscates your findings. Per Congress's oversight authority, we request you supply your original drafts along with the final published form.

Unfortunately, over the past year, the DOJ has repeatedly fought requests by Congress to produce documents related to this investigation, and when the DOJ actually provided documents, the materials have been heavily redacted. Past and present DOJ officials have asserted security concerns, even though the documents we have seen do not legitimately contain these issues.

We have every confidence that your investigation and report has been thorough and accurate. We request the various drafts of the report, particularly the draft provided to the DOJ and FBI, before those agencies made any changes to the draft report, be provided to us.

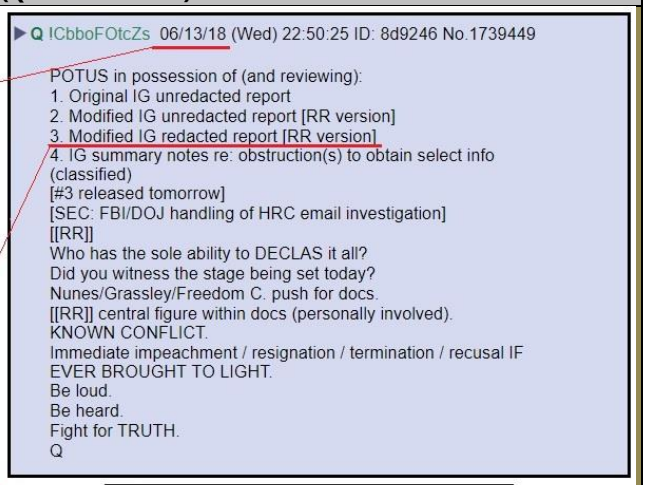

Thank you for your time and your service to our country.

Sincerely,

Andy Biggs
Member of Congress

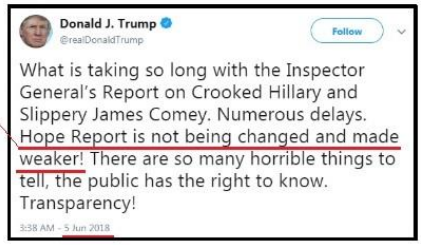

Ron DeSantis

Matt Gaetz

Text of the video:

> "... and for the international order that we have worked for generations to build ordinary men and women are too small-minded to govern their own affairs that order and progress can only come when individuals surrender their rights to an all-powerful sovereign..."

I'm not sure why Q shared this. It is obviously taken out of context. Even tho' I'm not a fan of Obama and I think he should be in jail, this speech was taken out of context and was certainly not at the Bilderberg. It was an address to Europe, 4 years ago in Belgium. You can watch the full video by yourself, make your own opinion: https://www.youtube.com/watch?time_continue=1&v=aNoiYpOKnqs - The "extracted" part shared on Twitter can be heard around 03:30 / 35:52.

well it's pretty cryptic so here is a wild guess...
D
→ ??? the demiurge ??? just kidding, I don't know. Someone involved in space programs and 'majestic 12' type of intel.
Morning sun brings heat.
→ predetermined code / command for initiation of a plan, authenticity check. Likely, multiple governments are responding to this call for initiation, hence dropped here.
Full moon coming.
→ proper revelation of nature of the moon and other bodies in our solar system
Undiscovered stars learned.
→ this refers to gifted anons figuring something out, which was the condition upon which something about our solar system or moon would be revealed to public.
Missions forward.
→ a particular plan for missions is being initiated, proceed (in part a message to anons)

> Why wasn't HRC prosecuted for the emails? Put simply, Obama ultimately OK'd by using the non govt email addy to communicate w/ Clinton. Obama also had an alias along with each of his cabinet members. Therefore indicting HRC would lead to indicting Obama & his cabinet etc which could never happen. Remember he lied about knowing but that ultimately came out in the dump. Poof!

"Attorney General Jeff Sessions has also said U.S. Attorney John Huber is investigating claims of FBI and DOJ misconduct related to these actions, noting that Huber would be "conducting his work from outside the Washington D.C. area and "in cooperation" with Horowitz."
http://www.foxnews.com/politics/2018/06/15/ig-2-0-could-be-even-worse-for-fbi-as-feds-brace-for-trump-spying-probe.html
"This is not the end of the process. United States Attorney John Huber continues his work in cooperation with the Inspector General to review certain prosecutorial and investigative determinations made by the Department in 2016 and 2017," Sessions said. He has reviewed this report and, based on its findings and his own investigation, will provide recommendations as to whether any matter not currently under investigation should be opened, whether any matters currently under investigation require further resources, or whether any matters merit the appointment of Special Counsel."

SC = restart w/ significantly less staff = stupid
(Reddit Summary)
-Professor Turley is a very respected liberal law professor and longtime civil libertarian. Has been critical of both parties over the years.
-Turley says the use of John Huber gives the IG the prosecutor he needs to bring charges and seek indictments. (No need to go through RR which is critical)
-Huber is conducting a full-fledged criminal investigation into all the matters Republicans are calling for a special counsel to investigate.
-Huber has been investigating these possible crimes for five months (Now seven), since November 2017.
-By giving the IG a prosecutor they can now go after the deep state without looking like a political witch hunt. This is critical.
-Sessions informed Congress in his letter that all the matters recommended for investigation by Goodlatte, Gowdy, and Grassley are "fully within the scope of [Huber's] existing mandate." He also informed the chairmen that Inspector General Michael Horowitz, who is working with Huber, has a staff of 470 investigators, giving Huber access to enormous investigative firepower that far exceeds the staff of any special counsel. (Who needs a SC with that type of manpower?)
-The inspector general's jurisdiction to conduct civil and criminal investigations includes "actions taken by former employees after they have left government service." Then Huber can act on any of those matters.
-This is HUGE A Grand Jury can be empaneled anywhere, in any deep red state, away from D.C. (This is very important and why Trump needed to appoint as many Judges as possible)
-Huber and Horowitz can accomplish everything a SC can do.
-If Sessions feels that charges should have been made that weren't, he can still appoint a SC to make that happen.
-Huber is a lawyer from deep red Utah, not the D.C. swamp.
-"If a special counsel were appointed, there would be a great deal of delay," Turley stated, versus the team of Huber and Horowitz, who are already five months into this investigation. (It's too late to even appoint a SC. Charges can be filed before midterms.)

-From /u/ClardicFug - Huber and Horowitz were both appointed to their positions by the Obama administration. This helps optics a lot. Pretty much decimates the "Trumped rigged the investigation" argument that's sure to be made.

Researching & Answering Q

RESEARCHING / ANSWERING Q

UPDATE OF THIS PART IS IN PROGRESS. ALL MY NOTES ARE HANDWRITTEN AT THE MOMENT, I WILL UPDATE WHEN I HAVE THE TIME TO DO SO.

For each of the subjects below, you could write a book or even several, so you will find a brief resume of each but for more, detailed and complete information, I recommend you to research on any of those subjects (and there is many more) as it will enlight your knowledge and also help you to understand the Cabal's move on the chess board.

WHAT IS THE CABAL?

The Cabal is a word fraught with fear. Sometimes called the Illuminati, the New World Order or even the Global Elite, it refers to a secret faction working inside our governments with an agenda for world domination and the destruction of humanity as we know it. To become aware of their programming, we must empower ourselves with awareness free from their crafted agendas.

As conscious beings that can see what is happening in the world around us, we are in place to call out and disempower their secrecy. And the best news buttercup, they don't win! There is nothing to fear.

THE CULTURE AND BELIEFS SYSTEM OF THE CABAL

PREFACE

To be completed...

UNDERSTANDING THE CABAL (THEIR POINT OF VIEW)

To be completed...

A FEAR-BASED AGENDA

I call them agenda seekers. While most of us seek harmony, prosperity, love and stability, the Cabal instead desires to create a society of fear, weakness and hatred.

They have ensured the dumbing down of humanity through the media, through schools that raise sheep rather than free thinkers, through the blocking of access to our higher spiritual centers and through making us sick through food and pharmaceuticals. They literally poison you by the water with the fluoride or by the chemtrails in the air, that are inhale directly or absorbed by the soil which the food grow into.

THE GEORGIA GUIDESTONES

"In June of 1979, a man going by the pseudonym of R.C. Christian approached the Elberton Granite Finishing Company with the task of building a monument. He said that no one was to ever know his true identity or that of the group that he was representing. He seemed to have an endless supply of money to fund the project and by the terms of the legal contract all plans had to be destroyed after completion and all information about him withheld from the public." – SOURCE: https://www.atlasobscura.com/places/georgia-guidestones

DESCRIPTION

The Georgia Guidestones is a granite monument erected in 1980 in Elbert County, Georgia, in the United States. A set of 10 guidelines is inscribed on the structure in eight modern languages, and a shorter message is inscribed at the top of the structure in four ancient language scripts.

The monument stands at an approximate elevation of 750 feet above sea level, about 90 miles (140 km) east of Atlanta, 45 miles (72 km) from Athens, and 9 miles (14 km) north of the center of the city of Elberton.

One slab stands in the center, with four arranged around it. A capstone lies on top of the five slabs, which are astronomically aligned. An additional stone tablet, which is set in the ground a short distance to the west of the structure, provides some notes on the history and purpose of the guidestones. The structure is sometimes referred to as an "American Stonehenge".[1] The monument is 19 feet 3 inches (5.87 m) tall, made from six granite slabs weighing 237,746 pounds (107,840 kg) in all.[2] The designer and meaning of the guidestones are unknown, leading to speculation and conspiracy theory.

INSCRIPTIONS

A message consisting of a set of ten guidelines or principles is engraved on the Georgia Guidestones[8] in eight different languages, one language on each face of the four large upright stones. Moving clockwise around the structure from due north, these languages are: English, Spanish, Swahili, Hindi, Hebrew, Arabic, Chinese, and Russian.

1. Maintain humanity under 500,000,000 in perpetual balance with nature.
2. Guide reproduction wisely — improving fitness and diversity.
3. Unite humanity with a living new language.
4. Rule passion — faith — tradition — and all things with tempered reason.
5. Protect people and nations with fair laws and just courts.
6. Let all nations rule internally resolving external disputes in a world court.
7. Avoid petty laws and useless officials.
8. Balance personal rights with social duties.
9. Prize truth — beauty — love — seeking harmony with the infinite.
10. Be not a cancer on the earth — Leave room for nature — Leave room for nature.

Rule number 1 doesn't sound very pleasant since it would means we are an extra 6.5 Billion Humans on this planet. This is basically the final objective of the Cabal, their master plan if you will. Their vision of the perfect future.

Otherwise, some of the other rules are in harmony with nature and doesn't sound that bad right? Yeah, maybe. But if you need to accomplish all the horrors they have done for the few last thousands of years, it is definitely not the way to go, they forgot their own light (love), and they are blinded by Lucifer's light, the light of knowledge without the wise and emotions of the heart.

The site has been defaced many times since it got more attention on the Internet.

SIX WAYS THE CABAL INFLUENCES THE WORLD (TODAY)

The Cabal has orchestrated their efforts through various arms which ensure we do not become aware of our true mastery.

1. MEDIA

The most insidious of their aims is the covert programming found in the media. From cartoons to pop music and even news and mainstream television, their agenda of fear permeates all. Through this subconscious programming, they poison us with overt mind control to be constantly fearful, stressed, and sick.

The mass media do not have free speech and the creative efforts of Hollywood must fit into a precise formulaic script. Blockbuster movies are in place to program our reactions so that when a cataclysmic event does occur, they can predict our responses.

Read more on: Project Mockingbird; Project MK-Ultra and many more...

2. PHARMACEUTICALS AND FOOD

Far beyond the dangers of Monsanto lives a desire to sicken us so we are unable to thrive and reach our full human potential. Genetically modified foods, the pervasiveness of sugar, and our reliance on chemicals rather than living foods are all part of a long term plan to weaken and sicken us.

In adding fluoride to the drinking water, we are unknowingly pumped with chemicals which ensure we cannot reach the states of spiritual expansion which is our destiny. Fluoride blocks the pineal gland (our 3rd eye chakra and center of psychic vision) and inhibits the opening of our higher spiritual functions.

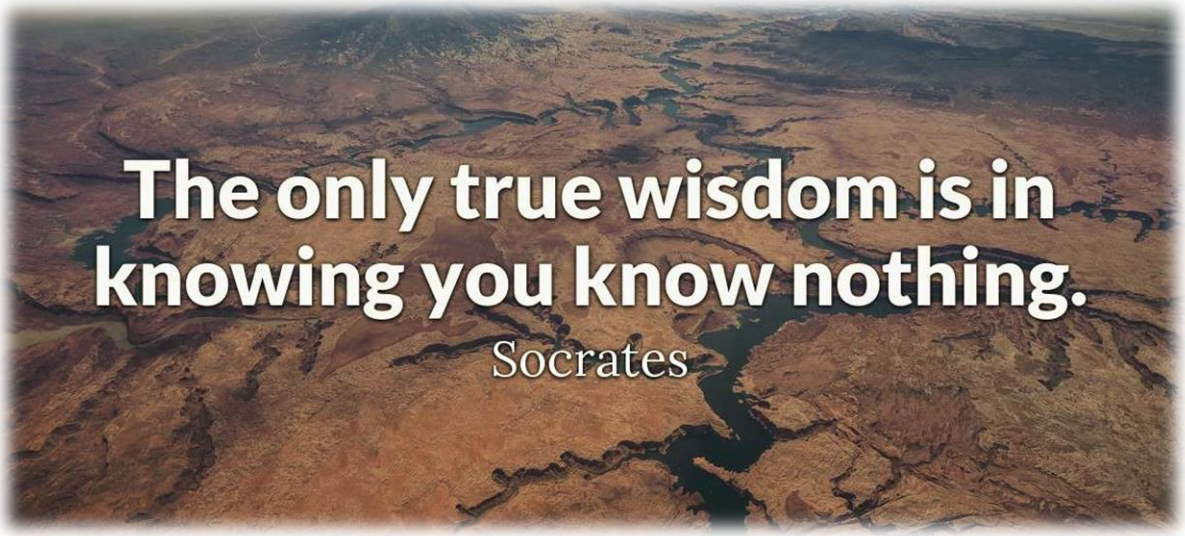

3. EDUCATION

The mainstream education system does not encourage free thinking, it instead creates good followers. For those children who do not comply in sitting quietly in their seats consuming the prescribed knowledge, they encourage kids be placed on drugs at a young age.

More damaging still is the fact that modern education is a complex brain washing system instilled to learn the version of the world they want us to believe is real. William Tompkins, a Naval insider, boldly states:

> "EVERY SCHOOL ON THE PLANET HAS BEEN GIVEN LIES. ALL EDUCATION HAS BEEN GIVEN LIES ABOUT ASTRONOMY, MATHEMATICS, TECHNICAL CAPABILITIES, •AND• HISTORY."

When we are falsely taught what the world is, we cannot see beyond the scope of what they have programmed us to believe. That is the very reason you have to educate yourself and keep asking questions.

4. SCIENCE & TECHNOLOGIES

The government is using scientific achievements-- financed by the Cabal-- exclusively as a means of power. When we recognize that every technological advance made in the last century is destructive to the environment, going directly against the harmony of the natural world, we begin to glimpse the far reaching aim of their control.

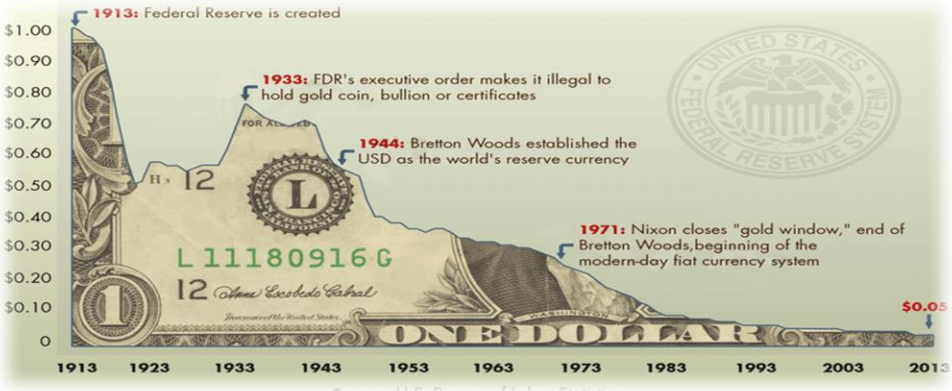

Nicola Tesla created brilliant inventions which would grant us all true freedom. His vision so far reaching he created technologies that would connect and empower the world. His ideas posed a huge threat to the ways the Cabal maintain wealth.

Suppression of patents and great thinkers who create technologies to better our world are notoriously squashed so we are crippled in our ability to thrive and grow. If they control science and technology, they proliferate their agenda to suppress freedom of thought and spirit.

5. MONETARY SYSTEM

The Cabal has created an exploited society reliant on debt and forced to work jobs which drain life force. We become slaves to the money (or lack thereof) and must rely on the establishment to save us in the form of loans, credit cards and fees to access our own money. While the Global Elite amass larger amounts of wealth, the middle class become buried in greater debts to keep up with basic life needs.

You should read how the economy really works and what the so called "Federal" Reserve really is. It not Federal at all, it's part of the name, in facts, it is a private entity, for each dollar bought by the US Government, they buy it 1$ + interest, what does that means? Infinite debts that will never be paid back, it is mathematically impossible, at least that way.

6. RELIGION AND SCIENCE

Religion is blocking our path to God while Science is closing our minds.

Belief systems were crafted which limited our access to spirit and truth. Through science and religion, the Cabal created our lens with which we view the world. With this firmly in place, they ensure we do not go beyond the possibilities they wish us to reach.

> THE SCHEME IS MULTIFACETED WITH ONE SIMPLE GOAL - TO MAKE US BELIEVE WE ARE POWERLESS, TO FORCE FEED US FEAR, AND TO MAINTAIN THEIR DOMINATION.

The main way they control us is by using our power of creation. They control our power of creative thinking, dreaming, and manifesting and pollute our ability to trust and know ourselves. In doing so they have made us believe we are not in control of our reality and must instead cower in fear of what terrors await us if we step out of line.

When we recognize that everything we think and feel is a program of the Cabal, we can lift the veil to take actions within our own lives to awaken and restore our innate powers.

++ THE ROTHSCHILD FAMILY DYNASTY

FAMILY TREE

OFFICIAL OVERVIEW

The Rothschild family is a wealthy family descending from Mayer Amschel Rothschild, a court Jew to the German Landgraves of Hesse-Kassel in the Free City of Frankfurt, who established his banking business in the 1760s.[2] Unlike most previous court Jews, Rothschild managed to bequeath his wealth and established an international banking family through his five sons,[3] who established themselves in London, Paris, Frankfurt, Vienna, and Naples.

During the 19th century, the Rothschild family possessed the largest private fortune in the world, as well as the largest private fortune in modern world history.[4][5][6] The family's wealth was divided among various descendants,[7] and today their interests cover a diverse range of fields, including financial services, real estate, mining, energy, mixed farming, winemaking and nonprofits.[8][9]

+++ AL SA'UD FAMILY (KSA, SA, SAUDI ARABIA ROYAL FAMILY)

FAMILY TREE

Succession to the Saudi Arabian throne information: https://en.wikipedia.org/wiki/Succession_to_the_Saudi_Arabian_throne

OFFICIAL OVERVIEW

The House of Saud (Arabic: آل سعود, translit. Āl Saʿūd IPA: [ʔæːl saʕuːd]) is the ruling royal family of Saudi Arabia. It is composed of the descendants of Muhammad bin Saud, founder of the Emirate of Diriyah, known as the First Saudi state (1744–1818), and his brothers, though the ruling faction of the family is primarily led by the descendants of Ibn Saud, the modern founder of Saudi Arabia.[1] The most influential member of the Royal family is the King of Saudi Arabia, currently King Salman, who chose first his nephew and then his son as crown prince without consulting the Allegiance Council. The family is estimated to comprise 15,000 members, but the majority of the power and wealth is possessed by a group of about 2,000 of them.[2][3]

The House of Saud has gone through three phases: the Emirate of Diriyah, the First Saudi State (1744–1818), marked by the expansion of Wahhabism; the Emirate of Nejd, the Second Saudi State (1824–1891), marked with continuous infighting; and the Third Saudi State (1902–present), which evolved into Saudi Arabia in 1932 and now wields considerable influence in the Middle East. The family has had conflicts with the Ottoman Empire, the Sharif of Mecca, the Al Rashid family of Ha'il and their vassal houses in Najd, numerous Islamist groups both inside and outside Saudi Arabia and Shia minority in Saudi Arabia.

The succession to the Saudi Arabian throne was designed to pass from one son of the first king, Ibn Saud, to another. The next in line, Crown Prince Mohammad bin Salman, is the son of King Salman.[4][5][6] The king-appointed cabinet includes more members of the royal family. The monarchy was hereditary by agnatic seniority until 2006, when a royal decree provided that future Saudi kings are to be elected by a committee of Saudi princes.[7]

+ GEORGE SOROS
OFFICIAL OVERVIEW

GEORGE SOROS

George Soros, Hon FBA (/ˈsɔːroʊs/,[4] /ˈsɔːrɒs/; Hungarian: Soros György, pronounced [ˈʃoroʃ ˈɟørɟ]; born György Schwartz,[1][2] August 12, 1930) is a Hungarian-American[a] investor,[7] business magnate, ~~philanthropist~~, political activist and author.[8] Soros is one of the world's most successful investors.[9][10][11] As of December 2017, Soros had a net worth of $8 billion,[12] after donating $18 billion to his philanthropic agency, Open Society Foundations.[13]

Born in Budapest, he survived Nazi Germany-occupied Hungary and emigrated to England in 1947. He attended the London School of Economics graduating with a bachelor's and eventually a master's in philosophy. He began his business career by taking various jobs at merchant banks in England and then the United States, before starting his first hedge fund, Double Eagle, in 1969. Profits from his first fund furnished the seed money to start Soros Fund Management, his second hedge fund, in 1970. Double Eagle was renamed the Quantum Fund and was the principal firm Soros advised. At its founding, the Quantum Fund had $12 million in assets under management, and as of 2011 it had $25 billion, the majority of his overall net worth.[14] He is known as "The Man Who Broke the Bank of England" because of his short sale of US$10 billion worth of Pound sterling, making him a profit of $1 billion during the 1992 Black Wednesday UK currency crisis.[15][16]

His early studies of philosophy led him to develop and apply Karl Popper's General Theory of Reflexivity to capital markets, which he claims renders him a clear picture of asset bubbles and fundamental/market value of securities, as well as value discrepancies used for shorting and swapping stocks.[17]

He is a well-known supporter of American progressive and American liberal political causes and dispenses his donations through his foundation, the Open Society Foundations.[18] Between 1979 and 2011, Soros donated more than $11 billion to various philanthropic causes;[19][20] by 2017, his donations "on civil initiatives to reduce poverty and increase transparency, and on scholarships and universities around the world" totaled $12 billion.[21]He played a significant role in the peaceful transition from communism to capitalism in Eastern Europe in the late 1980s and early 1990s,[15] and provided one of Europe's largest higher education endowments to the Central European University in his Hungarian hometown.[22] His extensive political philanthropy has made him a "bugaboo of European nationalists."[23]

OPEN SOCIETY FOUNDATIONS

Open Society Foundations (OSF), formerly the Open Society Institute, is an international grantmaking network founded by business magnate George Soros.[2] Open Society Foundations financially support civil society groups around the world, with a stated aim of advancing justice, education, public health and independent media.[3][4]

The OSF has branches in 37 countries,[5] encompassing a group of country and regional foundations, such as the Open Society Initiative for West Africa, and the Open Society Initiative for Southern Africa; its headquarters are in New York, New York.

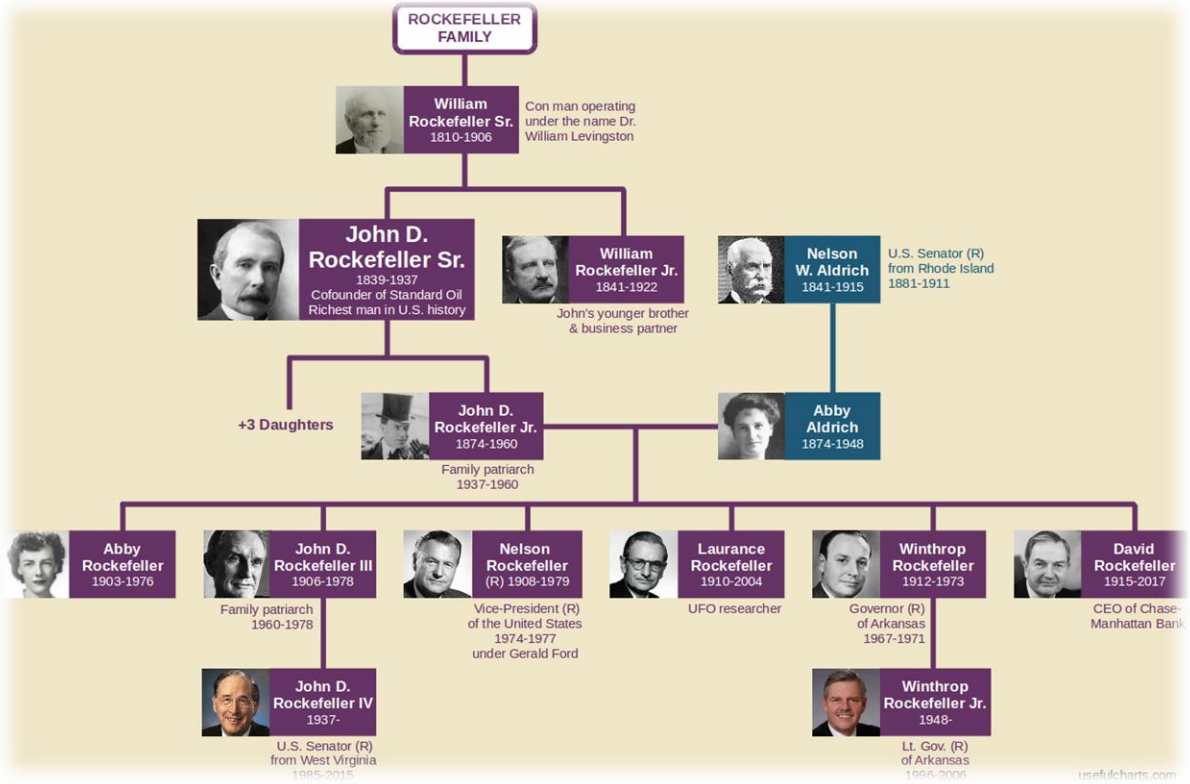

Since its founding in 1993, OSF has reported expenditures of over $11 billion.[6] The group's name is inspired by Karl Popper's 1945 book The Open Society and Its Enemies.[7]

I recommend you to check the sources, under House Windsor, so you will be able to see it in more details.

QUEEN ELIZABETH II

Elizabeth II (Elizabeth Alexandra Mary; born 21 April 1926)[a] has been Queen of the United Kingdom, Canada, Australia, and New Zealand since 6 February 1952. Additionally, she is Head of the Commonwealth and queen of 12 countries that have become independent since her accession: Jamaica, Barbados, the Bahamas, Grenada, Papua New Guinea, Solomon Islands, Tuvalu, Saint Lucia, Saint Vincent and the Grenadines, Belize, Antigua and Barbuda, and Saint Kitts and Nevis.[b]

Elizabeth was born in London as the first child of the Duke and Duchess of York, later King George VI and Queen Elizabeth, and she was educated privately at home. Her father acceded to the throne on the abdication of his brother Edward VIII in 1936, from which time she was the heir presumptive. She began to undertake public duties during the Second World War, serving in the Auxiliary Territorial Service. In 1947, she married Prince Philip, Duke of Edinburgh, a former prince of Greece and Denmark, with whom she has four children: Charles, Prince of Wales; Anne, Princess Royal; Andrew, Duke of York; and Edward, Earl of Wessex.

Elizabeth's many historic visits and meetings include a state visit to the Republic of Ireland and visits to or from five popes. She has seen major constitutional changes, such as devolution in the United Kingdom, Canadian patriation, and the decolonisation of Africa. She has reigned through various wars and conflicts involving many of her realms. Significant events have included her coronation in 1953 and the celebrations of her Silver, Golden, and Diamond Jubilees in 1977, 2002, and 2012 respectively. In 2017, she became the first British monarch to reach a Sapphire Jubilee. She is the longest-lived and longest-reigning British monarch as well as the world's longest-reigning queen regnant and female head of state, the oldest and longest-reigning current monarch and the oldest and longest-serving current head of state.

Elizabeth has occasionally faced republican sentiments and press criticism of the royal family, in particular after the breakdown of her children's marriages and the Windsor Castle fire in 1992 (her annus horribilis) and the death in 1997 of her former daughter-in-law Diana, Princess of Wales; however, support for the monarchy remains high, as does her personal popularity.

OFFICIAL OVERVIEW

The British royal family comprises the monarch of the United Kingdom and her close relations. There is no strict legal or formal definition of who is or is not a member of the British royal family and, apart from Queen Elizabeth II herself, different lists include different people. Those who at the time are entitled to the style His or Her Royal Highness (HRH), and any styled His or Her Majesty (HM), are normally considered members, including those so styled before the beginning of the current monarch's reign. By this criterion, a list of the current royal family will usually include the monarch, the children and male-line grandchildren of the monarch and previous monarchs, the children of the eldest son of the Prince of Wales, and all their current or widowed spouses.

Different terms may be applied to the same or similar group of relatives of the monarch in his or her role as sovereign of any of the other Commonwealth realms. For example, in Canada the family is officially known as the Canadian royal family.

Some members of the royal family have official residences named as the places from which announcements are made in the Court Circular about official engagements they have carried out. The state duties and staff of some members of the royal family are funded from a parliamentary annuity, the amount of which is fully refunded by the Queen to the Treasury.[1]

Since 1917, when King George V changed the name of the royal house from Saxe-Coburg and Gotha, members of the royal family belong, either by birth or by marriage, to the House of Windsor. Senior titled members of the royal family do not usually use a surname, although since 1960 Mountbatten-Windsor, incorporating Prince Philip's adopted surname of Mountbatten, has been prescribed as a surname for Elizabeth II's direct descendants who do not have royal styles and titles, and it has sometimes been used when required for those who do have such titles. In 2014 the royal family were regarded as British cultural icons, with young adults from abroad naming the family among a group of people that they most associated with UK culture.[2]

HOUSE OF SAXE-COBURG AND GOTHA FOUNDED IN 1826

The House of Saxe-Coburg and Gotha (/ˌsæksˌkoʊbɜːrɡ ... ˈɡoʊθə, -tə/;[1] German: Haus Sachsen-Coburg und Gotha) is a German dynasty that ruled the duchy of Saxe-Coburg and Gotha, which was one of the Ernestine duchies. It is a cadet branch of the Saxon House of Wettin.

Founded by Ernest Anton, the sixth duke of Saxe-Coburg-Saalfeld, it has been the royal house of several European monarchies. Agnatic branches currently reign in Belgium through the descendants of Leopold I and in the United Kingdom and the other Commonwealth realms through the descendants of Prince Albert. Due to anti-German sentiment in the United Kingdom during World War I, George V changed the name of his branch from "Saxe-Coburg and Gotha" to "Windsor" in 1917.[2] The same happened in 1920 in Belgium, where the name was changed to "der Belgen" (Dutch) or "des Belges" (French), meaning "of the Belgians".

http://www.azquotes.com/quote/1463288

OFFICIAL OVERVIEW

The Committee of 300 is a product of the British East India Company's Council of 300. The East India Company was chartered by the British royal family in 1600. It made vast fortunes in theopium drug trade with China and became the largest company on earth in its time. Today, through many powerful alliances, the Committee of 300 rules the world and is the driving force behind the criminal agenda to create a "New World Order", under a "Totalitarian Global Government". There is no need to use "they" or "the enemy" except as shorthand. We know who "they", the enemy, is. The Committee of 300 with its "aristocracy", its ownership of the U.S. Federal Reserve banking system, insurance companies, giant corporations, foundations, communications networks, presided over by a hierarchy of conspirators-this is the enemy. Secret societies exist by deception. Each is a hierarchy with an inner circle at the top, who deceives those below with lies, such as claiming a noble agenda; thus, duping them into following a web of compartmentalized complicity. The inner circle of the Committee of 300 is the Order of the Garter, headed by Queen Elizabeth Windsor II. It is interesting to note that the Windsor's changed their name from the Germanic Saxe-Coburg-Gotha during WWI, because of anti-German sentiment.

The enemy is clearly identifiable as the Committee of 300 and its front organizations, such as the Royal Institute for International Affairs (Chatham House), the Club of Rome, NATO, U.N., the Black Nobility, the Tavistock Institute, CFR and all its affiliated organizations, the think tanks and research institutions controlled by Stanford and the Tavistock Institute of Human Relations and last, but certainly not least, the military establishment.

The Committee of 300 is the ultimate secret society made up of an untouchable ruling class, which includes the Queen of the United Kingdom (Elizabeth II), the Queen of the Netherlands, the Queen of Denmark and the royal families of Europe. These aristocrats decided at the death of Queen Victoria, the matriarch of the Venetian Black Guelphs that, in order to gain world-wide control, it would be necessary for its aristocratic members to "go into business" with the non-aristocratic but extremely powerful leaders of corporate business on a global scale, and so the doors to ultimate power were opened to what the Queen of England likes to refer to as "the commoners". Through their illicit banking cartel, they own the stock of the Federal Reserve, which is a private for profit corporation that violates U.S. Constitution and is a root of the problem.

The decadent American families of the unholy partnership, thoroughly corrupted and wallowing in tainted opium money, went on to become what we know today as the Eastern Liberal Establishment. Its members, under the careful guidance and direction of the British Crown, and subsequently, its foreign policy executive arm, the Royal Institute for International Affairs (RIIA), now known as Chatham House, located in England (across St. James's Square from the Astors), ran the United States from top to bottom through their secret upper-level, parallel government, which is tightly meshed with the Committee of 300, the ultimate secret society. That secret, all-powerful government is now more in control of the United States than ever before.

In the Committee of 300, which has a 150-year history, we have some of the most brilliant intellects assembled to form a completely totalitarian, absolutely controlled "new" society only it isn't new, having drawn most of its ideas from the Clubs of Cultus Diabolicus. It strives toward a One World Government rather well described by one of its late members, H. G. Wells, in his work commissioned by the Committee which Wells boldly called: "The Open Conspiracy: Blue Prints for a World Revolution".

Most of the Committee of 300's immense wealth arose out of the opium trade with China and India. Obscene profits went straight into the royal coffers, and into the pockets of the nobility, the oligarchs and plutocrats, and made them billionaires. The ordinary people of China, India, and England profited nothing from "opium revenues". In the same way the people of South Africa, black and white, never profited from the gold mining industry, whose revenues were piped directly into the City of London banks and Merchant banks. The Committee of 300 is responsible for the phony drug wars here in the U.S. These phony drug wars were to get us to give away our constitutional rights. Asset forfeiture is a prime example, where huge assets can be seized without trail and no proof of guilt needed. Also the Committee of 300 long ago decreed that there shall be a smaller-much smaller-and better world, that is, their idea of what constitutes a better world. The myriads of useless eaters consuming scarce natural resources were to be culled by up to 99%. Industrial progress supports population growth. Therefore the command to multiply and subdue the earth found in Genesis had to be subverted. This called for an attack upon Christianity; the slow but sure disintegration of industrial nation states; the destruction of billions of people, referred to by the Committee of 300 as "surplus population," and the removal of any leader who dared to stand in the way of the Committee's global planning to reach the foregoing objectives. Not that the U.S. government didn't know, but as it was part of the conspiracy, it helped to keep the lid on information rather than let the truth be known. Queen, Elizabeth II, is the head of the Committee of 300. The Committee of 300 looks to social convulsions on a global scale, followed by depressions, as a softening-up technique for bigger things to come, as its principal method of creating masses of people all over the world who will become its "welfare" recipients of the future.

The current criminal agenda of the Committee of 300 is further evidenced by recently leaked Club of Rome documents, as they describe how they will use drugs to help stifle resistance to their New World Order scheme: "...having been failed by Christianity, and with unemployment rife on every hand, those who have been without jobs for five years or more, will turn away from the church and seek solace in drugs. By then, full control of the drug trade must be completed in order that the government of all countries who are under our jurisdiction have a monopoly in place which we will control by controlling supplies reaching the market... Drug bars will take care of the unruly and the discontented. Would-be revolutionaries will be turned into harmless addicts with no will of their own..."The crowned cobras of Europe and their Eastern Liberal Establishment families will not tolerate any true war against drugs. The war on drugs, which the Bush administration was allegedly fighting, was for the legalization of all types and classes of drugs. Such drugs are not solely a social aberration, but a full-scale attempt to gain control of the minds of the people of the United States.At present, this is the principal task of the Committee of 300. Nothing has changed in the opium-heroin-cocaine trade. It is still in the hands of the same "upper class" families in Britain and the United States. It is still a fabulously profitable trade where what appear to be big losses through sometimes seizures of drug shipments are actually small interlopers trying to break into the preserves of the drug trade hierarchy, who sit in paneled board rooms in New York, Hong Kong and London over port and cigars and congratulate another success in the eradication of "competitors."

Included in the Committee of 300 membership are the old families of the European Black Nobility, the American Eastern Liberal Establishment (in Freemason hierarchy and the Order of Skull and Bone), the Illuminati, or as it is known by the Committee "MORIAH CONQUERING WIND," the Mumma Group, The National and World Council of Churches, the Circle of Initiates, the Nine Unknown Men, Lucis Trust, Jesuit Liberation Theologists, The Order of the Elders of Zion, the Nasi Princes, International Monetary Fund (IMF), the Bank of International Settlements (BIS), the United Nations (U.N.), the Central, British Quator Coronati, Italian P2 Masonry-especially those in the Vatican hierarchy-the Central Intelligence Agency, Tavistock Institute selected personnel, various members of leading foundations and insurance companies, the Hong Kong and Shanghai Bank, the Milner Group-Round Table, Cini Foundation, German Marshall Fund, Ditchley Foundation, NATO, Club of Rome, Environmentalists, The Order of St. John of Jerusalem, One World Government Church, Socialist International, Black Order, Thule Society, Anenherbe-Rosicrucianists, The Great Superior Ones and literally HUNDREDS of other organizations.

In the case of John F. Kennedy, the assassination was carried out with great attendant publicity and with the utmost brutality to serve as a warning to world leaders not to get out of line. Pope John Paul I was quietly murdered because he was getting close to the Committee of 300 through Freemasons in the Vatican hierarchy. His successor, Pope John Paul II, was publicly humiliated as a warning to cease and desist-which he has done. As we shall see, certain Vatican leaders are today seated on the Committee of 300.

The Committee of 300 appears to base much of its important decisions affecting mankind on the philosophy of Polish aristocrat, Felix Dzerzinski, who regarded mankind as being slightly above the level of cattle. As a close friend of British intelligence agent Sydney Reilly (Reilly was actually Dzerzinski's controller during the Bolshevik Revolution's formative years), he often confided in Reilly during his drinking bouts. Dzerzinski was, of course, the beast who ran the Red Terror apparatus. He once told Reilly, while the two were on a drinking binge, that "Man is of no importance. Look at what happens when you starve him. He begins to eat his dead companions to stay alive. Man is only interested in his own survival. That is all that counts. All the Spinoza stuff is a lot of rubbish."

The roots of the East India Company (chartered by Queen Elizabeth I on December 31, 1600 and dissolved in 1873) sprout from the European Black Nobility. The Black Nobility are the oligarchic families of Venice and Genoa, who in the 12th century held the privileged trading rights (monopolies). The first of three crusades, from 1063 to 1123, established the power of the Venetian Black Nobility and solidified the power of the wealthy ruling class. The Black Nobility aristocracy achieved complete control over Venice in 1171, when the appointment of the doge was transferred to what was known as the Great Council, which consisted of members of the commercial aristocracy, a complete triumph for them. Venice has remained in their hands ever since, but the power and influence of the Venetian Black Nobility extends far beyond its borders, and today, is felt in every corner of the globe. In 1204 the oligarchic family parceled out feudal enclaves to their members, and from this epoch dates the great building-up of power and pressure until the government became a closed corporation of the leading Black Nobility families.

It is important to note that the European Black Nobility is responsible for the insidious entanglements of numerous secret societies, lodges, and organizations, which are backed with high finance and powerful political connections. Such organizations include: Trilateral Commission, Bilderberg Group (German version of CFR), Council on Foreign Relations (CFR), United Nations (founded by CFR), Illuminati order Skull & Bones (inner circle of the CFR), International Monetary Fund (IMF), World Bank, Bank of International Settlement, Club of Rome, Chatham House (formally the Royal Institute of International Affairs – RIIA), Round Table, Tavistock Institute for Human Studies (England's psychological warfare think tank), Associated Press, Reuters (Rothschild owned news monopoly used for brainwashing the masses), and many others, all of which, whether they are dupes or adapts, work in favor of Great Britain's aristocracy and their one world government agenda. Although there is a wide cross-section, all roads lead to the Queen of England. The technique for keeping their illicit scheme secret is compartmentalization. Only the people in the inner circle, who are part of the capstone at the top of the pyramid, know the entire extent of the fraud. Adepts are few and dupes many. Typically, the dupes are told lies that their involvement is benevolent; thus, they become unwitting accomplices in crime. This is why it is imperative to expose this diabolical ring of power. Illicit secret societies cannot withstand the light of day. Once exposed, the cabal and their minions will fall like a house of cards.

The European Black Nobility earned its title through dirty tricks, so when the population revolted against the monopolies in government, as anywhere else, the leaders of the uprising were quickly seized and brutally hanged. They use secret assassinations, murder, the bankrupting of opposing citizens or companies, kidnapping and rape. All the families listed are connected with the House of Guelph, one of the original Black Nobility families of Venice from which the House of Windsor and thus the present Queen of the United Kingdom, Elizabeth II, descends.

The Trilateral Commission is a non-governmental, non-partisan discussion group founded by David Rockefeller[1] in July 1973, to foster closer cooperation among North America, Western Europe, and Japan.

Founding

Sensing a profound discord among North American, European nations and Japan, the Trilateral Commission was founded to foster substantive political and economic dialogue across the world. To quote its founding declaration:

- "Growing interdependence is a fact of life of the contemporary world. It transcends and influences national systems... While it is important to develop greater cooperation among all the countries of the world, Japan, Western Europe, and North America, in view of their great weight in the world economy and their massive relations with one another, bear a special responsibility for developing effective cooperation, both in their own interests and in those of the rest of the world."
- "To be effective in meeting common problems, Japan, Western Europe, and North America will have to consult and cooperate more closely, on the basis of equality, to develop and carry out coordinated policies on matters affecting their common interests... refrain from unilateral actions incompatible with their interdependence and from actions detrimental to other regions... [and] take advantage of existing international and regional organizations and further enhance their role."
- "The Commission hopes to play a creative role as a channel of free exchange of opinions with other countries and regions. Further progress of the developing countries and greater improvement of East–West relations will be a major concern."[2]

Zbigniew Brzezinski, National Security Advisor to President Jimmy Carter from 1977 to 1981, professor at Columbia University, and a Rockefeller advisor who was a specialist on international affairs, left his post to organize the group along with:[3]

- Henry D. Owen, foreign policy studies director at the Brookings Institution
- George S. Franklin, executive director of the Council on Foreign Relations in New York[4]
- Robert R. Bowie, the Foreign Policy Association and director of the Harvard Center for International Affairs
- Gerard C. Smith, SALT I negotiator and its first North American chairman
- Marshall Hornblower, former partner at Wilmer, Cutler & Pickering
- William Scranton, former governor of Pennsylvania
- Edwin Reischauer, professor at Harvard University and United States Ambassador to Japan, 1961–1966
- Max Kohnstamm, European Policy Centre
- Tadashi Yamamoto, Japan Center for International Exchange[5]

Other founding members included Alan Greenspan and Paul Volcker; both later heads of the Federal Reserve System.

Meetings[edit]

The Trilateral Commission initiated its biannual meetings schedule in October 1973 in Tokyo. In May 1976, the first plenary meeting of all of the Commission's regional groups took place in Kyoto. It was through these early meetings that the group effected its most profound influence, the integration of Japan into the global political conversation. Before these exchanges, the country was much more isolated on the international stage.[2] Since its founding, the discussion group has produced an official journal called Trialogue.

THE BILDERBERG GROUP

http://bilderbergmeetings.org/

The Bilderberg Group, Bilderberg conference, Bilderberg meetings or Bilderberg Club is an annual private conference of 120 to 150 people of the European and North American political elite, experts from industry, finance, academia and the media, established in 1954 by Prince Bernhard of the Netherlands.[1]

ACTIVITIES AND GOALS

The group's original goal of promoting Atlanticism, of strengthening U.S.–European relations and preventing another world war has grown; the Bilderberg Group's theme is to "bolster a consensus around free market Western capitalism and its interests around the globe" according to Andrew Kakabadse.[2] In 2001, Denis Healey, a Bilderberg group founder and a steering committee member for 30 years, said, "To say we were striving for a one-world government is exaggerated, but not wholly unfair. Those of us in Bilderberg felt we couldn't go on forever fighting one another for nothing and killing people and rendering millions homeless. So we felt that a single community throughout the world would be a good thing."[7]

According to the web page of the group, the meetings are conducted under the Chatham House Rule, allowing the participants to use any information they gained during the meeting, but not to disclose the names of the speakers or any other participants. According to former chairman Étienne Davignon in 2011, a major attraction of Bilderberg group meetings is that they provide an opportunity for participants to speak and debate candidly and to find out what major figures really think, without the risk of off-the-cuff comments becoming fodder for controversy in the media.[8] A 2008 press release from the "American Friends of Bilderberg" stated that "Bilderberg's only activity is its annual Conference and that at the meetings, no resolutions were proposed, no votes taken, and no policy statements issued."[9] However, in November 2009, the group hosted a dinner meeting at the Château of Val-Duchesse in Brussels outside its annual conference to promote the candidacy of Herman Van Rompuy for President of the European Council.[10]

THE CLINTON FOUNDATION
OFFICIAL OVERVIEW

The Clinton Foundation (founded in 1997 as the William J. Clinton Foundation),[2] and from 2013 to 2015, briefly renamed the Bill, Hillary & Chelsea Clinton Foundation[3]) is a ~~non-profit organization~~ under section 501(c)(3) of the U.S. tax code. It was established by former President of the United States Bill Clinton with the stated mission to "strengthen the capacity of people in the United States and throughout the world to meet the challenges of global interdependence."[4] Its offices are located in New York City and Little Rock, Arkansas.

Through 2016 the foundation had raised an estimated $2 billion from U.S. corporations, foreign governments and corporations, political donors, and various other groups and individuals.[5] The acceptance of funds from wealthy donors has been a source of controversy.[5][6] The foundation "has won accolades from philanthropy experts and has drawn bipartisan support".[5] Charitable grants are not a major focus of the Clinton Foundation, which instead uses most of its money to carry out its own humanitarian programs.[7]

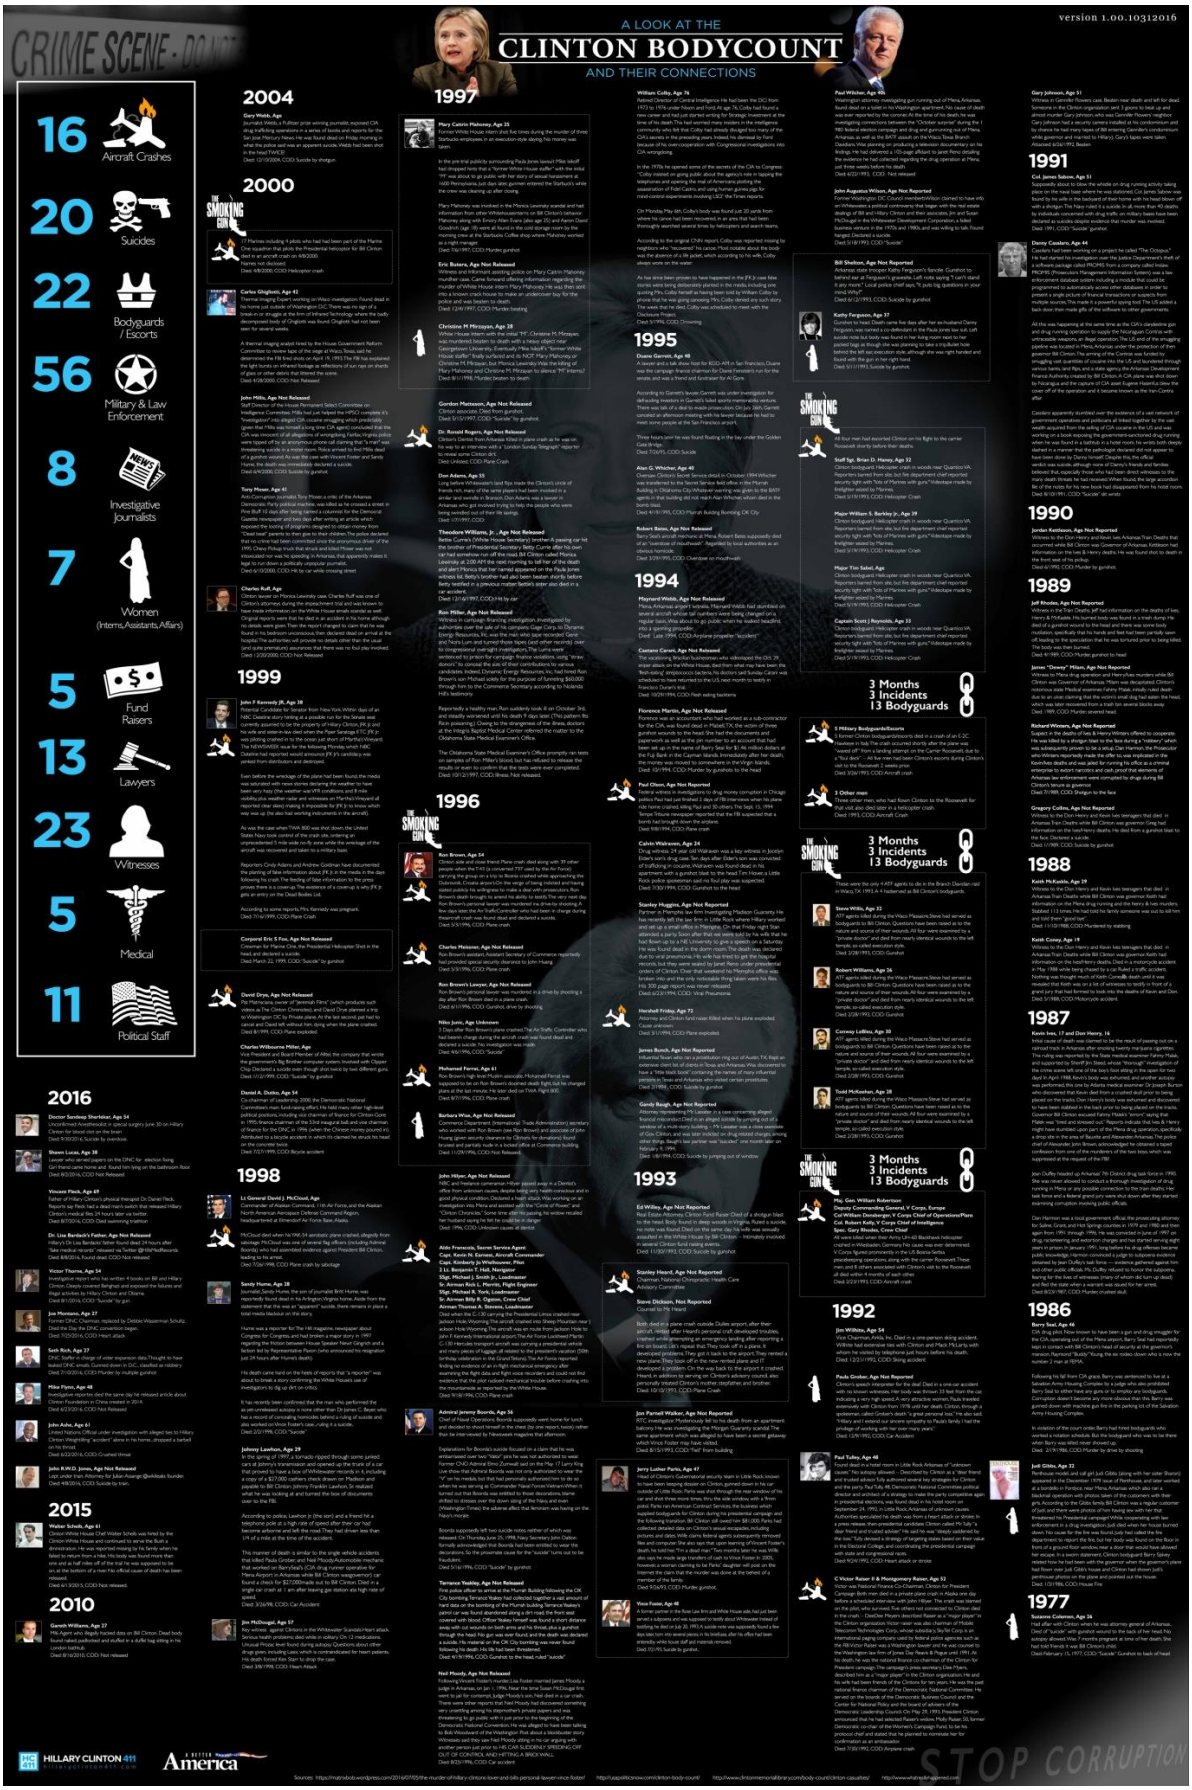

This foundation is a public organization to which anyone may donate and is distinct from the Clinton Family Foundation, a private organization for personal Clinton family ~~philanthropy~~.[8][9]

According to the Clinton Foundation's website, neither Bill Clinton nor his daughter, Chelsea Clinton (both are members of the governing board), draws any salary or receives any income from the Foundation. When Hillary Clinton was a board member she reportedly also received no income from the Foundation.[10]

The end is indeed nigh for Hillary Clinton, and her ilk, as more is revealed about her vast criminal enterprise, it's involvement in a multitude of federal crimes, and the endangerment of America's National Security.

The case involves many aspects - from the mishandling of classified information to the coverup that followed afterward. Multiple government employees have since been terminated from their roles as a result of their collusion with the Clintons. The most important case of all is Uranium One.

We're going to cover several of these topics individually before we finally discuss the complete history of Uranium One.

PART 1: CLINTON'S MISHANDLING OF CLASSIFIED INFORMATION

Thanks to the efforts of Tom Fitton and Judicial Watch, Americans are able to see more of the details as the clock continues to "tick-tick-tick" away from the Clintons.

Tom Fitton, through Judicial Watch, has helped to unveil the mask of those involved in the efforts to protect Hillary Clinton, as well as display the magnitude of illicit activities covered up by Hillary Clinton, the Democratic National Committee, and corrupt members of our federal law enforcement agencies.

It's a travesty for the legitimate members of the Democratic Party that were betrayed by their leadership when the party backed the corrupt Hillary Rodham Clinton for President, knowing full well that she was under investigation. With the evidence being brought to light against HRC, many liberals are becoming "redpilled" simply by watching the lack of justice brought against a member of the "elite" protected class.

As we've witnessed in recent months, there's been numerous discoveries of wrongdoing by Hillary Clinton and various members of the Democratic Party. The corruption encircles their base like a revolving door of criminality.

The scandal involving Hillary Clinton's private email server turned her candidacy into a nightmare for the federal government, who had all but held a coronation ceremony for her.

President of Judicial Watch, Tom Fitton, said, "Now, you may not know this, but there are still thousands of pages of classified Clinton email material that the State Department has, that hasn't released to the American people."

This brings about an extraordinary question towards the honesty and transparency of federal law enforcement agencies. We're seeing a blatant attempt to disregard the desires of American citizens to know the truth.

"You may recall that the FBI went and found some of the records that Hillary Clinton didn't turn over that she deleted or tried to delete, and those records the State Department now has," says Fitton.

Those following closely know that just last week, Judicial Watch was able to obtain classified documents that were found on Anthony Weiner's laptop. Judicial Watch located 18 classified emails out of the 798 total documents that were produced by the United States Department of State.

Each of those emails is heavily redacted, but upon viewing one can determine that the entire Congressional testimony of Hillary Clinton in regards to sharing classified information was a complete lie. Otherwise, there would not be classified emails on Anthony Weiner's laptop.
Judicial Watch has demanded that the federal government release all additional information and emails in their possession due to the revelation that Hillary Clinton, and potentially her closest adviser, Huma Abedin, have committed federal crimes by sharing this classified information with Anthony Weiner.

It underscores a lack of integrity from both the Clinton campaign (which surprises not a single American citizen) but also brings forth a legitimate concern over who else may have had access to classified information since Hillary Clinton was so careless with what has since been found on Weiner's laptop.

Combined with the knowledge that the State Department does indeed have potentially thousands of additional files in their possession, there has been an increased desire for transparency in such a matter to display that there is no partisan bias or protections being given to Hillary Rodham Clinton.

"There are thousands of other Clinton emails that have yet to be released, and the way that the State Department has been going [during Trump's Presidency] was that they've actually slowed the release of information from the Obama Administration era," Fitton said. "At the rate, they were producing records the FBI found, we would have to wait until 2020 to get all the records."

This is incredibly disturbing, to say the least.

It appears as if Obama-era holdovers are still inside the various branches of the federal government. It's quite clear that President Trump has been engaged in a deeply-rooted effort to find the snakes inside of the White House and flush them out with the rest of the swamp he's draining.

Currently, Judicial Watch is ratcheting-up pressure on the State Department in an effort to produce additional records. Judicial Watch has certainly forced the State Department into devoting more resources to release records that the American people have a right to see.

PART 2: FORCING THE GOVERNMENT TO TAKE ACTION

In the summer of 2017, a group of Patriots including myself were participants in a community who helped to launch a White House petition compelling the Federal Bureau of Investigation to hand over any additional Clinton Investigation records they had in their possession. That petition was signed hundreds of thousands of times, far expanding beyond its goals.

Although the White House petition website is currently down until late January for a relaunch, there are organizations such as that of Judicial Watch actively participating in both Freedom of Information Act (FOIA) requests for records and documents, as well as campaigning heavily on social media platforms for justice and transparency.

Efforts from independent media, and even some television mainstream media pundits such as Sean Hannity, Tucker Carlson, and Judge Jeanine Pirro continue to shine a spotlight on the criminal mischief of the parties who assisted in protecting Hillary Clinton, and those involved in the coverup of her crimes.

While there's evidence piling up onto what I refer to as a mountain of justice, it is clear that there are multiple investigations into multiple crimes that were committed by Hillary Clinton, her former boss Barack Hussein Obama, the Clinton Foundation, the Democratic National Committee, and even several members of Congress.

PART 3: THE COMPLETE HISTORY OF HOW THE CLINTONS CREATED URANIUM ONE – ENDANGERING AMERICA'S NATIONAL SECURITY FOR PROFIT

With the email case being revisited by Attorney General Jeff Sessions' office, we also know that the "Uranium One" case has been reopened. It potentially has been ongoing for months without broadcasting it to the public and the first indictments of individuals tied to the criminal dealings of the former Administration and the Clintons were laid out just this past Friday.

Some are asking how the Indictment of a Maryland man, Mark Lambert, connects to the Clintons, Barack Obama, or the "Uranium One" Scandal? Honestly, we should probably stop calling it a scandal, and instead, refer to it as what it is - a federal crime and a direct threat to America's National Security.

Let me explain.

All of America's uranium is considered by the federal government and security experts as a strategic asset with National Security implications. The acquisition of Uranium One by Rosatom, Russia's State Atomic Energy Corporation, was reviewed and approved by the Committee on Foreign Investment in the United States (CFIUS), a committee of nine government agencies including the United States Department of State, which was then headed by Hillary Clinton.

In October of 2013, Uranium One became a private company and a wholly owned indirect subsidiary of Russia's State Atomic Energy Corporation Rosatom.

Both the former President Barack Hussein Obama, and his ever-corrupt Administration, in cooperation with the Hillary Clinton run State Department, gave a green light to the transfer of one-fifth of America's Uranium as well as the United States' uranium mining capacity to a nation which undoubtedly isn't our ally - Russia.

This decision had major implications for America, Barack Obama, and the Clintons. Russia isn't an ally of the United States of America, they're our competition.

Next, we have to acknowledge that giving America's uranium away was not a decision that deserves any respect. It's when you consider this fact, while knowing Russia is an enemy of America (just ask the Democrats), that it makes even less sense that America would ever agree to do such a thing to begin with.

On the basis of National Security risks alone, you'd think that the President of the United States of America, and his National Security advisers, would have advised against such an agreement. They didn't though, and America agreed to the sale of its National Security through Uranium One as per the efforts of Hillary Clinton and Barack Hussein Obama's reckless nature.

Congressional Republicans attempted to block this sale, and their efforts to prevent the transfer clearly failed, but we'll come back to this.
To add insult to injury, the Department of Justice also fully understood that what was occurring was not a safe decision for America in any way, shape, or form. However, Eric Holder was a corrupt puppet of Barack Obama, and he would allow it to occur.

The Obama Administration had a somewhat tumultuous relationship with Russia and had intended to repair that broken relationship with this agreement.

A bit off-topic, but could you imagine if President Trump tried to make a sale of America's uranium to Russia? Liberals would be calling for his head. Strangely, none of the left seems to care that the Obama Administration and the pay-to-play efforts of Hillary Clinton didn't just try, but they succeeded in selling America's National Security interests away for profit.

Back in 1992, The United States of America, under President George H.W. Bush, had signed an agreement with the Russian Federation that nuclear providers belonging to the United States of America would be allowed to purchase uranium from the disassembled warheads of Russia, after the fall of the Soviet Union.

Russia was undergoing a restructuring period, and the cash certainly benefited the country.

The company who provided that uranium to America was Techsnabexport (TENEX). TENEX has an American branch which is located out of Bethesda, Maryland (remember this) called "Tenam USA", which of course is connected to Rosatom as well. For years Tenam USA was responsible for providing uranium to the United States.

FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE — Friday, January 12, 2018

Former President of Maryland-Based Transportation Company Indicted on 11 Counts Related to Foreign Bribery, Fraud and Money Laundering Scheme

Executive Allegedly Paid Bribes to a Russian Official So His Company Could Win Highly Sensitive Nuclear Fuel Transportation Contracts

An indictment against a former co-president of a Maryland-based transportation company that provides services for the transportation of nuclear materials to customers in the United States and abroad, was unsealed today for his alleged role in a scheme that involved the bribery of an official at a subsidiary of Russia's State Atomic Energy Corporation.

Acting Assistant Attorney General John P. Cronan of the Justice Department's Criminal Division, Acting U.S. Attorney Stephen M. Schenning of the District of Maryland, Principal Deputy Inspector General April G. Stephenson of the U.S. Department of Energy's Office of Inspector General (DOE-OIG) and Assistant Director in Charge Andew W. Vale of the FBI's Washington, D.C. Field Office made the announcement.

Mark Lambert, 54, of Mount Airy, Maryland, was charged in an 11-count indictment with one count of conspiracy to violate the Foreign Corrupt Practices Act (FCPA) and to commit wire fraud, seven counts of violating the FCPA, two counts of wire fraud and one count of international promotion money laundering. The charges stem from an alleged scheme to bribe Vadim Mikerin, a Russian official at JSC Techsnabexport (TENEX), a subsidiary of Russia's State Atomic Energy Corporation and the sole supplier and exporter of Russian Federation uranium and uranium enrichment services to nuclear power companies worldwide, in order to secure contracts with TENEX.

Credit: Department of Justice Uranium One Indictment Announcement

As you can see above, the indictments against Mark Lambert specifically name JSC Techsnabexport (TENEX), which is a subsidiary of Russia's State Atomic Energy Corporation, as well as the sole supplier of Russian Federation uranium enrichment and enrichment services. Lambert, who is connected to TENEX, faces one count of conspiracy to violate the Foreign Corrupt Practices Act (FCPA) and to commit wire fraud, seven counts of violating the FCPA, two counts of wire fraud and one count of international promotion money laundering.

When President Obama came into office, Tenam USA would be led by Russian Officials Vadim Mikerin, who eventually was sentenced to 48 months in prison for a money laundering conspiracy of his own, according to the Department of Justice.

Records show eyebrow-raising evidence surrounding Mikerin, who was engaged in a racketeering scheme inside of the United States of America involving bribery, kickbacks, extortion and money laundering as far back as early 2009, shortly after Barack Hussein Obama.

As it would later be found, Barack Hussein Obama allowed Mikerin to enter the United States on a temporary L1 work visa in 2010. The FBI says, however, as part of their racketeering investigation mentioned above, that Mikerin was operating in America since 2009. These "official" reports of a work visa timeline from the Obama Administration's records simply don't match that of the Federal Bureau of Investigation.

That discrepancy would be in part what would pressure patriots inside the FBI to want to further examine the connection between Obama and Mikerin, and even more importantly, the relationship between Obama and Mikerin's employers of TENEX and it's parent company Rosatom. Mikerin's visa would be renewed again by the Obama Administration, in 2014.

This renewal occurred just a few months prior to Mikerin's arrest, ironically, and many began to wonder just how this simple Russian official, who was clearly engaged in a criminal syndicate, was able to get such extraordinary assistance from the Democratic Party and the Administration of Barack Obama. It seemed strange that, in a country of around 320 million people, this one foreign national was able to receive favors not just once, but twice from Hussein Obama.

"It is concerning that a suspected criminal was able to apply for and renew a work visa while being under FBI investigation," Senate Judiciary Committee Chairman Chuck Grassley (R-Iowa) wrote in a letter in the fall of 2017.

The Hill reported that Mikerin had already been the subject of an investigation by the GOP-led Congressional Committees, having been under their microscope.

Credit: Rosatom

Mikerin's job consisted of essentially managing contracts for Rosatom, via TENEX, with any American company that wanted to purchase Russia's uranium. Since Mikerin had the ability to negotiate such dealings he, of course, could use that to his advantage - and he did.

The FBI says that Mikerin defrauded and even extorted American companies. He was able to accomplish this by charging inflated prices, which the companies would agree to pay due to the limited supply of global uranium and the ever-increasing desire to acquire it.

So what does this mean? Well, this puts Moscow in a position to blackmail America's uranium companies, and as we mentioned before, uranium is absolutely crucial to America's National Security.

The Obama Administration endangered America's National Security by providing Mikerin with visas and renewals despite him being under investigation by the FBI.

Those reading might say, "But Obama could just deny that they knew of the Investigation." You're right, but hold on a second we are just getting started folks. Keep reading - this is only the foundation for the connections to the Clintons, Clinton Foundation, and Barack Hussein Obama.

Let's shift gears now to the Clinton Foundation.

Credit:The Gateway Pundit

About 13 years ago former President Bill Clinton and his friend, as well as billionaire investor, and now-board member of the Clinton Foundation, Frank Giustra, met on a philanthropic trip to Mexico and Colombia that was organized by the Clinton Foundation.

A little backstory on Giustra: the man had acquired a fortune, starting off as a stockbroker and trader for Merrill Lynch in 1970. Eventually leaving and forming Yorkton Securities, then Goldcorp, then Endeavor Financial, then founding Lionsgate Films in Hollywood (of course there would be a degenerate Hollywood connection).

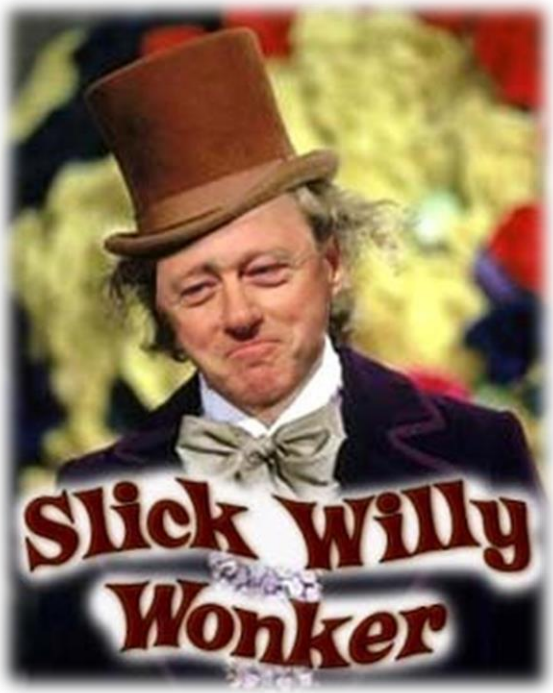

In 2004, Giustra had decided to amass much of his fortune and combine it with other investors and step into the energy sector, an entirely new giant which Giustra wanted to conquer since he'd literally become a powerhouse in multiple other industries. This gave birth to UrAsia Energy.

Credit: stillnessinthestorm.com

A year later, in 2005, Bill Clinton, had a "philanthropic meeting" in Billionaire Ron Burkle's plane (read more about the alleged rapes of multiple women Bill Clinton committed on that plane here) , Giustra was also in attendance.
Being the sawy talker Clinton is, as well as greedy, Bill Clinton quickly noticing the smell of money as fast as he would notice cheap hookers, and he swooped down like a vulture onto Giustra.

The two discussed Guistra's new venture into energy, and Bill Clinton told of his close friend in Kazakhstan who may be able to assist. The two would then plan a trip to the country together. A couple of years in between of building a friendship and business ties certainly helped as well.

Credit:Slick Willy

Forbes Magazine actually wrote about this trip the pair made to Kazakhstan, where Forbes.com would defend the visit as being just a Clinton Foundation agreement enabling the government to buy low-cost HIV drugs.

This is how the Clinton Foundation operates folks. If you click that link you'll understand. They're a money laundering organization, who uses a guise of philanthropic assistance to embark up far more devious and profitable ventures.

Once the pair arrived to meet with Kazakhstan's Dictator, the true focus of the visit was to help Giustra obtain uranium-mining rights inside of the nation for UrAsia Energy.

When this happened, the deal brokered at the meeting would then bring Guistra's new company UrAsia into a merger with a South African company already in existence known as Uranium One.

Guistra's company instantly made over $3.5 billion from this deal. Of course, this would please Guistra so much that he and "Slick-Willy Bill Clinton would become inseparable allies.

The Clinton Foundation had gained a new member of the board, and tens of millions of dollars in donations and millions of dollars kickbacks to "Slick Willy himself.

Credit: Now The End Begins

Say what you will about Bill Clinton, but his entire life he's been blessed with the gift of gab and it took him to the White House. The connections and friendships he made during his Presidency, however, have made him and his family hundreds of millions.

So now you understand how Bill Clinton himself helped to create Uranium One. Even in typing this, I picture dirty Bill grinning ear to ear in his white short shorts, white socks, white tennis shoes, woven-belt, and pink polo shirt knowing that he had just conned two filthy rich men out of millions of dollars simply by taking a flight and brokering the deal.

You see? Barack Obama came into office clueless. He was lost. So enter the Hillary Clinton appointment as Secretary of State. Enter the "Clintonian prototype" of Barack Hussein Obama in part created by the corruption he would learn from watching Hillary, and her enormous circle of wealthy connections.

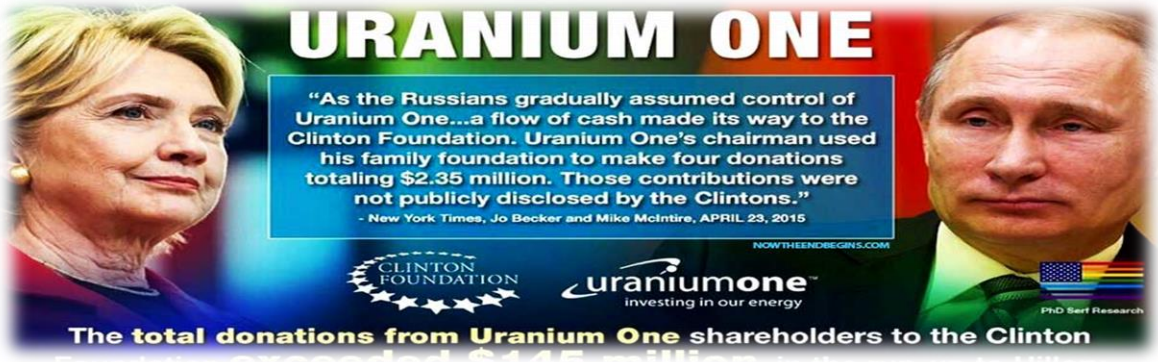

Credit:The Daily Beast

So we head back over to Uranium One. We now understand just how Bill Clinton assisted in its creation, and as mentioned earlier, we know how Russia came to sell America its uranium.

We've also discussed, in part, how Hillary Clinton's State Department along with her "boss" (it's hard to say "boss" that now that you know who was pulling the strings) would approve the transfer of America's uranium to Russia.Let's complete that discussion.

Bill Clinton's close friend Giustra and the company Uranium One controlled one-fifth of America's uranium.

Vladimir Putin, after restoring Russia to economic stability, or somewhat, since it was originally on the verge of collapse when Russia first began selling the United States their uranium in 1992, wanted uranium.

Credit:PhD Serf Research

Specifically, Putin wanted Kazakhstan's uranium, but Bill Clinton's deal with Giustra has already crushed those prospects.

Giustra made $3.5 billion instantly from the deal in 2007, and he was the time of entrepreneur who wanted “notches on his belt”, as well as profit. He'd conquered the energy sector, and felt accomplished about it.

Putin had strong ties to the Kazakhstan dictator, who then arrested the person responsible for the sale of the nation's uranium to Uranium One. Putin had this kind of capability since he could destroy many nations economically through his connections and always would make sure that those who oppose his will are indeed crushed like a bug.

What then happened, was the part of the Uranium One company that Bill Clinton had brokered for his friend Giustra to own in the foreign land, was facing a seizure from the Kazakh government.

Because of this threat, the stock in the company came crashing down. Every investor and executive began to freak out.

Giustra remembered he had an ally in the American government, through the wife of the man who helped make the deal, in Hillary Clinton.

Credit:Townhall

Of course, Barack Obama was then a tadpole, still fresh into the waters of the Presidency on his own. He allowed Hillary Clinton's State Department to do as it liked.

The State Department would begin negotiations with their counterparts in the Kazakh government, of course not in behalf of the American people as Hillary’s job should have been, but on behalf of the greedy and vile woman's personal interests.

Giustra’s executives in Uranium One were already rich, the stock was in trouble, and they cared less about what happened as long as they could wash their hands clean.

A negotiation was apparently made behind closed doors that pleased everyone, with the Russians being able to purchase 17% of the Uranium One company.

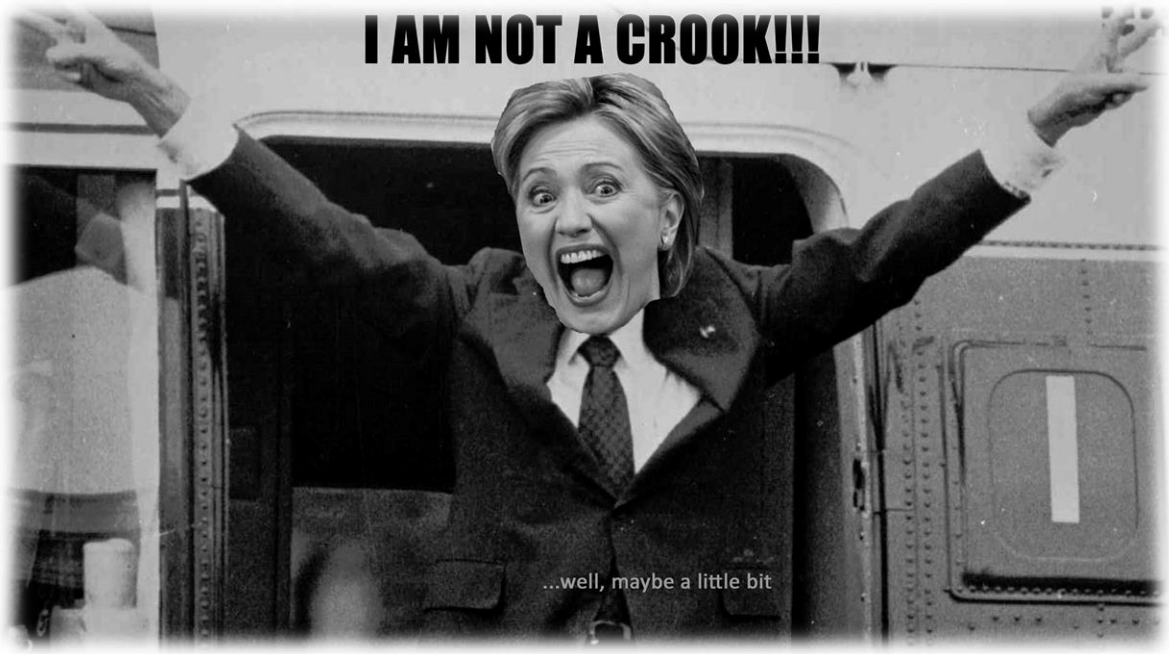

That would happen through the Russian energy giant Rosatom. Once this deal was to be completely finished the Kazakh government would no longer seek to seize Uranium One, Putin would be happy, the American executives would be happy, and all would be well.

The Clintons of course had negotiated a second deal for Uranium One, making them likely to gain windfalls of cash twice from the same company. Are you following now? Excellent.

As we originally mentioned, TENEX is a commercial agent itself, who's entire responsibility in the United States, out of Maryland, was the sale of uranium to the United States of America, for Rosatom, which is listed directly on theRosatom website.

As a Russian business, TENEX is also controlled by the Kremlin, with the clincher being that TENEX is a subsidiary of Rosatom.

Rosatom wanted to buy Uranium One, making the company which used to sell Russian uranium to America begin to buy it. Strange how the tide turns, is it not?

Credit:Mad World

Of course, the Russians wanted to gain uranium versus sell it, so Vladimir Putin would then ask for complete control of the company instead of just the 17%.

Now, this became an issue because it threatens America's National Security. So if this ever came out to the public, they'd have the Obama Administration's head, including the President and Hillary Clinton, for treason.

The Department of Justice and the majority of the branches of government at the time were filling the ranks with a modern Marxist hiring process, many of the people leading individual sections of Obama's government were loyal to the cause over the country.

What stood in the way of this progress though were two facts that couldn't be changed through just negotiations.

First, the United States of America gets a fifth of its total energy requirements from nuclear power. An astonishing achievement for America. The problem is that we actually, as a nation, only produce a fifth of that total nuclear power inside or our country.

Ouch. It's looking like a tough sell for the Clintons at this point.

The second fact that would have to be somehow overcome is that a foreign entity wouldn't be allowed to purchase America's uranium, in part due to how crucial it is to America's existence, without gaining approval from the Committee on Foreign Investment in the United States (CFIUS).

For those who don't understand what the CFIUS is, it's what the Democrats screech about when defending the Uranium One sale. They argue that because CFIUS approved, it's somehow "legal" to have literally sold America's National Security away.

An inter-agency committee which is authorized to review transactions that could result in control of a U.S. business by a foreign person ("covered transactions"), in order to determine the effect of such transactions on the National Security of the United States.

The 14 agencies which make up CFIUS are:

The Department of the Treasury (who's the chair), the Department of Justice, the Department of Homeland Security, the Department of Commerce, the Department of Defense, the Department of State, the Department of Energy, the Office of the U.S. Trade Representative, and Office of Science & Technology Policy.

There are also five other government agencies which are included in the CFIUS as "observers":
The Office of Management & Budget, the Council of Economic Advisor, the National Security Council, the National Economic Council, and the Homeland Security Council.

Technically, the Director of National Intelligence and the Secretary of Labor are non-voting members as well.

Now as you know, two of these organizations, the Department of State and the Department of Justice were led by known-corrupt individuals, Hillary Clinton as Secretary of State, and Attorney General Eric Holder who led the Justice Department.

Interestingly enough, as we mentioned before, the FBI and DOJ were investigating members of Rosatom at the same time that this sale came up for review. That's quite a conflict of interest for AG Eric Holder (never forget he later left this position, and this is a huge part of why that's never talked about).

Credit:The Truth Factory | YouTube

In the spring of 2010, Hillary Clinton would head into the Russian Federation as Secretary of State. Both the Russian President and Russian Prime Minister would be present at the meeting, respectively in Vladimir Putin and Dimitri Medvedev.

After the visit by Hillary, another pay-to-play scheme would come to light, that Bill Clinton was actually paid $500,000 to give a single speech in Russia.

Of course, we all know that's just another kickback for the trip Hillary made to Russia. A small cash down-payment, to ensure the deal was completed. The Clintons are called the “Clinton Crime Family” for a reason because they act like mobsters.

Another report from The Hill foretold of a meeting that would happen while Bill Clinton was giving his speech in Russia, where he wanted to meet with Arkady Dvorkovich.

Dvorkovich was a crucial ally to Medvedev, and even more importantly, sat on the board for Rosatom. Slick Willy planned on ensuring that his needs were met if a deal was reached in America to give the Russians their priceless uranium.

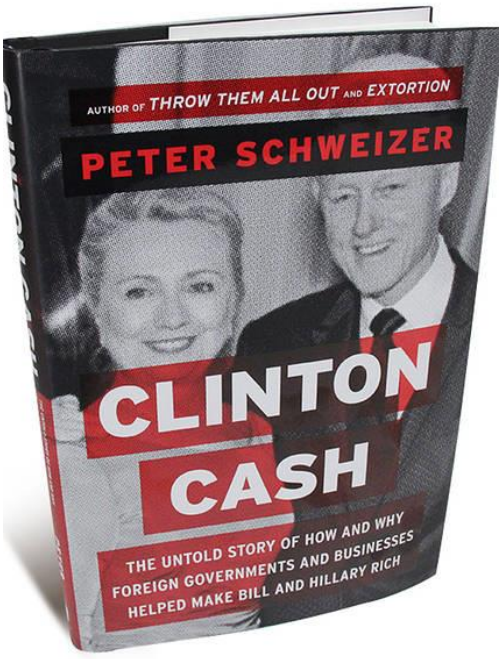

I can picture Bill Clinton in a white pair of slacks, white patent leather shoes, and a white blazer with matching fedora walking into the meeting with Dvorkovich. Cigar in his mouth, Russian hookers in each arm, the former President of the United States looking much like a mobster villain (or hero dependent upon who you ask) from Scarface or The Godfather.

That's how Bill Clinton had to have felt, at a minimum, knowing that he had the negotiating power now to walk out of Russia being promised hundreds of millions of dollars simply for selling away America's future.

That's exactly what he did too, and all that had to happen was his guarantee that the Russians would get their uranium if he would receive the cash through his money laundering Clinton Foundation.

Of course, the deal would be completed. It was already set, with Hillary heading the deciding vote of the State Department, and Eric Holder's placement of the Department of Justice. The rest of the government would be given an ultimatum by the Obama Administration. Bend the knee; or be replaced.

We still remain uncertain of how Obama made out. I guess some would say that being a radical Muslim in disguise and pulling off the Presidency was how. Others may say that this is how he was able to broker the Iranian Nuclear Deal, giving power to his Hezbollah allies to traffic narcotics and arms inside the United States of America, helping bring America to its knees.

Credit:Clinton Cash

Congressional leadership had no idea what was occurring either. There's an excellent book in which covers some of this aspect, that you may have heard of, titled "Clinton Cash".

Four members of the House of Representatives, Ileana Ros-Lehtinen (R-FL), Spencer Bachus (R-AL), Howard McKeon (R-CA), and Peter King (R-NG) were dead set on blocking the deal. They all had acknowledged that Russia was not our ally, but our competitor and that this would destroy America's future.

They also expressed the threat that this would cause in empowering Iran to then seek nuclear weapons. Russia and Iran are key petroleum partners, and Russia undoubtedly wanted to bolster Iran in order to counter the American presence in the Middle East, who had already conquered Afghanistan where the Soviets had fallen.

Another problem for the Obama Administration was that it had aided Mikerin, the Rosatom employee who would be convicted of racketeering in the future. If the Republicans ever found out about this, it could bring down hellfire on Clinton's puppet Administration of Barack Obama.

So Eric Holder's position as Attorney General would once again need to commit a crime (one of several during his tenure, including the Fast and Furious program) once again.

As we know now, Eric Holder's secret remained in place with zero charges being filed against Rosatom's leadership at the time.

Federal Agents were literally told to ignore the crimes of the Russians (much like they were told again under Loretta Lynch regarding Hezbollah) so that Clinton's betrayal of America in selling our uranium would occur.

CFIUS agreed to the sale, and history was written in a "tale as old as time, song as old as rhyme, Clinton's and their creeps".

The 1974 death of 1968 Playmate of the Month, Paige Young, is linked to Hugh Hefner and Bill Cosbywho used her as a personal "Sex Toy." When Paige took her life on a Palm Sunday, she wanted to make a STATEMENT and stir an investigation into Hefner's Satanic Playboy Circle, she left pictures of Hefner labeled the DEVIL, and a large PENTAGRAM that had nothing to do with the five wounds of Christ on the floor of her Hollywood apartment. Undoubtedly, she was trying to tell us about repressed memories of a PENTAGRAM being a central part of a Ritual to indoctrinate her into the Cult.

In 1953, Hugh Hefner setup Playboy, which was eventually revealed to be banked by the CIA.

According to Ex CIA operative Laurel Aston, in his book Fighting Child and Human Trafficking and Slavery:

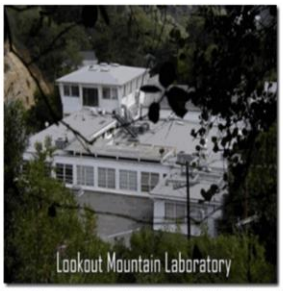

"I knew Hugh Hefner. He is connected to the CIA.

"Hefner is a CIA programmer, CIA sex slave handler and pimp.

"Hefner was also a part of running MK ULTRA super assassins and ops."

Nested in the hills overlooking HollyWeird, Lookout Mountain Laboratory was originally envisioned as a U.S. Air Defense Department center. Built in 1941 and nestled in two-and-a-half secluded acres off what is now Wonderland Park Avenue, the installation was hidden from view and surrounded by an electrified fence.

Marilyn Monroe's February 8, 1953 Secret Pentagon ID to Lookout Mountain Lab

Picture Squadron) secured a 21/2 acre house on Wonderland Park Avenue and turned it into a –top-secret electrical fenced movie production house indentified as the Lookout Mountain Laboratory. It is claimed that it was perhaps the world's only completely self-contained movie studio. With 100,000 square feet of floor space, the covert studio included sound stages, screening rooms, film processing labs, editing facilities, an animation department, and seventeen climate-controlled film vaults. It also had underground parking, a helicopter pad and a bomb shelter.[19]

Lookout Mountain Laboratory had something to do with the Cold War developing secret weapon testing films for the U.S. Department of Defense (DoD) and Atomic Energy Commission (AEC). The existence of this facility wasn't acknowledged until the early 90's even though it had produced some 19,000 government propaganda films, and had the likes of John Ford, Jimmy Stewart, Howard Hawks, Ronald Reagan, Bing Crosby, Walt Disney and Marilyn Monroe working there with top-secret clearances on (MK ULTRA) "undisclosed projects"[20]. Hollywood civilian studio staff from Warner Brothers, Metro-Goldwyn Mayer and RKO also worked alongside its military staff as producers, cameramen and directors.[21]

The lab conducted secret experiments and shot military training films and documentaries here until the clandestine studio was decommissioned in 1969 [22] most likely after or just prior to the August 8 Tate-LaBianca Massacre. (hippie/race war psy op). IN-Q-TEL AKA THE CIA'S INVESTING ARM
OFFICIAL OVERVIEW

In-Q-Tel (IQT), formerly Peleus and known as In-Q-It, is an American not-for-profit venture capital firm based in Arlington, Virginia. It invests in high-tech companies for the sole purpose of keeping the Central Intelligence Agency, and other intelligence agencies, equipped with the latest in information technology in support of United States intelligence capability.[4] The name, "In-Q-Tel" is an intentional reference to Q, the fictional inventor who supplies technology to James Bond.[5]

The firm is seen as a trend-setter in the information technology industry, with the average dollar invested by In-Q-Tel in 2012 attracting nine dollars of investment from other companies.[5]

HISTORY

Originally named Peleus and known as In-Q-It, In-Q-Tel was founded by Norm Augustine, a former CEO of Lockheed Martin and by Gilman Louie, who was In-Q-Tel's first CEO.[4][5][6] In-Q-Tel's mission is to identify and invest in companies developing cutting-edge technologies that serve United States national security interests. Origins of the corporation can be traced to Dr. Ruth A. David, who headed the Central Intelligence Agency Directorate of Science & Technology in the 1990s and promoted the importance of rapidly advancing information technology for the CIA.[5] In-Q-Tel now engages with entrepreneurs, growth companies, researchers, and venture capitalists to deliver technologies that provide superior capabilities for the CIA, DIA, NGA, and the wider intelligence community.[7] In-Q-Tel concentrates on three broad commercial technology areas: software, infrastructure and materials sciences.

Former CIA director George Tenet says,

We [the CIA] decided to use our limited dollars to leverage technology developed elsewhere. In 1999 we chartered ... In-Q-Tel. ... While we pay the bills, In-Q-Tel is independent of CIA. CIA identifies pressing problems, and In-Q-Tel provides the technology to address them. The In-Q-Tel alliance has put the Agency back at the leading edge of technology ... This ... collaboration ... enabled CIA to take advantage of the technology that Las Vegas uses to identify corrupt card players and apply it to link analysis for terrorists [cf. the parallel data-mining effort by the SOCOM-DIAoperation Able Danger], and to adapt the technology that online booksellers use and convert it to scour millions of pages of documents looking for unexpected results.[8]

In-Q-Tel sold 5,636 shares of Google, worth over $2.2 million, on November 15, 2005.[9] The stocks were a result of Google's acquisition of Keyhole, the CIA funded satellite mapping software now known as Google Earth.

As of August 2006,[needs update] In-Q-Tel had reviewed more than 5,800 business plans, invested some $150 million in more than 90 companies, and delivered more than 130 technology solutions to the intelligence community.[4][10] In 2005 it was said to be funded with about $37 million a year from the CIA.[11][needs update]

GOVERNANCE

In-Q-Tel is a Virginia-registered corporation,[12] legally independent of the CIA or any other government agency. The corporation is bound by its Charter agreement and annual contract with the CIA, which set out the relationship between the two organizations. In-Q-Tel's mission to support the Intelligence Community's technical needs is promoted by the In-Q-Tel Interface Center (QIC), an office within the CIA that facilitates communication and relationships between In-Q-Tel and government intelligence organizations.[13] While In-Q-Tel is a nonprofit corporation, it differs from IARPA and other models in that its employees can profit from its investments. According to public records, In-Q-Tel's principals include or have included:

- Christopher A. R. Darby, President and CEO[14]
- Bruce Adams, Legal and General Counsel[14]

- Michael M. Crow, Chairman of the Board[14]
- Paul G. Kaminski, Director[15]
- Jeong H. Kim, Previous Member of the Board of Trustees[16]

INVESTMENTS

Many companies listed on In-Q-Tel's investment website page[17] are secret. In-Q-Tel functions partially in public; however, what products it has and how they are used is strictly secret.[11] According to the Washington Post, "virtually any U.S. entrepreneur, inventor or research scientist working on ways to analyze data has probably received a phone call from In-Q-Tel or at least been Googled by its staff of technology-watchers."[11]

Bynoe was hired in 2008 by Chicago-based Loop Capital Markets LLC.[24] Bynoe serves as Managing Director of Corporate Finance.[25]

In August 2013, Bynoe left his executive role at Loop Capital Markets LLC to become CEO of Rewards Network, a company controlled by investor Sam Zell that offers loyalty programs for restaurants.[26]

Chicago investment banker James Reynolds raised more than $200,000 for the Obama campaign while chief executive of Loop Capital Markets. The municipal bond specialist was a longtime friend of Obama—feting the rising star in his Hyde Park home and convincing friends and associates to open up their wallets more than a decade ago. In 2003, USA Today reported, Reynolds was caught on FBI wiretaps arranging what prosecutors called a "sham" consulting contract with a gal pal of a Philadelphia mayoral adviser. After the conversations, Reynolds snagged $300,000 in no-bid city contracts for Loop Capital Markets.[82] City officials went to jail over the scam. Reynolds skated. The Obama campaign's only statement?

"Jim Reynolds has admitted that he made mistakes, but he has not been charged with any wrongdoing."[83]

THE 7TH FLOOR GROUP

The 7th Floor Group was a group of US State Department officials who met regularly on the 7th floor of the Harry S. Truman Building in Washington, DC, that was exposed in Autumn 2016. The FBI referred to the group as a "shadow government" inside the State Department, which briefly attracted the attention of commercially-controlled media. The group appears to have formed around Hillary Clinton, although no direct evidence has yet emerged to tie her to the group. Most if not all remaining members had their employment terminated on 17 February 2017.

EXPOSURE

The group was exposed on 17 October 2016 by a reference in an FBI investigation report arising from the Hillary Clinton email controversy. Interest has been heightened by the fact that FBI documents refer to it as a "shadow government" inside the US State Department.[1] As of November 2016, only one other reference to the group was known in the public record, an email by Roberta S. Jacobson to her "7th floor colleagues.

Roberta Jacobson sent an (unclassified) email in 2010 to "7th floor colleagues:" which was published in 2016 by Wikileaks, identifying her as a member of the 7th floor group.[

Quoted from the email:
"Importance: High 7th floor colleagues: Please advise whether Sunday at 1300 would work for S; Canadian-led conference call with Friends of Haiti. Many thanks. Roberta".

PURGE

The group appears to have been disbanded by Donald Trump's administration. On 17 February 2017, CBS reported that "Much of seventh-floor staff, who work for the Deputy Secretary of State for Management and Resources and the Counselor offices, were told today that their services were no longer needed."

DELETION FROM WIKIPEDIA

In spite of the FBI's reference to it as a "shadow government", the group was not deemed a "non-notable conspiracy theory" with a "lack of reliable secondary sources".[5] Although as a corporate controlled media outlet, CNBC is deemed reliable, their breaking of the story[6] was treated as a primary source, since a Wikiedia rule states that "All breaking news stories, without exception, are primary sources..."[5] i.e. Since corporate media only ran one story on this topic, it is not suitable for Wikipedia.

Began government service in 1999, when she joined the office of then Senator John Kerry as Legislative Assistant. During her years in Senator Kerry's staff, she handled a wide array of domestic and foreign policy issues, and eventually served as his Legislative Director, overseeing all policy matters. After the 2004 election, Higginbottom founded and served as Executive Director of the American Security Project, a national security think tank. She began her career with the national non-profit organization Communities In Schools. On November 24, 2008, it was announced that Higginbottom was appointed the Deputy Director of the Domestic Policy Council in the administration of President Barack Obama.[3]

On January 7, 2011, President Obama nominated Higginbottom to the position of Deputy Director of the Office of Management and Budget.[4] Some Senate Republicans united in opposing Higginbottom's nomination, citing her "lack of business and accounting experience"; however[5] she was confirmed in the Senate in a 64–36 vote on October 20, 2011.[1]

After John Kerry was confirmed to be United States Secretary of State in 2013, he hired Higginbottom as Counselor.[6] In 2013, Obama nominated Higginbottom to serve as Deputy Secretary of State for Management and Resources. On November 14, 2013, her nomination was reported to the full U.S. Senate by the United States Senate Committee on Foreign Relations. ROBERTA STEINFELD JACOBSON

Roberta Steinfeld Jacobson: U.S. Ambassador to Mexico (20 Jun 2016 to ?), Ass't Secretary of State for Western Hemisphere Affairs Jul 2011 – May 2016. From Englewood NJ. Education: Brown and Tufts. Husband: Jonathan Jacobson.

In 1988, she worked at the United States National Security Council. The next year, she joined the Bureau of Western Hemisphere Affairs in the United States Department of State as Special Assistant to the Assistant Secretary of State for Western Hemisphere Affairs, becoming Executive Assistant to the Assistant Secretary in 1992.[3] She also served as Coordinator for Cuban Affairs. From 1996 to 2000, she was director of the Office of Policy Planning and Coordination at the Bureau of Western Hemisphere Affairs, covering issues such as civil-military relations, human rights, foreign assistance, and counter-narcotics throughout the hemisphere.

From 2000 to 2002, she was Deputy Chief of Mission in the United Embassy in Peru. The American Foreign Service Association, which represents the interests of career diplomats, objected to her appointment because the post is normally reserved for a foreign service officer and she was a civil service employee. Secretary of State Madeleine Albright overrode the recommendation of a State Department grievance board that recommended Jacobson be reassigned. The U.S. ambassador to Peru, John Hamilton, had chosen Jacobson over several career diplomats. He defended her selection in November 2000 saying: "She is the best manager I've come across in my 31 years in the Foreign Service".

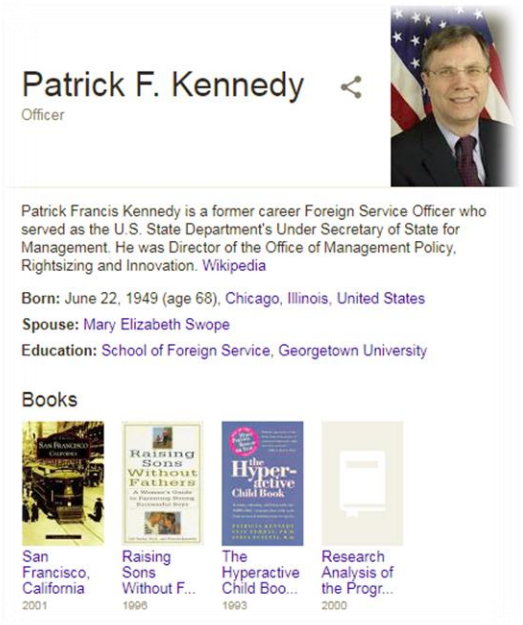

Jacobson was Director of the State Department's Office of Mexican Affairs from December 2002 to June 2007. At that point, she became Deputy Assistant Secretary for Canada, Mexico and NAFTA issues in the Bureau. She was Principal Deputy Assistant Secretary for Western Hemisphere Affairs from December 2010 until July 2011, with responsibility for regional political and economic issues, management and personnel, and regional security issues.

When Arturo Valenzuela left the Bureau of Western Hemisphere Affairs, she became Acting Assistant Secretary of State for Western Hemisphere Affairs. U.S. President Barack Obama named her Assistant Secretary of State and she was sworn into office on March 30, 2012.
Led a U.S. delegation to Havana for historic talks with the government of Cuba in January 2015. According to advance media reports, she was expected to press Cuba to drop travel restrictions on American diplomats and propose that Cuba and the United States establish an embassy in Washington and Havana respectively.

On November 10, 2015, the Senate Foreign Relations Committee approved Obama's nomination of Jacobson as the American ambassador to Mexico by a vote of 12-7. Opposition to her appointment came primarily from the Republicans on the committee, notably presidential candidate Senator Marco Rubio. He and six other Republican senators, along with Democratic Senator Robert Menendez, raised concerns about her position on normalisation of relations between Cuba and the U.S., human rights issues, and the failed extradition of Joaquín "El Chapo" Guzmán, who had escaped Mexico's highest security prison in July 2015.

The Senate approved her appointment to be U.S. Ambassador to Mexico on April 28, 2016. She presented her credentials to Mexican President Enrique Peña Nieto on June 20, 2016. Current position: Remains U.S. Ambassador to Mexico.

PATRICK FRANCIS KENNEDY

Patrick Francis Kennedy (not to be confused with Patrick Joseph Kennedy, of the JFK/RFK family): Kerry's Deputy Secretary of State. From: Chicago. Education: Georgetown. 68 years old, very extensive resume in State Dept/Diplomatic Corps.

A. In 2007, Patrick F. Kennedy chaired an investigation into the behavior of Blackwater Worldwide, following the Nisour Square shooting.
B. During the 2008 presidential election, Kennedy ordered that State Department employees in Europe be barred from attending Senator Barack Obama's speech in Berlin on July 24, 2008, to ensure they displayed political neutrality. Kennedy labeled Obama's visit as a partisan political activity.

C. Kennedy's role in diplomatic security decisions has come under scrutiny from politicians since the terrorist attacks on the U.S. Mission in Benghazi in 2012. Kennedy testified to the House Oversight Committee on October 10, 2012, about the death of Chris Stevens. He testified that, after the October 2011 fall of Gaddafi, the government of Libya was in flux, and that Stevens first arrived in Benghazi "during the height of the revolution", which occurred between February 17 and October 23, 2011, "when the city was the heart of the opposition to Colonel Qadhafi and the rebels there were fighting for their lives." At that time he was Special Representative to the National Transitional Council. Stevens returned to Libya as ambassador in June 2012, and was killed on September 11 of that year.

" Ambassador Stevens understood that the State Department must operate in many places where the U.S. military cannot or does not, where there are no other boots on the ground, where there are serious threats to our security. And he understood that the new Libya was being born in Benghazi and that it was critical that the United States have an active presence there. That is why Ambassador Stevens stayed in Benghazi during those difficult days. And it's why he kept returning as the Libyan people began their difficult transition to democracy. He knew his mission was vital to U.S. interests and values, and was an investment that would pay off in a strong partnership with a free Libya."

The Republican minority on the Senate Select Committee on Intelligence alleged that Kennedy, as Under Secretary for Management, failed to approve requests for additional security in Benghazi and Tripoli, and failed to implement recommendations regarding high-risk diplomatic posts that had been issued after the bombings of embassies in 1998. In fact, the facility was classified as a U.S. Special Mission, which was then a novel category, that required a waiver which "legally allowed the CIA annex to be housed in a location about one mile from the U.S. special mission."

D. On June 10, 2013, CBS News reported that a memo from an official in the State Department inspector general's office alleged that the then-current ambassador to Belgium, Howard Gutman, was ditching his security detail to engage prostitutes and underage children , and further alleged that Patrick F. Kennedy had killed the original investigation in order to protect Ambassador Gutman and maybe others.[9] On June 11, 2013, White House Press Secretary Jay Carney confirmed that the allegation regarding Kennedy was under active investigation by an independent inspector general.[10][11][12] On June 21, 2013, the White House announced Denise Bauer as the new nominee to be the next U.S. Ambassador to Belgium.

E. On October 17, 2016, the FBI released interviews related to the Hillary Clinton email investigation. One of the interviews alleges that Patrick F. Kennedy "pressured" the Federal Bureau of Investigation (FBI) to declassify an email from Hillary Clinton's private server in exchange for a "quid pro quo" of placing more agents in certain countries. The FBI stated that the email's classification status was re-reviewed and remained unchanged and denied quid pro quo accusations. The State Department called the allegations "inaccurate" and maintained that Kennedy was trying to "understand" the FBI's classification process.

There is MUCH more. Kennedy is obviously a VERY key player, and we have failed to drill down on him until now. Set aside your aspersions about this source for a few minutes, and read this analysis on Kennedy: https://www.infowars.com/fbi-hillarys-shadow-government-buried-email-scandal/
Current position: Unknown, but given age (68) and likely financial position, retired.

CHERYL D. MILLS

Cheryl D. Mills: Counselor & Chief of Staff to Hillary Clinton. Education: Univ. of Virginia, Stanford Law School.

After serving as Deputy General Counsel of the Clinton/Gore Transition Planning Foundation after Clinton's 1992 election, she served as Associate Counsel to the President in the White House[3] from 1993 on.[11] Until the impeachment, she was little known to the public,[12] although she did rise to public attention when a burglar reportedly broke into her car and stole documents relating to the handling of the late Vincent Foster's papers related to the Whitewater controversy, as well as the 1993 federal raid on the Branch Davidian compound in Waco.

Cheryl Mills' name is found throughout the Wikileaks dumps. Multiple connections to Haiti/Caracol, and to a number of non-profit organizations. (see Wikipedia entry).

JULISSA REYNOSO

Julissa Reynoso, Deputy Ass't Secretary in the Bureau of Western Hemisphere Affairs. From the Dominican Republic. Immigrated to US in 1982. Education: Valedictorian at Aquinas HS in the Bronx, JFK School of Gov't at Harvard, Masters at Cambridge, Columbia Law.

In 2008, Reynoso was active in former Sen. Hillary Clinton's campaign for the presidency [6] before joining the campaign of then Sen. Barack Obama.

SPACEX

OFFICIAL OVERVIEW

Space Exploration Technologies Corp., doing business as SpaceX, is an American aerospace manufacturer and space transport services company headquartered in Hawthorne, California. It was founded in 2002 by entrepreneur Elon Musk with the goal of reducing space transportation costs and enabling the colonization of Mars.[8] SpaceX has since developed the Falcon launch vehicle family and the Dragon spacecraft family, which both currently deliver payloads into Earth orbit.

SpaceX's achievements include the first privately funded liquid-propellant rocket to reach orbit (Falcon 1 in 2008);[9] the first privately funded company to successfully launch, orbit, and recover a spacecraft (Dragon in 2010); the first private company to send a spacecraft to the International Space Station (Dragon in 2012);[10] the first propulsive landing for an orbital rocket (Falcon 9 in 2015); and the first reuse of an orbital rocket (Falcon 9 in 2017). As of March 2017, SpaceX has since flown ten missions to the International Space Station (ISS) under a cargo resupply contract.[11] NASA also awarded SpaceX a further development contract in 2011 to develop and demonstrate a human-rated Dragon, which would be used to transport astronauts to the ISS and return them safely to Earth.[12]

SpaceX announced in 2011 that they were beginning a privately funded reusable launch system technology development program. In December 2015, a first stage was flown back to a landing pad near the launch site, where it successfully accomplished a propulsive vertical landing. This was the first such achievement by a rocket for orbital spaceflight.[13] In April 2016, with the launch of CRS-8, SpaceX successfully vertically landed a first stage on an ocean drone-ship landing platform.[14] In May 2016, in another first, SpaceX again landed a first stage, but during a significantly more energetic geostationary transfer orbit mission.[15] In March 2017, SpaceX became the first to successfully re-launch and land the first stage of an orbital rocket.[16]

In September 2016, CEO Elon Musk unveiled the mission architecture of the Interplanetary Transport System program, an ambitious privately funded initiative to develop spaceflight technology for use in manned interplanetary spaceflight, and which, if demand emerges, could lead to sustainable human settlements on Mars over the long term. This is the main purpose this System was designed for.[17][18] In 2017, Elon Musk announced that the company had been contracted by two private individuals to send them in a Dragon spacecraft on a free return trajectory around the Moon.[19][20][21] Provisionally launching in 2018, this could become the first instance of lunar tourism.

GOOGLE – ALPHABET – KEYHOLE
OFFICIAL OVERVIEW

ALPHABET INC.

Alphabet Inc. is an American multinational conglomerate created in a corporate restructuring of Google on October 2, 2015.[3] It is now the parent company of Google and several former Google subsidiaries.[4][5][6][7][8] The two founders of Google assumed executive roles in the new company, with Larry Page serving as CEO and Sergey Brin as President.[9] The company is based in Mountain View, California. It has over 75,606 employees as of July 2017.[10]

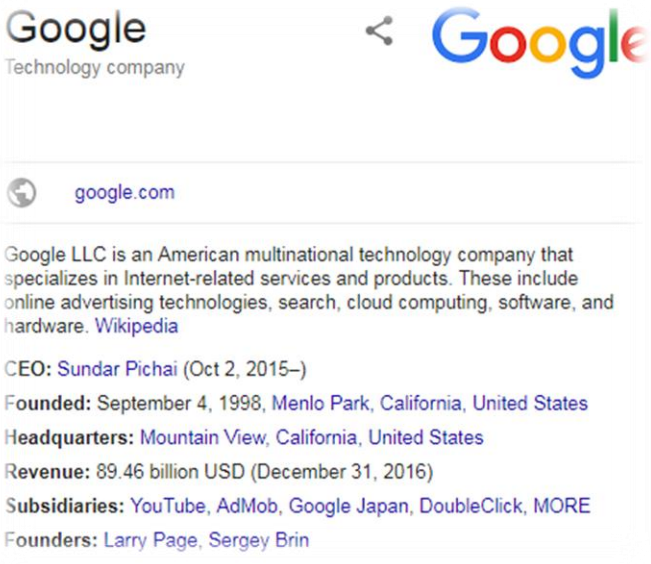

Alphabet's portfolio encompasses several industries, including technology, life sciences, investment capital, and research. Some of its subsidiaries include Google, Calico, GV, CapitalG, Verily, Waymo, X, Nest Labs and Google Fiber. Some of the subsidiaries of Alphabet have altered their names since leaving Google and becoming part of the larger parent company—Google Ventures becoming GV, Google Life Sciences becoming Verily and Google X becoming just X. Following the restructuring Page became CEO of Alphabet while Sundar Pichai took his position as CEO of Google.[4][5] Shares of Google's stock have been converted into Alphabet stock, which trade under Google's former ticker symbols of "GOOG" and "GOOGL".

The establishment of Alphabet was prompted by a desire to make the core Google Internet services business "cleaner and more accountable" while allowing greater autonomy to group companies that operate in businesses other than Internet services.[5][11]

GOOGLE LLC

Google LLC[5] is an American multinational technology company that specializes in Internet-related services and products. These include online advertising technologies, search, cloud computing, software, and hardware. Google was founded in 1998 by Larry Page and Sergey Brin while they were Ph.D. students at Stanford University, in California. Together, they own about 14 percent of its shares, and control 56 percent of the stockholder voting power through supervoting stock. They incorporated Google as a privately held company on September 4, 1998. An initial public offering (IPO) took place on August 19, 2004, and Google moved to its new headquarters in Mountain View, California, nicknamed the Googleplex. In August 2015, Google announced plans to reorganize its various interests as a conglomerate called Alphabet Inc. Google, Alphabet's leading subsidiary, will continue to be the umbrella company for Alphabet's Internet interests. Upon completion of the restructure, Sundar Pichai was appointed CEO of Google; he replaced Larry Page, who became CEO of Alphabet.

The company's rapid growth since incorporation has triggered a chain of products, acquisitions, and partnerships beyond Google's core search engine (Google Search). It offers services designed for work and productivity (Google Docs, Sheets, and Slides), email (Gmail/Inbox), scheduling and time management (Google Calendar), cloud storage (Google Drive), social networking (Google+), instant messaging and video chat (Google Allo/Duo/Hangouts), language translation (Google Translate), mapping and turn-by-turn navigation (Google Maps/Waze/Earth/Street View), video sharing (YouTube), notetaking (Google Keep), and photo organizing and editing(Google Photos). The company leads the development of the Android mobile operating system, the Google Chrome web browser, and Chrome OS, a lightweight operating system based on the Chrome browser. Google has moved increasingly into hardware; from 2010 to 2015, it partnered with major electronics manufacturers in the production of its Nexus devices, and in October 2016, it released multiple hardware products (including the Google Pixel smartphone, Home smart speaker, Wifi mesh wireless router, and Daydream View virtual reality headset). The new hardware chief, Rick Osterloh, stated: "a lot of the innovation that we want to do now ends up requiring controlling the end-to-end user experience". Google has also experimented with becoming an Internet carrier. In February 2010, it announced Google Fiber, a fiber-optic infrastructure that was installed in Kansas City; in April 2015, it launched Project Fi in the United States, combining Wi-Fi and cellular networks from different providers; and in 2016, it announced the Google Station initiative to make public Wi-Fi available around the world, with initial deployment in India.

Alexa, a company that monitors commercial web traffic, lists Google.com as the most visited website in the world. Several other Google services also figure in the top 100 most visited websites, including YouTube and Blogger. Google is the most valuable brand in the world,[6] but has received significant criticism involving issues such as privacy concerns, tax avoidance, antitrust, censorship, and search neutrality. Google's mission statement, from the outset, was "to organize the world's information and make it universally accessible and useful", and its unofficial slogan was "Don't be evil". In October 2015, the motto was replaced in the Alphabet corporate code of conduct by the phrase "Do the right thing".

KEYHOLE INC.

No Wikipedia page. Weird coincidence isn't it? Only a brief mention on the Google Earth's Wikipedia page.

Google Earth was originally developed by Keyhole, Inc., a Mountain View-based company founded in 2001. Keyhole, after being spun off from Intrinsic Graphics, received funding from the Central Intelligence Agency's venture capital firm, In-Q-Tel[6] and the National Geospatial-Intelligence Agency,[7] in addition to smaller capital from Nvidia and Sony.[8] Keyhole developed the program under the name Keyhole EarthViewer, and sold the product for uses in fields such as real estate, urban planning, defense, and intelligence. Google acquired the company in 2004,[9] driving public interest in geospatial technologies and applications.[10][11] Since then, Google has given the program a focus on exploration, with tours provided by humanitarian outreach programs, 3D modeling of hundreds of cities, and 3D globes of other planets.

FACEBOOK & TWITTER
OFFICIAL OVERVIEW

FACEBOOK

Facebook is an American for-profit corporation and an online social media and social networking service based in Menlo Park, California. The Facebook website was launched on February 4, 2004, by Mark Zuckerberg, along with fellow Harvard College students and roommates, Eduardo Saverin, Andrew McCollum, Dustin Moskovitz, and Chris Hughes.

The founders had initially limited the website's membership to Harvard students; however, later they expanded it to higher education institutions in the Boston area, the Ivy League schools, and Stanford University. Facebook gradually added support for students at various other universities, and eventually to high school students as well. Since 2006, anyone who claims to be at least 13 years old has been allowed to become a registered user of Facebook, though variations exist in the minimum age requirement, depending on applicable local laws. The Facebook name comes from the face book directories often given to United States university students. The company held its initial public offering (IPO) in February 2012, and began selling stock to the public three months later, reaching an original peak market capitalization of $104 billion, a new record. Facebook makes most of its revenue from advertisements which appear onscreen.

Facebook may be accessed by a large range of devices with Internet connectivity, such as desktop, laptop and tablet computers, and smartphones. After registering to use the site, users can create a customized profile indicating their name, occupation, schools attended and so on. Users can add other users as "friends", exchange messages, post status updates, share photos, videos and links, use various software applications ("apps"), and receive notifications of activity. Additionally, users may join common-interest user groups organized by workplace, school, hobbies or other topics, and categorize their friends into lists such as "People From Work" or "Close Friends". Additionally, users can complain about or block unpleasant people.

Facebook has more than 2 billion monthly active users as of June 2017. Its popularity has led to prominent media coverage for the company, including significant scrutiny over privacy and the psychological effects it has on users. In recent years, the company has faced intense pressure over the amount of fake news, hate speech and violence prevalent on its services, all of which it is attempting to counteract.

TWITTER

Twitter (/ˈtwɪtər/) is an online news and social networking service where users post and interact with messages, called "tweets." These messages were originally restricted to 140 characters, but on November 7, 2017, the limit was doubled to 280 characters for all languages except Japanese, Korean and Chinese.[10] Registered users can post tweets, but those who are unregistered can only read them. Users access Twitter through its website interface, Short Message Service (SMS) or mobile device application software ("app").[11] Twitter, Inc. is based in San Francisco, California, United States, and has more than 25 offices around the world.[12]

Twitter was created in March 2006 by Jack Dorsey, Noah Glass, Biz Stone, and Evan Williams and launched in July of that year. The service rapidly gained worldwide popularity. In 2012, more than 100 million users posted 340 million tweets a day,[13] and the service handled an average of 1.6 billion search queries per day.[14][15][16] In 2013, it was one of the ten most-visited websites and has been described as "the SMS of the Internet".[17][18] As of 2016, Twitter had more than 319 million monthly active users.[6] On the day of the 2016 U.S. presidential election, Twitter proved to be the largest source of breaking news, with 40 million election-related tweets sent by 10 p.m. (Eastern Time) that day.[19]

THE RED CROSS

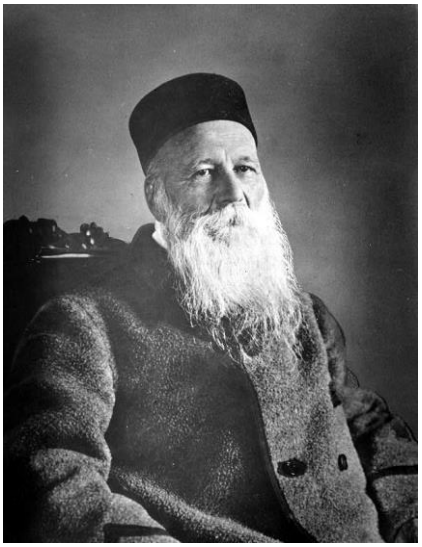

OFFICIAL OVERVIEW

The International Red Cross and Red Crescent Movement is an international humanitarian movement with approximately 97 million volunteers, members and staff worldwide[2] which was founded to protect human life and health, to ensure respect for all human beings, and to prevent and alleviate human suffering.

The movement consists of several distinct organizations that are legally independent from each other, but are united within the movement through common basic principles, objectives, symbols, statutes and governing organisations. The movement's parts are:

- The International Committee of the Red Cross (ICRC) is a private humanitarian institution founded in 1863 in Geneva, Switzerland, by Henry Dunant and Gustave Moynier. Its 25-member committee has a unique authority under international humanitarian law to protect the life and dignity of the victims of international and internal armed conflicts. The ICRC was awarded the Nobel Peace Prize on three occasions (in 1917, 1944 and 1963).[3]
- The International Federation of Red Cross and Red Crescent Societies (IFRC) was founded in 1919 and today it coordinates activities between the 190 National Red Cross and Red Crescent Societies within the Movement. On an international level, the Federation leads and organizes, in close cooperation with the National Societies, relief assistance missions responding to large-scale emergencies. The International Federation Secretariat is based in Geneva, Switzerland. In 1963, the Federation (then known as the League of Red Cross Societies) was awarded the Nobel Peace Prize jointly with the ICRC.[3]
- National Red Cross and Red Crescent Societies exist in nearly every country in the world. Currently 190 National Societies are recognized by the ICRC and admitted as full members of the Federation. Each entity works in its home country according to the principles of international humanitarian law and the statutes of the international Movement. Depending on their specific circumstances and capacities, National Societies can take on additional humanitarian tasks that are not directly defined by international humanitarian law or the mandates of the international Movement. In many countries, they are tightly linked to the respective national health care system by providing emergency medical services.

Henry Dunant (born Jean-Henri Dunant; 8 May 1828 – 30 October 1910), also known as Henri Dunant, was a Swiss businessman and social activist, the founder of the Red Cross, and the first recipient of the Nobel Peace Prize. The 1864 Geneva Convention was based on Dunant's ideas. In 1901 he received the first Nobel Peace Prize together with Frédéric Passy, making Dunant the first Swiss Nobel laureate.

During a business trip in 1859, Dunant was witness to the aftermath of the Battle of Solferino in modern-day Italy. He recorded his memories and experiences in the book A Memory of Solferino which inspired the creation of the International Committee of the Red Cross (ICRC) in 1863.

MUSLIM BROTHERHOOD

OFFICIAL OVERVIEW

The Society of the Muslim Brothers (Arabic: جماعة الإخوان المسلمين Jamā'at al-Ikhwān al-Muslimīn), better known as the Muslim Brotherhood (الإخوان المسلمون al-Ikhwān al-Muslimūn), is a transnational Sunni Islamist organization founded in Egypt by Islamic scholar and schoolteacher Hassan al-Banna in 1928.[8][9][10][11] The organization gained supporters throughout the Arab world and influenced other Islamist groups such as Hamas[12] with its "model of political activism combined with Islamic charity work",[13]and in 2012 sponsored the elected political party in Egypt after the January Revolution in 2011. However, it faced periodic government crackdowns for alleged terrorist activities, and as of 2015 is considered a terrorist organization by the governments of Bahrain,[14][15] Egypt,[16] Russia,[17] Syria,[18] Saudi Arabia[19] and the United Arab Emirates.[20]

The Brotherhood's stated goal is to instill the Quran and the Sunnah as the "sole reference point for ... ordering the life of the Muslim family, individual, community ... and state".[21]

For many years the movement was financed by Saudi Arabia, with which it shared some enemies[who?] and some points[which?] of doctrine.[22][23]

As a Pan-Islamic, religious, and social movement, it preached Islam, taught the illiterate, and set up hospitals and business enterprises. The group spread to other Muslim countries but has its largest, or one of its largest, organizations in Egypt despite a succession of government crackdowns in 1948,[24][25] 1954,[26] 1965, and 2013 after plots, or alleged plots, of assassination and overthrow were uncovered.[27][28][29]
The Arab Spring brought it legalization and substantial political power at first, but as of 2013 it has suffered severe reversals.[30] The Egyptian Muslim Brotherhood was legalized in 2011 and won several elections,[31] including the 2012 presidential electionwhen its candidate Mohamed Morsi became Egypt's first democratically elected president,[32] though one year later, following massive demonstrations and unrest, he was overthrown by the military and placed under house arrest.[33]

The Brotherhood itself claims to be a peaceful, democratic organization,[34][35] and that its leader "condemns violence and violent acts".[36]

EDWARD SNOWDEN
OFFICIAL OVERVIEW

Edward Joseph Snowden (born June 21, 1983) is an American computer professional, former Central Intelligence Agency (CIA) employee, and former contractor for the United States government who copied and leaked classified information from the National Security Agency (NSA) in 2013 without authorization. His disclosures revealed numerous global surveillance programs, many run by the NSA and the Five Eyes Intelligence Alliance with the cooperation of telecommunication companies and European governments.

In 2013, Snowden was hired by an NSA contractor, Booz Allen Hamilton, after previous employment with Dell and the CIA.[1] On May 20, 2013, Snowden flew to Hong Kong after leaving his job at an NSA facility in Hawaii, and in early June he revealed thousands of classified NSA documents to journalists Glenn Greenwald, Laura Poitras, and Ewen MacAskill. Snowden came to international attention after stories based on the material appeared in The Guardian and The Washington Post. Further disclosures were made by other publications including Der Spiegel and The New York Times.

On June 21, 2013, the U.S. Department of Justice unsealed charges against Snowden of two counts of violating the Espionage Act of 1917 and theft of government property[2] following which the Department of State revoked his passport.[3] Two days later, he flew into Moscow's Sheremetyevo Airport, but Russian authorities noted that his U.S. passport had been cancelled and he was restricted to the airport terminal for over one month. According to Russian President Vladimir Putin, Snowden had met with Russian diplomats in Hong Kong before leaving for Moscow.[4] Russia ultimately granted him right of asylum for one year, and repeated extensions have permitted him to stay at least until 2020. In early 2016 he became the president of the Freedom of the Press Foundation, an organization that aims to protect journalists from hacking and government surveillance.[5] Jardin left the board in 2016.[6] As of 2017 he was living in an undisclosed location in Moscow and continuing to seek asylum elsewhere in the world.[7]

A subject of controversy, Snowden has been variously called a hero, a whistleblower, a dissident, a traitor, and a patriot. His disclosures have fueled debates over mass surveillance, government secrecy, and the balance between national security and information privacy.

BACKGROUND
Childhood, family, and education

Edward Joseph Snowden was born on June 21, 1983,[8] in Elizabeth City, North Carolina.[9] His maternal grandfather, Edward J. Barrett,[10][11] was a rear admiral in the U.S. Coast Guard who became a senior official with the FBI and was at the Pentagon in 2001 during the September 11 attacks.[12] Snowden's father Lonnie was also an officer in the Coast Guard,[13] and his mother Elizabeth is a clerk at the U.S. District Court for the District of Maryland.[14][15][16][17][18] His older sister, Jessica, was a lawyer at the Federal Judicial Center in Washington, D.C. Edward Snowden said that he had expected to work for the federal government, as had the rest of his family.[19] His parents divorced in 2001,[20] and his father remarried.[21] Snowden scored above 145 on two separate IQ tests.[19]

In the early 1990s, while still in grade school, Snowden moved with his family to the area of Fort Meade, Maryland.[22] Mononucleosis caused him to miss high school for almost nine months.[19] Rather than returning to school, he passed the GED test[23] and took classes at Anne Arundel Community College.[16] Although Snowden had no undergraduate college degree,[24] he worked online toward a master's degree at the University of Liverpool, England, in 2011.[25] He was reportedly interested in Japanese popular culture, had studied the Japanese language,[26] and worked for an anime company that had a resident office in the U.S.[27][28] He also said he had a basic understanding of Mandarin Chinese and was deeply interested in martial arts. At age 20, he listed Buddhism as his religion on a military recruitment form, noting that the choice of Agnostic was "strangely absent."[29]

Political views

Snowden has said that in the 2008 presidential election, he voted for a third-party candidate. He was disappointed with President Barack Obama, believing his policies were a continuation of those espoused by George W. Bush.[30]

In accounts published in June 2013, interviewers noted that Snowden's laptop displayed stickers supporting Internet freedom organizations including the Electronic Frontier Foundation (EFF) and the Tor Project.[23] A week after publication of his leaks began, Ars Technica confirmed that Snowden had been an active participant at the site's online forum from 2001 through May 2012, discussing a variety of topics under the pseudonym "TheTrueHOOHA".[31] In a January 2009 entry, TheTrueHOOHA exhibited strong support for the U.S. security state apparatus and said leakers of classified information "should be shot in the balls".[32] However, Snowden disliked Obama's CIA director appointment of Leon Panetta, saying "Obama just named a fucking politician to run the CIA".[33] Snowden was also offended by a possible ban on assault weapons, writing "Me and all my lunatic, gun-toting NRA compatriots would be on the steps of Congress before the C-Span feed finished".[33] Snowden disliked Obama's economic policies, was against Social Security, and favored Ron Paul's call for a return to the gold standard.[33] In 2014, Snowden supported a basic income.[34]

Career

Feeling a humanitarian obligation to fight in the Iraq War to help free oppressed people,[23] Snowden enlisted in the United States Army Reserve on May 7, 2004, as a Special Forces candidate through its 18X enlistment option.[35] He did not complete the training.[8] After breaking both legs in a training accident,[36] he was discharged on September 28, 2004.[37]

He was then employed for less than a year in 2005 as a security guard at the University of Maryland's Center for Advanced Study of Language, a research center sponsored by the National Security Agency (NSA).[38] According to the University this is not a classified facility,[39] though it is heavily guarded.[40] In June 2014, Snowden told Wired that his job as a security guard required a high-level security clearance, for which he passed a polygraph exam and underwent a stringent background check.[19]

Employment at CIA

After attending a 2006 job-fair focused on intelligence agencies, Snowden accepted an offer for a position at the CIA.[19][41] The Agency assigned him to the global communications division at CIA headquarters in Langley, Virginia.[19]

In May 2006 Snowden wrote in Ars Technica that he had no trouble getting work because he was a "computer wizard".[29] After distinguishing himself as a junior employee on the top computer-team, Snowden was sent to the CIA's secret school for technology specialists, where he lived in a hotel for six months while studying and training full-time.[19]

In March 2007 the CIA stationed Snowden with diplomatic cover in Geneva, Switzerland, where he was responsible for maintaining computer-network security.[19][42] Assigned to the U.S. mission to the United Nations, Snowden received a diplomatic passport and a four-bedroom apartment near Lake Geneva.[19] According to Greenwald, while there Snowden was "considered the top technical and cybersecurity expert" in that country and "was hand-picked by the CIA to support the president at the 2008 NATO summit in Romania".[43] Snowden described his CIA experience in Geneva as formative, stating that the CIA deliberately got a Swiss banker drunk and encouraged him to drive home. Snowden said that when the latter was arrested, a CIA operative offered to help in exchange for the banker becoming an informant.[44] Ueli Maurer, President of the Swiss Confederation for the year 2013, in June of that year publicly disputed Snowden's claims. "This would mean that the CIA successfully bribed the Geneva police and judiciary. With all due respect, I just can't imagine it," said Maurer.[45] In February 2009 Snowden resigned from the CIA.[46]

NSA sub-contractee as an employee for Dell

In 2009, Snowden began work as a contractee for Dell,[47] which manages computer systems for multiple government agencies. Assigned to an NSA facility at Yokota Air Base near Tokyo, Snowden instructed top officials and military officers on how to defend their networks from Chinese hackers.[19] During his four years with Dell, he rose from supervising NSA computer system upgrades to working as what his résumé termed a "cyberstrategist" and an "expert in cyber counterintelligence" at several U.S. locations.[48] In 2011, he returned to Maryland, where he spent a year as lead technologist on Dell's CIA account. In that capacity, he was consulted by the chiefs of the CIA's technical branches, including the agency's chief information officer and its chief technology officer.[19] U.S. officials and other sources familiar with the investigation said Snowden began downloading documents describing the government's electronic spying programs while working for Dell in April 2012.[47] Investigators estimated that of the 50,000 to 200,000 documents Snowden gave to Greenwald and Poitras, most were copied by Snowden while working at Dell.[1]

In March 2012, Dell reassigned Snowden to Hawaii as lead technologist for the NSA's information-sharing office.[19] At the time of his departure from the U.S. in May 2013, he had been employed for 15 months inside the NSA's Hawaii regional operations center, which focuses on the electronic monitoring of China and North Korea,[1][49] the last three of which were with consulting firm Booz Allen Hamilton.[50] While intelligence officials have described his position there as a system administrator, Snowden has said he was an infrastructure analyst, which meant that his job was to look for new ways to break into Internet and telephone traffic around the world.[51] On March 15, 2013—three days after what he later called his "breaking point" of "seeing the Director of National Intelligence, James Clapper, directly lie under oath to Congress"[52]—Snowden quit his job at Dell.[53] Although he has stated that his career high annual salary was $200,000,[54] Snowden said he took a pay cut to work at Booz Allen,[55] where he sought employment in order to gather data and then release details of the NSA's worldwide surveillance activity.[56] According to a Reuters story by Mark Hosenball, while in Hawaii, Snowden may have misled 20–25 co-workers into giving him their logins and passwords under false pretenses.[57] NBC News subsequently reported that the NSA sent a memo to Congress suggesting that Snowden had tricked a fellow employee into sharing his personal public key infrastructure certificate to gain greater access to the NSA's computer system.[58][59][60] This report was disputed,[61] with Snowden himself saying in January 2014, "With all due respect to Mark Hosenball, the Reuters report that put this out there was simply wrong. I never stole any passwords, nor did I trick an army of co-workers."[62][63] Booz Allen terminated Snowden's employment on June 10, 2013, one month after he had left the country.[64]

A former NSA co-worker told Forbes that although the NSA was full of smart people, Snowden was "a genius among geniuses," who created a backup system for the NSA that was widely implemented and often pointed out security bugs to the agency. The former colleague said Snowden was given full administrator privileges, with virtually unlimited access to NSA data. Snowden was offered a position on the NSA's elite team of hackers, Tailored Access Operations, but turned it down to join Booz Allen.[65] Reuters reported that Booz Allen hiring screeners could not verify some details of Snowden's education but decided to hire him anyway; what triggered these concerns or how Snowden satisfied them was unknown.[24] Snowden's résumé stated that he attended computer-related classes at Johns Hopkins University. A spokeswoman for Johns Hopkins said that the university did not find records to show that Snowden attended the university, and suggested that he may instead have attended Advanced Career Technologies, a private for-profit organization that operated as the Computer Career Institute at Johns Hopkins University.[24] The University of Maryland University College acknowledged that Snowden had attended a summer session at a UM campus in Asia. Snowden's résumé stated that he estimated that he would receive a University of Liverpool computer security master's degree in 2013. The university said that Snowden registered for an online master's degree program in computer security in 2011 but was inactive as a student and had not completed the program.[24]

Snowden has said that he had told multiple employees and two supervisors about his concerns, but the NSA disputes his claim.[66] Snowden elaborated in January 2014, saying "[I] made tremendous efforts to report these programs to co-workers, supervisors, and anyone with the proper clearance who would listen. The reactions of those I told about the scale of the constitutional violations ranged from deeply concerned to appalled, but no one was willing to risk their jobs, families, and possibly even freedom to go through what [Thomas Andrews] Drake did."[63][67] In March 2014, during testimony to the European Parliament, Snowden wrote that before revealing classified information he had reported "clearly problematic programs" to ten officials, who he said did nothing in response.[68] In a May 2014 interview, Snowden told NBC News that after bringing his concerns about the legality of the NSA spying programs to officials, he was told to stay silent on the matter. He asserted that the NSA had copies of emails he sent to their Office of General Counsel, oversight and compliance personnel broaching "concerns about the NSA's interpretations of its legal authorities. I had raised these complaints not just officially in writing through email, but to my supervisors, to my colleagues, in more than one office."[12]

In May 2014, U.S. officials released a single email that Snowden had written in April 2013 inquiring about legal authorities but said that they had found no other evidence that Snowden had expressed his concerns to someone in an oversight position.[69] In June 2014, the NSA said it had not been able to find any records of Snowden raising internal complaints about the agency's operations.[70] That same month, Snowden explained that he himself has not produced the communiqués in question because of the ongoing nature of the dispute, disclosing for the first time that "I am working with the NSA in regard to these records and we're going back and forth, so I don't want to reveal everything that will come out."[71]

In his May 2014 interview with NBC News, Snowden accused the U.S. government of trying to use one position here or there in his career to distract from the totality of his experience, downplaying him as a "low level analyst." In his words, he was "trained as a spy in the traditional sense of the word in that I lived and worked undercover overseas—pretending to work in a job that I'm not—and even being assigned a name that was not mine." He said he'd worked for the NSA undercover overseas, and for the DIA had developed sources and methods to keep information and people secure "in the most hostile and dangerous environments around the world. So when they say I'm a low-level systems administrator, that I don't know what I'm talking about, I'd say it's somewhat misleading."[12] In a June interview with Globo TV, Snowden reiterated that he "was actually functioning at a very senior level."[72] In a July interview with The Guardian, Snowden explained that, during his NSA career, "I began to move from merely overseeing these systems to actively directing their use. Many people don't understand that I was actually an analyst and I designated individuals and groups for targeting."[73] Snowden subsequently told Wired that while at Dell in 2011, "I would sit down with the CIO of the CIA, the CTO of the CIA, the chiefs of all the technical branches. They would tell me their hardest technology problems, and it was my job to come up with a way to fix them."[19]

Of his time as an NSA analyst, directing the work of others, Snowden recalled a moment when he and his colleagues began to have severe ethical doubts. Snowden said 18 to 22-year-old analysts were suddenly "thrust into a position of extraordinary responsibility, where they now have access to all your private records. In the course of their daily work, they stumble across something that is completely unrelated in any sort of necessary sense—for example, an intimate nude photo of someone in a sexually compromising situation. But they're extremely attractive. So what do they do? They turn around in their chair and they show a co-worker ... and sooner or later this person's whole life has been seen by all of these other people." As Snowden observed it, this behavior happened routinely every two months but was never reported, being considered one of the "fringe benefits" of the work.[74]

GLOBAL SURVEILLANCE DISCLOSURES

The exact size of Snowden's disclosure is unknown,[75] but Australian officials have estimated 15,000 or more Australian intelligence files[76] and British officials estimate at least 58,000 British intelligence files.[77] NSA Director Keith Alexander initially estimated that Snowden had copied anywhere from 50,000 to 200,000 NSA documents.[78] Later estimates provided by U.S. officials were on the order of 1.7 million,[79] a number that originally came from Department of Defense talking points.[80] In July 2014, The Washington Post reported on a cache previously provided by Snowden from domestic NSA operations consisting of "roughly 160,000 intercepted e-mail and instant-message conversations, some of them hundreds of pages long, and 7,900 documents taken from more than 11,000 online accounts."[81] A U.S. Defense Intelligence Agency report declassified in June 2015 said that Snowden took 900,000 Department of Defense files, more than he downloaded from the NSA.[80]

In March 2014, Army General Martin Dempsey, Chairman of the Joint Chiefs of Staff, told the House Armed Services Committee, "The vast majority of the documents that Snowden ... exfiltrated from our highest levels of security ... had nothing to do with exposing government oversight of domestic activities. The vast majority of those were related to our military capabilities, operations, tactics, techniques and procedures."[82] When asked in a May 2014 interview to quantify the number of documents Snowden stole, retired NSA director Keith Alexander said there was no accurate way of counting what he took, but Snowden may have downloaded more than a million documents.[83]

According to Snowden, he did not indiscriminately turn over documents to journalists, stating that "I carefully evaluated every single document I disclosed to ensure that each was legitimately in the public interest. There are all sorts of documents that would have made a big impact that I didn't turn over"[84]and that "I have to screen everything before releasing it to journalists ... If I have time to go through this information, I would like to make it available to journalists in each country."[56] Despite these measures, the improper redaction of a document by The New York Times resulted in the exposure of intelligence activity against al-Qaeda.[85]

In June 2014, the NSA's recently installed director, U.S. Navy Admiral Michael S. Rogers, stated that while some terrorist groups had altered their communications to avoid surveillance techniques revealed by Snowden, the damage done was not significant enough to conclude that "the sky is falling."[86]Nevertheless, in February 2015, Rogers said that Snowden's disclosures had a material impact on the NSA's detection and evaluation of terrorist activities worldwide.[87]

On 14 June 2015, UK's Sunday Times reported that Russian and Chinese intelligence services had decrypted more than 1 million classified files in the Snowden cache, forcing the UK's MI6 intelligence agency to move agents out of live operations in hostile countries. Sir David Omand, a former director of the UK's GCHQ intelligence gathering agency, described it as a huge strategic setback that was harming Britain, America, and their NATO allies. The Sunday Times said it was not clear whether Russia and China stole Snowden's data or whether Snowden voluntarily handed it over to remain at liberty in Hong Kong and Moscow.[88][89] In April 2015 the Henry Jackson Society, a British neoconservative think tank, published a report claiming that Snowden's intelligence leaks negatively impacted Britain's ability to fight terrorism and organized crime.[90] Gus Hosein, executive director of Privacy International, criticized the report for, in his opinion, presuming that the public became concerned about privacy only after Snowden's disclosures.[91]

Release of NSA documents

Snowden's decision to leak NSA documents developed gradually following his March 2007 posting as a technician to the Geneva CIA station.[92] Snowden first made contact with Glenn Greenwald, a journalist working at The Guardian, on December 1, 2012.[93][94] He contacted Greenwald anonymously as "Cincinnatus"[95] and said he had sensitive documents that he would like to share.[96] Greenwald found the measures that the source asked him to take to secure their communications, such as encrypting email, too annoying to employ. Snowden then contacted documentary filmmaker Laura Poitras in January 2013.[97] According to Poitras, Snowden chose to contact her after seeing her New York Times article about NSA whistleblower William Binney.[98] What originally attracted Snowden to both Greenwald and Poitras was a Salon article written by Greenwald detailing how Poitras' controversial films had made her a target of the government.[96]

Greenwald began working with Snowden in either February[99] or April 2013, after Poitras asked Greenwald to meet her in New York City, at which point Snowden began providing documents to them.[93] Barton Gellman, writing for The Washington Post, says his first direct contact was on May 16, 2013.[100] According to Gellman, Snowden approached Greenwald after the Post declined to guarantee publication within 72 hours of all 41 PowerPoint slides that Snowden had leaked exposing the PRISM electronic data mining program, and to publish online an encrypted code allowing Snowden to later prove that he was the source.[100]

Snowden communicated using encrypted email,[97] and going by the codename "Verax". He asked not to be quoted at length for fear of identification by stylometry.[100]

According to Gellman, prior to their first meeting in person, Snowden wrote, "I understand that I will be made to suffer for my actions, and that the return of this information to the public marks my end."[100] Snowden also told Gellman that until the articles were published, the journalists working with him would also be at mortal risk from the United States Intelligence Community "if they think you are the single point of failure that could stop this disclosure and make them the sole owner of this information."[100]

In May 2013, Snowden was permitted temporary leave from his position at the NSA in Hawaii, on the pretext of receiving treatment for his epilepsy.[23] In mid-May, Snowden gave an electronic interview to Poitras and Jacob Appelbaum which was published weeks later by Der Spiegel.[101]

After disclosing the copied documents, Snowden promised that nothing would stop subsequent disclosures. In June 2013, he said, "All I can say right now is the US government is not going to be able to cover this up by jailing or murdering me. Truth is coming, and it cannot be stopped."[102]

Publication

On May 20, 2013, Snowden flew to Hong Kong,[84] where he was staying when the initial articles based on the leaked documents were published,[103] beginning with The Guardian on June 5.[104] Greenwald later said Snowden disclosed 9,000 to 10,000 documents.[105]

Within months, documents had been obtained and published by media outlets worldwide, most notably The Guardian (Britain), Der Spiegel (Germany), The Washington Post and The New York Times (U.S.), O Globo (Brazil), Le Monde (France), and similar outlets in Sweden, Canada, Italy, Netherlands, Norway, Spain, and Australia.[106] In 2014, NBC broke its first story based on the leaked documents.[107] In February 2014, for reporting based on Snowden's leaks, journalists Glenn Greenwald, Laura Poitras, Barton Gellman and The Guardian's Ewen MacAskill were honored as co-recipients of the 2013 George Polk Award, which they dedicated to Snowden.[108] The NSA reporting by these journalists also earned The Guardian and The Washington Post the 2014 Pulitzer Prize for Public Service[109] for exposing the "widespread surveillance" and for helping to spark a "huge public debate about the extent of the government's spying". The Guardian's chief editor, Alan Rusbridger, credited Snowden for having performed a public service.[110]

SETH RICH (MURDER OF SETH RICH)
OFFICIAL OVERVIEW

Seth Conrad Rich (January 3, 1989 – July 10, 2016) was an American employee of the Democratic National Committee (DNC) who was fatally shot in the Bloomingdale neighborhood of Washington, D.C.[1][2][3] As of May 2017 the shooting was still under investigation by the D.C. Metropolitan Police Department.[4]

The murder spawned several right-wing conspiracy theories, including the claim that Rich had been involved with the leaked DNC emails in 2016, which runs contrary to the U.S. intelligence's conclusion the leaked DNC emails were part of Russian interference in the 2016 United States elections.[5][6][7] Law enforcement[5][6] as well as fact-checking websites like PolitiFact.com,[6][8] Snopes.com,[9] and FactCheck.org stated that these theories were false and unfounded.[5] The New York Times,[10] Los Angeles Times,[11] and The Washington Post called the fabrications fake news and falsehoods.[12]

Rich's parents condemned the conspiracy theorists and said that these individuals were exploiting their son's death for political gain, and their spokesperson called the conspiracy theorists "disgusting sociopaths".[13][14][15] They requested a retraction and apology from Fox News after the network promoted the conspiracy theory,[16] and sent a cease and desist letter to the investigator Fox News used.[6][15][16] The investigator stated that he had no evidence to back up the claims which Fox News attributed to him.[5][6][17] Fox News issued a retraction, but did not apologize or publicly explain what went wrong.[18]

SETH RICH'S EARLY LIFE AND CAREER

Rich grew up in a Jewish family, in Omaha, Nebraska.[19][20][21] He volunteered for the Nebraska Democratic Party, interned for Senator Ben Nelson, was active in Jewish outreach,[22] and worked with the United States Census Bureau.[23][24] In 2011, he graduated from Creighton University with a degree in political science.[25][24] He moved to Washington, D.C. to work for pollster, Greenberg Quinlan Rosner.[24] In 2014 he began working for the Democratic National Committee (DNC) as the Voter Expansion Data Director. One of his tasks at the DNC was the development of a computer application to help voters locate polling stations.[2][26][27]

SHOOTING AND DEATH

On Sunday, July 10, 2016, at 4:20 a.m., Rich was shot about a block from his apartment in the Bloomingdale neighborhood of Washington, D.C.[28][29][30]

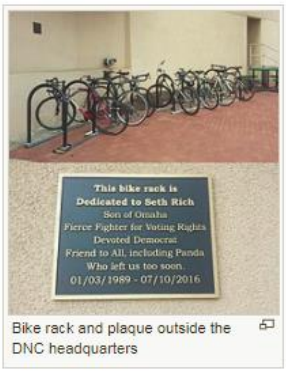

Earlier that night he had been at Lou's City Bar, a sports pub 1.8 miles (2.9 km) from his apartment, in Columbia Heights, where he was a regular customer. He left when the bar was closing, at about 1:30 or 1:45 a.m.[31][32] Police were alerted to gunfire at 4:20 a.m. by an automated gunfire locator.[30][33]Within approximately one minute after the gun shots, police officers found Rich conscious with multiple gunshot wounds.[34] He was transported to a nearby hospital, where he later died.[35][36][37] According to police, he died from two shots to the back[28][29] and may have been killed in an attempted robbery, noting that the neighborhood had recently been plagued by robberies.[28] Rich's mother told NBC's Washington affiliate WRC-TV, "There had been a struggle. His hands were bruised, his knees are bruised, his face is bruised, and yet he had two shots to his back, and yet they never took anything... They didn't finish robbing him, they just took his life."[38] The police told the family they had found a surveillance videotape showing a glimpse of the legs of two people who could possibly be the killers.[31]

AFTERMATH

On the day after the shooting, DNC Chair Debbie Wasserman Schultz issued a statement mourning his loss and praising Rich's work to support voter rights.[33][39] Two days after the shooting, Hillary Clinton spoke of his death during a speech advocating limiting the availability of guns.[2][20]

In September 2016, Rich's parents and girlfriend appeared on the syndicated television show Crime Watch Daily to speak about the murder case.[40][41] In October 2016, a plaque and bike rack outside the DNC headquarters were dedicated to Rich's memory.[39] In February 2017, the Beth El Synagogue in Omaha named after Rich an existing scholarship that helps Jewish children attend summer camps.[42]

The Rich family accepted the pro bono public relations services of Republican lobbyist Jack Burkman in September 2016.[11] The Rich family and Burkman held a joint press conference on the murder in November 2016.[11][43] In January 2017, Burkman launched an advertising campaign in Northwest D.C. searching for information regarding Seth's death. This included billboard advertisements and canvassing with flyers.[44][45] In late February, Burkman told media outlets he had a lead that the Russian government was involved in Rich's death,[46] and the Rich family then distanced itself from Burkman.[47] On March 19, 2017, Rich's brother, Aaron, started a GoFundMe campaign to try to raise $200,000 for private investigation, public outreach activities, and a reward fund.[48] On March 24, Burkman started "The Profiling Project" with some forensics students at George Washington University, an independent investigative attempt to solve the murder of Seth Rich.[49][50] On June 20, 2017, the Profiling Project said that the conspiracy theories surrounding the death were unfounded, and published a report which speculated that the murder was caused by a serial killer.[51]

The Rich family was approached by Ed Butowsky (a friend of Trump advisor Steve Bannon and a frequent Fox News contributor), who recommended having Fox News contributor and former homicide detective Rod Wheeler investigate Seth's murder. Butowsky said Wheeler had been recommended to him. The family gave Wheeler permission to investigate, though they did not hire him.[15][52] When questioned by CNN, Butowsky denied involvement in the case, but later admitted he was involved and had offered to pay Wheeler's fees.[53][54] After Wheeler asserted links between Rich and Wikileaks in a Fox affiliate interview on May 15, 2017—an assertion he later backpedaled from[55]—the family spokesman said that the family regretted working with Wheeler.[4] Wheeler then sued Fox News on August 1, 2017, for mental anguish and emotional distress, alleging that he had been misquoted in a story that was then published on the urging of President Donald J. Trump. [56]

REWARDS

The Metropolitan Police Department of the District of Columbia (MPDC) posted its customary reward of $25,000 for information about the death.[2][34]

On August 9, 2016, WikiLeaks announced a $20,000 reward for information about Rich's murder leading to a conviction,[57][58][59] although Rich's family said they were unable to verify this reward offer.[60] WikiLeaks stated that this offer should not be taken as implying Rich had been involved in leaking information to them.[2]

In November 2016, Republican lobbyist Jack Burkman said he was personally offering a $100,000 reward in addition to those announced by the police department and WikiLeaks, and he added another $5,000 to his offer in December and another $25,000 in January.[60][61][31] Burkman said he hoped the money would help "get to the truth of what happened here and will either debunk the conspiracy theories or validate them".[62]

If you are interested in reading more, they even talk about the « conspiracy theories » that follow Seth Rich's murder:

Of course, they state it has been debunked. Where are the FACTS of the debunking then? Linking to Snopes or what over random "fact check" (fake checking) websites is not "debunking" anything. It was the same with PizzaGate / PedoGate, they kept saying it was debunked over and over, without any FACTS, anything tangible.

Julian Paul Assange (/ə'sɑːnʒ/;[1] né Hawkins; born 3 July 1971) is an Australian computer programmer and the founder of WikiLeaks,[2] an organisation he founded in 2006.

Assange founded WikiLeaks in 2006, but came to international attention in 2010, when WikiLeaks published a series of leaks provided by Chelsea Manning. These leaks included the Collateral Murder video (April 2010),[3][4] the Afghanistan war logs (July 2010), the Iraq war logs (October 2010), and CableGate (November 2010). Following the 2010 leaks, the federal government of the United States launched a criminal investigation into WikiLeaks and asked allied nations for assistance.[5]

In November 2010, Sweden issued an international arrest warrant for Assange.[6] He had been questioned there months earlier over allegations of sexual assault and rape.[7] Assange continued to deny the allegations, and expressed concern that he would be extradited from Sweden to the United States because of his perceived role in publishing secret American documents.[8][9] Assange surrendered himself to UK police on 7 December 2010, and was held for ten days before being released on bail. Having been unsuccessful in his challenge to the extradition proceedings, he breached his bail and absconded. He was granted asylum by Ecuador in August 2012 and has remained in the Embassy of Ecuador in London since then. On 19 May 2017, the Swedish prosecutors dropped their investigation into the rape accusation against Assange and applied to revoke the European arrest warrant.[10] Although free to leave the Embassy, it is likely that he would then be arrested for the criminal offence of breaching his bail conditions.[11] The London Metropolitan Police have indicated that an arrest warrant is still in force for Assange's failure to surrender himself to his bail.[12] On 11 January 2018, it was announced that Assange had held Ecuadorian citizenship since 12 December 2017.[13]

PERSONAL LIFE

Assange was born in Townsville, Queensland,[14][15] to Christine Ann Hawkins (b. 1951),[16] a visual artist,[17] and John Shipton, an anti-war activist and builder.[18] The couple had separated before Assange was born.[18]

When he was a year old, his mother married Richard Brett Assange,[19][20][21] an actor, with whom she ran a small theatre company.[22] They divorced around 1979. Christine Assange then became involved with Leif Meynell, also known as Leif Hamilton, a member of Australian cult The Family, with whom she had a son before the couple broke up in 1982.[14][23][24] Assange had a nomadic childhood, and had lived in over thirty[25][26] Australian towns by the time he reached his mid-teens, when he settled with his mother and half-brother in Melbourne, Victoria.[19][27]

He attended many schools, including Goolmangar Primary School in New South Wales (1979–1983)[22] and Townsville State High School,[28] as well as being schooled at home.[20] He studied programming, mathematics, and physics at Central Queensland University (1994)[29] and the University of Melbourne (2003–2006),[19][30] but did not complete a degree.[31]

While in his teens, Assange married a woman named Teresa, and in 1989 they had a son, Daniel Assange, now a software designer.[19][31][32] The couple separated and initially disputed custody of their child.[20] Assange was Daniel's primary caregiver for much of his childhood.[33] In an open letter to French President François Hollande, Assange stated his youngest child lives in France with his mother. He also said that his family had faced death threats and harassment because of his work, forcing them to change identities and reduce contact with him.[34]

WIKILEAKS

After his period of study at the University of Melbourne, Assange and others established WikiLeaks in 2006. Assange is a member of the organisation's advisory board[59] and describes himself as the editor-in-chief.[60] From 2007 to 2010, Assange travelled continuously on WikiLeaks business, visiting Africa, Asia, Europe and North America.[20][26][61][62][63]

WikiLeaks published secret information, news leaks,[64] and classified media from anonymous sources.[65] By 2015, WikiLeaks had published more than 10 million documents and associated analyses, and was described by Assange as "a giant library of the world's most persecuted documents".[66] The published material between 2006 and 2009 attracted various degrees of publicity,[67] but it was only after it began publishing documents supplied by Chelsea Manning, that WikiLeaks became a household name.[68] The Manning material included the Collateral Murder video (April 2010)[3] which showed United States soldiers fatally shooting 18 people from a helicopter in Iraq,[4] the Afghanistan war logs (July 2010), the Iraq war logs (October 2010), a quarter of a million diplomatic cables (November 2010), and the Guantánamo files (April 2011).

Opinions of Assange at this time were divided. Australian Prime Minister Julia Gillard described his activities as "illegal,"[69] but the police said that he had broken no Australian law.[70] United States Vice President Joe Biden and others called him a "terrorist".[71][72][73][74][75] Some called for his assassination or execution.[76][77][78][79] Support came from people including Brazilian President Luiz Inácio Lula da Silva,[80][81] President of Ecuador Rafael Correa,[82] Russian President Dmitry Medvedev,[83][84]Britain's Labour Party leader Jeremy Corbyn (then a backbench MP),[85] Spain's Podemos party leader Pablo Iglesias,[86] UN High Commissioner for Human Rights Navi Pillay,[87] Argentina's ambassador to the UK Alicia Castro,[88] and activists and celebrities including Tariq Ali,[89] John Perry Barlow,[90] Daniel Ellsberg,[91][92] Mary Kostakidis,[93] John Pilger,[94][95] Ai Weiwei,[96] Michael Moore,[97] Noam Chomsky,[96] Vaughan Smith,[98][99] and Oliver Stone.[100]

The year 2010 culminated with the Sam Adams Award, which Assange accepted in October,[101] and a string of distinctions in December—the Le Monde readers' choice award for person of the year,[102][103] the Time readers' choice award for person of the year (he was also a runner-up in Time's overall person of the year award),[104][105] a deal for his autobiography worth at least US$1.3 million,[106][107][108] and selection by the Italian edition of Rolling Stone as "rockstar of the year".[109][110]

Assange announced that he would run for the Australian Senate in March 2012 under the new WikiLeaks Party,[111][112] and Cypherpunks[58] was published in November. In 2012, Assange hosted a television show on RT (formerly known as Russia Today), a network funded by the Russian government.[113] In the same year, he analysed the Kissinger cables held at the U.S. National Archives and released them in searchable form.[114][115] On 15 September 2014, he appeared via remote video link on Kim Dotcom's Moment of Truth town hall meeting held in Auckland.[116]

The following February, he won the Sydney Peace Foundation Gold Medal for Peace with Justice, previously awarded to only three people—Nelson Mandela, the Dalai Lama, and Buddhist spiritual leader Daisaku Ikeda.[117] Two weeks later, he filed for the trademark "Julian Assange" in Europe, which was to be used for "Public speaking services; news reporter services; journalism; publication of texts other than publicity texts; education services; entertainment services."[118][119][120] For several years a member of the Australian journalists' union and still an honorary member,[121][122][123] he was awarded the Martha Gellhorn Prize for Journalism in June,[124][125] and the Walkley Award for Most Outstanding Contribution to Journalism in November,[126][127] having earlier won the Amnesty International UK Media Award (New Media) in 2009.[128]

POLITICAL ASYLUM AND LIFE AT THE ECUADORIAN EMBASSY

On 19 June 2012, Ecuadorian Foreign Minister Ricardo Patiño announced that Assange had applied for political asylum, that his government was considering the request, and that Assange was at the Ecuadorian embassy in London.[159][160][161][162]
Assange and his supporters state he is concerned not about any proceedings in Sweden as such, but believe that his deportation to Sweden could lead to politically motivated deportation to the United States, where he could face severe penalties, up to the death sentence, for his activities related to WikiLeaks.[4]

Ecuadoran Foreign Minister Ricardo Patiño met with Julian Assange in the Ecuadorian Embassy on 16 June 2013.

On 16 August 2012, Foreign Minister Patiño announced that Ecuador was granting Assange political asylum because of the threat represented by the United States secret investigation against him and several calls for assassination from many American politicians.[163][164][165][166] In its formal statement, Ecuador reasoned that "as a consequence of [Assange's] determined defense to freedom of expression and freedom of press... in any given moment, a situation may come where his life, safety or personal integrity will be in danger".[167] Latin American states expressed support for Ecuador.[168][169][170][171] Ecuadorian President Rafael Correa confirmed on 18 August that Assange could stay at the embassy indefinitely,[172][173][174] and the following day Assange gave his first speech from the balcony.[175][176][177][178] Assange's supporters forfeited £293,500 in bail[179] and sureties.[179][180] His home since then has been an office converted into a studio apartment, equipped with a bed, telephone, sun lamp, computer, shower, treadmill, and kitchenette.[181][182][183]

Just before Assange was granted asylum, the UK Government wrote to Foreign Minister Patiño stating that the police were entitled to enter the embassy and arrest Assange under UK law.[184] Patiño criticised what he said was an implied threat, stating that "such actions would be a blatant disregard of the Vienna Convention". Officers of the Metropolitan Police Service were stationed outside the building from June 2012 to October 2015 in order to arrest Assange for extradition and for breach of bail, should he leave the embassy. The police guard was withdrawn on grounds of cost in October 2015, but the police said they would still deploy "a number of overt and covert tactics to arrest him". The cost of the policing for the period was reported to have been £12.6 million.[185]

In April 2015, during a video conference to promote the documentary Terminal F about Edward Snowden, Bolivia's ambassador to Russia, María Luisa Ramos Urzagaste, accused Assange of putting the life of Bolivian president Evo Morales at risk by intentionally providing the United States with false rumours that Snowden was on the president's plane when it was forced to land in Vienna in July 2013. "It is possible that in this wide-ranging game that you began my president did not play a crucial role, but what you did was not important to my president, but it was to me and the citizens of our country. And I have faith that when you planned this game you took into consideration the consequences", the ambassador told Assange. Assange stated that the plan "was not completely honest, but we did consider that the final result would have justified our actions. We weren't expecting this outcome. The result was caused by the United States' intervention. We can only regret what happened."[186] Later, in an interview[187] with Democracy Now!, Assange explained the story of the grounding of Morales' plane, saying that after the United States cancelled Snowden's passport, WikiLeaks thought about other strategies to take him to Latin America, and they considered private presidential jets of those countries which offered support. The appointed jet was that of Venezuelan President Nicolás Maduro, but Assange stated that "our code language that we used deliberately swapped the presidential jet that we were considering for the Bolivian jet [...] and in some of our communications, we deliberately spoke about that on open lines to lawyers in the United States. And we didn't think much more of it. [...] We didn't think this was anything more than just distracting." Eventually, the plan was not pursued and, under Assange's advice, Snowden sought asylum in Russia.

Paris newspaper Le Monde, in its edition of 3 July 2015, published an open letter from Assange to French President François Hollande in which Assange urged the French government to grant him refugee status.[188] Assange wrote that "only France now has the ability to offer me the necessary protection against, and exclusively against, the political persecution that I am currently the object of."[189] In the letter Assange wrote, "By welcoming me, France would fulfill a humanitarian but also probably symbolic gesture, sending an encouragement to all journalists and whistleblowers ... Only France is now able to offer me the necessary protection ... France can, if it wishes, act."[188][189] In a statement issued by the Élysée Palace on 3 July 2015 in response to this letter, the French President said: "France cannot act on his request. The situation of Mr Assange does not present an immediate danger."[190]

On 4 July 2015, in response to the denial of asylum by France, a spokesman for Assange denied that Assange had actually "filed" a request for asylum in France. Speaking on behalf of Assange, Baltasar Garzón, head of his legal team, said that Assange had sent the open letter to French president François Hollande; but Assange had only expressed his willingness "to be hosted in France if and only if an initiative was taken by the competent authorities".[189]

On 16 August 2016, Assange's lawyer in the UK, John Jones, was found dead, according to the first reports after being hit by a train in an apparent suicide.[191] An inquest into his death found that the lawyer was accepted since March to a private psychiatric hospital with several issues of mental health, including bipolar disorder, and closed-circuit television cameras showed no-one was near him when he jumped before the train.[192] Coupled with the death of WikiLeaks lawyer Michael Ratner from cancer in May, the death of both lawyers in such a short time span sparked conspiracy theories, and a tweet by WikiLeaks on 21 August said that an inquest ruled it was not suicide. Some Twitter users took this to imply assassination, but the linked article explained that the inquest found culpability on the part of the hospital for letting Jones outside since suicide requires mental competence.[193]

The next day, on 22 August, a man scaled the embassy's walls, but was caught by the embassy's security.[194]

In September 2016, Assange said he would agree to U.S. prison in exchange for President Obama granting Chelsea Manning clemency.[195] Obama commuted Manning's sentence on 17 January 2017.[196] The next day, at his final presidential news conference, Obama stated, "I don't pay a lot of attention to Mr. Assange's tweets, so that wasn't a consideration in this instance."[197] The same day, Assange's U.S.-based attorney Barry Pollack asserted (without saying when or where) that Assange "had called for Chelsea Manning to receive clemency and be released immediately." Accordingly, Pollack maintained, the commutation — which specified Manning would be freed four months hence — did not meet Assange's conditions.[198] On 17 May 2017, Manning was released from prison.[199] Two days later, Assange emerged on the embassy's balcony and told a crowd that, despite no longer facing a Swedish sex investigation, he would remain inside the embassy in order to avoid extradition to the United States.[200]

On 17 October 2016, WikiLeaks announced that a "state party" had severed Assange's Internet connection at the Ecuadorian embassy.[201] The Ecuadorian government stated that it had "temporarily" severed Assange's Internet connection because of WikiLeaks' release of documents "impacting on the U.S. election campaign".[202] In an interview published on 29 December, Assange said, "The Internet has been returned".[203]

In the run-up to 2017 Ecuador's general elections, conservative candidate Guillermo Lasso promised that he "will cordially ask Senor Assange to leave" within 30 days of assuming office, should he be elected. The pro-business candidate said the country's London embassy "isn't a hotel" and that Ecuador is in no position to finance the Australian's stay there. After preliminary results in the second round of Ecuador's presidential election showed that Lasso is poised to lose – the WikiLeaks founder responded using the same language. "I cordially invite Lasso to leave Ecuador within 30 days (with or without his tax haven millions)," Assange tweeted, referring to the revelations made shortly before the vote.

On 6 June 2017, Assange tweeted his support for NSA leaker Reality Winner,[204] offering a $10,000 reward for information about a reporter for The Intercept who had allegedly helped the U.S. government to identify Winner as the leaker.[205] Assange posted on Twitter: "Reality Leight Winner is no Clapper or Petraeus with 'elite immunity'. She's a young woman against the wall for talking to the press."[206]

2016 US PRESIDENTIAL ELECTION

Criticism of Clinton and the Democratic Party

Assange wrote on WikiLeaks in February 2016: "I have had years of experience in dealing with Hillary Clinton and have read thousands of her cables. Hillary lacks judgement and will push the United States into endless, stupid wars which spread terrorism. ... she certainly should not become president of the United States."[216] On 25 July, following the Republican National Convention (RNC), during an interview by Amy Goodman, Assange said that choosing between Hillary Clinton and Donald Trump is like choosing between cholera or gonorrhea. "Personally, I would prefer neither."[217][218][219] WikiLeaks editor, Sarah Harrison, has stated that the site is not choosing which damaging publications to release, rather releasing information that is available to them.[220]

It was revealed in October 2017 that during the 2016 US Presidential election, Cambridge Analytica funder and substantial GOP donor Rebekah Mercer had proposed creating a searchable data base for Hillary Clinton emails in the public domain and then forwarded this suggestion to several people, including Cambridge Analytica CEO Alexander Nix, who personally emailed a request to Julian Assange for Clinton's emails.[221][222] Assange responded to the report by saying he denied Nix's request.[223]

Leaks

On 4 July 2016, during the Democratic Party presidential primaries, WikiLeaks hosted information and content of emails sent or received by candidate Hillary Clinton from her private email server when she was Secretary of State[224] as originally released by the State Department in February 2016, based on a FOIA request.

On 22 July 2016, WikiLeaks released emails and documents from the Democratic National Committee (DNC) seemingly presenting ways to undercut Bernie Sanders and showing apparent favouritism towards Clinton, leading to the resignation of party chairman Debbie Wasserman Schultz.[225][226] The New York Times reported that "Assange accused Mrs. Clinton of having been among those pushing to indict him..." and that he had timed the release to coincide with the 2016 Democratic National Convention.[227] In an interview with Robert Peston of ITV News Assange suggested that he saw Hillary Clinton as a personal foe.[217][228]

On 26 August 2016, Assange spoke to Fox News and said that Clinton was causing "hysteria about Russia" after the Democratic Party, along with a number of cybersecurity experts and cybersecurity firms, claimed that Russian intelligence had hacked the e-mails and leaked them to WikiLeaks.[229][230] This statement was repeated in the Russian media outlet RT.[231]

On 4 October 2016, in a WikiLeaks anniversary meeting in Berlin with Assange teleconferencing from his refuge in the Ecuador embassy in London, reporters spoke of a supposed promise to reveal further information against Hillary Clinton which would bring her candidacy down, calling this information "The October Surprise".[232] On 7 October, Assange posted a press release on WikiLeaks exposing over 2,000 emails from Clinton campaign chairman John Podesta.[233] The emails, ranging from 2007–2016, revealed excerpts of Clinton's paid Goldman Sachs speech in 2013.[234] In the emails, she explained her relationship to Wall Street and how she had previously represented the community: "even though I represented [people in finance] and did all I could to make sure they continued to prosper, I called for closing the carried interest loophole and addressing skyrocketing CEO pay. So when I raised early warnings about subprime mortgages and called for regulating derivatives and over complex financial products, I didn't get some big arguments, because people sort of said, no, that makes sense."[235][236]

According to Harvard political scientist Matthew Baum and College of the Canyons political scientist Phil Gussin, WikiLeaks strategically released e-mails related to the Clinton campaign whenever Clinton's lead expanded in the polls.[237] On the eve of the general presidential election, Assange wrote a press release addressing the criticism around publishing Clinton material on WikiLeaks."We publish material given to us if it is of political, diplomatic, historical or ethical importance and which has not been published elsewhere. When we have material that fulfills this criteria, we publish." He explains that the website received pertinent information related to the DNC leaks and Clinton political campaign, but never received any information on Trump, Jill Stein, or Gary Johnson's campaign, and therefore could not publish what they did not have.[238]

Assange has consistently denied any connection to or cooperation with Russia in relation to the leaks damaging to Clinton and the Democratic Party.[239][240][241]

NORTH KOREA

OFFICIAL OVERVIEW

North Korea, officially the Democratic People's Republic of Korea (abbreviated DPRK), is a country in East Asia constituting the northern part of the Korean Peninsula. Pyongyang is the nation's capital and largest city. To the north and northwest, the country is bordered by China and by Russia along the Amnok (known as the Yalu in China) and Tumen rivers;[13] it is bordered to the south by South Korea, with the heavily fortified Korean Demilitarized Zone (DMZ) separating the two. Nevertheless, North Korea, like its southern counterpart, claims to be the legitimate government of the entire peninsula.[14]

In 1910, Korea was annexed by Japan. After the Japanese surrender at the end of World War II in 1945, Korea was divided into two zones, with the north occupied by the Soviets and the south occupied by the Americans. Negotiations on reunification failed, and in 1948, separate governments were formed: the socialist Democratic People's Republic of Korea in the north, and the capitalist Republic of Korea in the south. An invasion initiated by North Korea led to the Korean War (1950–1953). The Korean Armistice Agreement brought about a ceasefire, but no peace treaty was signed.[15]

North Korea officially describes itself as a self-reliant, socialist state[16] and formally holds elections. Various media outlets have called it Stalinist,[25] particularly noting the elaborate cult of personality around Kim Il-sungand his family. The Workers' Party of Korea (WPK), led by a member of the ruling family,[26] holds power in the state and leads the Democratic Front for the Reunification of the Fatherland of which all political officers are required to be members.[27] Juche, an ideology of national self-reliance, was introduced into the constitution in 1972.[28][29] The means of production are owned by the state through state-run enterprises and collectivized farms. Most services such as healthcare, education, housing and food production are subsidized or state-funded.[30] From 1994 to 1998, North Korea suffered a famine that resulted in the deaths of between 240,000 and 420,000 people,[31] and the country continues to struggle with food production. A sizeable amount of the population is thought to suffer from malnutrition, parasite infestations and food and waterborne diseases. North Korea follows Songun, or "military-first" policy.[32] It is the country with the highest number of military and paramilitary personnel, with a total of 9,495,000 active, reserve and paramilitary personnel. Its active duty army of 1.21 million is the fourth largest in the world, after China, the United States and India.[33] It possesses nuclear weapons.[34][35] North Korea is an atheist state with no official religion, and public religion is discouraged.[36]Both North Korea and South Korea became members of the United Nations in 1991.[37]

International organizations have assessed that human rights violations in North Korea have no parallel in the contemporary world.[38][39][40] North Korea operates re-education and prison camps, akin to the gulag prisons of the Soviet Union. The concentration camps are used to segregate those seen as enemies of the state and punish them for alleged political misdemeanours or alleged misdemeanours of relatives as part of the "3 generations of punishment" policy instigated by state founder Kim Il-Sung. Prisoners are frequently subject to slave labour, malnutrition, torture, human experimentation, rape and arbitrary executions.

THE VATICAN – VATICAN CITY STATE
OFFICIAL OVERVIEW

VATICAN CITY STATE

Vatican City (/ˈvætɪkən ˈsɪti/ (🔊 listen); Italian: Città del Vaticano [tʃitˈta del vatiˈka:no]; Latin: Civitas Vaticana),[d] officially Vatican City State or State of Vatican City (Italian: Stato della Città del Vaticano;[e] Latin: Status Civitatis Vaticanae),[f] is a sovereign state located within the city of Rome. With an area of 44 hectares (110 acres), and a population of about 1,000,[3] it is the smallest state in the world by both area and population. However, formally it is not sovereign, with sovereignty being held by the Holy See.

It is an ecclesiastical[3] or sacerdotal-monarchical[7] state (a type of theocracy) ruled by the Bishop of Rome – the Pope. The highest state functionaries are all Catholic clergy of various national origins. Since the return of the popes from Avignon in 1377, they have generally resided at the Apostolic Palace within what is now Vatican City, although at times residing instead in the Quirinal Palace in Rome or elsewhere.

Vatican City is distinct from the Holy See (Latin: Sancta Sedes),[g] which dates back to early Christianity and is the main episcopal see of 1.2 billion Latin and Eastern Catholic adherents around the globe. The independent city-state, on the other hand, came into existence in 1929 by the Lateran Treaty between the Holy See and Italy, which spoke of it as a new creation,[8] not as a vestige of the much larger Papal States (756–1870), which had previously encompassed much of central Italy. According to the terms of the treaty, the Holy See has "full ownership, exclusive dominion, and sovereign authority and jurisdiction" over the city-state.[9]

Within Vatican City are religious and cultural sites such as St. Peter's Basilica, the Sistine Chapel and the Vatican Museums. They feature some of the world's most famous paintings and sculptures. The unique economy of Vatican City is supported financially by the sale of postage stamps and tourist mementos, fees for admission to museums, and the sale of publications.

VATICAN SECRET ARCHIVES

The Vatican Secret Archives (Latin: Archivum Secretum Apostolicum Vaticanum; Italian: Archivio Segreto Vaticano) is the central repository in the Vatican City for all of the acts promulgated by the Holy See. The Pope, as Sovereign of Vatican City and having primal incumbency, owns the archives until his death or resignation, with ownership passing to his successor. The archives also contain the state papers, correspondence, papal account books,[1] and many other documents which the church has accumulated over the centuries. In the 17th century, under the orders of Pope Paul V, the Secret Archives were separated from the Vatican Library, where scholars had some very limited access to them, and remained closed to outsiders until 1881, when Pope Leo XIII opened them to researchers, more than a thousand of whom now examine some of its documents each year.[2]

KEY (PAST) EVENTS

1765-1783 – AMERICAN REVOLUTION

OFFICIAL OVERVIEW

The American Revolution was a colonial revolt that took place between 1765 and 1783. The American Patriots in the Thirteen Colonies won independence from Great Britain, becoming the United States of America. They defeated the British in the American Revolutionary War in alliance with France and others.

Members of American colonial society argued the position of "no taxation without representation", starting with the Stamp Act Congress in 1765. They rejected the authority of the British Parliament to tax them because they lacked members in that governing body. Protests steadily escalated to the Boston Massacre in 1770 and the burning of the Gaspee in Rhode Island in 1772, followed by the Boston Tea Party in December 1773, during which Patriots destroyed a consignment of taxed tea. The British responded by closing Boston Harbor, then followed with a series of legislative acts which effectively rescinded Massachusetts Bay Colony's rights of self-government and caused the other colonies to rally behind Massachusetts. In late 1774, the Patriots set up their own alternative government to better coordinate their resistance efforts against Great Britain; other colonists preferred to remain aligned to the Crown and were known as Loyalists or Tories.

Tensions erupted into battle between Patriot militia and British regulars when the king's army attempted to capture and destroy Colonial military supplies at Lexington and Concord on April 19, 1775. The conflict then developed into a global war, during which the Patriots (and later their French, Spanish, and Dutch allies) fought the British and Loyalists in what became known as the American Revolutionary War (1775–83). Each of the thirteen colonies formed a Provincial Congress that assumed power from the old colonial governments and suppressed Loyalism, and from there they built a Continental Army under the leadership of General George Washington. The Continental Congress determined King George's rule to be tyrannical and infringing the colonists' rights as Englishmen, and they declared the colonies free and independent states on July 2, 1776. The Patriot leadership professed the political philosophies of liberalism and republicanism to reject monarchy and aristocracy, and they proclaimed that all men are created equal.

The Continental Army forced the redcoats out of Boston in March 1776, but that summer the British captured and held New York City and its strategic harbor for the duration of the war. The Royal Navy blockaded ports and captured other cities for brief periods, but they failed to defeat Washington's forces. The Patriots unsuccessfully attempted to invade Canada during the winter of 1775–76, but successfully captured a British army at the Battle of Saratoga in October 1777. France now entered the war as an ally of the United States with a large army and navy that threatened Britain itself. The war turned to the American South where the British under the leadership of Charles Cornwallis captured an army at Charleston, South Carolina in early 1780 but failed to enlist enough volunteers from Loyalist civilians to take effective control of the territory while fighting partisans. A combined American–French force captured a second British army at Yorktown in the fall of 1781, effectively ending the war in North America. The Treaty of Paris, signed September 3, 1783, formally ended the conflict, confirming the new nation's complete separation from the British Empire. The United States took possession of nearly all the territory east of the Mississippi River and south of the Great Lakes, with the British retaining control of Canada and Spain taking Florida.

Among the significant results of the revolution was the creation of a new Constitution of the United States. The new Constitution established a relatively strong federal national government that included an executive, a national judiciary, and a bicameral Congress that represented states in the Senate and the population in the House of Representatives.[1][2] The Revolution also resulted in the migration of around 60,000 Loyalists to other British territories, especially British North America (Canada).

MAY 1ST, 1776 – FOUNDATION OF THE ILLUMINATI – "BAVARIAN ILLUMINATI"

OFFICIAL OVERVIEW

The Illuminati (plural of Latin illuminatus, "enlightened") is a name given to several groups, both real and fictitious. Historically, the name usually refers to the Bavarian Illuminati, an Enlightenment-era secret society founded on 1 May 1776. The society's goals were to oppose superstition, obscurantism, religious influence over public life, and abuses of state power. "The order of the day," they wrote in their general statutes, "is to put an end to the machinations of the purveyors of injustice, to control them without dominating them."[1] The Illuminati—along with Freemasonry and other secret societies—were outlawed through edict by the Bavarian ruler Charles Theodore with the encouragement of the Roman Catholic Church, in 1784, 1785, 1787, and 1790.[2] In the several years following, the group was vilified by conservative and religious critics who claimed that they continued underground and were responsible for the French Revolution.

Many influential intellectuals and progressive politicians counted themselves as members, including Ferdinand of Brunswick and the diplomat Xavier von Zwack, who was the Order's second-in-command.[3] It attracted literary men such as Johann Wolfgang von Goethe and Johann Gottfried Herder and the reigning dukes of Gotha and Weimar.[4]

In subsequent use, "Illuminati" refers to various organisations which claim or are purported to have links to the original Bavarian Illuminati or similar secret societies, though these links are unsubstantiated. They are often alleged to conspire to control world affairs, by masterminding events and planting agents in government and corporations, in order to gain political power and influence and to establish a New World Order. Central to some of the most widely known and elaborate conspiracy theories, the Illuminati have been depicted as lurking in the shadows and pulling the strings and levers of power in dozens of novels, films, television shows, comics, video games, and music videos.

ADAM WEISHAUPT

Johann Adam Weishaupt ([ˈjoːhan ˈaːdam ˈvaɪs.haʊpt] 6 February 1748 – 18 November 1830)[1][2][3][4] was a German philosopher, professor, and founder of the Order of the Illuminati, a secret society.

EARLY LIFE

Adam Weishaupt was born on 6 February 1748 in Ingolstadt[1][5] in the Electorate of Bavaria. Weishaupt's father Johann Georg Weishaupt (1717–1753) died[5] when Adam was five years old. After his father's death he came under the tutelage of his godfather Johann Adam Freiherr von Ickstatt[6] who, like his father, was a professor of law at the University of Ingolstadt.[7] Ickstatt was a proponent of the philosophy of Christian Wolff and of the Enlightenment,[8] and he influenced the young Weishaupt with his rationalism. Weishaupt began his formal education at age seven[1] at a Jesuit school. He later enrolled at the University of Ingolstadt and graduated in 1768[9]at age 20 with a doctorate of law.[10] In 1772[11] he became a professor of law. The following year he married Afra Sausenhofer[12] of Eichstätt.

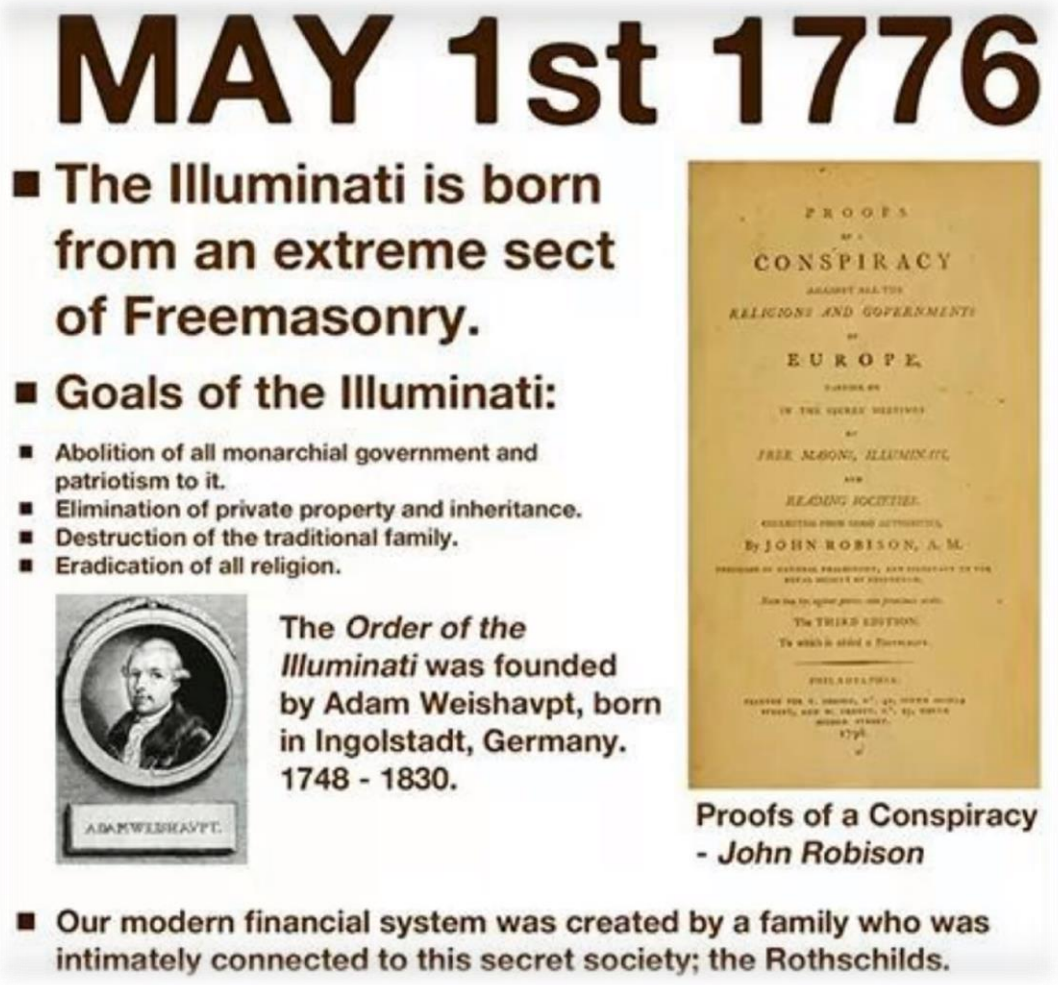

After Pope Clement XIV's suppression of the Society of Jesus in 1773, Weishaupt became a professor of canon law,[13] a position that was held exclusively by the Jesuits until that time. In 1775 Weishaupt was introduced[14] to the empirical philosophy of Johann Georg Heinrich Feder[15] of the University of Göttingen. Both Feder and Weishaupt would later become opponents of Kantian idealism.[16]

FOUNDER OF THE ILLUMINATI

> At a time, however, when there was no end of making game of and abusing secret societies, I planned to make use of this human foible for a real and worthy goal, for the benefit of people. I wished to do what the heads of the ecclesiastical and secular authorities ought to have done by virtue of their offices ...[17]

On 1 May 1776 Johann Adam Weishaupt founded the "Illuminati" in the Electorate of Bavaria. He adopted the name of "Brother Spartacus" within the order. Even Encyclopedia references vary on the goal of the order, such as New Advent saying the Order was not egalitarian or democratic internally, but sought to promote the doctrines of equality and freedom throughout society;[18] while others like Collier's have said the aim was to combat religion and foster rationalism in its place.[19]

The actual character of the society was an elaborate network of spies and counter-spies. Each isolated cell of initiates reported to a superior, whom they did not know: a party structure that was effectively adopted by some later groups.[18]

Weishaupt was initiated into the Masonic lodge "Theodor zum guten Rath", at Munich in 1777. His project of "illumination, enlightening the understanding by the sun of reason, which will dispel the clouds of superstition and of prejudice" was an unwelcome reform.[18] He used Freemasonry to recruit for his own quasi-masonic society, with the goal of "perfecting human nature" through re-education to achieve a communal state with nature, freed of government and organized religion. Presenting their own system as pure masonry, Weishaupt and Adolph Freiherr Knigge, who organised his ritual structure, greatly expanded the secret organisation.[18]

Contrary to Immanuel Kant's famous dictum that Enlightenment (and Weishaupt's Order was in some respects an expression of the Enlightenment Movement) was the passage by man out of his 'self-imposed immaturity' through daring to 'make use of his own reason, without the guidance of another,' Weishaupt's Order of Illuminati prescribed in great detail everything which the members had obediently to read and think, so that Dr. Wolfgang Riedel has commented that this approach to illumination or enlightenment constituted a degradation and twisting of the Kantian principle of Enlightenment.[20] Riedel writes: 'The independence of thought and judgement required by Kant ... was specifically prevented by the Order of the Illuminati's rules and regulations. Enlightenment takes place here, if it takes place at all, precisely under the direction of another, namely under that of the "Superiors" [of the Order].[21]

Weishaupt's radical rationalism and vocabulary were not likely to succeed. Writings that were intercepted in 1784 were interpreted as seditious, and the Society was banned by the government of Karl Theodor, Elector of Bavaria, in 1784. Weishaupt lost his position at the University of Ingolstadt and fled Bavaria.[18]

INTERNATIONAL WORKERS' DAY

International Workers' Day, also known as Labour Day or Workers' Day in some countries,[1][2] and often referred to as May Day,[3][4] is a celebration of labourers and the working classes that is promoted by the international labour movement which occurs every year on May Day (1 May), an ancient European spring festival.[5][6]

The date was chosen by a pan-national organization of socialist and communist political parties to commemorate the Haymarket affair, which occurred in Chicago on 4 May 1886.[6] The 1904 Sixth Conference of the Second International, called on "all Social Democratic Party organisations and trade unions of all countries to demonstrate energetically on the First of May for the legal establishment of the 8-hour day, for the class demands of the proletariat, and for universal peace."[7]

The first of May is a national public holiday in many countries worldwide, in most cases as "Labour Day", "International Workers' Day" or some similar name – although some countries celebrate a Labour Day on other dates significant to them, such as the United States, which celebrates Labour Day on the first Monday of September.

1789 – 1799 – THE FRENCH REVOLUTION
OFFICIAL OVERVIEW

The French Revolution (French: Révolution française [ʁevɔlysjɔ̃ fʁɑ̃sɛːz]) was a period of far-reaching social and political upheaval in France and its colonies that lasted from 1789 until 1799. It was partially carried forward by Napoleon during the later expansion of the French Empire. The Revolution overthrew the monarchy, established a republic, catalyzed violent periods of political turmoil, and finally culminated in a dictatorship under Napoleon who brought many of its principles to areas he conquered in Western Europe and beyond. Inspired by liberal and radical ideas, the Revolution profoundly altered the course of modern history, triggering the global decline of absolute monarchies while replacing them with republics and liberal democracies.[1] Through the Revolutionary Wars, it unleashed a wave of global conflicts that extended from the Caribbean to the Middle East. Historians widely regard the Revolution as one of the most important events in human history.[2][3][4]

The Storming of the Bastille, 14 July 1789

Date	5 May 1789 – 9 November 1799 (10 years, 6 months and 4 days)
Location	Kingdom of France
Outcome	• Abolition of the French monarchy • Establishment of a secular and democratic republic that became increasingly authoritarian and militaristic • Radical social change based on liberalism and other Enlightenment principles • Rise of Napoleon Bonaparte • Armed conflicts with other European countries

The causes of the French Revolution are complex and are still debated among historians. Following the Seven Years' War and the American Revolution,[5] the French government was deeply in debt. It attempted to restore its financial status through unpopular taxation schemes, which were heavily regressive. Years of bad harvests leading up to the Revolution also inflamed popular resentment of the privileges enjoyed by the aristocracy and the Catholic clergy of the established church. Demands for change were formulated in terms of Enlightenment ideals and contributed to the convocation of the Estates General in May 1789. During the first year of the Revolution, members of the Third Estate (commoners) took control, the Bastille was attacked in July, the Declaration of the Rights of Man and of the Citizen was passed in August, and a women's march on Versailles that forced the royal court back to Paris in October. A central event of the first stage, in August 1789, was the abolition of feudalism and the old rules and privileges left over from the Ancien Régime.

The next few years featured political struggles between various liberal assemblies and right-wing supporters of the monarchy intent on thwarting major reforms. The Republic was proclaimed in September 1792 after the French victory at Valmy. In a momentous event that led to international condemnation, Louis XVI was executed in January 1793.

External threats closely shaped the course of the Revolution. The Revolutionary Wars beginning in 1792 ultimately featured French victories that facilitated the conquest of the Italian Peninsula, the Low Countries and most territories west of the Rhine – achievements that had eluded previous French governments for centuries. Internally, popular agitation radicalised the Revolution significantly, culminating in the rise of Maximilien Robespierre and the Jacobins. The dictatorship imposed by the Committee of Public Safety during the Reign of Terror, from 1793 until 1794, established price controls on food and other items, abolished slavery in French colonies abroad, de-established the Catholic church (dechristianised society) and created a secular Republican calendar, religious leaders were expelled, and the borders of the new republic were secured from its enemies. Large numbers of civilians were executed by revolutionary tribunals during the Terror, with estimates ranging from 16,000 to 40,000, ranging from aristocrats to "suspected" enemies of the revolution.[6]

After the Thermidorian Reaction, an executive council known as the Directory assumed control of the French state in 1795. They suspended elections, repudiated debt - resulting in financial instability, persecuted the Catholic clergy, and made significant military conquests abroad.[7] Dogged by charges of corruption, the Directory collapsed in a coup led by Napoleon Bonaparte in 1799. Napoleon, who became the hero of the Revolution through his popular military campaigns, established the Consulate and later the First Empire, setting the stage for a wider array of global conflicts in the Napoleonic Wars.

The modern era has unfolded in the shadow of the French Revolution. Almost all future revolutionary movements looked back to the Revolution as their predecessor.[8] Its central phrases and cultural symbols, such as La Marseillaise and Liberté, fraternité, égalité, ou la mort, became the clarion call for other major upheavals in modern history, including the Russian Revolution over a century later.[9]

The values and institutions of the Revolution dominate French politics to this day. The Revolution resulted in the suppression of the feudal system, emancipation of the individual, a greater division of landed property, abolition of the privileges of noble birth, and nominal establishment of equality among men. The French Revolution differed from other revolutions in being not only national, for it intended to benefit all humanity.[10]

Globally, the Revolution accelerated the rise of republics and democracies. It became the focal point for the development of all modern political ideologies, leading to the spread of liberalism, radicalism, nationalism, and secularism, among many others. The Revolution also witnessed the birth of total war by organising the resources of France and the lives of its citizens towards the objective of military conquest.[11] Some of its central documents, such as the Declaration of the Rights of Man and of the Citizen, continued to inspire movements for abolitionism and universal suffrage in the next century.[12]

IMPACT ON THE UNITED STATES

The Revolution deeply polarised American politics, and this polarisation led to the creation of the First Party System. In 1793, as war broke out in Europe, the Republican Party led by Thomas Jefferson favoured France and pointed to the 1778 treaty that was still in effect. George Washington and his unanimous cabinet, including Jefferson, decided that the treaty did not bind the United States to enter the war. Washington proclaimed neutrality instead.[260] Under President John Adams, a Federalist, an undeclared naval war took place with France from 1798 until 1799, often called the "Quasi War". Jefferson became president in 1801, but was hostile to Napoleon as a dictator and emperor. However, the two entered negotiations over the Louisiana Territory and agreed to the Louisiana Purchase in 1803, an acquisition that substantially increased the size of the United States.

IMPACT ON SWITZERLAND

During the French Revolutionary Wars, the revolutionary armies marched eastward, enveloping Switzerland in their battles against Austria. In 1798, Switzerland was completely overrun by the French and was renamed the Helvetic Republic. The Helvetic Republic encountered severe economic and political problems. In 1798 the country became a battlefield of the Revolutionary Wars, culminating in the Battles of Zürich in 1799.

In 1803 Napoleon's Act of Mediation reestablished a Swiss Confederation that partially restored the sovereignty of the cantons, and the former tributary and allied territories of Aargau, Thurgau, Graubünden, St. Gallen, Vaudand Ticino became cantons with equal rights.

The Congress of Vienna of 1815 fully re-established Swiss independence and the European powers agreed to permanently recognise Swiss neutrality. At this time, the territory of Switzerland was increased for the last time, by the new cantons of Valais, Neuchâtel and Geneva.

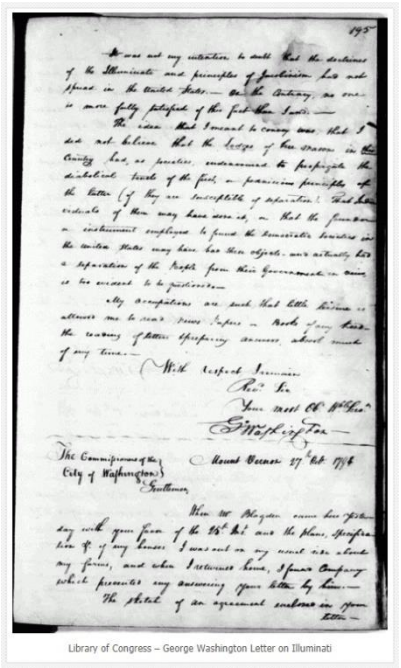

The Restoration, the time leading up to the Sonderbundskrieg, was marked with turmoil, and the rural population struggling against the yoke of the urban centres, for example in the Züriputsch of 1839.

1798 – GEORGE WASHINGTON WARNS OF ILLUMINATI

OFFICIAL OVERVIEW

The first President of the United States, George Washington believed that the Illuminati intended to separate the people from their government in his letters in the Library of Congress. The original manuscript is on the Library of Congress website here. Here is the text as written verbatim:

Library of Congress – George Washington Letter on Illuminati

Mount Vernon, October 24, 1798.

Revd Sir: I have your favor of the 17th. instant before me; and my only motive to trouble you with the receipt of this letter, is to explain, and correct a mistake which I perceive the hurry in which I am obliged, often, to write letters, have led you into.

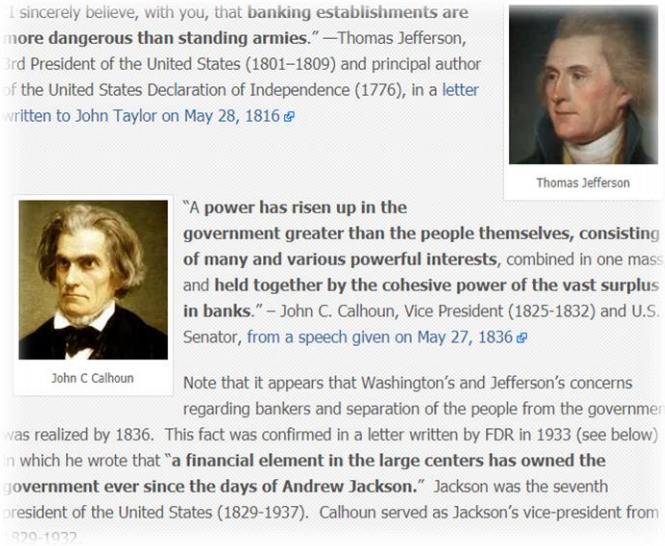

It was not my intention to doubt that, the Doctrines of the Illuminati*, and principles of Jacobinism had not spread in the United States. On the contrary, no one is more truly satisfied of this fact than I am.*

The idea that I meant to convey, was, that I did not believe that the Lodges of Free Masons in this Country had, as Societies, endeavoured to propagate the diabolical tenets of the first, or pernicious principles of the latter (if they are susceptible of seperation). That Individuals of them may have done it, or that the founder, or instrument employed to found, the Democratic Societies in the United States, may have had these objects; and actually had a seperation of the People from their Government in view, is too evident to be questioned*.*

My occupations are such, that but little leisure is allowed me to read News Papers, or Books of any kind; the reading of letters, and preparing answers, absorb much of my time.

Essentially what he is saying is that he does not doubt that the doctrines of the Bavarian Illuminati, as created by Adam Weishaupt in 1776, (which was used to infiltrate Freemasonry) had spread in the United States in fact he says, "On the contrary, no one is more truly satisfied of this fact than I am." Then he adds that it is possible that those Democratic Societies influenced or created by the Freemasons or Illluminati, "...actually had a separation of the People from their Government in view, is too evident to be questioned."

1815 – BATTLE OF WATERLOO AND THE ROTHSCHILDS
OFFICIAL OVERVIEW

BATTLE OF WATERLOO

The Battle of Waterloo was fought on Sunday, 18 June 1815, near Waterloo in present-day Belgium, then part of the United Kingdom of the Netherlands. A French army under the command of Napoleon Bonaparte was defeated by two of the armies of the Seventh Coalition: a British-led Allied army under the command of the Duke of Wellington, and a Prussian army under the command of Gebhard Leberecht von Blücher, Prince of Wahlstatt. The battle marked the end of the 26 year French Revolutionary Wars and Napoleonic Wars period.

Upon Napoleon's return to power in March 1815, many states that had opposed him formed the Seventh Coalition, and began to mobilize armies. Wellington and Blücher's armies were cantoned close to the north-eastern border of France. Napoleon chose to attack them separately in the hope of destroying them before they could join in a co-ordinated invasion of France with other members of the coalition. On 16 June Napoleon successfully attacked the bulk of the Prussian army at the Battle of Ligny with his main force, while at the same time a portion of the French army attacked an Allied army at the Battle of Quatre Bras. Despite holding his ground at Quatre Bras, the defeat of the Prussians forced Wellington to withdraw north to Waterloo on the 17th. Napoleon sent a third of his forces to pursue the Prussians, who had withdrawn parallel to Wellington in good order. This resulted in the separate and simultaneous Battle of Wavre with the Prussian rear-guard.

Upon learning that the Prussian army was able to support him, Wellington decided to offer battle on the Mont-Saint-Jean escarpment, across the Brussels road. Here he withstood repeated attacks by the French throughout the afternoon of the 18th, aided by the progressively arriving Prussians. In the evening Napoleon committed his last reserves, the French Imperial Guard, to a desperate final attack, which was narrowly beaten back. With the Prussians breaking through on the French right flank, Wellington's Anglo-allied army counter-attacked in the centre, and the French army was routed.

Waterloo was the decisive engagement of the Waterloo Campaign and Napoleon's last. According to Wellington, the battle was "the nearest-run thing you ever saw in your life".[10] Napoleon abdicated four days later, and on 7 July coalition forces entered Paris. The defeat at Waterloo ended Napoleon's rule as Emperor of the French, and marked the end of his Hundred Days return from exile. This ended the First French Empire, and set a chronological milestone between serial European wars and decades of relative peace.

The battlefield is located in the municipalities of Braine-l'Alleud and Lasne,[11] about 15 kilometres (9.3 mi) south of Brussels, and about 2 kilometres (1.2 mi) from the town of Waterloo. The site of the battlefield today is dominated by a large monument, the Lion's Mound. As this mound was constructed from earth taken from the battlefield itself, the contemporary topography of the battlefield near the mound has not been preserved.

AFTERMATH

Waterloo cost Wellington around 15,000 dead or wounded and Blücher some 7,000 (810 of which were suffered by just one unit: the 18th Regiment, which served in Bülow's 15th Brigade, had fought at both Frichermont and Plancenoit, and won 33 Iron Crosses).[178] Napoleon's losses were 24,000 to 26,000 killed or wounded and included 6,000 to 7,000 captured with an additional 15,000 deserting subsequent to the battle and over the following days.[7]

> 22 June. This morning I went to visit the field of battle, which is a little beyond the village of Waterloo, on the plateau of Mont-Saint-Jean; but on arrival there the sight was too horrible > to behold. I felt sick in the stomach and was obliged to return. The multitude of carcasses, the heaps of wounded men with mangled limbs unable to move, and perishing from not having their wounds dressed or from hunger, as the Allies were, of course, obliged to take their surgeons and waggons with them, formed a spectacle I shall never forget. The wounded, both of the Allies and the French, remain in an equally deplorable state.

> — Major W. E. Frye.[179]

At 10:30 on 19 June General Grouchy, still following his orders, defeated General Thielemann at Wavre and withdrew in good order—though at the cost of 33,000 French troops that never reached the Waterloo battlefield. Wellington sent his official dispatch describing the battle to England on 19 June 1815; it arrived in London on 21 June 1815 and was published as a London Gazette Extraordinary on 22 June.[180] Wellington, Blücher and other Coalition forces advanced upon Paris.

Napoleon announced his second abdication on 24 June 1815. In the final skirmish of the Napoleonic Wars, Marshal Davout, Napoleon's minister of war, was defeated by Blücher at Issy on 3 July 1815.[181] Allegedly, Napoleon tried to escape to North America, but the Royal Navy was blockading French ports to forestall such a move. He finally surrendered to Captain Frederick Maitland of HMS Bellerophon on 15 July. There was a campaign against French fortresses that still held out; Longwy capitulated on 13 September 1815, the last to do so. Louis XVIII was restored to the throne of France and Napoleon was exiled to Saint Helena, where he died in 1821. The Treaty of Paris was signed on 20 November 1815.[182]

> Royal Highness, – Exposed to the factions which divide my country, and to the enmity of the great Powers of Europe, I have terminated my political career; and I come, like Themistocles, to throw myself upon the hospitality (m'asseoir sur le foyer) of the British people. I claim from your Royal Highness the protections of the laws, and throw myself upon the most powerful, the most constant, and the most generous of my enemies.
> — Napoleon. (letter of surrender to the Prince Regent; translation).[183]

Maitland's 1st Foot Guards, who had defeated the Chasseurs of the Guard, were thought to have defeated the Grenadiers, although they had only faced Chasseurs of the newly raised Middle Guard.[184] They were nevertheless awarded the title of Grenadier Guards in recognition of their feat and adopted bearskins in the style of the Grenadiers. Britain's Household Cavalry likewise adopted the cuirass in 1821 in recognition of their success against their armoured French counterparts. The effectiveness of the lance was noted by all participants and this weapon subsequently became more widespread throughout Europe; the British converted their first light cavalry regiment to lancers in 1816, their uniforms, of Polish origin, were based on those of the Imperial Guard lancers.

Teeth of tens of thousands of dead soldiers were removed by surviving troops, locals or even scavengers who had travelled there from Britain, then used for making denture replacements in Britain and elsewhere.[185]

"WATERLOO LEGEND" – NATHAN DE ROTHSCHILD – THE PRICE OF CONSOLS

In the 19th century a story arose that accuses him of having used his early knowledge of victory at the Battle of Waterloo to speculate on the stock exchange and make a vast fortune.[11]

Frederic Morton relates the story thus:[12]

> To the Rothschilds, [England's] chief financial agents, Waterloo brought a many million pound scoop. ... a Rothschild agent ... jumped into a boat at Ostend ... Nathan Rothschild ... let his eye fly over the lead paragraphs. A moment later he was on his way to London (beating Wellington's envoy by many hours) to tell the government that Napoleon had been crushed: but his news was not believed, because the government had just heard of the English defeat at Quatre Bras. Then he proceeded to the Stock Exchange. Another man in his position would have sunk his work into consols [bank > annuities], already weak because of Quatre Bras. But this was Nathan Rothschild. He leaned against "his" pillar. He did not invest. He sold. He dumped consols. ... Consols dropped still more. "Rothschild knows," the whisper rippled through the 'Change. "Waterloo is lost." Nathan kept on selling, ... consols plummeted – until, a split second before it was too late, Nathan suddenly bought a giant parcel for a song. Moments afterwards the great news broke, to send consols soaring. We cannot guess the number of hopes and savings wiped out by this engineered panic.

Research by the Rothschild family[13] and others[14] has shown that this story originated in an anti-Semitic French pamphlet in 1846, was embellished by John Reeves in 1887 in The Rothschilds: the Financial Rulers of Nations, and then repeated in other popular accounts like that of Morton and the 1934 American film directed by Alfred L. Werker, The House of Rothschild. Many of the alleged facts are clearly untrue. For example, the size of the market in government bonds at the time could not have supported a gain of anything near one million pounds.

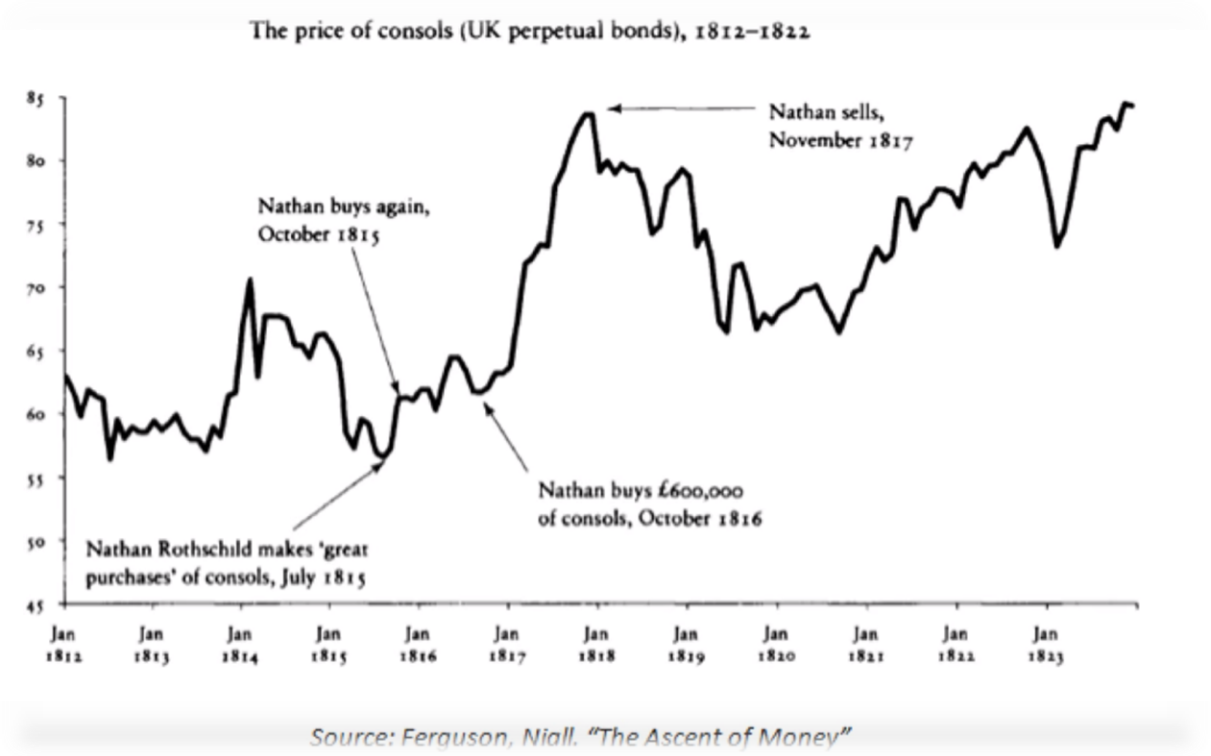

Historian Niall Ferguson agrees that the Rothschilds' couriers did get to London first and alerted the family to Napoleon's defeat, but argues that since the family had been banking on a protracted military campaign, the losses arising from the disruption to their business more than offset any short-term gains in bonds after Waterloo. Rothschild capital did soar, but over a much longer period: Nathan's breakthrough had been prior to Waterloo when he negotiated a deal to supply cash to Wellington's army. The family made huge profits over a number of years from this governmental financing by adopting a high-risk strategy involving exchange-rate transactions, bond-price speculations, and commissions.[15]

The Rothschild family archives confirm that, although "it is virtually part of English history that Nathan Mayer Rothschild made 'a million' or 'millions' out of his early information about the Battle of Waterloo, the evidence is slender". It notes the presence in the archives of a contemporary letter from a Rothschild courier, John Roworth, who wrote to Nathan: "I am informed by Commissary White that you have done well by the early information which you had of the Victory gained at Waterloo." The archivists suggest that this comment – the only hard evidence of Rothschild making a fortune going long on UK gilts – may, in fact, have been a reference to business dealings between Rothschild and the British Government, as suggested by Ferguson. (The contract for supplying cash to Wellington's army had been offered precisely because of Rothschild's international network. "The Government had already failed to establish a similar network of its own and had been let down by other more established London firms, and the Rothschild courier and communications network had gained a justifiable reputation for speed and reliability.") It confirms that the Rothschild couriers brought news of victory at Waterloo "a full 48 hours before the government's own riders brought the news to Downing Street", but the archive has no records to estimate the size of any gain Rothschild made. "But knowing the structure of the market we can conclude that however much Nathan made out of Waterloo, it must have been very considerably less than a million pounds, let alone 'millions'."[16]

It is also very commonly reported that the Rothschilds' advanced information was due to the speed of a prize coop of racing pigeons held by the family.[17][18][19] However, this is widely disputed and the Rothschild archive states that, although pigeon post "was one of the tools of success in the Rothschild business strategy during the period c.1820-1850, ... it is likely that a series of couriers on horseback brought the news" of Waterloo to Rothschild.[20]

More recently Brian Cathcart has refuted the claim that Rothschild was the first man in London to know of the victory at Waterloo.[21] He traces the earliest news to a dispatch Wellington sent via his messenger to Lord Bathurst, the Secretary of War, which was received on the evening of 21 June.[21]

Enter Nathan Rothschild – an adept smuggler of gold coins. This skill was critical because armies needed cash in foreign lands and hence, Britain engaged Nathan who did a fantastic job by stationing a brother in prominent locations across Europe. This was the first example of "arbitrage" – they used their network to take advantage of favorable exchange rates.

While it is believed that the Rothschild's made their fortune betting on Napoleons loss, the truth is a far cry. The moment they heard of war, Nathan Rothschild invested heavily into gold in preparation for a long war that would make him rich. The famous war, however, was incredibly short and this meant Nathan was left with mounds of gold nobody needed.

But, as his couriers were 2 days ahead of the official news of the victory, Nathan made a huge bet – he used his gold to buy British government bonds. Buoyed by the victory, the value of these bonds began to rise. Despite his brothers pestering him to sell, Nathan held on for 1 year – eventually selling them for a profit of 600 million pounds – $1 billion USD today – the greatest trade ever made.

This was a revolutionary time since bond markets lead to paper assets. Paper assets, in turn, meant that for the first time in human history, people could live anywhere and were not tied to the land they owned. Aristocracy suffered most because it was the first big shift in the owning of wealth and resulted in the coming of globalization as people began moving their assets easily.

Founded by Ernest Anton, the sixth duke of Saxe-Coburg-Saalfeld, it has been the royal house of several European monarchies. Agnatic branches currently reign in Belgium through the descendants of Leopold I and in the United Kingdom and the other Commonwealth realms through the descendants of Prince Albert. Due to anti-German sentiment in the United Kingdom during World War I, George V changed the name of his branch from "Saxe-Coburg and Gotha" to "Windsor" in 1917.[2] The same happened in 1920 in Belgium, where the name was changed to "der Belgen" (Dutch) or "des Belges" (French), meaning "of the Belgians".

HISTORY

The first duke of Saxe-Coburg and Gotha was Ernest I, who reigned from 1826 until his death in 1844. He had previously been Duke of Saxe-Coburg-Saalfeld (as Ernest III) from 1806 until the duchy was reorganized in 1826. Ernest's younger brother became King of the Belgians in 1831, and his descendants continue to serve as Belgian heads of state. Léopold's only daughter, Princess Charlotte of Belgium, was the consort of Maximilian I of Mexico, and she was known as Empress Carlota of Mexico in the 1860s. Ernest's nephew Ferdinand married Queen Maria II of Portugal, and their descendants ruled Portugal until that country became a republic in 1910.

Ernest I's second son, Prince Albert (1819–1861), married Queen Victoria in 1840, and thus is the progenitor of the United Kingdom's current royal family, called Windsor since 1917. In 1826, a cadet branch of the house inherited the Hungarian princely estate of the Kohárys, and converted to Roman Catholicism. Its members managed to marry an imperial princess of Brazil, an archduchess of Austria, a royal princess of "the French", a royal princess of Belgium and a royal princess of Saxony. A scion of this branch, also named Ferdinand, became ruling Prince, and then Tsar, of Bulgaria, and his descendants continued to reign there until 1946. The current head of the House of Bulgaria, the former Tsar Simeon II, who was deposed and exiled after World War II, goes by the name of Simeon Sakskoburggotski and served as Bulgaria's prime minister from 2001 to 2005.

The ducal house consisted of all male-line descendants of John Ernest IV, Duke of Saxe-Coburg-Saalfeld legitimately born of an equal marriage, males and females (the latter until their marriage), their wives in equal and authorised marriages, and their widows until remarriage. According to the House law of the Duchy of Saxe-Coburg and Gotha, the full title of the Duke was:

Wir, Ernst, Herzog zu Sachsen-Coburg und Gotha, Jülich, Cleve und Berg, auch Engern und Westphalen, Landgraf in Thüringen, Markgraf zu Meißen, gefürsteter Graf zu Henneberg, Graf zu der Mark und Ravensberg, Herr zu Ravenstein und Tonna usw.

We, Ernst, Duke of Saxe-Coburg and Gotha, Jülich, Cleves and Berg, also Angria and Westphalia, Landgrave in Thuringia, Margrave of Meissen, Princely Count of Henneberg, Count of the Mark and Ravensberg, Lord of Ravenstein and Tonna, et cetera.

There were two official residences, in Gotha and Coburg. Therefore, the whole ducal court, including the court theatre, had to move twice a year: from Gotha to Coburg for the summer and from Coburg to Gotha for the winter.[3] For the Court Theater, two almost identical buildings had to be built in 1840 in Gotha (destroyed in the Second World War) and Coburg (now the Coburg State Theater) and thereafter maintained at the same time. In addition to the residential castles, Friedenstein in Gotha and Ehrenburg in Coburg, the ducal family also used the Schloss Reinhardsbrunn in Gotha, as well as the Rosenau and Callenberg Castles in Coburg, and a hunting lodge (Greinburg Castle) in Grein, Austria.

1826-1827 – CAPT. WM. MORGAN'S EXPOSITION OF FREEMASONRY

OFFICIAL OVERVIEW

In 1826, William Morgan disappeared from the small town of Batavia, New York, after threatening to expose Freemasonry's "secrets" by publishing its rituals. His disappearance caused some Anti-masons to claim that he had been kidnapped and murdered by Masons. Morgan's disappearance sparked a series of protests against Freemasonry, which eventually spread to the political realm. Under the leadership of anti-Masonic Thurlow Weed, an Anti-Jacksonist movement became (since Jackson was a Mason) the Anti-Masonic Party. This political Party ran presidential candidates in 1828 and 1832, but by 1835 the party had disbanded everywhere except Pennsylvania.[citation needed]

After the 1826 disappearance of William Morgan, who was allegedly kidnapped by Freemasons[6] after publishing an exposé and then apparently killed,[7] the Morgan affair resulted in increased suspicion of Freemasonry and the formation of the Anti-Masonic Party. William A. Palmer of Vermont and Joseph Ritner of Pennsylvania were both elected governor of their respective states on anti-Masonic platforms.

John Quincy Adams, President of the United States during the Morgan affair, later declared, objecting to the oath of secrecy, in particular to keeping undefined secrets, and to the penalties for breaking the oath, "Masonry ought forever to be abolished. It is wrong - essentially wrong - a seed of evil which can never produce any good."[8]

Though few states passed laws directed at Freemasonry by name, laws regulating and restricting it were passed and many cases dealing with Freemasonry were seen in the courts.[9] Antimasonic legislation was passed in Vermont in 1833, including a provision by which the giving and willing taking of an unnecessary oath was made a crime. (Pub. Stat., sec. 5917),[10] and the state of New York enacted a Benevolent Orders Law to regulate such organizations.[9]

The Anti-Masonic Party, also known as the Anti-Masonic Movement, was the first third party in the United States.[4] It strongly opposed Freemasonry as a single-issue party and later aspired to become a major party by expanding its platform to take positions on other issues. After emerging as a political force in the late 1820s, most of the Anti-Masonic Party's members joined the Whig Party in the 1830s and the party disappeared after 1838.

The party was founded in the aftermath of the disappearance of William Morgan, a former Mason who had become a prominent critic of the organization. Many believed that the Masons had murdered Morgan for speaking out against Masonry and many churches and other groups condemned masonry. As many Masons were prominent businessmen and politicians, the backlash against the Masons was also a form of anti-elitism. Mass opposition to Masonry eventually coalesced into a political party. Before and during the presidency of John Quincy Adams, the United States endured a period of political realignment and the Anti-Masons emerged as an important third party alternative to Andrew Jackson's Democrats and Adams's National Republicans. In New York, the Anti-Masons supplanted the National Republicans as the primary opposition to the Democrats.

After experiencing unexpected success in the 1828 elections, the Anti-Masons began to adopt positions on other issues, most notably support for internal improvements and a protective tariff. Several Anti-Masons, including William A. Palmer and Joseph Ritner, won election to prominent positions. In states such as Pennsylvania and Rhode Island, the party controlled the balance of power in the state legislature and provided crucial support to candidates for the Senate. In 1831, the party held the first presidential nominating convention, a practice that was subsequently adopted by all major parties. The convention chose former Attorney General William Wirt as the party's standard bearer in the 1832 presidential election and Wirt won 7.8% of the popular vote and carried Vermont.

As the 1830s progressed, many of the Anti-Masonic Party's supporters joined the Whig Party, which sought to unite those opposed to the policies of President Jackson. The Anti-Masonic Party held a national convention in 1835, nominating William Henry Harrison, but a second convention announced that the party would not officially support a candidate. Harrison campaigned as a Whig in the 1836 presidential election and his relative success in the election encouraged further Anti-Masonic migration into the Whig Party. By 1840, the party had ceased to function as a national organization. In subsequent decades, former Anti-Masonic candidates and supporters such as Millard Fillmore, William H. Seward, Thurlow Weed and Thaddeus Stevens would become well-known members of the Whig Party.

1832 – ROTHSCHILD LOAN TO THE HOLY SEE

OFFICIAL OVERVIEW

The 1832 Rothschild loan to the Holy See was a financial loan arranged between the Rothschild family (in the persons of James Mayer de Rothschild and Carl Mayer von Rothschild) and the Holy See of the Catholic Churchduring the Pontificate of Pope Gregory XVI. The loan agreed on was for a sum of £400,000 (equivalent to £34.1 million in 2016).

Pope Gregory XVI oversaw the loan deal between the Rothschild family and the Holy See in 1832.

James de Rothschild negotiated the specific terms of the loan deal with Alessandro Torlonia.

HISTORY

In the aftermath of the Napoleonic Wars, there was a return to the politics of throne and altar[disambiguation needed] in Europe. Around this time, the Rothschild family of Jewish bankers from Frankfurt had arisen to a position of prominence as Court Jews. Scions of this family established themselves in several European power centers, including in Catholic countries, such as at Vienna in the Austrian Empire of Klemens von Metternich (for whom the Age of Metternich is named) and at Naples ruled the Bourbon-Two Sicilies monarchy. One of the states restored following the Congress of Vienna was the Papal States; temporal domain of the Holy See. However, in the years following restoration, the finances of the Holy See had declined substantially.

In 1831, Cardinal Bartolomeo Cappellari was elected Pope Gregory XVI. The Rothschilds were considered reliable in conservative circles in Europe, because they had worked with the Austrian government to stabilise finances after the Napoleonic Wars. They also shored up the Bourbons in the Kingdom of the Two Sicilies, which bordered the Papal States, by helping finance their suppression of two attempted revolutions.[1] That year there were rumours that Rome would reach out to the Rothschild family for a loan; the brothers James and Carl were initially wary, but both Austria (Metternich and Count Appony) and France (Casimir Pierre Périer and Horace François Bastien Sébastiani de La Porta) pressed the issue for Rome.[2] Initially, there was some resistance during the negotiations, particularly from the Roman government and Monsignor Antonio Garibaldi at Paris. However, Alessandro Torlonia (acting for the Holy See) held direct negotiations with James Mayer de Rothschild and thrashed out an agreement, signed on 30 November 1831. Thus in 1832 the Rothchilds agreement to provide a loan to the Holy See for £400,000 (equivalent to £34.1 million in 2016) came into force.[1]

James Mayer de Rothschild, head of the Rothschild banking family of France; Banque Rothschild; became the official Papal banker.[1] His Naples-based brother, Carl Mayer von Rothschild, geographically closer to Rome, went to meet with Pope Gregory XVI in January 1832. Here Carl Mayer was presented with the ribbon and star of the Sacred Military Constantinian Order of Saint George. It was customary for Catholics to show reverence for what they regarded as the Vicar of Christ, to kiss the Pope's feet when meeting him. As a Jew, Carl Mayer von Rothschild was permitted to simply kiss the ring on his hand instead.[1] This outraged Catholic critics of the deal at the time. It even garnered a reference centuries later, by Philippe de Rothschild, a direct descendant of James and Carl, in his autobiography Milady Vine (1984).

1848 – SWITZERLAND AS A FEDERAL STATE

OFFICIAL OVERVIEW

The rise of Switzerland as a federal state began on 12 September 1848, with the creation of a federal constitution in response to a 27-day civil war in Switzerland, the Sonderbundskrieg. The constitution, which was heavily influenced by the United States Constitution and the ideas of the French Revolution, was modified several times during the following decades and wholly replaced in 1999. The constitution represents the first time that the Swiss were governed by a strong central government instead of being simply a collection of independent cantons bound by treaties.

SONDERBUNDSKRIEG

In 1847, the period of Swiss history known as Restoration ended with the breaking out of a war between the conservative Roman Catholic and the liberal Protestant cantons (the Sonderbundskrieg). The conflict between the Catholic and Protestant cantons had existed since the Reformation; in the 19th century the Protestant population had a majority.[1] The Sonderbund (German: separate alliance) was concluded after the Radical Party had taken power in Switzerland and had, thanks to the Protestant majority of cantons, taken measures against the Catholic Church such as the closure of monasteries and convents in Aargau in 1841.[2] When Lucerne, in retaliation, recalled the Jesuits the same year, groups of armed radicals ("Freischärler") invaded the canton. This caused a revolt, mostly because rural cantons were strongholds of ultramontanism.

The Sonderbund was in violation of the Federal Treaty of 1815, §6, which expressly forbade such separate alliances, and the Radical majority in the Tagsatzung decided to dissolve the Sonderbund on 21 October 1847. The confederate army was raised against the members of the Sonderbund, composed of soldiers of all the other states except Neuchâtel and Appenzell Innerrhoden, which had stayed neutral. Ticino, while a Catholic canton, did not join the Sonderbund and fought with the Protestants.

The Federal Constitution of 1848

The war lasted for less than a month, causing fewer than 100 casualties. Apart from small riots,[3] this was the last armed conflict on Swiss territory.

At the end of the Sonderbund War, the Diet began to debate a new federal constitution drawn up by Johann Conrad Kern (1808–1888) of Thurgau and Henri Druey (1790–1855) of Vaud. In the summer of 1848 this constitution was accepted by fifteen and a half cantons, with Uri, Schwyz, Unterwalden, Valais, Ticino and Appenzell Innerrhoden opposing. The new constitution was declared on 12 September 1848.

1848-1849 – FIRST ITALIAN WAR OF INDEPENDENCE & GIUSEPPE MAZZINI
OFFICIAL OVERVIEW

GIUSEPPE MAZZINI

Giuseppe Mazzini (Italian pronunciation: [dʒuˈzɛppe matˈtsiːni]; 22 June 1805 – 10 March 1872) was an Italian politician, journalist, activist for the unification of Italy and spearhead of the Italian revolutionary movement. His efforts helped bring about the independent and unified Italy[1] in place of the several separate states, many dominated by foreign powers, that existed until the 19th century. He also helped define the modern European movement for popular democracy in a republican state.[2]

Mazzini's thoughts had a very considerable influence on the Italian and European republican movements, in the Constitution of Italy, about Europeanism, and, more nuanced, on many politicians of a later period: among them, men like U.S. President Woodrow Wilson and British Prime Minister David Lloyd George, but also post-colonial leaders such as Gandhi, Savarkar, Golda Meir, David Ben-Gurion, Jawaharlal Nehru and Sun Yat-sen.[3]

FAILED INSURECTIONS – 1832-1837

In 1831 Mazzini went to Marseille, where he became a popular figure among the Italian exiles. He was a frequent visitor to the apartment of Giuditta Bellerio Sidoli, a beautiful Modenesewidow who became his lover.[4] In August 1832 Giuditta Sidoli gave birth to a boy, almost certainly Mazzini's son, whom she named Joseph Démosthène Adolpe Aristide after members of the family of Démosthène Ollivier, with whom Mazzini was staying. The Olliviers took care of the child in June 1833 when Giuditta and Mazzini left for Switzerland. The child died in February 1835.[5]

Mazzini organized a new political society called Young Italy. Young Italy was a secret society formed to promote Italian unification: "One, free, independent, republican nation."[6] Mazzini believed that a popular uprising would create a unified Italy, and would touch off a European-wide revolutionary movement.[4] The group's motto was God and the People,[7] and its basic principle was the unification of the several states and kingdoms of the peninsula into a single republic as the only true foundation of Italian liberty. The new nation had to be: "One, Independent, Free Republic".

Mazzini's political activism met some success in Tuscany, Abruzzi, Sicily, Piedmont, and his native Liguria, especially among several military officers. Young Italy counted about 60,000 adherents in 1833, with branches in Genoaand other cities. In that year Mazzini first attempted insurrection, which would spread from Chambéry (then part of the Kingdom of Sardinia), Alessandria, Turin, and Genoa. However, the Savoy government discovered the plot before it could begin and many revolutionaries (including Vincenzo Gioberti) were arrested. The repression was ruthless: 12 participants were executed, while Mazzini's best friend and director of the Genoese section of the Giovine Italia, Jacopo Ruffini, killed himself. Mazzini was tried in absentia and sentenced to death.

Despite this setback (whose victims later created numerous doubts and psychological strife in Mazzini), he organized another uprising for the following year. A group of Italian exiles were to enter Piedmont from Switzerland and spread the revolution there, while Giuseppe Garibaldi, who had recently joined Young Italy, was to do the same from Genoa. However, the Piedmontese troops easily crushed the new attempt.

In the spring of 1834, while at Bern, Mazzini and a dozen refugees from Italy, Poland, and Germany founded a new association with the grandiose name of Young Europe. Its basic, and equally grandiose idea, was that, as the French Revolution of 1789 had enlarged the concept of individual liberty, another revolution would now be needed for national liberty; and his vision went further because he hoped that in the no doubt distant future free nations might combine to form a loosely federal Europe with some kind of federal assembly to regulate their common interests. [...] His intention was nothing less than to overturn the European settlement agreed in 1815 by the Congress of Vienna, which had reestablished an oppressive hegemony of a few great powers and blocked the emergence of smaller nations. [...] Mazzini hoped, but without much confidence, that his vision of a league or society of independent nations would be realized in his own lifetime. In practice Young Europe lacked the money and popular support for more than a short-term existence. Nevertheless he always remained faithful to the ideal of a united continent for which the creation of individual nations would be an indispensable preliminary.[8]

On 28 May 1834 Mazzini was arrested at Solothurn, and exiled from Switzerland. He moved to Paris, where he was again imprisoned on 5 July. He was released only after promising he would move to England. Mazzini, together with a few Italian friends, moved in January 1837 to live in London in very poor economic conditions.

THE 1849-49 REVOLTS

On 7 April 1848 Mazzini reached Milan, whose population had rebelled against the Austrian garrison and established a provisional government. The First Italian War of Independence, started by the Piedmontese king Charles Albertto exploit the favourable circumstances in Milan, turned into a total failure. Mazzini, who had never been popular in the city because he wanted Lombardy to become a republic instead of joining Piedmont, abandoned Milan. He joined Garibaldi's irregular force at Bergamo, moving to Switzerland with him.

On 9 February 1849 a republic was declared in Rome, with Pius IX already having been forced to flee to Gaeta the preceding November. On the same day the Republic was declared, Mazzini reached the city. He was appointed, together with Carlo Armellini and Aurelio Saffi, as a member of the "triumvirate" of the new republic on 29 March, becoming soon the true leader of the government and showing good administrative capabilities in social reforms. However, when the French troops called by the Pope made clear that the resistance of the Republican troops, led by Garibaldi, was in vain, on 12 July 1849, Mazzini set out for Marseille, from where he moved again to Switzerland.

FIRST ITALIAN WAR OF INDEPENDENCE

The First Italian War of Independence (Italian: Prima guerra d'indipendenza italiana) was part of the Risorgimento. It was fought by the Kingdom of Sardinia (Piedmont) and Italian volunteers against the Austrian Empire and other conservative states from 23 March 1848 to 22 August 1849 in the Italian peninsula.

The conflict was preceded by the outbreak of the Sicilian revolution of 1848 against the House of Bourbon-Two Sicilies. It was precipitated by riots in the cities of Milan (Five Days) and Venice, which rebelled from Austria and established their own governments.

The part of the conflict which was fought by King Charles Albert against Austria in northern Italy was a Royal war and consisted of two campaigns. In both campaigns, the Kingdom of Sardinia attacked the Austrian Empire and was defeated, losing the war as a result. The decisive events of the first and second campaigns were the battles at Custoza and Novara, respectively.

At the beginning of the royal war, the Kingdom of Sardinia was supported by the Papal States and the Kingdom of Two Sicilies, which then withdrew, having barely participated in the fighting at all. However, volunteers from the Papal and Neapolitan armies joined the other Italian volunteers and fought against Austria.

Alongside the royal war, revolutionary movements took place in various Italian states (Papal States, Tuscany, etc), part of the Revolutions of 1848 in the Italian states, which could not be reconciled with the Liberal ideals of Piedmont. Historiography treats these revolutions, as well as the Sicilian revolution of 23 March 1848, as a popular war, which also failed, ending in the restoration of traditional institutions and many rebels forced into exile.[4][5]

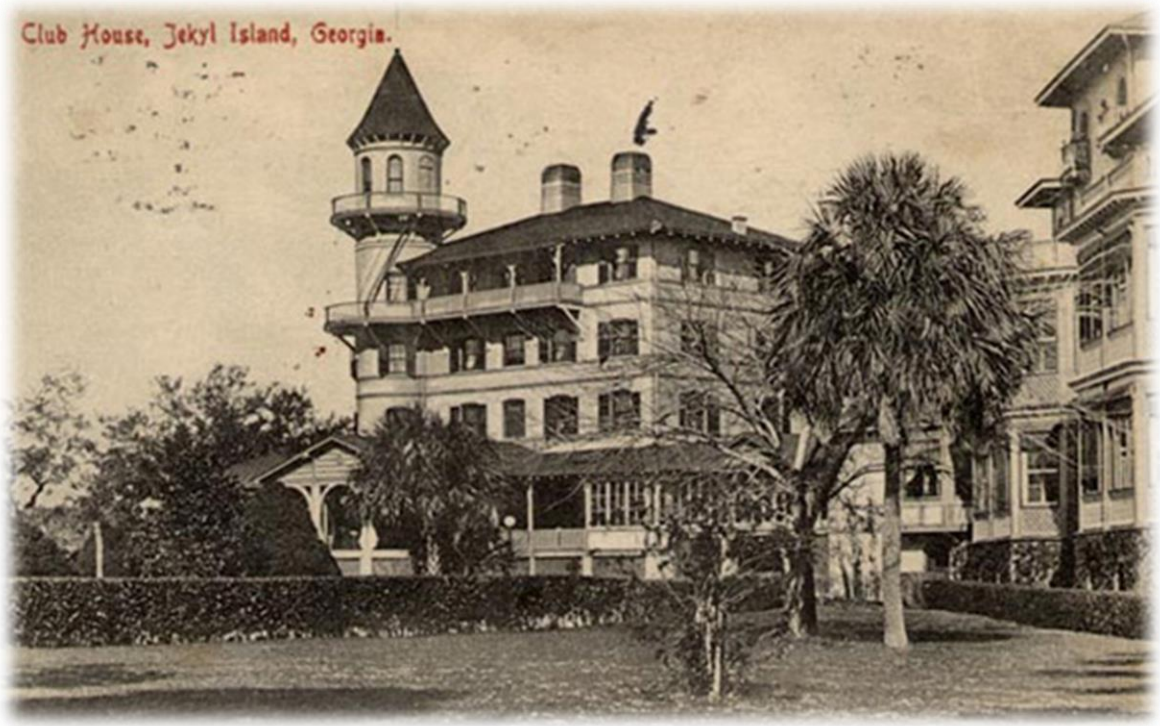

In the popular war with the internal revolutionaries, the Kingdom of Two Sicilies and the Papal States found themselves on the opposite side to the one they were on in the royal war, in which they initially supported Piedmont.

The popular war first gave prominence to the military commander, Giuseppe Garibaldi, but he was defeated, as was King Charles Albert, who abdicated at the end of the war in favour of his eldest son, Victor Emmanuel.

1910 – THE SECRET MEETING ON JEKYLL ISLAND

November 20, 1910–November 30, 1910

A SECRET GATHERING AT A SECLUDED ISLAND OFF THE COAST OF GEORGIA IN 1910 LAID THE FOUNDATIONS FOR THE FEDERAL RESERVE SYSTEM.

OFFICIAL OVERVIEW

By the end of their time on Jekyll Island, Aldrich and his colleagues had developed a plan for a Reserve Association of America, a single central bank with fifteen branches across the country. Each branch would be governed by boards of directors elected by the member banks in each district, with larger banks getting more votes. The branches would be responsible for holding the reserves of their member banks; issuing currency; discounting commercial paper; transferring balances between branches; and check clearing and collection. The national body would set discount rates for the system as a whole and buy and sell securities.

Shortly after returning home, Aldrich became ill and was unable to write the group's final report. So Vanderlip and Strong traveled to Washington to get the plan ready for Congress. Aldrich presented it to the National Monetary Commission in January 1911 without telling the commission members how the plan had been developed. A final report, along with legislative text, went to Congress a year later with a few minor changes, including naming the new institution the National Reserve Association.

In a letter accompanying the report, the Commission said it had created an institution "scientific in its method, and democratic in its control." But many people, especially Democrats, objected to the version of democracy it presented, which could have allowed the largest banks to exert outsized influence on the central bank's leadership. With a presidential election coming up, the Democrats made repudiating the Aldrich plan a part of their platform. When Woodrow Wilson won the presidency and the Democrats took control of both houses, Aldrich's National Reserve Association appeared to be shelved.

Leaders of the Democratic Party, however, also were interested in reform, including President Wilson and the chairs of the House and Senate Committees on Banking and Currency, Carter Glass and Robert Owen, respectively. Glass and Owen both introduced proposals to form a central banking system based on draft legislation supported by Wilson. Glass, Owen, and their staffs directly consulted with Warburg, whose technical expertise was respected by Democratic and Republican politicians alike. Wilson's chief political adviser, Col. E. M. House, met and corresponded with Warburg to discuss banking reform in general and the Glass and Owen plans in particular. So did William McAdoo and Henry Morgenthau, senior political and policy advisers to Wilson who served in his administration. Morgenthau assured Warburg "that he sent his copy of the [January 10, 1913] memorandum to President Wilson" (Warburg 1930, p. 90). Together, these ideas formed the basis of the final Federal Reserve Act, which Congress passed and the president signed in December 1913. The technical details of the final bill closely resembled those of the Aldrich Plan. The major differences were the political and decision-making structures, which was a compromise acceptable to both the progressive and populist wings of the Democratic Party.

Jekyll Island was the location of a meeting in November 1910 in which draft legislation was written to create the U.S. Federal Reserve. Following the Panic of 1907, banking reform became a major issue in the United States. Senator Nelson Aldrich (R-RI), chairman of the National Monetary Commission, went to Europe for almost two years to study that continent's banking systems. Upon his return, he brought together many of the country's leading financiers to Jekyll Island to discuss monetary policy and the banking system, an event which was the impetus for the creation of the Federal Reserve.

On the evening of November 22, 1910, Sen. Aldrich and A.P. Andrews (Assistant Secretary of the United States Treasury Department), Paul Warburg (a naturalized German representing Kuhn, Loeb & Co.), Frank A. Vanderlip (president of the National City Bank of New York), Henry P. Davison (senior partner of J. P. Morgan Company), Charles D. Norton (president of the Morgan-dominated First National Bank of New York), and Benjamin Strong (representing J. P. Morgan), together representing about one fourth the world's wealth at the time, left Hoboken, New Jersey on a train in complete secrecy, dropping their last names in favor of first names, or code names, so no one would discover who they all were. The excuse for such powerful representatives and wealth was to go on a duck hunting trip on Jekyll Island.

Forbes magazine founder Bertie Charles Forbes wrote several years later:

Picture a party of the nation's greatest bankers stealing out of New York on a private railroad car under cover of darkness, stealthily riding hundreds of miles South, embarking on a mysterious launch, sneaking onto an island deserted by all but a few servants, living there a full week under such rigid secrecy that the names of not one of them was once mentioned, lest the servants learn the identity and disclose to the world this strangest, most secret expedition in the history of American finance. I am not romancing; I am giving to the world, for the first time, the real story of how the famous Aldrich currency report, the foundation of our new currency system, was written... The utmost secrecy was enjoined upon all. The public must not glean a hint of what was to be done. Senator Aldrich notified each one to go quietly into a private car of which the railroad had received orders to draw up on an unfrequented platform. Off the party set. New York's ubiquitous reporters had been foiled... Nelson (Aldrich) had confided to Henry, Frank, Paul and Piatt that he was to keep them locked up at Jekyll Island, out of the rest of the world, until they had evolved and compiled a scientific currency system for the United States, the real birth of the present Federal Reserve System, the plan done on Jekyll Island in the conference with Paul, Frank and Henry... Warburg is the link that binds the Aldrich system and the present system together. He more than any one man has made the system possible as a working reality.[7]

RMS Titanic (/taɪˈtænɪk/) was a British passenger liner that sank in the North Atlantic Ocean in the early morning hours of 15 April 1912, after it collided with an iceberg during its maiden voyage from Southampton to New York City. There were an estimated 2,224 passengers and crew aboard the ship, and more than 1,500 died, making it one of the deadliest commercial peacetime maritime disasters in modern history. The RMS*Titanic* was the largest ship afloat at the time it entered service and was the second of three Olympic-class ocean liners operated by the White Star Line. The Titanic was built by the Harland and Wolff shipyard in Belfast. Thomas Andrews, her architect, died in the disaster.[2]

Fourteen years later, with uncanny similarities, the real ship Titanic re-created what happened in the novel: The two ships had almost identical names; both ships were designated unsinkable; both were touted as the largest ships at sea; both collided with icebergs in April; both resulted in many deaths due to a shortage of lifeboats. 1913 – FEDERAL RESERVE SYSTEM

RECOMMANDED LINKS

- SECRETS OF THE FEDERAL RESERVE – THE LONDON CONNECTION BY EUSTACE MULLINS.

OFFICIAL OVERVIEW

The Federal Reserve System (also known as the Federal Reserve or simply the Fed) is the central banking system of the United States. It was created on December 23, 1913, with the enactment of the Federal Reserve Act, after a series of financial panics (particularly the panic of 1907) led to the desire for central control of the monetary system in order to alleviate financial crises.[list 1] Over the years, events such as the Great Depression in the 1930s and the Great Recession during the 2000s have led to the expansion of the roles and responsibilities of the Federal Reserve System.[4][9][10]

The U.S. Congress established three key objectives for monetary policy in the Federal Reserve Act: maximizing employment, stabilizing prices, and moderating long-term interest rates.[11] The first two objectives are sometimes referred to as the Federal Reserve's dual mandate.[12] Its duties have expanded over the years, and as of 2009 also include supervising and regulating banks, maintaining the stability of the financial system and providing financial services to depository institutions, the U.S. government, and foreign official institutions.[13] The Fed conducts research into the economy and provides numerous publications, such as the Beige Book and the FRED database.

The Federal Reserve System is composed of several layers. It is governed by the presidentially appointed Board of Governors or Federal Reserve Board (FRB). Twelve regional Federal Reserve Banks, located in cities throughout the nation, oversee the privately owned U.S. member banks.[14][15][16] Nationally chartered commercial banks are required to hold stock in the Federal Reserve Bank of their region, which entitles them to elect some of their board members. The Federal Open Market Committee (FOMC) sets monetary policy; it consists of all seven members of the Board of Governors and the twelve regional bank presidents, though only five bank presidents vote at any given time: the president of the New York Fed and four others who rotate through one-year terms. There are also various advisory councils. Thus, the Federal Reserve System has both public and private components.[list 2] The structure is considered unique among central banks. It is also unusual in that the United States Department of the Treasury, an entity outside of the central bank, prints the currency used.[21]

Although an instrument of the U.S. Government, the Federal Reserve System considers itself "an independent central bank because its monetary policy decisions do not have to be approved by the President or anyone else in the executive or legislative branches of government, it does not receive funding appropriated by the Congress, and the terms of the members of the Board of Governors span multiple presidential and congressional terms."[22]The federal government sets the salaries of the board's seven governors. The federal government receives all the system's annual profits, after a statutory dividend of 6% on member banks' capital investment is paid, and an account surplus is maintained. In 2015, the Federal Reserve made a profit of $100.2 billion and transferred $97.7 billion to the U.S. Treasury.[23]

1914-1918 - WORLD WAR I

OFFICIAL OVERVIEW

World War I (WWI or WW1), also known as the First World War, the Great War, or the War to End All Wars,[5] was a global war originating in Europe that lasted from 28 July 1914 to 11 November 1918. More than 70 million military personnel, including 60 million Europeans, were mobilised in one of the largest wars in history.[6][7] Over nine million combatants and seven million civilians died as a result of the war (including the victims of a number of genocides), a casualty rate exacerbated by the belligerents' technological and industrial sophistication, and the tactical stalemate caused by gruelling trench warfare. It was one of the deadliest conflicts in history and precipitated major political change, including revolutions in many of the nations involved. Unresolved rivalries at the end of the conflict contributed to the start of the Second World War twenty-one years later.[8]

The war drew in all the world's economic great powers,[9] assembled in two opposing alliances: the Allies (based on the Triple Entente of the Russian Empire, the French Third Republic, and the United Kingdom of Great Britain and Ireland) versus the Central Powers of Germany and Austria-Hungary. Although Italy was a member of the Triple Alliance alongside Germany and Austria-Hungary, it did not join the Central Powers, as Austria-Hungary had taken the offensive against the terms of the alliance.[10] These alliances were reorganised and expanded as more nations entered the war: Italy, Japan and the United States joined the Allies, while the Ottoman Empire and Bulgaria joined the Central Powers.

The trigger for the war was the assassination of Archduke Franz Ferdinand of Austria, heir to the throne of Austria-Hungary, by Yugoslav nationalist Gavrilo Princip in Sarajevo on 28 June 1914. This set off a diplomatic crisis when Austria-Hungary delivered an ultimatum to the Kingdom of Serbia,[11][12] and entangled international alliances formed over the previous decades were invoked. Within weeks the major powers were at war, and the conflict soon spread around the world.

Russia was the first to order a partial mobilization of its armies on 24–25 July, and when on 28 July Austria-Hungary declared war on Serbia, Russia declared general mobilization on 30 July.[13] Germany presented an ultimatum to Russia to demobilise, and when this was refused, declared war on Russia on 1 August. Being outnumbered on the Eastern Front, Russia urged its Triple Entente ally France to open up a second front in the west. Over forty years earlier in 1870, the Franco-Prussian War had ended the Second French Empire and France had ceded the provinces of Alsace-Lorraine to a unified Germany. Bitterness over that defeat and the determination to retake Alsace-Lorraine made the acceptance of Russia's plea for help an easy choice, so France began full mobilisation on 1 August and, on 3 August, Germany declared war on France. The border between France and Germany was heavily fortified on both sides so, according to the Schlieffen Plan, Germany then invaded neutral Belgium and Luxembourg before moving towards France from the north, leading the United Kingdom to declare war on Germany on 4 August due to their violation of Belgian neutrality.[14][15] After the German march on Paris was halted in the Battle of the Marne, what became known as the Western Front settled into a battle of attrition, with a trench line that changed little until 1917. On the Eastern Front, the Russian army led a successful campaign against the Austro-Hungarians, but the Germans stopped its invasion of East Prussia in the battles of Tannenberg and the Masurian Lakes. In November 1914, the Ottoman Empire joined the Central Powers, opening fronts in the Caucasus, Mesopotamia and the Sinai. In 1915, Italy joined the Allies and Bulgaria joined the Central Powers; Romania joined the Allies in 1916, as did the United States in 1917.

The Russian government collapsed in March 1917, and a revolution in November followed by a further military defeat brought the Russians to terms with the Central Powers via the Treaty of Brest-Litovsk, which granted the Germans a significant victory. After a stunning German offensive along the Western Front in the spring of 1918, the Allies rallied and drove back the Germans in a series of successful offensives. On 4 November 1918, the Austro-Hungarian empire agreed to an armistice, and Germany, which had its own trouble with revolutionaries, agreed to an armistice on 11 November 1918, ending the war in victory for the Allies.

By the end of the war or soon after, the German Empire, Russian Empire, Austro-Hungarian Empire and the Ottoman Empire ceased to exist. National borders were redrawn, with 9 independent nations restored or created,[16] and Germany's colonieswere parceled out among the victors. During the Paris Peace Conference of 1919, the Big Four (Britain, France, the United States and Italy) imposed their terms in a series of treaties. The League of Nations was formed with the aim of preventing any repetition of such a conflict. This effort failed, and economic depression, renewed nationalism, weakened successor states, and feelings of humiliation (particularly in Germany) eventually contributed to the start of World War II.

SARAJEVO'S ASSASSINATION OF THE ARCHDUKE FRANZ FERDINAND OF AUSTRIA

On 28 June 1914, Austrian Archduke Franz Ferdinand visited the Bosnian capital, Sarajevo. A group of six assassins (Cvjetko Popović, Gavrilo Princip, Muhamed Mehmedbašić, Nedeljko Čabrinović, Trifko Grabež, Vaso Čubrilović) from the Yugoslavist group Mlada Bosna, supplied by the Serbian Black Hand, had gathered on the street where the Archduke's motorcade would pass, with the intention of assassinating him. Čabrinović threw a grenade at the car, but missed. Some nearby were injured by the blast, but Ferdinand's convoy carried on. The other assassins failed to act as the cars drove past them.

About an hour later, when Ferdinand was returning from a visit at the Sarajevo Hospital with those wounded in the assassination attempt, the convoy took a wrong turn into a street where, by coincidence, Princip stood. With a pistol, Princip shot and killed Ferdinand and his wife Sophie. The reaction among the people in Austria was mild, almost indifferent. As historian Zbyněk Zeman later wrote, "the event almost failed to make any impression whatsoever. On Sunday and Monday (28 and 29 June), the crowds in Vienna listened to music and drank wine, as if nothing had happened."[33][34] Nevertheless, the political impact of the murder of the heir to the throne was significant and has been described as a "9/11 effect", a terrorist event charged with historic meaning, transforming the political chemistry in Vienna.[35] And although they were not personally close, the Emperor Franz Joseph was profoundly shocked and upset.

1917 – RED OCTOBER – OCTOBER REVOLUTION – THE BOLSHEVIK REVOLUTION

OFFICIAL OVERVIEW

The October Revolution (Russian: Октя́брьская револю́ция, tr. Oktyabr'skaya revolyutsiya, IPA: [ɐkˈtʲabrʲskəjə rʲɪvɐˈlʲutsʲɪjə]), officially known in Soviet literature as the Great October Socialist Revolution (Вели́кая Октя́брьская социалисти́ческая револю́ция, Velikaya Oktyabr'skaya sotsialističeskaya revolyutsiya), and commonly referred to as Red October, the October Uprising, the Bolshevik Revolution,[2] or Bolshevik Coup was a revolution in Russia led by the Bolsheviks and Vladimir Lenin that was instrumental in the larger Russian Revolution of 1917. It took place with an armed insurrection in Petrograd on 25 October (7 November, New Style) 1917.

It followed and capitalized on the February Revolution of the same year, which overthrew the Tsarist autocracy and resulted in a provisional government after a transfer of power proclaimed by Grand Duke Michael, brother of Tsar Nicolas II, who declined to take power after the Tsar stepped down. During this time, urban workers began to organize into councils (Russian: Soviet) wherein revolutionaries criticized the provisional government and its actions. After the Congress of Soviets, now the governing body, had its second session, it elected members of the Bolsheviks and other leftist groups such as the Left Socialist Revolutionaries to important positions within the new state of affairs. This immediately initiated the establishment of the Russian Socialist Federative Soviet Republic, the world's first self-proclaimed socialist state. On 17 July 1918, the Tsar and his family were executed.

The revolution was led by the Bolsheviks, who used their influence in the Petrograd Soviet to organize the armed forces. Bolshevik Red Guards forces under the Military Revolutionary Committee began the occupation of government buildings on 7 November 1917 (New Style). The following day, the Winter Palace (the seat of the Provisional government located in Petrograd, then capital of Russia), was captured.

The long-awaited Constituent Assembly elections were held on 12 November 1917. In contrast to their majority in the Soviets, the Bolsheviks only won 175 seats in the 715-seat legislative body, coming in second behind the Socialist Revolutionary Party, which won 370 seats, although the SR Party no longer existed as a whole party by that time, as the Left SRs had gone into coalition with the Bolsheviks from October 1917 to March 1918. The Constituent Assembly was to first meet on 28 November 1917, but its convocation was delayed until 5 January 1918 by the Bolsheviks. On its first and only day in session, the Constituent Assembly came into conflict with the Soviets, and it rejected Soviet decrees on peace and land, resulting in the Constituent Assembly being dissolved the next day by order of the Congress of Soviets.[3]

As the revolution was not universally recognized, there followed the struggles of the Russian Civil War (1917–22) and the creation of the Soviet Union in 1922.

The Government Communications Headquarters (GCHQ) is an intelligence and security organisation responsible for providing signals intelligence (SIGINT) and information assurance to the government and armed forces of the United Kingdom.[3] Based in "The Doughnut" in the suburbs of Cheltenham, GCHQ is the responsibility of the country's Secretary of State for Foreign and Commonwealth Affairs, but it is not a part of the Foreign Office and its director ranks as a Permanent Secretary.

GCHQ was originally established after the First World War as the Government Code and Cypher School (GC&CS) and was known under that name until 1946. During the Second World War it was located at Bletchley Park, where it was famed for its role in the breaking of the German Enigma codes. Currently there are two main components of the GCHQ, the Composite Signals Organisation (CSO), which is responsible for gathering information, and the National Cyber Security Centre (NCSC), which is responsible for securing the UK's own communications. The Joint Technical Language Service (JTLS) is a small department and cross-government resource responsible for mainly technical language support and translation and interpreting services across government departments. It is co-located with GCHQ for administrative purposes.

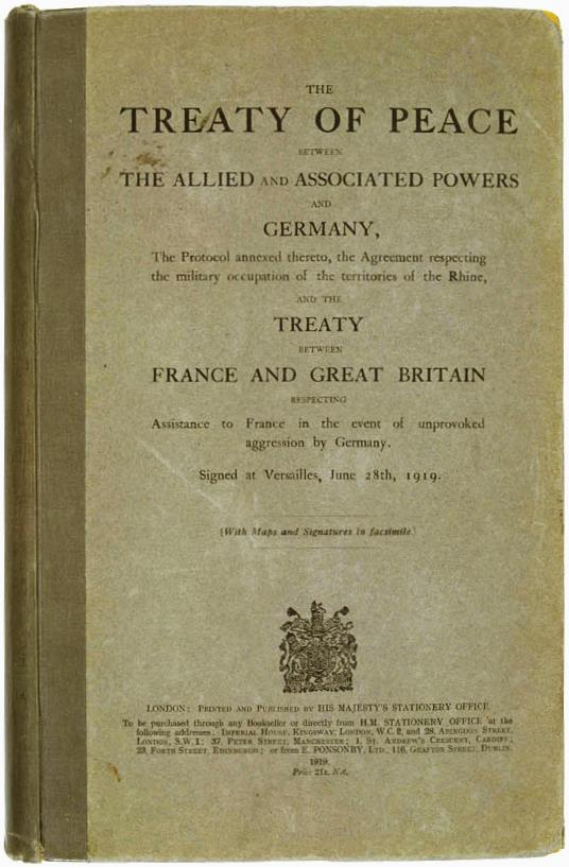

In 2013, GCHQ received considerable media attention when the former National Security Agency contractor Edward Snowden revealed that the agency was in the process of collecting all online and telephone data in the UK via the Tempora programme.[4]Snowden's revelations began a spate of ongoing disclosures of global surveillance.

AND THE TREATY
FRANCE AND GREAT BRITAIN RESPECTING
Assistance to France in the event of unprovoked aggression by Germany.

LONDON: PRINTED AND PUBLISHED BY HIS MAJESTY'S STATIONERY OFFICE.

The Treaty of Versailles (French: Traité de Versailles) was the most important of the peace treaties that brought World War I to an end. The Treaty ended the state of war between Germany and the Allied Powers. It was signed on 28 June 1919 in Versailles, exactly five years after the assassination of Archduke Franz Ferdinand. The other Central Powers on the German side of World War I signed separate treaties.[8] Although the armistice, signed on 11 November 1918, ended the actual fighting, it took six months of Allied negotiations at the Paris Peace Conference to conclude the peace treaty. The treaty was registered by the Secretariat of the League of Nations on 21 October 1919.

Of the many provisions in the treaty, one of the most important and controversial required "Germany [to] accept the responsibility of Germany and her allies for causing all the loss and damage" during the war (the other members of the Central Powers signed treaties containing similar articles). This article, Article 231, later became known as the War Guilt clause. The treaty forced Germany to disarm, make substantial territorial concessions, and pay reparations to certain countries that had formed the Entente powers. In 1921 the total cost of these reparations was assessed at 132 billion marks (then $31.4 billion or £6.6 billion, roughly equivalent to US $442 billion or UK £284 billion in 2018). At the time economists, notably John Maynard Keynes (a British delegate to the Paris Peace Conference), predicted that the treaty was too harsh—a "Carthaginian peace"—and said the reparations figure was excessive and counter-productive, views that, since then, have been the subject of ongoing debate by historians and economists from several countries. On the other hand, prominent figures on the Allied side such as French Marshal Ferdinand Foch criticized the treaty for treating Germany too leniently.

The result of these competing and sometimes conflicting goals among the victors was a compromise that left no one content: Germany was neither pacified nor conciliated, nor was it permanently weakened. The problems that arose from the treaty would lead to the Locarno Treaties, which improved relations between Germany and the other European powers, and the re-negotiation of the reparation system resulting in the Dawes Plan, the Young Plan, and the indefinite postponement of reparations at the Lausanne Conference of 1932.

Although it is often referred to as the "Versailles Conference", only the actual signing of the treaty took place at the historic palace. Most of the negotiations were in Paris, with the "Big Four" meetings taking place generally at the Quai d'Orsay.

1929-1941 – THE GREAT DEPRESSION (WORLDWIDE)

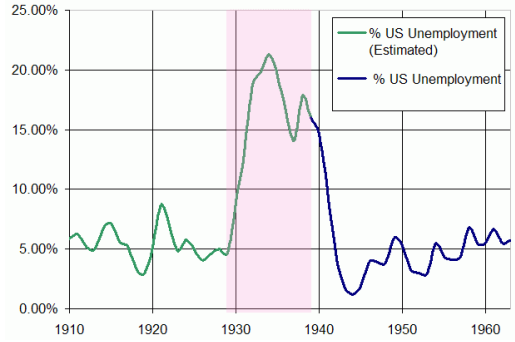

OFFICIAL OVERVIEW

The Great Depression was a severe worldwide economic depression that took place mostly during the 1930s, originating in the United States.[dubious – discuss][unbalanced opinion?] The timing of the Great Depression varied across nations; in most countries it started in 1929 and lasted until 1941.[1] It was the longest, deepest, and most widespread depression of the 20th century.[2] In the 21st century, the Great Depression is commonly used as an example of how far the world's economy can decline.[3]

The depression started in the United States after a major fall in stock prices that began around September 4, 1929, and became worldwide news with the stock market crash of October 29, 1929 (known as Black Tuesday). Between 1929 and 1932, worldwide gross domestic product (GDP) fell by an estimated 15%. By comparison, worldwide GDP fell by less than 1% from 2008 to 2009 during the Great Recession.[4] Some economies started to recover by the mid-1930s. However, in many countries, the negative effects of the Great Depression lasted until the beginning of World War II.[5]

The unemployment rate in the U.S. during 1910–60, with the years of the Great Depression (1929–39) highlighted

The Great Depression had devastating effects in countries both rich and poor. Personal income, tax revenue, profits and prices dropped, while international trade plunged by more than 50%. Unemployment in the U.S. rose to 25% and in some countries rose as high as 33%.[6]
Cities all around the world were hit hard, especially those dependent on heavy industry. Construction was virtually halted in many countries. Farming communities and rural areas suffered as crop prices fell by about 60%.[7][8][9] Facing plummeting demand with few alternative sources of jobs, areas dependent on primary sector industries such as mining and logging suffered the most.[10]

WORLDWAR II AND THE RECOVERY

The common view among economic historians is that the Great Depression ended with the advent of World War II. Many economists believe that government spending on the war caused or at least accelerated recovery from the Great Depression, though some consider that it did not play a very large role in the recovery. It did help in reducing unemployment.[11][99][100][101]

The rearmament policies leading up to World War II helped stimulate the economies of Europe in 1937–39. By 1937, unemployment in Britain had fallen to 1.5 million. The mobilization of manpower following the outbreak of war in 1939 ended unemployment.[102]

When the United States entered into the war in 1941, it finally eliminated the last effects from the Great Depression and brought the U.S. unemployment rate down below 10%.[103] In the U.S., massive war spending doubled economic growth rates, either masking the effects of the Depression or essentially ending the Depression. Businessmen ignored the mounting national debt and heavy new taxes, redoubling their efforts for greater output to take advantage of generous government contracts.[citation needed]

The Bank for International Settlements (BIS) is an international financial institution[2] owned by central banks which "fosters international monetary and financial cooperation and serves as a bank for central banks".[3] The BIS carries out its work through its meetings, programmes and through the Basel Process – hosting international groups pursuing global financial stability and facilitating their interaction. It also provides banking services, but only to central banks and other international organizations. It is based in Basel, Switzerland, with representative offices in Hong Kong and Mexico City.

HISTORY

The BIS was established in 1930 by an intergovernmental agreement between Germany, Belgium, France, the United Kingdom, Italy, Japan, the United States and Switzerland.[4][5] It opened its doors in Basel, Switzerland on 17 May 1930.

The BIS was originally intended to facilitate reparations imposed on Germany by the Treaty of Versailles after World War I, and to act as the trustee for the German Government International Loan (Young Loan) that was floated in 1930.[6] The need to establish a dedicated institution for this purpose was suggested in 1929 by the Young Committee, and was agreed to in August of that year at a conference at The Hague. A charter for the bank was drafted at the International Bankers Conference at Baden-Baden in November, and its charter was adopted at a second Hague Conference on January 20, 1930. According to the charter, shares in the bank could be held by individuals and non-governmental entities. However, the rights of voting and representation at the Bank's General Meeting were to be exercised exclusively by the central banks of the countries in which the shares had been initially subscribed. The BIS was constituted as having corporate existence in Switzerland on the basis of an agreement with Switzerland acting as headquarters state for the bank. It also enjoyed certain immunities in the contracting states (Brussels Protocol 1936).

The BIS's original task of facilitating World War I reparation payments quickly became obsolete. Reparation payments were first suspended (Hoover moratorium, June 1931) and then abolished altogether (Lausanne Agreement, July 1932). Instead, the BIS focused on its second statutory task, i.e. fostering the cooperation between its member central banks. It acted as a meeting forum for central banks and provided banking facilities to them. For instance, in the late 1930s, the BIS was instrumental in helping continental European central banks shipping out part of their gold reserves to London and New York.[7] At the same time, the BIS fell under the spell of the appeasement illusion. The most notorious incident in this context was the transfer of 23 tons of gold held by the BIS in London on behalf of the Czechoslovakian national bank to the German Reichsbank after Nazi Germany had invaded Czechoslovakia in March 1939.[8]

At the outbreak of World War II in September 1939, the BIS Board of Directors – on which the main European central banks were represented – decided that the Bank should remain open, but that, for the duration of hostilities, no meetings of the Board of Directors were to take place and that the Bank should maintain a neutral stance in the conduct of its business. However, as the war dragged on evidence mounted that the BIS conducted operations that were helpful to the Germans. Also, throughout the war, the BIS accepted gold from the Reichsbank in payment for prewar obligations linked to the Young Plan. This in spite of repeated Allied warnings not to accept gold or other assets from Nazi Germany. It later transpired that much of this gold had been looted (and subsequently remelted) by the Germans from the central banks in occupied territories. Some of this remelted gold included gold rings and other items from labor and prison camp victims.[9] Operations conducted by the BIS were viewed with increasing suspicion from London and Washington. The fact that top level German industrialists and advisors sat on the BIS board seemed to provide ample evidence of how the BIS might be used by Hitler throughout the war, with the help of American, British and French banks. Between 1933 and 1945 the BIS board of directors included Walther Funk, a prominent Nazi official, and Emil Puhl, as well as Hermann Schmitz, the director of IG Farben and Baron von Schroeder, the owner of the J.H. Stein Bank.[citation needed]

The 1944 Bretton Woods Conference recommended the "liquidation of the Bank for International Settlements at the earliest possible moment". This resulted in the BIS being the subject of a disagreement between the U.S. and British delegations. The liquidation of the bank was supported by other European delegates, as well as the United States (including Harry Dexter White and Henry Morgenthau, Secretary of the Treasury),[10] but opposed by John Maynard Keynes, head of the British delegation.
Fearing that the BIS would be dissolved, Keynes went to Morgenthau hoping to prevent the dissolution, or have it postponed, but the next day the dissolution of the BIS was approved. However, the liquidation of the bank was never actually undertaken.[11] In April 1945, the new U.S.

president Harry S. Truman and the British government suspended the dissolution, and the decision to liquidate the BIS was officially reversed in 1948.[12]

After World War II, the BIS retained an outspoken European focus. It acted as Agent for the European Payments Union (EPU, 1950–58), an intra-European clearing arrangement designed to help the European countries in restoring currency convertibility and free, multilateral trade.[13] During the 1960s – the heyday of the Bretton Woods fixed exchange rate system – the BIS once again became the locus for transatlantic monetary cooperation. It coordinated the central banks' Gold Pool and a number of currency support operations (e.g. Sterling Group Arrangements of 1966 and 1968). The Group of Ten (G10), including the main European economies, Canada, Japan and the United States, became the most prominent grouping.

With the end of the Bretton Woods system (1971–73) and the transition to floating exchange rates, financial stability issues came to the fore. The collapse of internationally active banks, such as Bankhaus Herstatt (1974), highlighted the need for improved banking supervision at an international level. The G10 Governors created the Basel Committee for Banking Supervision (BCBS), which remains active to this day. The BIS developed into a global meeting place for regulators and for developing international standards (Basel Concordat, Basel Capital Accord, Basel II and III). Through its member central banks, the BIS was actively involved in the resolution of the Latin American debt crisis (1982).

From 1964 until 1993, the BIS provided the secretariat for the Committee of Governors of the Central Banks of the Member States of the European Community (Committee of Governors).[14] This Committee had been created by European Council decision to improve monetary cooperation among the EC central banks. Likewise, the BIS in 1988–89 hosted most of the meetings of the Delors Committee (Committee for the Study of Economic and Monetary Union), which produced a blueprint for monetary unification subsequently adopted in the Maastricht Treaty (1992). In 1993, when the Committee of Governors was replaced by the European Monetary Institute (EMI – the precursor of the ECB), it moved location from Basel to Frankfurt, cutting its ties with the BIS.

In the 1990s–2000s, the BIS successfully globalised, breaking out of its traditional European core. This was reflected in a gradual increase in its membership (from 33 shareholding central bank members in 1995 to 60 in 2013, which together represent roughly 95% of global GDP), and also in the much more global composition of the BIS Board of Directors. In 1998, the BIS opened a Representative Office for Asia and the Pacific in the Hong Kong SAR. A BIS Representative Office for the Americas was established in 2002 in Mexico DF.

The BIS was originally owned by both central banks and private individuals, since the United States, Belgium and France had decided to sell all or some of the shares allocated to their central banks to private investors. BIS shares traded on stock markets, which made the bank an unusual organization: an international organization (in the technical sense of public international law), yet allowed for private shareholders. Many central banks had similarly started as such private institutions; for example, the Bank of England was privately owned until 1946. In more recent years the BIS has bought back its once publicly traded shares.[15] It is now wholly owned by BIS members (central banks) but still operates in the private market as a counterparty, asset manager and lender for central banks and international financial institutions.[16] Profits from its transactions are used, among other things, to fund the bank's other international activities.

ORANIZATION OF CENTRAL BANKS

As an organization of central banks, the BIS seeks to make monetary policy more predictable and transparent among its 60-member central banks, except in the case of Eurozone countries which forfeited the right to conduct monetary policy in order to implement the euro. While monetary policy is determined by most sovereign nations, it is subject to central and private banking scrutiny and potentially to speculation that affects foreign exchange rates and especially the fate of export economies. Failures to keep monetary policy in line with reality and make monetary reforms in time, preferably as a simultaneous policy among all 60 member banks and also involving the International Monetary Fund, have historically led to losses in the billions as banks try to maintain a policy using open market methods that have proven to be based on unrealistic assumptions.

Central banks do not unilaterally "set" rates, rather they set goals and intervene using their massive financial resources and regulatory powers to achieve monetary targets they set. One reason to coordinate policy closely is to ensure that this does not become too expensive and that opportunities for private arbitrage exploiting shifts in policy or difference in policy, are rare and quickly removed.

Two aspects of monetary policy have proven to be particularly sensitive, and the BIS therefore has two specific goals: to regulate capital adequacy and make reserve requirements transparent.

1939-1945 - WORLD WAR II

OFFICIAL OVERVIEW

World War II (often abbreviated to WWII or WW2), also known as the Second World War, was a global war that lasted from 1939 to 1945, although related conflicts began earlier. The vast majority of the world's countries—including all of the great powers—eventually formed two opposing military alliances: the Allies and the Axis. It was the most global war in history; it directly involved more than 100 million people from over 30 countries. In a state of total war, the major participants threw their entire economic, industrial, and scientific capabilities behind the war effort, blurring the distinction between civilian and military resources. World War II was the deadliest conflict in human history, marked by 50 to 85 million fatalities, most of which were civilians in the Soviet Union and China. It included massacres, the genocide of the Holocaust, strategic bombing, starvation, disease, and the first use of nuclear weapons in history.[1][2][3][4]

The Empire of Japan aimed to dominate Asia and the Pacific and was already at war with the Republic of China in 1937,[5] but the world war is generally said to have begun on 1 September 1939[6], the day of the invasion of Poland by Nazi Germanyand the subsequent declarations of war on Germany by France and the United Kingdom. From late 1939 to early 1941, in a series of campaigns and treaties, Germany conquered or controlled much of continental Europe, and formed the Axis alliance with Italy and Japan. Under the Molotov–Ribbentrop Pact of August 1939, Germany and the Soviet Union partitioned and annexed territories of their European neighbours, Poland, Finland, Romania and the Baltic states. The war continued primarily between the European Axis powers and the coalition of the United Kingdom and the British Commonwealth, with campaigns including the North Africa and East Africa campaigns, the aerial Battle of Britain, the Blitz bombing campaign, and the Balkan Campaign, as well as the long-running Battle of the Atlantic. On 22 June 1941, the European Axis powers launched an invasion of the Soviet Union, opening the largest land theatre of war in history, which trapped the major part of the Axis military forces into a war of attrition. In December 1941, Japan attacked the United States and European colonies in the Pacific Ocean, and quickly conquered much of the Western Pacific.

The Axis advance halted in 1942 when Japan lost the critical Battle of Midway, and Germany and Italy were defeated in North Africa and then, decisively, at Stalingrad in the Soviet Union. In 1943, with a series of German defeats on the Eastern Front, the Allied invasion of Sicily and the Allied invasion of Italy which brought about Italian surrender, and Allied victories in the Pacific, the Axis lost the initiative and undertook strategic retreat on all fronts. In 1944, the Western Allies invaded German-occupied France, while the Soviet Union regained all of its territorial losses and invaded Germany and its allies. During 1944 and 1945 the Japanese suffered major reverses in mainland Asia in South Central China and Burma, while the Allies crippled the Japanese Navy and captured key Western Pacific islands.

The war in Europe concluded with an invasion of Germany by the Western Allies and the Soviet Union, culminating in the capture of Berlin by Soviet troops, the suicide of Adolf Hitler and the subsequent German unconditional surrender on 8 May 1945. Following the Potsdam Declaration by the Allies on 26 July 1945 and the refusal of Japan to surrender under its terms, the United States dropped atomic bombs on the Japanese cities of Hiroshima and Nagasaki on 6 and 9 August respectively. With an invasion of the Japanese archipelago imminent, the possibility of additional atomic bombings and the Soviet invasion of Manchuria, Japan formally surrendered on 2 September 1945. Thus ended the war in Asia, cementing the total victory of the Allies.

World War II changed the political alignment and social structure of the world. The United Nations (UN) was established to foster international co-operation and prevent future conflicts. The victorious great powers—China, France, the Soviet Union, the United Kingdom, and the United States—became the permanent members of the United Nations Security Council.[7] The Soviet Union and the United States emerged as rival superpowers, setting the stage for the Cold War, which lasted for the next 46 years. Meanwhile, the influence of European great powers waned, while the decolonisation of Africa and Asia began. Most countries whose industries had been damaged moved towards economic recovery. Political integration, especially in Europe, emerged as an effort to end pre-war enmities and to create a common identity.[8]

UK ROYAL FAMILES TIES – WINDSOR, EDWARD VIII

In October 1937, the Duke and Duchess visited Germany, against the advice of the British government, and met Adolf Hitler at his Berghof retreat in Bavaria. The visit was much publicised by the German media. During the visit the Duke gave full Nazi salutes.[82] In Germany, "they were treated like royalty ... members of the aristocracy would bow and curtsy towards her, and she was treated with all the dignity and status that the duke always wanted," according to royal biographer Andrew Morton.[83]

The former Austrian ambassador, Count Albert von Mensdorff-Pouilly-Dietrichstein, who was also a second cousin once removed and friend of George V, believed that Edward favoured German fascism as a bulwark against communism, and even that he initially favoured an alliance with Germany.[84] According to the Duke of Windsor, the experience of "the unending scenes of horror"[85] during the First World War led him to support appeasement. Hitler considered Edward to be friendly towards Nazi Germany and thought that Anglo-German relations could have been improved through Edward if it were not for the abdication. Albert Speer quoted Hitler directly: "I am certain through him permanent friendly relations could have been achieved. If he had stayed, everything would have been different. His abdication was a severe loss for us."[86]

The Duke and Duchess settled in France. In May 1939, the Duke was commissioned by NBC to give a radio broadcast[87] (his first since abdicating) during a visit to the battlefields of Verdun. In it he appealed for peace, saying "I am deeply conscious of the presence of the great company of the dead, and I am convinced that could they make their voices heard they would be with me in what I am about to say. I speak simply as a soldier of the Last War whose most earnest prayer it is that such cruel and destructive madness shall never again overtake mankind. There is no land whose people want war." The broadcast was heard across the world by millions.[88][89] It was widely seen as supporting appeasement,[90] and the BBC refused to broadcast it.[87] It was broadcast outside the United States on shortwave radio[91] and was reported in full by British broadsheet newspapers.[92]

On the outbreak of the Second World War in September 1939, the Duke and Duchess were brought back to Britain by Louis Mountbatten on board HMS Kelly, and Edward, although an honorary field marshal, was made a major-general attached to the British Military Mission in France.[11] In February 1940, the German ambassador in The Hague, Count Julius von Zech-Burkersroda, claimed that the Duke had leaked the Allied war plans for the defence of Belgium,[93] which the Duke later denied.[94] When Germany invaded the north of France in May 1940, the Windsors fled south, first to Biarritz, then in June to Spain. In July the pair moved to Lisbon, Portugal, where they lived at first in the home of Ricardo Espírito Santo, a Portuguese banker with both British and German contacts.[95] Under the code name Operation Willi, Nazi agents, principally Walter Schellenberg, plotted unsuccessfully to persuade the Duke to leave Portugal and return to Spain, kidnapping him if necessary.[96] Lord Caldecote wrote a warning to Winston Churchill: "[the Duke] is well-known to be pro-Nazi and he may become a centre of intrigue."[97] Churchill threatened the Duke with a court-martial if he did not return to British soil.[98]

The Duke and Duchess of Windsor in Cascais, on the Portuguese Riviera, 1940

In July 1940, Edward was appointed Governor of the Bahamas. The Duke and Duchess left Lisbon on 1 August aboard the American Export Lines steamship Excalibur, which was specially diverted from its usual direct course to New York City so that they could be dropped off at Bermuda on the 9th.[99] They left Bermuda for Nassau on the Canadian steamship Lady Somers on 15 August, arriving two days later.[100] The Duke did not enjoy being governor and referred to the islands as "a third-class British colony".[101] The British Foreign Office strenuously objected when the Duke and Duchess planned to cruise aboard a yacht belonging to a Swedish magnate, Axel Wenner-Gren, whom British and American intelligence wrongly believed to be a close friend of Luftwaffe commander Hermann Göring.[102] The Duke was praised for his efforts to combat poverty on the islands, although he was as contemptuous of the Bahamians as he was of most non-white peoples of the Empire. He said of Étienne Dupuch, the editor of the Nassau Daily Tribune: "It must be remembered that Dupuch is more than half Negro, and due to the peculiar mentality of this Race, they seem unable to rise to prominence without losing their equilibrium."[103] He was praised, even by Dupuch, for his resolution of civil unrest over low wages in Nassau in 1942, even though he blamed the trouble on "mischief makers – communists" and "men of Central European Jewish descent, who had secured jobs as a pretext for obtaining a deferment of draft".[104] He resigned from the post on 16 March 1945.[11]

Many historians have suggested that Hitler was prepared to reinstate Edward as king in the hope of establishing a fascist Britain.[105] It is widely believed that the Duke and Duchess sympathised with fascism before and during the Second World War, and were moved to the Bahamas to minimise their opportunities to act on those feelings. In 1940 he said: "In the past 10 years Germany has totally reorganised the order of its society ... Countries which were unwilling to accept such a reorganisation of society and its concomitant sacrifices should direct their policies accordingly."[106] During the occupation of France, the Duke asked the German forces to place guards at his Paris and Riviera homes; they did so.[107] In December 1940, the Duke gave Fulton Oursler of Liberty magazine an interview at Government House in Nassau. The interview was published on 22 March 1941 and in it the Duke was reported to have said that "Hitler was the right and logical leader of the German people" and that the time was coming for President Franklin D. Roosevelt to mediate a peace settlement. Oursler conveyed the content of the interview to the President in a private meeting at the White House on 23 December 1940.[108] The Duke protested that he had been misquoted and misinterpreted.[109]

The Allies became sufficiently disturbed by German plots revolving around the Duke that President Roosevelt ordered covert surveillance of the Duke and Duchess when they visited Palm Beach, Florida, in April 1941. Duke Carl Alexander of Württemberg (then a monk in an American monastery) had told the Federal Bureau of Investigation that the Duchess had slept with the German ambassador in London, Joachim von Ribbentrop, in 1936, had remained in constant contact with him, and had continued to leak secrets.[110]
Author Charles Higham claimed that Anthony Blunt, an MI5 agent and Soviet spy, acting on orders from the British royal family, made a successful secret trip to Schloss Friedrichshof in Germany towards the end of the war to retrieve sensitive letters between the Duke of Windsor and Adolf Hitler and other leading Nazis.[111] What is certain is that George VI sent the Royal Librarian, Owen Morshead, accompanied by Blunt, then working part-time in the Royal Library as well as for British intelligence, to Friedrichshof in March 1945 to secure papers relating to the German Empress Victoria, the eldest child of Queen Victoria. Looters had stolen part of the castle's archive, including surviving letters between daughter and mother, as well as other valuables, some of which were recovered in Chicago after the war. The papers rescued by Morshead and Blunt, and those returned by the American authorities from Chicago, were deposited in the Royal Archives.[112]

After the war, the Duke admitted in his memoirs that he admired the Germans, but he denied being pro-Nazi. Of Hitler he wrote: "[the] Führer struck me as a somewhat ridiculous figure, with his theatrical posturings and his bombastic pretensions."[113] In the 1950s, journalist Frank Giles heard the Duke blame British Foreign Secretary Anthony Eden for helping to "precipitate the war through his treatment of Mussolini ... that's what [Eden] did, he helped to bring on the war ... and of course Roosevelt and the Jews".[114] During the 1960s the Duke said privately to a friend, Patrick Balfour, 3rd Baron Kinross, "I never thought Hitler was such a bad chap."[115]

• Atlantic Charter	14 August 1941
• BRUSA Agreement	17 May 1943

The Five Eyes, often abbreviated as FVEY, is an intelligence alliance comprising Australia, Canada, New Zealand, the United Kingdom and the United States. These countries, with a similar common law legal inheritance, are parties to the multilateral UKUSA Agreement, a treaty for joint cooperation in signals intelligence.[1][2][3]

The origins of the FVEY can be traced back to the post-World War II period, when the Atlantic Charter was issued by the Allies to lay out their goals for a post-war world. During the course of the Cold War, the ECHELON surveillance system was initially developed by the FVEY to monitor the communications of the former Soviet Union and the Eastern Bloc, although it is now used to monitor billions of private communications worldwide.[4][5]

In the late 1990s, the existence of ECHELON was disclosed to the public, triggering a major debate in the European Parliament and, to a lesser extent, the United States Congress. As part of efforts in the ongoing War on Terror since 2001, the FVEY further expanded their surveillance capabilities, with much emphasis placed on monitoring the World Wide Web. The former NSA contractor Edward Snowden described the Five Eyes as a "supra-national intelligence organisation that doesn't answer to the known laws of its own countries".[6] Documents leaked by Snowden in 2013 revealed that the FVEY have been spying on one another's citizens and sharing the collected information with each other in order to circumvent restrictive domestic regulations on surveillance of citizens.[7][8][9][10]
In spite of continued controversy over its methods, the Five Eyes relationship remains one of the most comprehensive known espionage alliances in history.[11]

ORIGINS (1940S-1950S)

The origins of the Five Eyes alliance can be traced back to the Atlantic Charter, which was issued in August 1941 to lay out the Allied goals for the post-war world. On 17 May 1943, the British–U.S. Communication Intelligence Agreement, also known as the BRUSA Agreement, was signed by the UK and U.S. governments to facilitate co-operation between the U.S. War Department and the British Government Code and Cypher School (GC&CS). On 5 March 1946, the secret treaty was formalized as the UKUSA Agreement, which forms the basis for all signal intelligence cooperation between the NSA and the GCHQ to this day.[12][13]

In 1948, the treaty was extended to include Canada, followed by Norway (1952), Denmark (1954), West Germany (1955), Australia (1956), and New Zealand (1956).[13] These countries participated in the alliance as "third parties". By 1955, the formal status of the remaining Five Eyes countries was officially acknowledged in a newer version of the UKUSA Agreement that contained the following statement:

At this time only Canada, Australia and New Zealand will be regarded as UKUSA-collaborating Commonwealth countries.[13]

The "Five Eyes" term has its origins as a shorthand for a "AUS/CAN/NZ/UK/US EYES ONLY" (AUSCANNZUKUS) classification level.[14]

COLD WAR (1950S-1990S)

During the Cold War, the GCHQ and the NSA shared intelligence on the Soviet Union, the People's Republic of China, and several eastern European countries (known as Exotics).[15] Over the course of several decades, the ECHELON surveillance network was developed to monitor the military and diplomatic communications of the Soviet Union and its Eastern Bloc allies.[16]

During the Vietnam War, Australian and New Zealand operators in the Asia-Pacific region worked directly to support the United States, while GCHQ operators stationed in the (then) British colony of Hong Kong were tasked with monitoring North Vietnamese air defence networks.[17][18] During the Falklands War, the British received intelligence data from its FVEY allies such as Australia, as well as from third parties such as Norway and France.[19][20][21] In the aftermath of the Gulf War, a technician of the ASIS was used by SIS to bug Kuwaiti government offices.[20]

In the 1950s, SIS and the CIA jointly orchestrated the overthrow of Iran's Prime Minister Mohammad Mosaddegh.[22][23][24][25] In the 1960s, SIS and the CIA jointly orchestrated the assassination of the Congolese independence leader Patrice Lumumba.[26][27][28] In the 1970s, the ASIS and the CIA jointly orchestrated the overthrow of Chile's President Salvador Allende.[29][30][31][32] During the Tiananmen Square protests of 1989, SIS and the CIA took part in Operation Yellowbird to rescue dissidents from the Chinese regime.[33]

ECHELON NETWORK DISCLOSURES (1988-2000)

By the end of the 20th century, the ECHELON surveillance network had evolved into a global system capable of sweeping up massive amounts of private and commercial communications, including telephone calls, fax, e-mail and other data traffic. This was done through the interception of communication bearers such as satellite transmission and public switched telephone networks.[34]

The Five Eyes has two types of information collection methods: the PRISM program and the Upstream collection system. The PRISM program gathers user information from technology firms such as Google, Apple and Microsoft, while the Upstream system gathers information directly from the communications of civilians via fiber cables and infrastructure as data flows past.[citation needed] In 1988, Duncan Campbell revealed in the New Statesman the existence of ECHELON, an extension of the UKUSA Agreement on global signals intelligence [Sigint]. The story, 'Somebody's listening,' detailed how the eavesdropping operations were not only being employed in the interests of 'national security,' but were regularly abused for corporate espionage in the service of US business interests. The piece passed largely unnoticed outside of journalism circles.[35] In 1996, a detailed description of ECHELON was provided by New Zealand journalist Nicky Hager in a book titled "Secret Power – New Zealand's Role in the International Spy Network", which was cited by the European Parliament in a 1998 report titled "An Appraisal of the Technology of Political Control" (PE 168.184).[36] On 16 March 2000, the Parliament called for a resolution on the Five Eyes and their ECHELON surveillance network, which, if passed, would have called for the "complete dismantling of ECHELON".[37]

Three months later, the Temporary Committee on ECHELON was set up by the European Parliament to investigate the ECHELON surveillance network. However, according to a number of European politicians such as Esko Seppänen of Finland, these investigations were hindered by the European Commission.[38]

In the United States, congressional legislators warned that the ECHELON system could be used to monitor U.S. citizens.[39] On 14 May 2001, the U.S. government cancelled all meetings with the Temporary Committee on ECHELON.[40]

According to a BBC report in May 2001, "the US Government still refuses to admit that Echelon even exists".[16]

WAR ON TERROR (2001-PRESENT)

In the aftermath of the September 11 attacks on the World Trade Center and the Pentagon, the surveillance capabilities of the Five Eyes were greatly increased as part of the global War on Terror.

During the run-up to the Iraq War, the communications of UN weapons inspector Hans Blix were monitored by the Five Eyes.[41][42] The office of UN Secretary-General Kofi Annan was bugged by British agents.[43][44] An NSA memo detailed plans of the Five Eyes to boost eavesdropping on UN delegations of six countries as part of a "dirty tricks" campaign to apply pressure on these six countries to vote in favour of using force against Iraq.[43][45][46]

SIS and the CIA forged a surveillance partnership with Libya's ruler Muammar Gaddafi to spy on Libyan dissidents in the West, in exchange for permission to use Libya as a base for extraordinary renditions.[47][48][49][50][51]

As of 2010, the Five Eyes also have access to SIPRNet, the U.S. government's classified version of the Internet.[52]

In 2013, documents leaked by the former NSA contractor Edward Snowden revealed the existence of numerous surveillance programs jointly operated by the Five Eyes. The following list includes several notable examples reported in the media:

- PRISM – Operated by the NSA together with the GCHQ and the ASD[53][54]
- XKeyscore – Operated by the NSA with contributions from the ASD and the GCSB[55]
- Tempora – Operated by the GCHQ with contributions from the NSA[56][57]
- MUSCULAR – Operated by the GCHQ and the NSA[58]
- STATEROOM – Operated by the ASD, CIA, CSE, GCHQ, and NSA[59]

In March 2014, the International Court of Justice (ICJ) ordered Australia to stop spying on East Timor. This marks the first time that such restrictions are imposed on a member of the FVEY.[60]

1941 – ATTACK ON PEARL HARBOR

OFFICIAL OVERVIEW

The attack on Pearl Harbor was a surprise military strike by the Imperial Japanese Navy Air Service against the United States naval base at Pearl Harbor, Hawaii Territory, on the morning of December 7, 1941. The attack, also known as the Battle of Pearl Harbor,[11] led to the United States' entry into World War II. The Japanese military leadership referred to the attack as the Hawaii Operation and Operation AI,[12][13] and as Operation Z during its planning.[14]

Japan intended the attack as a preventive action to keep the U.S. Pacific Fleet from interfering with military actions that were planned in Southeast Asia against overseas territories of the United Kingdom, the Netherlands, and the United States. Over the next seven hours there were coordinated Japanese attacks on the U.S.-held Philippines, Guam and Wake Island and on the British Empire in Malaya, Singapore, and Hong Kong.[15]

The attack commenced at 7:48 a.m. Hawaiian Time (18:18 GMT).[nb 3][16] The base was attacked by 353[17] Imperial Japanese aircraft (including fighters, level and dive bombers, and torpedo bombers) in two waves, launched from six aircraft carriers.[17] All eight U.S. Navy battleships were damaged, with four sunk. All but the USS Arizona were later raised, and six were returned to service and went on to fight in the war. The Japanese also sank or damaged three cruisers, three destroyers, an anti-aircraft training ship,[nb 4] and one minelayer. One hundred eighty-eight U.S. aircraft were destroyed; 2,403 Americans were killed and 1,178 others were wounded.[19] Important base installations such as the power station, dry dock, shipyard, maintenance, and fuel and torpedo storage facilities, as well as the submarine piers and headquarters building (also home of the intelligence section), were not attacked. Japanese losses were light: 29 aircraft and five midget submarines lost, and 64 servicemen killed. One Japanese sailor, Kazuo Sakamaki, was captured.

The surprise attack came as a profound shock to the American people and led directly to the American entry into World War II in both the Pacific and European theaters. The following day, December 8, the United States declared war on Japan,[20][21] and several days later, on December 11, Germany and Italy declared war on the U.S. The U.S. responded with a declaration of war against Germany and Italy. Domestic support for non-interventionism, which had been fading since the Fall of France in 1940,[22] disappeared.[21]

There were numerous historical precedents for unannounced military action by Japan, but the lack of any formal warning, particularly while negotiations were still apparently ongoing, led President Franklin D. Roosevelt to proclaim December 7, 1941, "a date which will live in infamy". Because the attack happened without a declaration of war and without explicit warning, the attack on Pearl Harbor was later judged in the Tokyo Trials to be a war crime.[23][24]

RETROSPECTIVE DEBATE ON AMERICAN INTELLIGENCE

Ever since the Japanese attack, there has been debate as to how and why the United States had been caught unaware, and how much and when American officials knew of Japanese plans and related topics. Military officers including Gen. Billy Mitchell had pointed out the vulnerability of Pearl to air attack. At least two naval war games, one in 1932 and another in 1936, proved that Pearl was vulnerable to such an attack. Admiral James Richardson was removed from command shortly after protesting President Roosevelt's decision to move the bulk of the Pacific fleet to Pearl Harbor.[137][138] The decisions of military and political leadership to ignore these warnings has contributed to conspiracy theories. Several writers, including journalist Robert Stinnett and former United States Rear Admiral Robert Alfred Theobald, have argued that various parties high in the U.S. and British governments knew of the attack in advance and may even have let it happen or encouraged it in order to force the U.S. into war via the so-called "back door". However, this conspiracy theory is rejected by mainstream historians.[139][140][141][142][nb 21]

1941 – ATLANTIC CHARTER

OFFICIAL OVERVIEW

The Atlantic Charter was a pivotal policy statement issued during World War II on 14 August 1941, which defined the Allied goals for the post war world. The leaders of the United Kingdom and the United States drafted the work and all the Allies of World War II later confirmed it. The Charter stated the ideal goals of the war—no territorial aggrandizement; no territorial changes made against the wishes of the people, self-determination; restoration of self-government to those deprived of it; reduction of trade restrictions; global cooperation to secure better economic and social conditions for all; freedom from fear and want; freedom of the seas; and abandonment of the use of force, as well as disarmament of aggressor nations. Adherents of the Atlantic Charter signed the Declaration by United Nations on 1 January 1942, which became the basis for the modern United Nations.

The Atlantic Charter set goals for the postwar world and inspired many of the international agreements that shaped the world thereafter. The General Agreement on Tariffs and Trade (GATT), the postwar independence of European colonies, and much more are derived from the Atlantic Charter.

1943 – BRUSA AGREEMENT

OFFICIAL OVERVIEW

The 1943 BRUSA Agreements (Britain–United States of America agreement) [1] was an agreement between the British and US governments to facilitate co-operation between the US War Department and the British Government Code and Cypher School (GC&CS). It followed the Holden Agreement of October 1942.

Colonel Alfred McCormack of the Special Branch of Military Intelligence Service, Colonel Telford Taylor of Military Intelligence, and Lieutenant Colonel William Friedman came to Bletchley Park, the Government Code and Cypher School Headquarters in England in April 1943. The American trio worked with Commander Edward Travis (RN), the head of the British communications intelligence (COMINT) facility.
The British decided to inform them of "Ultra", their successful decoding of German signals. Likewise, the Americans shared their solution to the Japanese Purple machine.[2]

This led to the signing of the 1943 BRUSA Agreement on 17 May, which was a formal agreement to share intelligence information. It covered:

- the exchange of personnel
- joint regulations for the handling and distribution of the highly sensitive material

The security regulations, procedures and protocols for co-operation formed the basis for all signals intelligence (SIGINT) activities of both the US National Security Agency and the British GCHQ.

The agreement was formalized by the UKUSA Agreement in 1946. This document was signed on 5 March 1946 by Colonel Patrick Marr-Johnson (who had headed the Wireless Experimental Centre in Delhi during the war) for the U.K.'s London Signals Intelligence Board and Lieutenant General Hoyt Vandenberg for the U.S. State–Army–Navy Communication Intelligence Board.

1945-1948 -JAPAN - END OF THE WAR AND THE LAST "ARAHITOGAMI" EMPEROR OFFICIAL OVERVIEW

THE EMPEROR AND THE ATOMIC BOMB

On August 9, 1945, following the atomic bombings of Hiroshima and Nagasaki and the Soviet declaration of war, Emperor Hirohito told Kōichi Kido: "the Soviet Union has declared war and today began hostilities against us."[32] On August 10, the cabinet drafted an "Imperial Rescript ending the War" following the Emperor's indications that the declaration did not compromise any demand which prejudiced the prerogatives of His Majesty as a Sovereign Ruler.

On August 12, 1945, the Emperor informed the imperial family of his decision to surrender. One of his uncles, Prince Yasuhiko Asaka, asked whether the war would be continued if the kokutai (national polity) could not be preserved. The Emperor simply replied "of course."[33] On August 14, the Suzuki government notified the Allies that it had accepted the Potsdam Declaration.

On August 15, a recording of the Emperor's surrender speech ("Gyokuon-hōsō", literally "Jewel Voice Broadcast") was broadcast over the radio (the first time the Emperor was heard on the radio by the Japanese people) signifying the unconditional surrender of Japan's military forces. During the historic broadcast the Emperor stated: "Moreover, the enemy has begun to employ a new and most cruel bomb, the power of which to do damage is, indeed, incalculable, taking the toll of many innocent lives. Should we continue to fight, not only would it result in an ultimate collapse and obliteration of the Japanese nation, but also it would lead to the total extinction of human civilization." The speech also noted that "the war situation has developed not necessarily to Japan's advantage" and ordered the Japanese to "endure the unendurable". The speech, using formal, archaic Japanese, was not readily understood by many commoners. According to historian Richard Storry in A History of Modern Japan, the Emperor typically used "a form of language familiar only to the well-educated" and to the more traditional samurai families.[34]

A faction of the army opposed to the surrender attempted a coup d'état on the evening of 14 August. They seized the Imperial Palace (the Kyūjō incident), but the physical recording of the emperor's speech was hidden and preserved overnight. The coup was crushed by the next morning, and the speech was broadcast.

In his first ever press conference given in Tokyo in 1975, when he was asked what he thought of the bombing of Hiroshima, the Emperor answered: "It's very regrettable that nuclear bombs were dropped and I feel sorry for the citizens of Hiroshima but it couldn't be helped because that happened in wartime" (shikata ga nai).[35]

POSTWAR REIGN

Gaetano Faillace's photograph of General MacArthur and the Emperor at Allied GHQ in Tokyo, September 27, 1945

As the Emperor chose his uncle Prince Higashikuni as prime minister to assist the occupation, there were attempts by numerous leaders to have him put on trial for alleged war crimes. Many members of the imperial family, such as Princes Chichibu, Takamatsu and Higashikuni, pressured the Emperor to abdicate so that one of the Princes could serve as regent until Crown Prince Akihito came of age.[45] On February 27, 1946, the Emperor's youngest brother, Prince Mikasa (Takahito), even stood up in the privy council and indirectly urged the Emperor to step down and accept responsibility for Japan's defeat. According to Minister of Welfare Ashida's diary, "Everyone seemed to ponder Mikasa's words. Never have I seen His Majesty's face so pale."[46]

U.S. General Douglas MacArthur insisted that Emperor Hirohito retain the throne. MacArthur saw the Emperor as a symbol of the continuity and cohesion of the Japanese people. Some historians criticize the decision to exonerate the Emperor and all members of the imperial family who were implicated in the war, such as Prince Chichibu, Prince Asaka, Prince Higashikuni and Prince Hiroyasu Fushimi, from criminal prosecutions.[47]

Before the war crime trials actually convened, the SCAP, the IPS, and Japanese officials worked behind the scenes not only to prevent the Imperial family from being indicted, but also to influence the testimony of the defendants to ensure that no one implicated the Emperor. High officials in court circles and the Japanese government collaborated with Allied GHQ in compiling lists of prospective war criminals, while the individuals arrested as Class A suspects and incarcerated solemnly vowed to protect their sovereign against any possible taint of war responsibility.[48] Thus, "months before the Tokyo tribunal commenced, MacArthur's highest subordinates were working to attribute ultimate responsibility for Pearl Harbor to Hideki Tōjō"[49] by allowing "the major criminal suspects to coordinate their stories so that the Emperor would be spared from indictment."[50] According to John W. Dower, "This successful campaign to absolve the Emperor of war responsibility knew no bounds. Hirohito was not merely presented as being innocent of any formal acts that might make him culpable to indictment as a war criminal, he was turned into an almost saintly figure who did not even bear moral responsibility for the war."[51] According to Bix, "MacArthur's truly extraordinary measures to save Hirohito from trial as a war criminal had a lasting and profoundly distorting impact on Japanese understanding of the lost war."[52]

IMPERIAL STATUS

Hirohito was not put on trial, but he was forced[53] to explicitly reject the quasi-official claim that the Emperor of Japan was an arahitogami, i.e., an incarnate divinity. This was motivated by the fact that, according to the Japanese constitution of 1889, the Emperor had a divine power over his country, which was derived from the Shinto belief that the Japanese Imperial Family was the offspring of the sun goddess Amaterasu. Hirohito was however persistent in the idea that the Emperor of Japan should be considered a descendant of the gods. In December 1945, he told his vice-grand-chamberlain Michio Kinoshita: "It is permissible to say that the idea that the Japanese are descendants of the gods is a false conception; but it is absolutely impermissible to call chimerical the idea that the Emperor is a descendant of the gods."[54] In any case, the "renunciation of divinity" was noted more by foreigners than by Japanese, and seems to have been intended for the consumption of the former.[b] The theory of a constitutional monarchy had already had some proponents in Japan. In 1935, when Tatsukichi Minobe advocated the theory that sovereignty resides in the state, of which the Emperor is just an organ (the tennō kikan setsu), it caused a furor. He was forced to resign from the House of Peers and his post at the Tokyo Imperial University, his books were banned and an attempt was made on his life.[55] Not until 1946 was the tremendous step made to alter the Emperor's title from "imperial sovereign" to "constitutional monarch".

Although the Emperor had supposedly repudiated claims to divinity, his public position was deliberately left vague, partly because General MacArthur thought him probable to be a useful partner to get the Japanese to accept the occupation, and partly due to behind-the-scenes maneuverings by Shigeru Yoshida to thwart attempts to cast him as a European-style monarch.

Nevertheless, Hirohito's status as a limited constitutional monarch status was formalized with the enactment of the 1947 Constitution–officially, an amendment to the Meiji Constitution. It defined the Emperor as "the symbol of the state and the unity of the people," and stripped him of even nominal power in government matters. His role was limited to matters of state as delineated in the Constitution, and in most cases his actions in that realm were carried out in accordance with the binding instructions of the Cabinet.

For the rest of his life, Hirohito was an active figure in Japanese life, and performed many of the duties commonly associated with a constitutional head of state. He and his family maintained a strong public presence, often holding public walkabouts, and making public appearances on special events and ceremonies. He also played an important role in rebuilding Japan's diplomatic image, traveling abroad to meet with many foreign leaders, including Queen Elizabeth II (1971) and President Gerald Ford (1975).

His status and image became strongly positive in the United States.[56]

The Emperor was deeply interested in and well-informed about marine biology, and the Imperial Palace contained a laboratory from which the Emperor published several papers in the field under his personal name "Hirohito".[57] His contributions included the description of several dozen species of Hydrozoa new to science.[58]

1945 –INTERNATIONAL MONETARY FUND (IMF)

OFFICIAL OVERVIEW

The International Monetary Fund (IMF) is an international organization headquartered in Washington, D.C., of "189 countries working to foster global monetary cooperation, secure financial stability, facilitate international trade, promote high employment and sustainable economic growth, and reduce poverty around the world."[1] Formed in 1945 at the Bretton Woods Conference primarily by the ideas of Harry Dexter White and John Maynard Keynes,[5] it came into formal existence in 1945 with 29 member countries and the goal of reconstructing the international payment system. It now plays a central role in the management of balance of payments difficulties and international financial crises.[6] Countries contribute funds to a pool through a quota system from which countries experiencing balance of payments problems can borrow money. As of 2016, the fund had SDR477 billion (about $668 billion).[7]

Through the fund, and other activities such as the gathering of statistics and analysis, surveillance of its members' economies and the demand for particular policies,[8] the IMF works to improve the economies of its member countries.[9] The organisation's objectives stated in the Articles of Agreement are:[10] to promote international monetary co-operation, international trade, high employment, exchange-rate stability, sustainable economic growth, and making resources available to member countries in financial difficulty.[11]

According to the IMF itself, it works to foster global growth and economic stability by providing policy, advice and financing the members, by working with developing nations to help them achieve macroeconomic stability and reduce poverty.[12] The rationale for this is that private international capital markets function imperfectly and many countries have limited access to financial markets. Such market imperfections, together with balance-of-payments financing, provide the justification for official financing, without which many countries could only correct large external payment imbalances through measures with adverse economic consequences.[13] The IMF provides alternate sources of financing.

Upon the founding of the IMF, its three primary functions were: to oversee the fixed exchange rate arrangements between countries,[14] thus helping national governments manage their exchange rates and allowing these governments to prioritise economic growth,[15] and to provide short-term capital to aid the balance of payments.[14] This assistance was meant to prevent the spread of international economic crises. The IMF was also intended to help mend the pieces of the international economy after the Great Depression and World War II.[15] As well, to provide capital investments for economic growth and projects such as infrastructure.

The IMF's role was fundamentally altered by the floating exchange rates post-1971. It shifted to examining the economic policies of countries with IMF loan agreements to determine if a shortage of capital was due to economic fluctuations or economic policy. The IMF also researched what types of government policy would ensure economic recovery.[16] A particular concern of the IMF was to prevent financial crisis, such as those in Mexico 1982, Brazil in 1987, East Asia in 1997–98 and Russia in 1998, from spreading and threatening the entire global financial and currency system. The challenge was to promote and implement policy that reduced the frequency of crises among the emerging market countries, especially the middle-income countries which are vulnerable to massive capital outflows.[17] Rather than maintaining a position of oversight of only exchange rates, their function became one of surveillance of the overall macroeconomic performance of member countries. Their role became a lot more active because the IMF now manages economic policy rather than just exchange rates.

In addition, the IMF negotiates conditions on lending and loans under their policy of conditionality,[14] which was established in the 1950s.[15] Low-income countries can borrow on concessional terms, which means there is a period of time with no interest rates, through the Extended Credit Facility (ECF), the Standby Credit Facility (SCF) and the Rapid Credit Facility (RCF). Nonconcessional loans, which include interest rates, are provided mainly through Stand-By Arrangements (SBA), the Flexible Credit Line (FCL), the Precautionary and Liquidity Line (PLL), and the Extended Fund Facility. The IMF provides emergency assistance via the Rapid Financing Instrument (RFI) to members facing urgent balance-of-payments needs.[18]

1945 – UNITED NATIONS

OFFICIAL OVERVIEW

The United Nations (UN) is an intergovernmental organization tasked to promote international cooperation and to create and maintain international order. A replacement for the ineffective League of Nations, the organization was established on 24 October 1945 after World War II with the aim of preventing another such conflict. At its founding, the UN had 51 member states; there are now 193. The headquarters of the UN is in Manhattan, New York City, and is subject to extraterritoriality. Further main offices are situated in Geneva, Nairobi, and Vienna. The organization is financed by assessed and voluntary contributions from its member states. Its objectives include maintaining international peace and security, promoting human rights, fostering social and economic development, protecting the environment, and providing humanitarian aid in cases of famine, natural disaster, and armed conflict. The UN is the largest, most familiar, most internationally represented and most powerful intergovernmental organization in the world.[3]

The UN Charter was drafted at a conference between April–June 1945 in San Francisco, and was signed on 26 June 1945 at the conclusion of the conference;[4][5] this charter took effect on 24 October 1945, and the UN began operation. The UN's mission to preserve world peace was complicated in its early decades by the Cold War between the US and Soviet Union and their respective allies. The organization participated in major actions in Korea and the Congo, as well as approving the creation of the state of Israel in 1947. The organization's membership grew significantly following widespread decolonization in the 1960s, and by the 1970s its budget for economic and social development programmes far outstripped its spending on peacekeeping. After the end of the Cold War, the UN took on major military and peacekeeping missions across the world with varying degrees of success.

The UN has six principal organs: the General Assembly (the main deliberative assembly); the Security Council (for deciding certain resolutions for peace and security); the Economic and Social Council (ECOSOC; for promoting international economic and social co-operation and development); the Secretariat (for providing studies, information, and facilities needed by the UN); the International Court of Justice (the primary judicial organ); and the UN Trusteeship Council (inactive since 1994). UN System agencies include the World Bank Group, the World Health Organization, the World Food Programme, UNESCO, and UNICEF. The UN's most prominent officer is the Secretary-General, an office held by Portuguese politician and diplomat António Guterres since 2017. Non-governmental organizations may be granted consultative status with ECOSOC and other agencies to participate in the UN's work.

The organization won the Nobel Peace Prize in 2001, and a number of its officers and agencies have also been awarded the prize. Other evaluations of the UN's effectiveness have been mixed. Some commentators believe the organization to be an important force for peace and human development, while others have called the organization ineffective, corrupt, or biased.

The Communications Security Establishment (CSE) (French: Centre de la sécurité des télécommunications) (CST), formerly called the Communications Security Establishment Canada (CSEC), is the Government of Canada's national cryptologic agency. Administered under the Department of National Defence (DND), it is responsible for foreign signals intelligence (SIGINT) and protecting Canadian government electronic information and communication networks. The CSE is accountable to the Minister of National Defence through its deputy head, the Chief of CSE. The Minister of National Defence is in turn accountable to the Cabinet and Parliament. The Agency has recently built a new headquarters and campus encompassing 34 ha (84 acres). The new headquarters totals a little over 110,000 square metres (1.2 million square feet) and is adjacent to CSIS.[2]

HISTORY

The Communications Security Establishment (CSE) was established in 1946 as the Communications Branch of the National Research Council (CBNRC), and was transferred to the DND in 1975 by an Order in Council. The cover was broken by the CBC TV documentary The Fifth Estate: The Espionage Establishment.[3] The origins of CSE can be traced back to the Second World War where the civilian organization worked with intercepted foreign electronic communications, collected largely from the Canadian Signal Corps station at Rockcliffe airport in Ottawa. CSE also worked with CFS Leitrim (Canadian Forces Station Leitrim), located just south of Ottawa, which is Canada's oldest operational signal intelligence collection station. Established by the Royal Canadian Corps of Signals in 1941 as 1 Special Wireless Station and renamed Ottawa Wireless Station in 1949, CFS Leitrim acquired its current name when the Supplementary Radio System (SUPRAD) was created in 1966. In 1946, the station's complement was 75 personnel. The current strength (2013-2014) is around 2,000 employees.[4] This unit successfully decrypted, translated, and analyzed these foreign signals, and turned that raw information into useful intelligence reports during the course of the war.

CSE and the information it gathered and shared was secret for 34 years when, on January 9, 1974, the CBC television documentary entitled "The Fifth Estate: The Espionage Establishment" (produced by William Macadam and research by James Dubro) focused on the organization, resulting in an outcry in the House of Commons of Canada and an admission by the Canadian government that the organization existed.[5] CSE is now publicly known, and occupies several buildings in Ottawa, including the well-known Edward Drake Building and the neighbouring Sir Leonard Tilley Building.

During the Cold War, CSE was primarily responsible for providing SIGINT data to the Department of National Defence regarding the military operations of the Soviet Union. Since then, CSE has diversified and now is the primary SIGINT resource in Canada. The CSE also provides technical advice, guidance and services to the Government of Canada to maintain the security of its information and information infrastructures.

The Communications Security Establishment created the Canadian System Security Centre in 1988 to establish a Canadian computer security standard among other goals.[6] This led to the publication of the Canadian Trusted Computer Product Evaluation Criteria.[6]

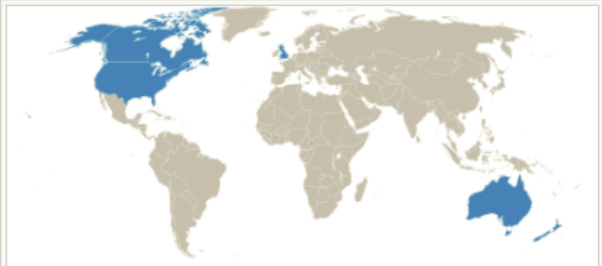

In early 2008, in line with the Federal Identity Program (FIP) of the Government of Canada, which requires all federal agencies to have the word Canada in their name,[7] CSE adopted the applied title Communications Security Establishment Canada (CSEC) or (French: Centre de la sécurité des télécommunications Canada) (CSTC). Since mid-2014, the organization has used its legal name (Communications Security Establishment) and initials (CSE) on its website and in public statements.

1946 – UKUSA AGREEMENT

OFFICIAL OVERVIEW

The United Kingdom – United States of America Agreement (UKUSA, /ju:ku:ˈsɑ:/ ew-koo-SAH)[1][2] is a multilateral agreement for cooperation in signals intelligence between Australia, Canada, New Zealand, the United Kingdom, and the United States. The alliance of intelligence operations is also known as the Five Eyes.[3][4][5][6][7] In classification markings this is abbreviated as FVEY, with the individual countries being abbreviated as AUS, CAN, NZL, GBR, and USA, respectively.[8]

The UKUSA Community: Australia, Canada, New Zealand, the United Kingdom, and the United States

Emerging from an informal agreement related to the 1941 Atlantic Charter, the secret treaty was renewed with the passage of the 1943 BRUSA Agreement, before being officially enacted on 5 March 1946 by the United Kingdom and the United States. In the following years, it was extended to encompass Canada, Australia, and New Zealand. Other countries, known as "third parties", such as West Germany, the Philippines, and several Nordic countriesalso joined the UKUSA community in associate capacities, although they are not part of mechanism for automatic sharing of intelligence that exists between the Five Eyes.[9][10]

Much of the sharing of information is performed via the ultra-sensitive STONEGHOST network, which has been claimed to contain "some of the Western world's most closely guarded secrets".[11] Besides laying down rules for intelligence sharing, the agreement formalized and cemented the "Special Relationship" between the UK and the US.[12][13]

Due to its status as a secret treaty, its existence was not known to the Prime Minister of Australia until 1973,[14] and it was not disclosed to the public until 2005.[13] On 25 June 2010, for the first time in history, the full text of the agreement was publicly released by the United Kingdom and the United States, and can now be viewed online.[9][15] Shortly after its release, the seven-page UKUSA Agreement was recognized by Time magazine as one of the Cold War's most important documents, with immense historical significance.[13]

The global surveillance disclosure by Edward Snowden has shown that the intelligence-sharing activities between the First World allies of the Cold War are rapidly shifting into the digital realm of the Internet.[16][17][18]

SECURITY AND INTELLIGENCE AGENCIES

Although the UKUSA alliance is often associated with the ECHELON system, processed intelligence is reliant on multiple sources of information and the intelligence shared is not restricted to signals intelligence. The following table provides an overview of the government agencies involved and their respective responsibilities within the "Five Eyes" community:[3]

Country	Signals intelligence	Defence intelligence	Security intelligence	Human intelligence
United Kingdom	Government Communications Headquarters (GCHQ)	Defence Intelligence (DI)	Security Service (MI5)	Secret Intelligence Service (MI6)

GLOBAL COVERAGE

Although precise assignments are classified, it is generally known that each member of the UKUSA alliance takes lead responsibility for intelligence collection and analysis in different parts of the globe.

Five Eyes

Main article: Five Eyes

The "Five Eyes", often abbreviated as "FVEY", refer to an intelligence alliance comprising Australia, Canada, New Zealand, the United Kingdom and the United States. These countries are bound by the multilateral UKUSA Agreement, a treaty for joint cooperation in signals intelligence.[3][38][39]

Australia
Australia monitors South Asia and East Asia.[3]

Canada
Canada's geographical proximity to the Soviet Union provided considerable eavesdropping advantages during the Cold War. Canada continues to monitor the Russian and Chinese interior while managing intelligence assets in Latin America.[3]

New Zealand

In addition to Southeast Asia, New Zealand is responsible for the western Pacific[3] and maintains listening posts in the South Island at Waihopai Valley just south-west of Blenheim, and on the North Island at Tangimoana.

United Kingdom
Europe, European Russia, Middle East, and Hong Kong.[3]

United States

9 EYES, 14 EYES, AND OTHER « THIRD PARTIES »
The "Five Eyes" community is part of an extensive alliance of Western countries sharing signals intelligence with each other. These allied countries include NATO members, other European countries such as Sweden, and allies in the Pacific, in particular Singapore and South Korea.[3][10]

This diagram depicts the relationship between the U.S. National Security Agency (NSA) and the so-called "second parties", which comprises the UKUSA community, and the "third parties" made up of members of the North Atlantic Treaty Organization (NATO) and other Western allies:
NSA and second parties—Extensive mutual sharing of signals intelligence[40]
NSA and third parties—Signals intelligence is funelled to the NSA in exchange for surveillance technology and cash[40]

In the 1950s several Nordic countries joined the community as "third party" participants. They were soon followed by Denmark (1954) and West Germany (1955).[9][10][41]

According to Edward Snowden, the NSA has a "massive body" called the Foreign Affairs Directorate that is responsible for partnering with other Western allies such as Israel.[42]

Unlike the "second party" members (that is, the Five Eyes themselves), "third party" partners are not automatically exempt from intelligence targeting. According to an internal NSA document leaked by Snowden, "We (the NSA) can, and often do, target the signals of most 3rd party foreign partners."[43]

The Five Eyes are cooperating with various 3rd Party countries in at least two groups:

- The "Nine Eyes", consisting of the Five Eyes plus Denmark, France, the Netherlands, and Norway.[44]
- The "Fourteen Eyes", consisting of the same countries as the Nine Eyes plus Germany, Belgium, Italy, Spain, and Sweden.[45] The actual name of this group is SIGINT Seniors Europe (SSEUR) and its purpose is coordinating the exchange of military signals intelligence among its members.[46]

Germany is reportedly interested in moving closer to the inner circle: an internal GCHQ document from 2009 said that the "Germans were a little grumpy at not being invited to join the 9-Eyes group." Germany may even wish to join Five Eyes.[47] Referring to Five Eyes, French President François Hollande has said that his country is "not within that framework and we don't intend to join."[48] According to a former top U.S. official, "Germany joining would be a possibility, but not France – France itself spies on the US far too aggressively for that."[49]

CONTROVERSY

During the 2013 NSA leaks Internet spying scandal, the surveillance agencies of the "Five Eyes" have been accused of intentionally spying on one another's citizens and willingly sharing the collected information with each other, allegedly circumventing laws preventing each agency from spying on its own citizens.[50][51][52][53]

The 2013 NSA leaks are not entirely new, but rather, they are a confirmation of earlier disclosures about the UK-US espionage alliance. For example, the British newspaper The Independent reported back in 1996 that the U.S. National Security Agency "taps UK phones" at the request of the British intelligence agency MI5, thus allowing British agents to evade restrictive limitations on domestic telephone tapping.[54]

The mutual surveillance and sharing of information between allies of the UK and US resurfaced again during the 2013 mass surveillance disclosures. As described by the news magazine Der Spiegel, this was done to circumvent domestic surveillance regulations:

"Britain's GCHQ intelligence agency can spy on anyone but British nationals, the NSA can conduct surveillance on anyone but Americans, and Germany's BND (Bundesnachrichtendienst) foreign intelligence agency can spy on anyone but Germans. That's how a matrix is created of boundless surveillance in which each partner aids in a division of roles.

They exchanged information. And they worked together extensively. That applies to the British and the Americans, but also to the BND, which assists the NSA in its Internet surveillance."[55]

According to The Guardian, the "Five Eyes" community is an exclusive club where new members "do not seem to be welcome":
It does not matter how senior you are, and how close a friend you think you are to Washington or London, your communications could easily be being shared among the handful of white, English-speaking nations with membership privileges.[56]
In 2013, Canadian federal judge Richard Mosley strongly rebuked the Canadian Security Intelligence Service (CSIS) for outsourcing its surveillance of Canadians to overseas partner agencies. A 51-page ruling says that the CSIS and other Canadian federal agencies are illegally enlisting U.S. and British allies in global surveillance dragnets, while keeping domestic federal courts in the dark.[57][58][59]

The Central Intelligence Agency (CIA) is a civilian foreign intelligence service of the United States federal government, tasked with gathering, processing, and analyzing national security information from around the world, primarily through the use of human intelligence (HUMINT). As one of the principal members of the U.S. Intelligence Community (IC), the CIA reports to the Director of National Intelligence and is primarily focused on providing intelligence for the President and Cabinet.

Unlike the Federal Bureau of Investigation (FBI), which is a domestic security service, the CIA has no law enforcement function and is mainly focused on overseas intelligence gathering, with only limited domestic intelligence collection. Though it is not the only U.S. government agency specializing in HUMINT, the CIA serves as the national manager for coordination of HUMINT activities across the U.S. intelligence community. Moreover, the CIA is the only agency authorized by law to carry out and oversee covert action at the behest of the President.[6][7][8][9] It exerts foreign political influence through its tactical divisions, such as the Special Activities Division.[10]

Before the Intelligence Reform and Terrorism Prevention Act of 2004, the CIA Director concurrently served as the head of the Intelligence Community; today, the CIA is organized under the Director of National Intelligence (DNI). Despite transferring some of its powers to the DNI, the CIA has grown in size as a result of the September 11 attacks. In 2013, The Washington Post reported that in fiscal year 2010, the CIA had the largest budget of all IC agencies, exceeding previous estimates.[3][11]

The CIA has increasingly expanded its role, including covert paramilitary operations.[3] One of its largest divisions, the Information Operations Center (IOC), has shifted focus from counter-terrorism to offensive cyber-operations.[12]

1948 – CREATION / INDEPENDENCE OF THE STATE OF ISRAEL

OFFICIAL OVERVIEW

Israel (/ˈɪzriəl, -reɪəl/; Hebrew: יִשְׂרָאֵל; Arabic: إِسْرَائِيل), officially the State of Israel, is a country in the Middle East, on the southeastern shore of the Mediterranean Sea and the northern shore of the Red Sea. It has land borders with Lebanon to the north, Syria to the northeast, Jordan on the east, the Palestinian territories of the West Bank and Gaza Strip[12] to the east and west, respectively, and Egypt to the southwest. The country contains geographically diverse features within its relatively small area.[6][13] Israel's economy and technology center is Tel Aviv,[14] while its seat of government and proclaimed capital is Jerusalem, although the state's sovereignty over Jerusalem is not recognised internationally.[15][16][17][18][19][fn 2]

The Kingdoms of Israel and Judah emerged during the Iron Age.[20][21] The Neo-Assyrian Empire destroyed Israel around 720 BCE.[22] Judah was later conquered by the Babylonian, Persian and Hellenistic empires and had existed as Jewish autonomous provinces.[23][24] The successful Maccabean Revolt led to an independent Jewish kingdom in 110 BCE,[25] which came to an end in 63 BCE when the Hasmonean kingdom became a client state of the Roman Republic that subsequently installed the Herodian dynasty in 37 BCE, and in 6 CE created the Roman province of Judea.[26] Judea lasted as a Roman province until the failed Jewish revolts resulted in widespread destruction,[25] expulsion of Jewish population[25][27] and the renaming of the region from Iudaea to Syria Palaestina.[28] Jewish presence in the region has persisted to a certain extent over the centuries. In the 7th century the Levant was taken from the Byzantine Empire by the Arabs and remained in Muslim control until the First Crusade of 1099, followed by the Ayyubid conquest of 1187. The Mamluk Sultanate of Egypt extended its control over the Levant in the 13th century until its defeat by the Ottoman Empire in 1517. During the 19th century, national awakening among Jews led to the establishment of the Zionist movement in the diaspora followed by waves of immigration to Ottoman and later British Palestine.

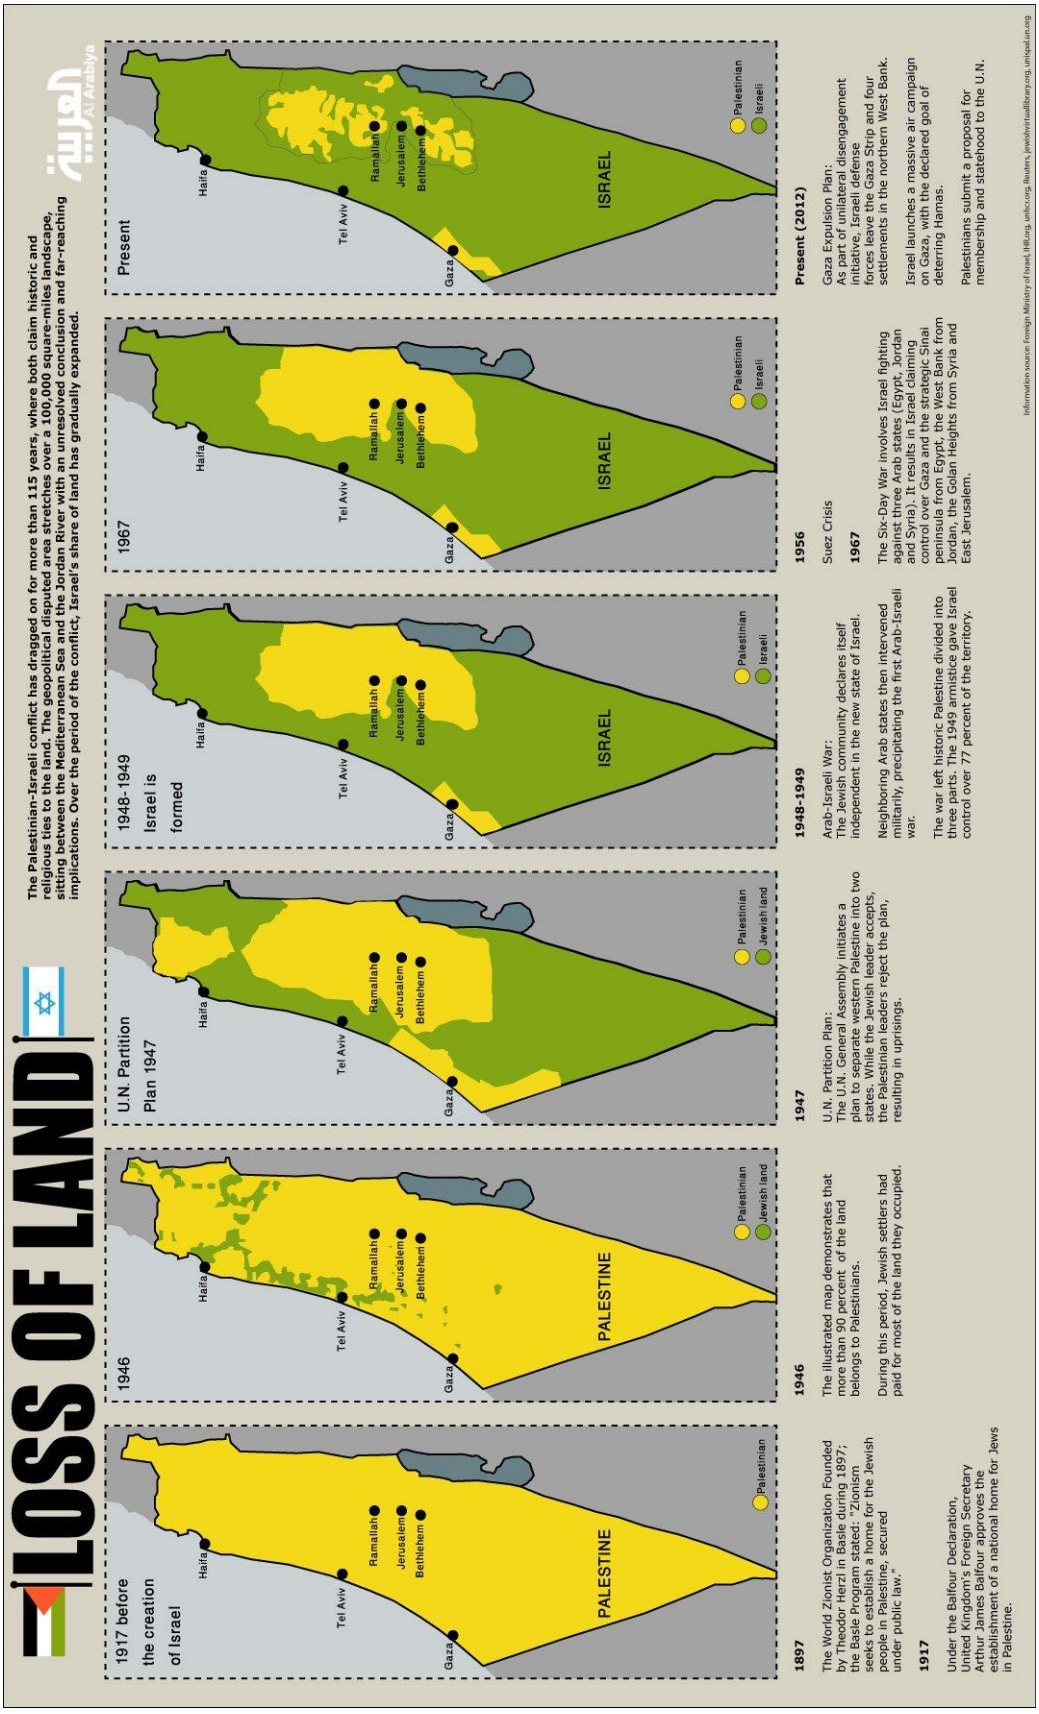

In 1947, the United Nations adopted a Partition Plan for Palestine recommending the creation of independent Arab and Jewish states and an internationalized Jerusalem.[29] The plan was accepted by the Jewish Agency for Palestine, and rejected by Arab leaders.[30][31][32] The following year, the Jewish Agency declared the independence of the State of Israel, and the subsequent 1948 Arab–Israeli War saw Israel's establishment over most of the former Mandate territory, while the West Bank and Gaza were held by neighboring Arab states.[33] Israel has since fought several wars with Arab countries,[34] and it has since 1967 occupied territories including the West Bank, Golan Heights and the Gaza Strip (still considered occupied after 2005 disengagement, although some legal experts, dispute this claim).[35][36][37][fn 3] It extended its laws to the Golan Heights and East Jerusalem, but not the West Bank.[38][39][40][41] Israel's occupation of the Palestinian territories is the world's longest military occupation in modern times.[fn 3][43] Efforts to resolve the Israeli–Palestinian conflict have not resulted in peace. However, peace treaties between Israel and both Egypt and Jordan have been signed.

In its Basic Laws, Israel defines itself as a Jewish and democratic state.[44] Israel is a representative democracy[45] with a parliamentary system, proportional representation and universal suffrage.[46][47] The prime minister is head of government and the Knesset is the legislature. Israel is a developed country and an OECD member,[48] with the 34th-largest economy in the world by nominal gross domestic product as of 2016. The country benefits from a highly skilled workforce and is among the most educated countries in the world with one of the highest percentages of its citizens holding a tertiary education degree.[49] Israel has the highest standard of living in the Middle East,[11] and has one of the highest life expectancies in the world.[50]

1948 – WORLD HEALTH ORGANIZATION

OFFICIAL OVERVIEW

The World Health Organization (WHO) is a specialized agency of the United Nations that is concerned with international public health. It was established on 7 April 1948 headquartered in Geneva, Switzerland. The WHO is a member of the United Nations Development Group. Its predecessor, the Health Organization, was an agency of the League of Nations.

The constitution of the World Health Organization had been signed by 61 countries on 7 April 1948, with the first meeting of the World Health Assembly finishing on 24 July 1948. It incorporated the Office International d'Hygiène Publique and the League of Nations Health Organization. Since its creation, it has played a leading role in the eradication of smallpox. Its current priorities include communicable diseases, in particular HIV/AIDS, Ebola, malaria and tuberculosis; the mitigation of the effects of non-communicable diseases; sexual and reproductive health, development, and ageing; nutrition, food security and healthy eating; occupational health; substance abuse; and driving the development of reporting, publications, and networking.

The WHO is responsible for the World Health Report, the worldwide World Health Survey, and World Health Day. The Director-General of WHO is Tedros Adhanom who started his five-year term on 1 July 2017.[1]

The North Atlantic Treaty Organization (NATO /ˈneɪtoʊ/; French: Organisation du Traité de l'Atlantique Nord; OTAN), also called the North Atlantic Alliance, is an intergovernmental military alliance between several North American and European countries based on the North Atlantic Treaty that was signed on 4 April 1949.[4][5]

NATO constitutes a system of collective defence whereby its member states agree to mutual defence in response to an attack by any external party. Three NATO members (the United States, France and the United Kingdom) are permanent members of the United Nations Security Council with the power to veto and are officially nuclear-weapon states. NATO Headquarters are located in Haren, Brussels, Belgium, while the headquarters of Allied Command Operations is near Mons, Belgium.

NATO is an alliance that consists of 29 independent member countries across North America and Europe. An additional 21 countries participate in NATO's Partnership for Peace program, with 15 other countries involved in institutionalized dialogue programs. The combined military spending of all NATO members constitutes over 70% of the global total.[6] Members' defense spending is supposed to amount to at least 2% of GDP by 2024.[7]

NATO was little more than a political association until the Korean War galvanized the organization's member states, and an integrated military structure was built up under the direction of two US Supreme Commanders. The course of the Cold War led to a rivalry with nations of the Warsaw Pact, that formed in 1955. Doubts over the strength of the relationship between the European states and the United States ebbed and flowed, along with doubts over the credibility of the NATO defense against a prospective Soviet invasion—doubts that led to the development of the independent French nuclear deterrent and the withdrawal of France from NATO's military structure in 1966 for 30 years. After the fall of the Berlin Wall in Germany in 1989, the organization became involved in the breakup of Yugoslavia, and conducted its first military interventions in Bosnia from 1992 to 1995 and later Yugoslavia in 1999. Politically, the organization sought better relations with former Warsaw Pact countries, several of which joined the alliance in 1999 and 2004.

Article 5 of the North Atlantic treaty, requiring member states to come to the aid of any member state subject to an armed attack, was invoked for the first and only time after the September 11 attacks,[8] after which troops were deployed to Afghanistan under the NATO-led ISAF. The organization has operated a range of additional roles since then, including sending trainers to Iraq, assisting in counter-piracy operations[9] and in 2011 enforcing a no-fly zone over Libya in accordance with U.N. Security Council Resolution 1973. The less potent Article 4, which merely invokes consultation among NATO members, has been invoked five times: by Turkey in 2003 over the Iraq War; twice in 2012 by Turkey over the Syrian Civil War, after the downing of an unarmed Turkish F-4 reconnaissance jet, and after a mortar was fired at Turkey from Syria;[10] in 2014 by Poland, following the Russian intervention in Crimea;[11] and again by Turkey in 2015 after threats by Islamic State of Iraq and the Levant to its territorial integrity.[12]

Since its founding, the admission of new member states has increased the alliance from the original 12 countries to 29. The most recent member state to be added to NATO is Montenegro on 5 June 2017. NATO currently recognizes Bosnia and Herzegovina, Georgia, and Macedonia as aspiring members.

1952 – NATIONAL SECURITY AGENCY

OFFICIAL OVERVIEW

The National Security Agency (NSA) is a national-level intelligence agency of the United States Department of Defense, under the authority of the Director of National Intelligence. The NSA is responsible for global monitoring, collection, and processing of information and data for foreign intelligence and counterintelligence purposes, specializing in a discipline known as signals intelligence (SIGINT). The NSA is also tasked with the protection of U.S. communications networks and information systems.[8][9] The NSA relies on a variety of measures to accomplish its mission, the majority of which are clandestine.[10]

Originating as a unit to decipher coded communications in World War II, it was officially formed as the NSA by President Harry S. Truman in 1952. Since then, it has become one of the largest U.S. intelligence organizations in terms of personnel and budget.[6][11] The NSA currently conducts worldwide mass data collection and has been known to physically bug electronic systems as one method to this end.[12] The NSA has also been alleged to have been behind such attack software as Stuxnet, which severely damaged Iran's nuclear program.[13][14] The NSA, alongside the Central Intelligence Agency (CIA), maintains a physical presence in many countries across the globe; the CIA/NSA joint Special Collection Service (a highly classified intelligence team) inserts eavesdropping devices in high value targets (such as Presidential palaces or embassies). SCS collection tactics allegedly encompass "close surveillance, burglary, wiretapping, [and] breaking and entering".[15][16]

Unlike the CIA and the Defense Intelligence Agency (DIA), both of which specialize primarily in foreign human espionage, the NSA does not publicly conduct human-source intelligence gathering. The NSA is entrusted with providing assistance to, and the coordination of, SIGINT elements for other government organizations - which are prevented by law from engaging in such activities on their own.[17] As part of these responsibilities, the agency has a co-located organization called the Central Security Service (CSS), which facilitates cooperation between the NSA and other U.S. defense cryptanalysis components. To further ensure streamlined communication between the signals intelligence community divisions, the NSA Director simultaneously serves as the Commander of the United States Cyber Command and as Chief of the Central Security Service.

The NSA's actions have been a matter of political controversy on several occasions, including its spying on anti-Vietnam-war leaders and the agency's participation in economic espionage. In 2013, the NSA had many of its secret surveillance programs revealed to the public by Edward Snowden, a former NSA contractor. According to the leaked documents, the NSA intercepts and stores the communications of over a billion people worldwide, including United States citizens. The documents also revealed the NSA tracks hundreds of millions of people's movements using cellphones metadata. Internationally, research has pointed to the NSA's ability to surveil the domestic Internet traffic of foreign countries through "boomerang routing".[18]

1951 – CIA – PROJECT ARTICHOKE / OPERATION ARTICHOKE

Project ARTICHOKE (also referred to as Operation ARTICHOKE) was a CIA project that researched interrogation methods and arose from Project BLUEBIRD on August 20, 1951, run by the CIA's Office of Scientific Intelligence.[1] A memorandum by Richard Helms to CIA director Allen Welsh Dulles indicated Artichoke became jena Project MKULTRA on April 13, 1953.[2][not in citation given]

A Central Intelligence Agency Project Artichoke document reads: "Not all viruses have to be lethal...the objective includes those that act as short-term and long-term incapacitating agents."[3]

The project studied hypnosis, forced morphine addiction (and subsequent forced withdrawal), and the use of other chemicals including LSD, to produce amnesia and other vulnerable states in subjects.

ARTICHOKE was a mind control program that gathered information together with the intelligence divisions of the Army, Navy, Air Force, and FBI. In addition, the scope of the project was outlined in a memo dated January 1952 that stated, "Can we get control of an individual to the point where he will do our bidding against his will and even against fundamental laws of nature, such as self-preservation?"[4][5][6][7][8]

Project Artichoke was the Central Intelligence Agency's secret code name for carrying out in-house and overseas experiments using LSD, hypnosis, and total isolation as a form of physiological harassment for special interrogations on human subjects.[9] The subjects who left this project were fogged with amnesia, resulting in faulty and vague memories of the experience.[10] According to Jeffrey Kaye, the name of this project came about from New York City criminal Ciro Terranova who was nicknamed "the Artichoke King".[citation needed] It was formerly known as Project Bluebird, but in August 1951, the operation was renamed.[11] This project was a kickoff for MKUltra.

The CIA disputed which department would take over the operation. Finally, it was decided that an agent from the CIA research staff, former U.S. Army brigadier general Paul F. Gaynor, would oversee it.[12] The CIA chose the weaker and less intelligent as its subjects, which were homosexuals, racial minorities, and military prisoners.[13] The operation took place in special isolated locations throughout Japan, Europe, Asia, and the Philippines.[14]

1953 – CIA – PROJECT MKULTRA & MKDELTA

OFFICIAL OVERVIEW

Between 1953 and 1966, the Central Intelligence Agency financed a wide-ranging project, code-named MKULTRA, concerned with the research and development of chemical, biological, and radiological materials capable of employment in clandestine operations to control human behavior.[16]

The operation began in the early 1950s, was officially sanctioned in 1953, was reduced in scope in 1964, further curtailed in 1967, and officially halted in 1973.[3] The program engaged in many illegal activities,[4][5][6] including the use of unwitting U.S. and Canadian citizens as its test subjects, which led to controversy regarding its legitimacy.4[7][8][9] MKUltra used numerous methods to manipulate people's mental states and alter brain functions, including the surreptitious administration of drugs (especially LSD) and other chemicals, hypnosis,[10][11] sensory deprivation, isolation and verbal abuse, as well as other forms of psychological torture.[12][13]

SOURCE: https://en.wikipedia.org/wiki/Project_MKUltra

GOALS

The Agency poured millions of dollars into studies examining methods of influencing and controlling the mind, and of enhancing their ability to extract information from resistant subjects during interrogation.[19] [20]

Some historians have asserted that creating a "Manchurian Candidate" subject through "mind control" techniques was a goal of MKULTRA and related CIA projects.[21] Alfred McCoy has claimed that the CIA attempted to focus media attention on these sorts of "ridiculous" programs, so that the public would not look at the primary goal of the research, which was developing effective methods of torture and interrogation. Such authors cite as one example, the fact that the CIA's KUBARK interrogation manual refers to "studies at McGill University", and that most of the techniques recommended in KUBARK are exactly those that Cameron used on his test subjects (sensory deprivation, drugs, isolation, etc.).[19]

One 1955 MKULTRA document gives an indication of the size and range of the effort; this document refers to the study of an assortment of mind-altering substances described as follows:[22]

1. Substances which will promote illogical thinking and impulsiveness to the point where the recipient would be discredited in public.
2. Substances which increase the efficiency of mentation and perception.
3. Materials which will prevent or counteract the intoxicating effect of alcohol.
4. Materials which will promote the intoxicating effect of alcohol.
5. Materials which will produce the signs and symptoms of recognized diseases in a reversible way so that they may be used for malingering, etc.
6. Materials which will render the induction of hypnosis easier or otherwise enhance its usefulness.
7. Substances which will enhance the ability of individuals to withstand privation, torture and coercion during interrogation and so-called "brain-washing".
8. Materials and physical methods which will produce amnesia for events preceding and during their use.
9. Physical methods of producing shock and confusion over extended periods of time and capable of surreptitious use.
10. Substances which produce physical disablement such as paralysis of the legs, acute anemia, etc.
11. Substances which will produce "pure" euphoria with no subsequent let-down.
12. Substances which alter personality structure in such a way that the tendency of the recipient to become dependent upon another person is enhanced.
13. A material which will cause mental confusion of such a type that the individual under its influence will find it difficult to maintain a fabrication under questioning.
14. Substances which will lower the ambition and general working efficiency of men when administered in undetectable amounts.
15. Substances which promote weakness or distortion of the eyesight or hearing faculties, preferably without permanent effects.
16. A knockout pill which can surreptitiously be administered in drinks, food, cigarettes, as an aerosol, etc., which will be safe to use, provide a maximum of amnesia, and be suitable for use by agent types on an ad hoc basis.
17. A material which can be surreptitiously administered by the above routes and which in very small amounts will make it impossible for a person to perform physical activity.

EXPERIMENTS

CIA documents suggest that "chemical, biological and radiological" means were investigated for the purpose of mind control as part of MKULTRA.[25]

LSD

Early CIA efforts focused on LSD, which later came to dominate many of MKULTRA's programs.

Once Project MKULTRA officially got underway in April, 1953, experiments included administering LSD to CIA employees, military personnel, doctors, other government agents, prostitutes, mentally ill patients, and members of the general public in order to study their reactions. LSD and other drugs were usually administered without the subject's knowledge or informed consent, a violation of the Nuremberg Code that the U.S. had agreed to follow after World War II.

Efforts to "recruit" subjects were often illegal, even though actual use of LSD was legal in the United States until October 6, 1966. In Operation Midnight Climax, the CIA set up several brothels in San Francisco to obtain a selection of men who would be too embarrassed to talk about the events. The men were dosed with LSD, the brothels were equipped with two-way mirrors, and the sessions were filmed for later viewing and study.[26]

Some subjects' participation was consensual, and in these cases they appeared to be singled out for even more extreme experiments. In one case, volunteers were given LSD for 77 consecutive days.[27]

LSD was eventually dismissed by MKULTRA's researchers as too unpredictable in its results.[28] Although useful information was sometimes obtained by questioning subjects after they had ingested LSD, not uncommonly the most marked effect would be the subjects' absolute and utter certainty that they would be able to withstand any form of interrogation, even under physical torture.

Other drugs

Another technique investigated was connecting a barbiturate IV into one arm and an amphetamine IV into the other.[26] The barbiturates were released into the person first, and as soon as the person began to fall asleep, the amphetamines were released. The person would then begin babbling incoherently, and it was sometimes possible to ask questions and get useful answers.

Other experiments involved hypnotic drugs such as temazepam (used under code name MKSEARCH), heroin, morphine, MDMA, mescaline, psilocybin, scopolamine, marijuana, alcohol, sodium pentothal,[29] and ergine (in Subproject 22).

Hypnosis

Declassified MKULTRA documents indicate hypnosis was studied in the early 1950s. Experimental goals included: the creation of "hypnotically induced anxieties," "hypnotically increasing ability to learn and recall complex written matter," studying hypnosis and polygraph examinations, "hypnotically increasing ability to observe and recall complex arrangements of physical objects," and studying "relationship of personality to susceptibility to hypnosis."[30] Experiments were conducted with drug induced hypnosis and with anterograde and retrograde amnesia while under the influence of such drugs.

1954 - PARIS AGREEMENTS

OFFICIAL OVERVIEW

The London and Paris Conferences were two related conferences in London and Paris in September–October 1954 to determine the status of West Germany. The talks concluded with the signing of the Paris Agreements (Paris Pacts, or Paris Accords[1]), which granted West Germany full sovereignty, ended the occupation, and allowed its admittance to NATO.[1] Furthermore, both West Germany and Italy joined the Brussels Treaty[1] on 23 October 1954.[2] The Agreements went into force on 5 May 1955.[2] The participating powers included France, the United Kingdom, Belgium, the Netherlands, Luxembourg, West Germany, Italy, Canada, the United States, and remaining NATO members.[1]

PRELUDE

Since the end of World War II, West Germany had been occupied by Allied forces and lacked its own means of defense. On 23 July 1952, the European Coal and Steel Community came into existence, bonding the member states economically. By 1951, fear of possible Soviet aggression in Europe led to preparation of an ill-fated European Defense Community (EDC). EDC was a proposed joint Western European military force, at the time favored over admitting Germany to NATO. The General Treaty (German: Deutschlandvertrag) of 1952 formally named the EDC as a prerequisite of the end of Allied occupation of Germany. EDC was, however, rejected by the French National Assembly on August 30, 1954, and a new solution became necessary.[2]

LONDON

At the London Conference, often called the Nine-Power Conference (not to be confused with the Nine Power Treaty), it was agreed that the occupying powers would make every effort to end the occupation.[3] The limits of German re-armament were also very important especially to France, which was still concerned with a powerful Germany.

Belgium was represented by Paul-Henri Spaak, Canada by Lester B. Pearson, France by Pierre Mendès-France, Germany by Konrad Adenauer, Italy by Gaetano Martino, Luxembourg by Joseph Bech, the Netherlands by Jan Willem Beyen, the United Kingdom by Anthony Eden, and the United States by John Foster Dulles.

PARIS

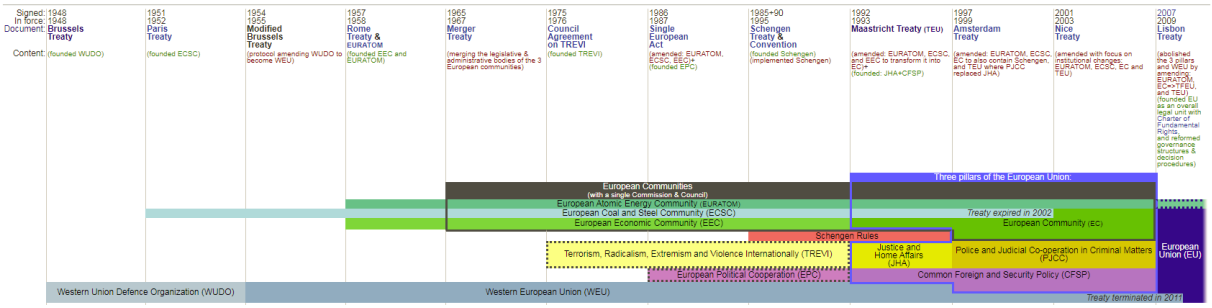

The powers met again in Paris on October 20–23, in an intergovernmental conference followed by a NATO Council meeting, to put the decisions reached in London into formal declarations and protocols to existing treaties.[1] "Protocol No. I Modifying and Completing the Brussels Treaty" formally added West Germany and Italy to the Brussels Treaty, creating the Western European Union (WEU), which, while not as broad or powerful as the previously proposed EDC, nevertheless was sufficient for the Deutschlandvertrag to come into force and therefore to end the occupation of West Germany and admit it as an ally in the Cold War.

Altogether there were as many as twelve international agreements signed in Paris.[2] the Bonn–Paris conventions ended the occupation of West Germany and West Germany obtained "the full authority of a sovereign state" on 5 May 1955 (although "full sovereignty" was not obtained until the Two Plus Four Agreement in 1990).[a] The treaty allowed Allied troops to remain in the country.

An agreement expanded the Brussels Treaty of 1948 to include West Germany and Italy, creating the Western European Union. This agreement allowed West Germany to start a limited rearmament program though it banned development of certain weapons, such as large warships. It was signed by the Brussels Treaty countries (Belgium, France, Great Britain, Luxembourg, and the Netherlands) and by West Germany and Italy.

Another accord accepted West Germany into the North Atlantic Treaty Organization (NATO).[1]

The negotiations on Saar status, only between France and West Germany, were held on the night before the conference, on 19 October.[1] The territory had been essentially annexed by France and a referendum was set up to determine the will of its people (the outcome was that Saarland rejoined West Germany in 1956-1957).[citation needed] On 27 October 1956[citation needed] the Saar Treaty officially made Saarland a state of the Federal Republic of Germany.

1958 – FOUNDATION OF ARPA (BECOMES DARPA IN 1972)

OFFICIAL OVERVIEW

DARPA

The Defense Advanced Research Projects Agency (DARPA) is an agency of the United States Department of Defense responsible for the development of emerging technologies for use by the military.

Originally known as the Advanced Research Projects Agency (ARPA), the agency was created in February 1958 by President Dwight D. Eisenhower in response to the Soviet launching of Sputnik 1 in 1957. Since its inception, the agency's mission is ensuring that the United States avoids further technological surprise.[3] By collaborating with academic, industry, and government partners, DARPA formulates and executes research and development projects to expand the frontiers of technology and science, often beyond immediate U.S. military requirements.[3]

DARPA-funded projects have provided significant technologies that influenced many non-military fields, such as computer networking and the basis for the modern Internet, and graphical user interfaces in information technology.

DARPA is independent of other military research and development and reports directly to senior Department of Defense management. DARPA has about 220 employees, of whom approximately 100 are in management[4].

The name of the organization first changed from its founding name ARPA to DARPA in March 1972, momentarily changing back to ARPA in February 1993, only to revert to DARPA in March 1996.

1963 – ASSASSINATION OF JOHN FITZGERALD KENNEDY (J.F.K.)

OFFICIAL OVERVIEW

John F. Kennedy, the 35th President of the United States, was assassinated on Friday, November 22, 1963 at 12:30 p.m. in Dallas, Texas while riding in a presidential motorcade in Dealey Plaza.[1] Kennedy was riding with his wife Jacqueline, Texas Governor John Connally, and Connally's wife, Nellie, and was fatally shot by former U.S. Marine[2] Lee Harvey Oswald. A ten-month investigation by the Warren Commission from November 1963 to September 1964 concluded that Oswald acted alone in shooting Kennedy, and that Jack Ruby also acted alone when he killed Oswald before he could stand trial.[3] Kennedy's death marked the fourth (following that of Lincoln, Garfield, and McKinley) and most recent assassination of an American President. Vice President Lyndon B. Johnson automatically became President upon Kennedy's death.[4]

In contrast to the conclusions of the Warren Commission, the United States House Select Committee on Assassinations (HSCA) concluded in 1979 that Kennedy was "probably assassinated as a result of a conspiracy".[5]The HSCA agreed with the Warren Commission that the injuries sustained by Kennedy and Connally were caused by Oswald's three rifle shots, but they also determined the existence of an additional gunshot based on analysis of an audio recording and therefore "... a high probability that two gunmen fired at [the] President."[6][7] The Committee was not able to identify any individuals or groups involved with the possible conspiracy. In addition, the HSCA found that the original federal investigations were "seriously flawed" with respect to information-sharing and the possibility of conspiracy.[8] As recommended by the HSCA, the acoustic evidence indicating conspiracy was subsequently re-examined and rejected.[9]

In light of the investigative reports determining that "reliable acoustic data do not support a conclusion that there was a second gunman," the U.S. Justice Department concluded active investigations and stated "that no persuasive evidence can be identified to support the theory of a conspiracy in ... the assassination of President Kennedy."[10] However, Kennedy's assassination is still the subject of widespread debate and has spawned numerous conspiracy theories and alternative scenarios. Polling in 2013 showed that 60% of Americans believe that a group of conspirators was responsible for the assassination.[11][12]

1964 – CIA – PROJECTS MKNAOMI & MKSEARCH – MKOFTEN / MKCHICKWIT

OFFICIAL OVERVIEW

MKNAOMI

MKNAOMI was the code name for a joint Department of Defense/CIA research program lasting from the 1950s through the 1970s. Unclassified information about the MKNAOMI program and the related Special Operations Division is scarce. It is generally reported to be a successor to the MKULTRA project and to have focused on biological projects including biological warfare agents—specifically, to store materials that could either incapacitate or kill a test subject and to develop devices for the diffusion of such materials.[1][2][3][4][5]
During the first twenty years of its establishment, the CIA engaged in various projects designed to increase U.S. biological and chemical warfare capabilities. Project MKNAOMI was initiated to provide the CIA with a covert support base to meet its top-secret operational requirements. The purpose was to establish a robust arsenal within the CIA's Technical Services Division (TSD) of various lethal and incapacitating materials. This would enable the TSD to serve as a highly maintained center for the circulation of biological and chemical materials.

Surveillance, testing, upgrading, and the evaluation of special materials and items were also provided by MKNAOMI so as to ensure that no defects and unwanted contingencies emerged during operational conditions. For these purposes the U.S. Army's Special Operations Command (SOC) was assigned to assist the CIA in the development, testing, and maintenance procedures for the biological agents and delivery systems (1952). Both the CIA and SOC also modified guns that fired special darts coated with biological agents and various poisonous pills. The darts would serve to incapacitate guard dogs, infiltrate the area that the dogs were guarding, and then awaken the dogs upon exiting the facility. In addition, the SOC was also designated to research the potentials for using biological agents against other animals and crops.

A 1967 CIA memo which was uncovered by the Church Committee was confirmed to give evidence of at least three covert techniques for attacking and poisoning crops that had been examined under field conditions. On November 25, 1969, President Richard Nixonabolished any military practice involving biological weapons and Project MKNAOMI was dissolved. On February 14, 1970, a presidential order was given to outlaw all stockpiles of bacteriological weapons and nonliving toxins. However, despite this presidential order, a CIA scientist was able to acquire an estimated 11 grams of deadly shellfish toxin from SOC personnel at Fort Detrick. The toxin was then stored in a CIA laboratory where it remained undetected for over five years.[6]

MKSEARCH

In 1964, MKSEARCH was the name given to the continuation of the MKULTRA program. The MKSEARCH program was divided into two projects dubbed MKOFTEN/CHICKWIT. Funding for MKSEARCH commenced in 1965, and ended in 1971.[36] The project was a joint project between The U.S. Army Chemical Corps and the Central Intelligence Agency's Office of Research and Development to find new offensive-use agents with a focus on incapacitating agents. The purpose of the project was to develop, test, and evaluate capabilities in the covert use of biological, chemical, and radioactive material systems and techniques for producing predictable human behavioral and/or physiological changes in support of highly sensitive operational requirements.[36]

By March 1971 over 26,000 potential agents had been acquired for future screening.[37] The CIA were interested in bird migration patterns for CBW research under MK/ULTRA where, a Subproject 139 designated "Bird Disease Studies" at Penn State.[38]

MKOFTEN

Project MKOFTEN was a covert Department of Defense program developed in conjunction with the CIA. A partner program to MKSEARCH, the goal of MKOFTEN was to "test the behavioral and toxicological effects of certain drugs on animals and humans".[1]

According to author Gordon Thomas' 2007 book, Secrets and Lies, the CIA's Operation Often was also initiated by the chief of the CIA's Technical Services Branch, Dr. Sidney Gottlieb, to "explore the world of black magic" and "harness the forces of darkness and challenge the concept that the inner reaches of the mind are beyond reach". As part of Operation Often, Dr. Gottlieb and other CIA employees visited with and recruited fortune-tellers, palm-readers, clairvoyants, astrologists, mediums, psychics, specialists in demonology, witches and warlocks, Satanists, other occult practitioners, and more.[2]

MKCHICKWIT

Project MKCHICKWIT, or CHICKWIT was a covert Department of Defense program developed in conjunction with the CIA. A partner program to MKSEARCH, the goal of MKCHICKWIT was to "identify new drug developments in Europe and Asia and to obtain information and samples".[1]

ANONS OVERVIEW

Do you really think that the black hats CIA would just stop like that after 20+ years of INTENSES, DETAILED & HIGHLY ILLEGAL researches on the mind control and more? No way. Those MK projects where terminated but what tells you that there isn't more? Classified projects that are still running?

For exemple... in the IT World, via certain technologies, such as the smartphones, Wi-Fi, Bluetooth, RFID and then directly through social medias, news manipulations, fake news, fake trends, fake shows? Manipulating reality on a World Wide scale. How so? What is the common point from all of those things (beside you being the targeted individual)? I already told it, technology, but more specifically; frequencies.

Read all the MKULTRa and others projects reports, it state it clearly. Which frequencies can be used to do / influences certain things, trigged actions / responses and so on. All of this is developed in more detail in the Key Top Secret Projects: MKULTRA.

1967 – CIA COINED THE TERM "CONSPIRACY THEORIST"

CONSPIRACY THEORISTS USED TO BE ACCEPTED AS NORMAL

Democracy and free market capitalism were founded on conspiracy theories.
The Magna Carta, the Constitution and Declaration of Independence and other founding Western documents were based on conspiracy theories. Greek democracy and free market capitalism were also based on conspiracy theories.
But those were the bad old days ...Things have now changed.

THE CIA COINED THE TERM CONSPIRACY THEORIST IN 1967

That all changed in the 1960s.
Specifically, in April 1967, the CIA wrote a dispatch which coined the term "conspiracy theories" ... and recommended methods for discrediting such theories. The dispatch was marked "psych" – short for "psychological operations" or disinformation – and "CS" for the CIA's "Clandestine Services" unit.
The dispatch was produced in responses to a Freedom of Information Act request by the New York Times in 1976.
The dispatch states:

> 2. This trend of opinion is a matter of concern to the U.S. government, including our organization.
> The aim of this dispatch is to provide material countering and discrediting the claims of the conspiracy theorists, so as to inhibit the circulation of such claims in other countries. Background information is supplied in a classified section and in a number of unclassified attachments.
> 3. Action. We do not recommend that discussion of the [conspiracy] question be initiated where it is not already taking place. Where discussion is active addresses are requested:
> a. To discuss the publicity problem with and friendly elite contacts (especially politicians and editors) , pointing out that the [official investigation of the relevant event] made as thorough an investigation as humanly possible, that the charges of the critics are without serious foundation, and that further speculative discussion only plays into the hands of the opposition. Point out also that parts of the conspiracy talk appear to be deliberately generated by ... propagandists. Urge them to use their influence to discourage unfounded and irresponsible speculation.
> b. To employ propaganda assets to and refute the attacks of the critics. Book reviews and feature articles are particularly appropriate for this purpose. The unclassified attachments to this guidance should provide useful background material for passing to assets. Our ploy should point out, as applicable, that the critics are (I) wedded to theories adopted before the evidence was in, (II) politically interested, (III) financially interested, (IV) hasty and inaccurate in their research, or (V) infatuated with their own theories.
> 4. In private to media discussions not directed at any particular writer, or in attacking publications which may be yet forthcoming, the following arguments should be useful:
> a. No significant new evidence has emerged which the Commission did not consider.
> b. Critics usually overvalue particular items and ignore others. They tend to place more emphasis on the recollections of individual witnesses (which are less reliable and more divergent–and hence offer more hand-holds for criticism) ...
>
> c. Conspiracy on the large scale often suggested would be impossible to conceal in the United States, esp. since informants could expect to receive large royalties, etc.

d. Critics have often been enticed by a form of intellectual pride: they light on some theory and fall in love with it; they also scoff at the Commission because it did not always answer every question with a flat decision one way or the other.

f. As to charges that the Commission's report was a rush job, it emerged three months after the deadline originally set. But to the degree that the Commission tried to speed up its reporting, this was largely due to the pressure of irresponsible speculation already appearing, in some cases coming from the same critics who, refusing to admit their errors, are now putting out new criticisms.

g. Such vague accusations as that "more than ten people have died mysteriously" can always be explained in some natural way ….

6. Where possible, counter speculation by encouraging reference to the Commission's Report itself. Open-minded foreign readers should still be impressed by the care, thoroughness, objectivity and speed with which the Commission worked. Reviewers of other books might be encouraged to add to their account the idea that, checking back with the report itself, they found it far superior to the work of its critics.

CONSPIRACY THEORY ON WIKIPEDIA:

A conspiracy theory is an explanation of an event or situation that invokes an unwarranted conspiracy, generally one involving an illegal or harmful act carried out by government or other powerful actors. Conspiracy theories often produce hypotheses that contradict the prevailing understanding of history or simple facts. The term is often a derogatory one.[3]
According to the political scientist Michael Barkun, conspiracy theories rely on the view that the universe is governed by design, and embody three principles: nothing happens by accident, nothing is as it seems, and everything is connected.[4] Another common feature is that conspiracy theories evolve to incorporate whatever evidence exists against them, so that they become, as Barkun writes, a closed system that is unfalsifiable, and therefore "a matter of faith rather than proof".[5][6]

ON WIKISPOOK:

The modern phrase "conspiracy theory" is used as a pejorative (similarly to the word "extremism"). The CIA, anxious about widespread disbelief that the JFK Assassination was carried out by Lee Harvey Oswald, used their Operation Mockingbird assets in the commercially-controlled media to promote the phrase in an effort to discredit opposition to the US government's official narrative.[1] Post 9/11, it is increasingly the subject of (pseudo-)scientific study, as a rationale for internet censorship.

1969 – ARPANET (PRECURSOR OF INTERNET)

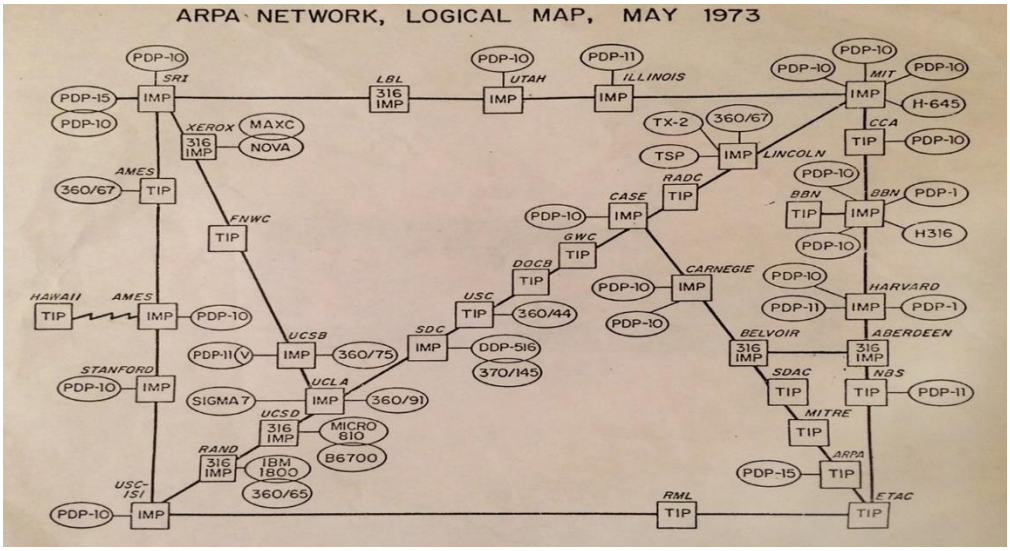

OFFICIAL OVERVIEW

The Advanced Research Projects Agency Network (ARPANET) was an early packet switching network and the first network to implement the protocol suite TCP/IP. Both technologies became the technical foundation of the Internet. The ARPANET was initially funded by the Advanced Research Projects Agency (ARPA) of the United States Department of Defense.[1][2][3][4][5]

The packet switching methodology employed in the ARPANET was based on concepts and designs by Americans Leonard Kleinrock and Paul Baran, British scientist Donald Davies, and Lawrence Roberts.[6] The TCP/IP communications protocols were developed for the ARPANET by computer scientists Robert Kahn and Vint Cerf, and incorporated concepts from the French CYCLADES project directed by Louis Pouzin.

As the project progressed, protocols for internetworking were developed by which multiple separate networks could be joined into a network of networks. Access to the ARPANET was expanded in 1981 when the National Science Foundation (NSF) funded the Computer Science Network (CSNET). In 1982, the Internet protocol suite (TCP/IP) was introduced as the standard networking protocol on the ARPANET. In the early 1980s the NSF funded the establishment for national supercomputing centers at several universities, and provided interconnectivity in 1986 with the NSFNET project, which also created network access to the supercomputer sites in the United States from research and education organizations. The ARPANET was decommissioned in 1990.

MILNET

In computer networking, MILNET (Military Network) was the name given to the part of the ARPANET internetwork designated for unclassified United States Department of Defense traffic.[1]

MILNET was physically separated from the ARPANET in 1984.[2] The ARPANET remained in service for the academic research community, but direct connectivity between the networks was severed for security reasons. Gateways relayed electronic mail between the two networks. BBN Technologies built and managed both the MILNET and the ARPANET and the two networks used very similar technology. It is also known as "Military Net."

During the 1980s the MILNET expanded to become the Defense Data Network, a worldwide set of military networks running at different security levels. In the 1990s, MILNET became the NIPRNET.

SOURCE: https://en.wikipedia.org/wiki/MILNET

NIPRNET

The Non-classified Internet Protocol (IP) Router Network[1] (NIPRNet) is a private IP network used to exchange unclassified information, including information subject to controls on distribution,[2] among the private network's users. The NIPRNet also provides its users access to the Internet.

NIPRNet is composed of Internet Protocol routers owned by the United States Department of Defense (DOD). It was created in the 1980s and managed by the Defense Information Systems Agency (DISA) to supersede the earlier MILNET.[3]

Over the last decades,[when?] NIPRNet has grown faster than the U.S. Department of Defense can monitor. DoD spent $10 million in 2010 to map out the current state of the NIPRNet, in an effort to analyze its expansion, and identify unauthorized users, who are suspected to have quietly joined the network.[3] The NIPRNet survey, which uses IPSonar software developed by Lumeta Corporation, also looked for weakness in security caused by network configuration.[4] The Department of Defense has made a major effort over the last few years,[when?] to improve network security.[5] The Pentagon announced it was requesting $2.3 billion in the 2012 budget to bolster network security within the Defense Department and to strengthen ties with its counterparts at the Department of Homeland Security.[citation needed]

SIPRNet and NIPRNet are referred to colloquially as sipper-net and nipper-net (or simply sipper and nipper), respectively.[citation needed]

1989–91 – WORLD WIDE WEB (WWW) – INVENTION AND RELEASE

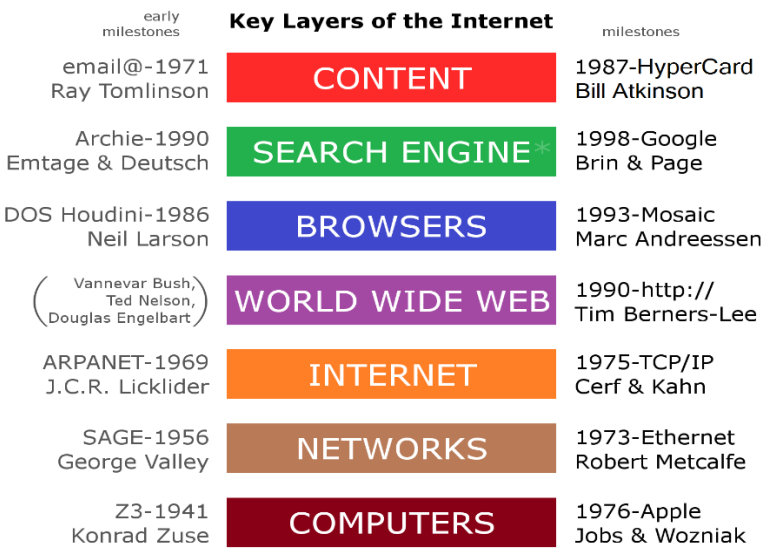

OFFICIAL OVERVIEW

The World Wide Web (abbreviated WWW or the Web) is an information space where documents and other web resources are identified by Uniform Resource Locators (URLs), interlinked by hypertext links, and can be accessed via the Internet.[1] English scientist Tim Berners-Lee invented the World Wide Web in 1989. He wrote the first web browser computer program in 1990 while employed at CERN in Switzerland.[2][3] The Web browser was released outside CERN in 1991, first to other research institutions starting in January 1991 and to the general public on the Internet in August 1991.

The World Wide Web has been central to the development of the Information Age and is the primary tool billions of people use to interact on the Internet.[4][5][6] Web pages are primarily text documents formatted and annotated with Hypertext Markup Language (HTML).[7] In addition to formatted text, web pages may contain images, video, audio, and software components that are rendered in the user's web browser as coherent pages of multimedia content.

Embedded hyperlinks permit users to navigate between web pages. Multiple web pages with a common theme, a common domain name, or both, make up a website. Website content can largely be provided by the publisher, or interactively where users contribute content or the content depends upon the users or their actions. Websites may be mostly informative, primarily for entertainment, or largely for commercial, governmental, or non-governmental organisational purposes.

1992 – MAASTRICHT TREATY

OFFICIAL OVERVIEW

The Maastricht Treaty ([maːˈstrɪxt]; formally, the Treaty on European Union or TEU) undertaken to integrate Europe was signed on 7 February 1992 by the members of the European Community in Maastricht, Netherlands.[1] On 9–10 December 1991, the same city hosted the European Council which drafted the treaty.[2] Upon its entry into force on 1 November 1993 during the Delors Commission,[3] it created the three pillars structure of the European Union and led to the creation of the single European currency, the euro.

TEU comprised two novel titles respectively on Common Foreign and Security Policy and Cooperation in the Fields of Justice and Home Affairs, which replaced the former informal intergovernmental cooperation bodies named TREVI and European Political Cooperation on EU Foreign policy coordination. In addition TEU also comprised three titles which amended the three pre-existing community treaties: Treaty establishing the European Atomic Energy Community, Treaty establishing the European Coal and Steel Community, and the Treaty establishing the European Economic Community which had its abbreviation renamed from TEEC to TEC (being known as TFEU since 2007).

The Maastricht Treaty (TEU) and all pre-existing treaties, has subsequently been further amended by the treaties of Amsterdam (1997), Nice (2001) and Lisbon (2009).

1994-95 – INVENTION OF PHP – BEGINNING OF THE WEB 2.0 (DYNAMIC)

OFFICIAL OVERVIEW

PHP: Hypertext Preprocessor (or simply PHP) is a server-side scripting language designed for web development but also used as a general-purpose programming language. It was originally created by Rasmus Lerdorf in 1994,[3] the PHP reference implementation is now produced by The PHP Group.[4] PHP originally stood for Personal Home Page,[3] but it now stands for the recursive acronym PHP: Hypertext Preprocessor.[5] PHP code may be embedded into HTML code, or it can be used in combination with various web template systems, web content management systems, and web frameworks. PHP code is usually processed by a PHP interpreter implemented as a module in the web server or as a Common Gateway Interface (CGI) executable. The web server combines the results of the interpreted and executed PHP code, which may be any type of data, including images, with the generated web page. PHP code may also be executed with a command-line interface (CLI) and can be used to implement standalone graphical applications.[6]

PHP Programming at Wikibooks

The standard PHP interpreter, powered by the Zend Engine, is free software released under the PHP License. PHP has been widely ported and can be deployed on most web servers on almost every operating systemand platform, free of charge.[7]

The PHP language evolved without a written formal specification or standard until 2014, leaving the canonical PHP interpreter as a de facto standard. Since 2014 work has gone on to create a formal PHP specification.[8]

During the 2010s there have been increased efforts towards standardisation and code sharing in PHP applications by projects such as PHP-FIG in the form of PSR-initiatives as well as Composer dependency manager and the Packagist repository. PHP hosts a diverse array of web frameworks requiring framework-specific knowledge, with Laravel recently emerging as a popular option by incorporating ideas made popular from other competing non-PHP web frameworks, like Ruby on Rails.

SOURCE : https://en.wikipedia.org/wiki/PHP

EARLY HISTORY

Rasmus Lerdorf, who wrote the original Common Gateway Interface (CGI) component, together with Andi Gutmans and Zeev Suraski, who rewrote the parser that formed PHP 3.

PHP development began in 1994 when Rasmus Lerdorf wrote several Common Gateway Interface (CGI) programs in C,[9][10][11] which he used to maintain his personal homepage. He extended them to work with web forms and to communicate with databases, and called this implementation "Personal Home Page/Forms Interpreter" or PHP/FI.

PHP/FI could be used to build simple, dynamic web applications. To accelerate bug reporting and improve the code, Lerdorf initially announced the release of PHP/FI as "Personal Home Page Tools (PHP Tools) version 1.0" on the Usenet discussion group comp.infosystems.www.authoring.cgi on June 8, 1995.[12][13] This release already had the basic functionality that PHP has today. This included Perl-like variables, form handling, and the ability to embed HTML. The syntax resembled that of Perl but was simpler, more limited and less consistent.[4]

Early PHP was not intended to be a new programming language, and grew organically, with Lerdorf noting in retrospect: "I don't know how to stop it, there was never any intent to write a programming language [...] I have absolutely no idea how to write a programming language, I just kept adding the next logical step on the way."[14] A development team began to form and, after months of work and beta testing, officially released PHP/FI 2 in November 1997.

The fact that PHP was not originally designed but instead was developed organically has led to inconsistent naming of functions and inconsistent ordering of their parameters.[15] In some cases, the function names were chosen to match the lower-level libraries which PHP was "wrapping",[16] while in some very early versions of PHP the length of the function names was used internally as a hash function, so names were chosen to improve the distribution of hash values.[17]

1997 – DEATH OF DIANA, PRINCESS OF WALES

OFFICIAL OVERVIEW

On 31 August 1997, Diana, Princess of Wales, died as a result of injuries sustained in a car crash in the Pont de l'Alma road tunnel in Paris, France. Her companion, Dodi Fayed, and the driver of the Mercedes S280, Henri Paul, were pronounced dead at the scene. A fourth passenger in the car, bodyguard Trevor Rees-Jones, was seriously injured but survived.

Although the media blamed the behaviour of the paparazzi who followed the car, a French judicial investigation in 1999 found that the crash was caused by Henri Paul, who lost control of the Mercedes at high speed while he was intoxicated and under the effects of prescription drugs. Paul was the deputy head of security at the Hôtel Ritz at the time of the crash and had goaded the paparazzi waiting outside the hotel earlier.[1] His inebriation may have been made worse by anti-depressants and traces of an anti-psychotic in his body.[2][3] The investigation concluded that the photographers were not near the Mercedes when it crashed.[4] After hearing evidence at the British inquest in 2008, a jury returned to a verdict of "unlawful killing" by Paul and the paparazzi pursuing the car.[5]

Diana's death caused a substantial outpouring of worldwide grief, including numerous floral tributes and her funeral was watched by an estimated 2.5 billion people. The Royal Family were criticised in the press for their reaction to Diana's death, although they were simply following established protocol. Public interest in Diana has remained high and she has retained regular press coverage.

CIRCUMSTANCES

Events preceding the crash

A car similar to that involved in the accident.

On Saturday, 30 August 1997, Diana left Sardinia on a private jet and arrived in Paris with Dodi Fayed, the son of Mohamed Al-Fayed.[6] They had stopped there en route to London, having spent the preceding nine days together on board Mohamed Al-Fayed's yacht Jonikal on the French and Italian Riviera.[7] They had intended to stay there for the night. Mohamed Al-Fayed was and is the owner of the Hôtel Ritz Paris. He also owned an apartment in Rue Arsène Houssaye, a short distance from the hotel, just off the Avenue des Champs Elysées.[8]

Henri Paul, the deputy head of security at the Ritz Hotel, had been instructed to drive the hired black 1994 Mercedes-Benz S280 in order to elude the paparazzi;[9] a decoy vehicle left the Ritz first from the main entrance on Place Vendôme, attracting a throng of photographers. Diana and Fayed then departed from the hotel's rear entrance,[10] Rue Cambon at around 00:20 on 31 August CEST (22:20 on 30 August UTC), heading for the apartment in Rue Arsène Houssaye. They did this to avoid the nearly 30 photographers waiting in the front of the hotel.[10] They were the rear passengers; Trevor Rees-Jones, a member of the Fayed family's personal protection team, was in the (right) front passenger seat.[11] It was believed that Diana and Dodi were not wearing seat belts.[12] After leaving the Rue Cambon and crossing the Place de la Concorde, they drove along Cours la Reine and Cours Albert 1er – the embankment road along the right bank of the River Seine – into the Place de l'Alma underpass.[13]

The crash

At around 12:23 a.m., Paul lost control of the vehicle at the entrance to the Pont de l'Alma tunnel. The car swerved to the left of the two-lane carriageway before it collided head-on with the 13th pillar that supported the roof. The car was travelling at an estimated speed of 105 km/h (65 mph).[14] It then spun and hit the stone wall of the tunnel backwards, finally coming to a stop. The impact caused substantial damage, particularly to the front half of the vehicle, as there was no guard rail between the pillars to prevent this.[15] Witnesses arriving shortly after the accident reported smoke.[16] Witnesses also reported that photographers on motorcycles "swarmed the Mercedes sedan before it entered the tunnel."[12]

The aftermath

The entrance to the Pont de l'Alma Tunnel, the site where Diana was fatally injured

As the victims lay in the wrecked car, the photographers, who had been driving slower and were accordingly some distance behind the Mercedes, reached the scene. The photographers were on motorcycles.[10] Some rushed to help, tried to open the doors and help the victims, while some of them took pictures.[17] Airbags were deployed.[18] Police arrived on scene around 10 minutes after the crash at 00:30[17] and an ambulance was on site five minutes after the police, according to witnesses.[18] France Info radio reported that one photographer was beaten by witnesses who were horrified by the scene.[12] Five of the photographers were taken into custody.[16] Later, two others were detained and around 20 rolls of film were taken from the photographers.[12] Police also impounded their vehicles.[12] Firemen also arrived to help remove the victims.[19]

Still conscious, Rees-Jones had suffered multiple serious facial injuries and a head contusion.[20] The front occupants' airbags had functioned normally.[21] The occupants were not wearing seat belts.[a] Diana, who had been sitting in the right rear passenger seat, was still conscious.[17] Critically injured, Diana was reported to murmur repeatedly, "Oh my God," and after the photographers and other helpers were pushed away by police, "Leave me alone."[22] In June 2007 the Channel 4 documentary Diana: The Witnesses in the Tunnel claimed that the first person to touch Diana was Dr. Maillez,[23] who chanced upon the scene. He reported that Diana had no visible injuries but was in shock.[24] Diana was removed from the car at 1:00 am. She then went into cardiac arrest and following external cardiopulmonary resuscitation, her heart started beating again.[25] She was moved to the SAMU ambulance at 1:18 am, left the scene at 1:41 am and arrived at the Pitié-Salpêtrière Hospital at 2:06 am.[26]

Fayed had been sitting in the left rear passenger seat and was shortly afterwards pronounced dead.[27] Paul was declared dead on removal from the wreckage.[17] Both were taken to the Institut Médico-Légal (IML), the Paris mortuary, not to a hospital.[28] Paul was later found to have a blood alcohol level of 1.75 grams per liter of blood - about 3.5 times the legal limit in France.[20]

Despite attempts to save her, Diana's internal injuries were too extensive: her heart had been displaced to the right side of the chest, which tore the pulmonary vein and the pericardium. Despite lengthy resuscitation attempts, including internal cardiac massage, she died at 4:00 a.m.[29][30] AnesthesiologistBruno Riou announced her death at 6 am at a news conference held at the hospital.[16][31]

Later that morning, Jean-Pierre Chevènement (French Minister of the Interior) visited the hospital with French Prime Minister Lionel Jospin.[32] At around 5:00 pm, Diana's former husband, Charles, Prince of Wales, and her two older sisters, Lady Sarah McCorquodale and Lady Jane Fellowes, arrived in Paris.[33] The group visited the hospital along with French President Jacques Chirac and thanked the doctors for trying to save her life.[34] Prince Charles accompanied Diana's body home on Sunday.[35]

Initial media reports stated Diana's car had collided with the pillar at 190 km/h (120 mph), and that the speedometer's needle had jammed at that position.[20] It was later announced the car's speed on collision was about 95–110 km/h (60–70 mph). The car was certainly travelling much faster than the speed limit of 50 km/h (31 mph). In 1999, a French investigation concluded the Mercedes had come into contact with another vehicle (a white Fiat Uno) in the tunnel.[36] The driver of that vehicle has never been traced, and the specific vehicle has not been identified.[36]

It was remarked by Robin Cook, the British Foreign Secretary, that if the accident had been caused in part by being hounded by paparazzi, that it would be "doubly tragic."[10] Diana's brother also blamed tabloid media for her death.[37] An 18-month French judicial investigation concluded in 1999 that the crash was caused by Paul, who lost control at high speed while intoxicated.[38]

REACTION OF THE ROYAL FAMILY

The Queen expressed her dismay at Diana's death when she found out.[65] Prince Charles was the person who told their sons about their mother's death.[65] The princes were told of her death before dawn, as Prince Charles had to wake them up to share the tragic news.[66] The boys were close to their mother.[66] On Sunday morning after Diana's death, Queen Elizabeth, Princes Charles, William and Harry all wore black to church services at Balmoral Castle.[67] Prince Charles, William and Harry would be coming back to London on Friday, September 5.[68] The Queen, who returned to London from Balmoral, agreed to a television broadcast to the nation.[69]

The Royal Family was criticised for a rigid adherence to protocol, and their concern to care for Diana's grieving sons, was interpreted as a lack of compassion.[70] In particular, the refusal of Buckingham Palace to fly the Royal Standard at half-mast provoked angry headlines in newspapers.[71] "Where is our Queen? Where is her Flag?" asked The Sun.[69] The Palace's stance was one of royal protocol: no flag could fly over Buckingham Palace, as the Royal Standard is only flown when the Queen is in residence, and the Queen was then in Scotland. The Royal Standard never flies at half-mast as it is the Sovereign's flag and there is never an interregnum or vacancy in the monarchy, as the new monarch immediately succeeds his or her predecessor. Finally, as a compromise, the Union Flag was flown at half-mast as the Queen left for Westminster Abbey on the day of the funeral.[69] This set a precedent, and Buckingham Palace has subsequently flown the Union Flag when the Queen is not in residence.[72]

Prince Harry admitted in 2017 that the death of his mother caused severe depression and grief.[73] Prince William was 15 and Harry was 12 when Diana died.[74]

CONSPIRACY THEORIES

Although the initial French investigation found that Diana had died as a result of an accident, several conspiracy theories have been raised. Since February 1998, Fayed's father, Mohamed Al-Fayed (the owner of the Hôtel Ritz, where Paul worked, and thus potentially liable for wrongful death liability) has claimed that the crash was a result of a conspiracy,[107] and later contended that the crash was orchestrated by MI6 on the instructions of the Royal Family.[108] His claims were dismissed by a French judicial investigation[2] and by Operation Paget, a Metropolitan Police Service inquiry that concluded in 2006.[109] An inquest headed by Lord Justice Scott Baker into the deaths of Diana and Fayed began at the Royal Courts of Justice, London, on 2 October 2007, a continuation of the inquest that began in 2004.[94] On 7 April 2008, the jury concluded that Diana and Fayed were the victims of an "unlawful killing" by the "grossly negligent" chauffeur Paul and the drivers of the following vehicles.[110] Additional factors were "the impairment of the judgment of the driver of the Mercedes through alcohol" and "the death of the deceased was caused or contributed to by the fact that the deceased was not wearing a seat belt, the fact that the Mercedes struck the pillar in the Alma Tunnel rather than colliding with something else".[103]

On 17 August 2013, Scotland Yard revealed that they were examining the credibility of information from a source that alleged that Diana was murdered by a member of the British military.[111][112]

2001 – 911 – SEPTEMBER 11, 2001 ATTACKS

OFFICIAL OVERVIEW

The September 11 attacks (also referred to as 9/11)[a] were a series of four coordinated terrorist attacks by the Islamic terrorist group al-Qaeda on the United States on the morning of Tuesday, September 11, 2001. The attacks killed 2,996 people, injured over 6,000 others, and caused at least $10 billion in infrastructure and property damage.[2][3]

Four passenger airliners operated by two major U.S. passenger air carriers (United Airlines and American Airlines) — all of which departed from airports in the northeastern United States bound for California — were hijackedby 19 al-Qaeda terrorists. Two of the planes, American Airlines Flight 11 and United Airlines Flight 175, were crashed into the North and South towers, respectively, of the World Trade Center complex in New York City. Within an hour and 42 minutes, both 110-story towers collapsed, with debris and the resulting fires causing partial or complete collapse of all other buildings in the World Trade Center complex, including the 47-story 7 World Trade Center tower, as well as significant damage to ten other large surrounding structures. A third plane, American Airlines Flight 77, was crashed into the Pentagon (the headquarters of the United States Department of Defense) in Arlington County, Virginia, leading to a partial collapse of the building's western side. The fourth plane, United Airlines Flight 93, was initially steered toward Washington, D.C., but crashed into a field in Stonycreek Townshipnear Shanksville, Pennsylvania, after its passengers tried to overcome the hijackers. 9/11 was the single deadliest incident for firefighters and law enforcement officers[4] in the history of the United States, with 343 and 72 killed respectively.

The 2004 Madrid train bombings (also known in Spain as 11-M) were nearly simultaneous, coordinated bombings against the Cercanías commuter train system of Madrid, Spain, on the morning of 11 March 2004 – three days before Spain's general elections. The explosions killed 192 people and injured around 2,000.[1][3] The official investigation by the Spanish judiciary found that the attacks were directed by an al-Qaeda terrorist cell,[4][5] although no direct al-Qaeda participation has been established.[6][7][8] Though they had no role in the planning or implementation, the Spanish miners who sold the explosives to the terrorists were also arrested.[9][10][11]

Controversy regarding the handling and representation of the bombings by the government arose, with Spain's two main political parties—Spanish Socialist Workers' Party (PSOE) and Partido Popular (PP)—accusing each other of concealing or distorting evidence for electoral reasons. The bombings occurred three days before general elections in which incumbent José María Aznar's PP was defeated.[12] Immediately after the bombing, leaders of the PP claimed evidence indicating the Basque separatist organization ETA (Euskadi Ta Askatasuna) was responsible for the bombings.[verification needed][13][14] Islamist responsibility would have had the opposite political effect,[verification needed] as it would have been seen as a consequence of the PP government taking Spain into the Iraq War, a policy extremely unpopular among Spaniards.[15] Following the attacks, there were nationwide demonstrations and protests asking the government to truth.[16] The predominant view among political the Aznar administration lost the general elections handling and representation of the terrorist than because of the bombings per se.[17][18][19][20]

2008 – GLOBAL FINACIAL CRISIS (FINANCIAL CRISIS OF 2007–2008)

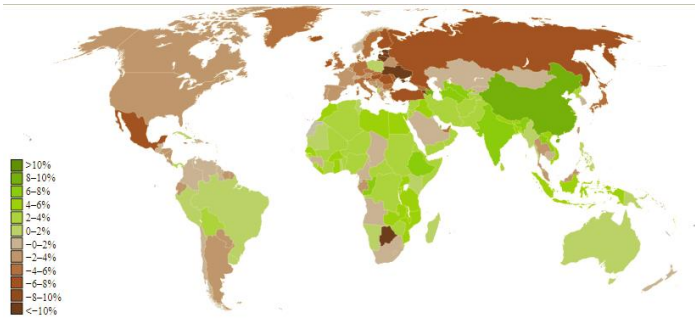

OFFICIAL OVERVIEW

The financial crisis of 2007–2008, also known as the global financial crisis and the 2008 financial crisis, is considered by many economists to have been the worst financial crisis since the Great Depression of the 1930s.[1][2][3][4]

It began in 2007 with a crisis in the subprime mortgage market in the United States, and developed into a full-blown international banking crisis with the collapse of the investment bank Lehman Brothers on September 15, 2008.[5] Excessive risk-taking by banks such as Lehman Brothers helped to magnify the financial impact globally.[6] Massive bail-outs of financial institutions and other palliative monetary and fiscal policies were employed to prevent a possible collapse of the world financial system. The crisis was nonetheless followed by a global economic downturn, the Great Recession. The European debt crisis, a crisis in the banking system of the European countries using the euro, followed later.

The Dodd–Frank Wall Street Reform and Consumer Protection Act of 2010 was enacted in the US in the aftermath of the crisis to "promote the financial stability of the United States".[7] The Basel III capital and liquidity standards were adopted by countries around the world.[8]

SUMMARY

Subprime mortgage bubble

The precipitating factor for the Financial Crisis of 2007–2008 was a high default rate in the United States subprime home mortgage sector – the bursting of the "subprime bubble". While the causes of the bubble are disputed, some or all of the following factors must have contributed.

- Low interest rates encouraged mortgage lending.
- Securitization. Many mortgages were bundled together and formed into new financial instruments called mortgage-backed securities, in a process known as securitization. These bundles could be sold as (ostensibly) low-risk securities partly because they were often backed by credit default swapsinsurance.[9] Because mortgage lenders could pass these mortgages (and the associated risks) on in this way, they could and did adopt loose underwriting criteria (due in part to outdated and lax regulation).
- Lax regulation allowed predatory lending in the private sector,[10][11] especially after the federal government overrode anti-predatory state laws in 2004.[12]
- The Community Reinvestment Act (CRA),[13] a US federal law designed to help low- and moderate-income Americans get mortgage loans encouraged banks to grant mortgages to higher risk families.[14][15][16]
- Mortgage guarantees. Many of the subprime (high risk) loans were bundled and sold, finally accruing to quasi-government agencies (Fannie Mae and Freddie Mac).[17] The implicit guarantee by the US federal government created a moral hazard and contributed to a glut of risky lending.

The accumulation and subsequent high default rate of these subprime mortgages led to the financial crisis and the consequent damage to the world economy.

Banking crisis[edit]

High mortgage approval rates led to a large pool of homebuyers, which drove up housing prices. This appreciation in value led large numbers of homeowners (subprime or not) to borrow against their homes as an apparent windfall. This "bubble" would be burst by a rising single-family residential mortgages delinquency rate beginning in August 2006 and peaking in the first quarter, 2010.[18]

The high delinquency rates led to a rapid devaluation of financial instruments (mortgage-backed securities including bundled loan portfolios, derivatives and credit default swaps). As the value of these assets plummeted, the market (buyers) for these securities evaporated and banks who were heavily invested in these assets began to experience a liquidity crisis. Freddie Mac and Fannie Mae were taken over by the federal government on September 7, 2008. Lehman Brothers filed for bankruptcy on September 15, 2008. Merrill Lynch, AIG, HBOS, Royal Bank of Scotland, Bradford & Bingley, Fortis, Hypo Real Estate, and Alliance & Leicester were all expected to follow—with a US federal bailout announced the following day beginning with $85 billion to AIG. In spite of trillions[19] paid out by the US federal government, it became much more difficult to borrow money. The resulting decrease in buyers caused housing prices to plummet.

Consequences[edit]

While the collapse of large financial institutions was prevented by the bailout of banks by national governments, stock markets still dropped worldwide. In many areas, the housing market also suffered, resulting in evictions, foreclosures, and prolonged unemployment. The crisis played a significant role in the failure of key businesses, declines in consumer wealth estimated in trillions of US dollars, and a downturn in economic activity leading to the Great Recession of 2008–2012 and contributing to the European sovereign-debt crisis.[20][21] The active phase of the crisis, which manifested as a liquidity crisis, can be dated from August 9, 2007, when BNP Paribas terminated withdrawals from three hedge funds citing "a complete evaporation of liquidity".[22]

The bursting of the US housing bubble, which peaked at the end of 2006,[23][24] caused the values of securities tied to US real estate pricing to plummet, damaging financial institutions globally.[25][26] The financial crisis was triggered by a complex interplay of policies that encouraged home ownership, providing easier access to loans for subprime borrowers, overvaluation of bundled subprime mortgages based on the theory that housing prices would continue to escalate, questionable trading practices on behalf of both buyers and sellers, compensation structures that prioritize short-term deal flow over long-term value creation, and a lack of adequate capital holdings from banks and insurance companies to back the financial commitments they were making.[27][28][29][30] Questions regarding bank solvency, declines in credit availability, and damaged investor confidence affected global stock markets, where securities suffered large losses during 2008 and early 2009. Economies worldwide slowed during this period, as credit tightened and international trade declined.[31] Governments and central banks responded with unprecedented fiscal stimulus, monetary policy expansion and institutional bailouts.[32] In the US, Congress passed the American Recovery and Reinvestment Act of 2009.

Background causes[edit]

Many causes for the financial crisis have been suggested, with varying weight assigned by experts.[33]

- The US Senate's Levin–Coburn Report concluded that the crisis was the result of "high risk, complex financial products; undisclosed conflicts of interest; the failure of regulators, the credit rating agencies, and the market itself to rein in the excesses of Wall Street."[34]
- The Financial Crisis Inquiry Commission concluded that the financial crisis was avoidable and was caused by "widespread failures in financial regulation and supervision", "dramatic failures of corporate governance and risk management at many systemically important financial institutions", "a combination of excessive borrowing, risky investments, and lack of transparency" by financial institutions, ill preparation and inconsistent action by government that "added to the uncertainty and panic", a "systemic breakdown in accountability and ethics", "collapsing mortgage-lending standards and the mortgage securitization pipeline", deregulation of over-the-counter derivatives, especially credit default swaps, and "the failures of credit rating agencies" to correctly price risk.[35]
- The 1999 repeal of the Glass-Steagall Act effectively removed the separation between investment banks and depository banks in the United States.[36]
- Critics argued that credit rating agencies[37][38] and investors failed to accurately price the risk involved with mortgage-related financial products, and that governments did not adjust their regulatory practices to address 21st-century financial markets.[39]
- Research into the causes of the financial crisis has also focused on the role of interest rate spreads.[40]
- Fair value accounting was issued as US accounting standard SFAS 157 in 2006 by the privately run Financial Accounting Standards Board (FASB)—delegated by the SEC with the task of establishing financial reporting standards.[41] This required that tradable assets such as mortgage securities be valued according to their current market value rather than their historic cost or some future expected value. When the market for such securities became volatile and collapsed, the resulting loss of value had a major financial effect upon the institutions holding them even if they had no immediate plans to sell them.[42]

2013 (FROM 2013 TO PRESENT DAY) – GLOBAL SURVEILLANCE DISCLOSURES / SNOWDEN'S NSA LEAKS

OFFICIAL OVERVIEW

Ongoing news reports in the international media have revealed operational details about the United States National Security Agency (NSA) and its international partners' global surveillance[1] of foreign nationals and U.S. citizens. The reports mostly emanate from a cache of top secret documents leaked by ex-NSA contractor Edward Snowden, which he obtained whilst working for Booz Allen Hamilton, one of the largest contractors for defense and intelligence in the United States.[2] In addition to a trove of U.S. federal documents, Snowden's cache reportedly contains thousands of Australian, British and Canadian intelligence files that he had accessed via the exclusive "Five Eyes" network. In June 2013, the first of Snowden's documents were published simultaneously by The Washington Post and The Guardian, attracting considerable public attention.[3] The disclosure continued throughout 2013, and a small portion of the estimated full cache of documents was later published by other media outlets worldwide, most notably The New York Times (United States), the Canadian Broadcasting Corporation, the Australian Broadcasting Corporation, Der Spiegel (Germany), O Globo (Brazil), Le Monde (France), L'espresso (Italy), NRC Handelsblad (the Netherlands), Dagbladet (Norway), El País (Spain), and Sveriges Television (Sweden).[4]

These media reports have shed light on the implications of several secret treaties signed by members of the UKUSA community in their efforts to implement global surveillance. For example, Der Spiegel revealed how the German Bundesnachrichtendienst(BND) transfers "massive amounts of intercepted data to the NSA",[5] while Swedish Television revealed the National Defence Radio Establishment (FRA) provided the NSA with data from its cable collection, under a secret treaty signed in 1954 for bilateral cooperation on surveillance.[6] Other security and intelligence agencies involved in the practice of global surveillance include those in Australia (ASD), Britain (GCHQ), Canada (CSEC), Denmark (PET), France (DGSE), Germany (BND), Italy (AISE), the Netherlands (AIVD), Norway (NIS), Spain (CNI), Switzerland (NDB), Singapore (SID) as well as Israel (ISNU), which receives raw, unfiltered data of U.S. citizens that is shared by the NSA.[7][8][9][10][11][12][13][14]

On June 14, 2013, United States prosecutors charged Edward Snowden with espionage and theft of government property.[15] In late July 2013, he was granted a one-year temporary asylum by the Russian government,[16] contributing to a deterioration of Russia–United States relations.[17][18] On August 6, 2013, U.S. President Barack Obama made a public appearance on national television where he told Americans that "We don't have a domestic spying program" and that "There is no spying on Americans".[19]Towards the end of October 2013, the British Prime Minister David Cameron warned The Guardian not to publish any more leaks, or it will receive a DA-Notice.[20] In November 2013, a criminal investigation of the disclosure was being undertaken by Britain's Metropolitan Police Service.[21] In December 2013, The Guardian editor Alan Rusbridger said: "We have published I think 26 documents so far out of the 58,000 we've seen."[22]

The extent to which the media reports have responsibly informed the public is disputed. In January 2014, Obama said that "the sensational way in which these disclosures have come out has often shed more heat than light"[23] and critics such as Sean Wilentzhave noted that many of the Snowden documents released do not concern domestic surveillance.[24] In its first assessment of these disclosures, the Pentagon concluded that Snowden committed the biggest "theft" of U.S. secrets in the history of the United States.[25] Sir David Omand, a former director of GCHQ, described Snowden's disclosure as the "most catastrophic loss to British intelligence ever".[26]

JAN 2015 – CHARLIE HEBDO SHOOTING
OFFICIAL OVERVIEW

On 7 January 2015 at about 11:30 local time, two brothers, Saïd and Chérif Kouachi, forced their way into the offices of the French satirical weekly newspaper Charlie Hebdo in Paris. Armed with rifles and other weapons, they killed 12 people and injured 11 others. The gunmen identified themselves as belonging to the Islamist terrorist group Al-Qaeda's branch in Yemen, which took responsibility for the attack. Several related attacks followed in the Île-de-France region, on 7-8 January 2015. On 9 January 2015 was the Hypercacher Kosher Supermarket siege, where a terrorist murdered four Jewish hostages and held fifteen other hostages.

France raised its Vigipirate terror alert and deployed soldiers in Île-de-France and Picardy. A major manhunt led to the discovery of the suspects, who exchanged fire with police. The brothers took hostages at a signage company in Dammartin-en-Goële on 9 January and were shot dead when they emerged from the building firing.

On 11 January, about two million people, including more than 40 world leaders, met in Paris for a rally of national unity, and 3.7 million people joined demonstrations across France. The phrase Je suis Charlie became a common slogan of support at the rallies and in social media. The staff of Charlie Hebdo continued with the publication, and the following issue print ran 7.95 million copies in six languages, compared to its typical print run of 60,000 in only French.

APR 2015 – THE PANAMA PAPERS / MOSSACK FONSECA PAPERS

OFFICIAL OVERVIEW

The Panama Papers are 11.5 million leaked documents that detail financial and attorney–client information for more than 214,488 offshore entities.[1][2] The documents, some dating back to the 1970s, were created by, and taken from, Panamanian law firm and corporate service provider Mossack Fonseca,[3] and were leaked in 2015 by an anonymous source.[4]

Countries with politicians, public officials or close associates implicated in the leak on April 15, 2016 (As of May 19, 2016)

The documents contain personal financial information about wealthy individuals and public officials that had previously been kept private.[5] While offshore business entities are legal (see Offshore Magic Circle), reporters found that some of the Mossack Fonseca shell corporations were used for illegal purposes, including fraud, tax evasion, and evading international sanctions.[6]

"John Doe", the whistleblower who leaked the documents to German journalist Bastian Obermayer[7][8] from the newspaper Süddeutsche Zeitung (SZ), remains anonymous, even to the journalists who worked on the investigation. "My life is in danger", he told them.[9] In a May 6 statement, John Doe cited income inequality as the reason for his action, and said he leaked the documents "simply because I understood enough about their contents to realise the scale of the injustices they described". He added that he had never worked for any government or intelligence agency and expressed willingness to help prosecutors if granted immunity from prosecution. After SZ verified that the statement did in fact come from the source for the Panama Papers, the International Consortium of Investigative Journalists (ICIJ) posted the full document on its website.[10][11]

SZ asked the ICIJ for help because of the amount of data involved. Journalists from 107 media organizations in 80 countries analyzed documents detailing the operations of the law firm.[4] After more than a year of analysis, the first news stories were published on April 3, 2016, along with 150 of the documents themselves.[12] The project represents an important milestone in the use of data journalism software tools and mobile collaboration.

The documents were dubbed the Panama Papers because of the country they were leaked from; however, the Panamanian government expressed strong objections to the name, as did other entities in Panama and elsewhere. Some media outlets covering the story have used the name "Mossack Fonseca papers".[13]

DISCLOSURES

In addition to the much-covered business dealings of British prime minister David Cameron and Icelandic prime minister Sigmundur Davíð Gunnlaugsson, the leaked documents also contain identity information about the shareholders and directors of 214,000 shell companies set up by Mossack Fonseca, as well as some of their financial transactions. Much of this information does not show anything more than prudent financial management. It is generally not against the law (in and of itself) to own an offshore shell company, although offshore shell companies may sometimes be used for illegalities.

The journalists on the investigative team found business transactions by many important figures in world politics, sports and art. Many of these transactions are quite legal. Since the data is incomplete, questions remain in many other cases; still others seem to clearly indicate ethical if not legal impropriety. Some disclosures – tax avoidance in very poor countries by very wealthy entities and individuals for example – lead to questions on moral grounds. According to The Namibian for instance, a shell company registered to Beny Steinmetz, Octea, owes more than $700,000 US in property taxes to the city of Koidu in Sierra Leone, and is $150 million in the red, even though its exports were more than twice that in an average month in the 2012–2015 period. Steinmetz himself has personal worth of $6 billion.[15]

Other offshore shell company transactions described in the documents do seem to have broken exchange laws, violated trade sanctions or stemmed from political corruption, according to ICIJ reporters. For example:

- Uruguay has arrested five people and charged them with money-laundering through Mossack Fonseca shell companies for a Mexican drug cartel.[16]
- Ouestaf, an ICIJ partner in the investigation, reported that it had discovered new evidence that Karim Wade received payments from DP World (DP). He and a long-time friend were convicted of this in a trial that the United Nations and Amnesty International said was unfair and violated the defendants' rights. The Ouestaf article does not address the conduct of the trial, but does say that Ouestaf journalists found Mossack Fonseca documents showing payments to Wade via a DP subsidiary and a shell company registered to the friend.[17]

- Swiss lawyer Dieter Neupert has been accused of mishandling client funds and helping both oligarchs and the Qatari royal family to hide money.[18]

Named in the leak were 12 current or former world leaders, 128 other public officials and politicians, and hundreds celebrities, businessmen and other wealthy individuals of over 200 countries.[19]

NEWSROOM LOGISTICS

The International Consortium of Investigative Journalists helped organize the research and document review once Süddeutsche Zeitung realized the scale of the work required to validate the authenticity of 2.6 terabytes[49] of leaked data. They enlisted reporters and resources from The Guardian, the BBC, Le Monde, SonntagsZeitung, Falter, La Nación, German broadcasters NDR and WDR, and Austrian broadcaster ORF, and eventually many others.[50] Ultimately, "reporters at 100 news media outlets working in 25 languages had used the documents" to investigate individuals and organizations associated with Mossack Fonseca.[2]

Security factored into a number of project management considerations. Saying his life was in danger,[51] John Doe insisted that reporters communicate over encrypted channels only and agree that they would never meet face-to-face.[52][53][54]

SZ also had concerns about security, not only for their source, the leaked documents, and their data, but also for the safety of some of their partners in the investigation living under corrupt regimes who might not want their money-handling practices made public. They stored the data in a room with limited physical access on computers that had never connected to the Internet. The Guardian also limited access to its journalists' project work area. To make it even harder to sabotage the computers or steal their drives, SZ journalists made them more tamper-evident by painting the screws holding the drives in place with glitter nail polish.[55]

Reporters sorted the documents into a huge file structure containing a folder for each shell company, which held the associated emails, contracts, transcripts, and scanned documents Mossack Fonseca had generated while doing business with the company or administering it on a client's behalf.[49] Some 4.8 million leaked files were emails, 3 million were database entries, 2.2 million PDFs, 1.2 million images, 320,000 text files, and 2242 files in other formats.[49][56]

Journalists indexed the documents using open software packages Apache Solr and Apache Tika,[57] and accessed them by means of a custom interface built on top of Blacklight.[57][58] Süddeutsche Zeitung reporters also used Nuix for this, which is proprietary software donated by an Australian company also named Nuix.[59]

Using Nuix, Süddeutsche Zeitung reporters performed optical character recognition (OCR) processing on the millions of scanned documents, making the data they contained become both searchable and machine-readable. Most project reporters then used Neo4j and Linkurious[57] to extract individual and corporate names from the documents for analysis, but some who had access to Nuix used it for this as well.[59] Reporters then cross-referenced the compiled lists of people against the processed documents,[49] then analyzed the information, trying to connect people, roles, monetary flow, and structure legality.[49]

US banking and SEC expert David P. Weber assisted journalists in reviewing information from the Panama Papers.[60]

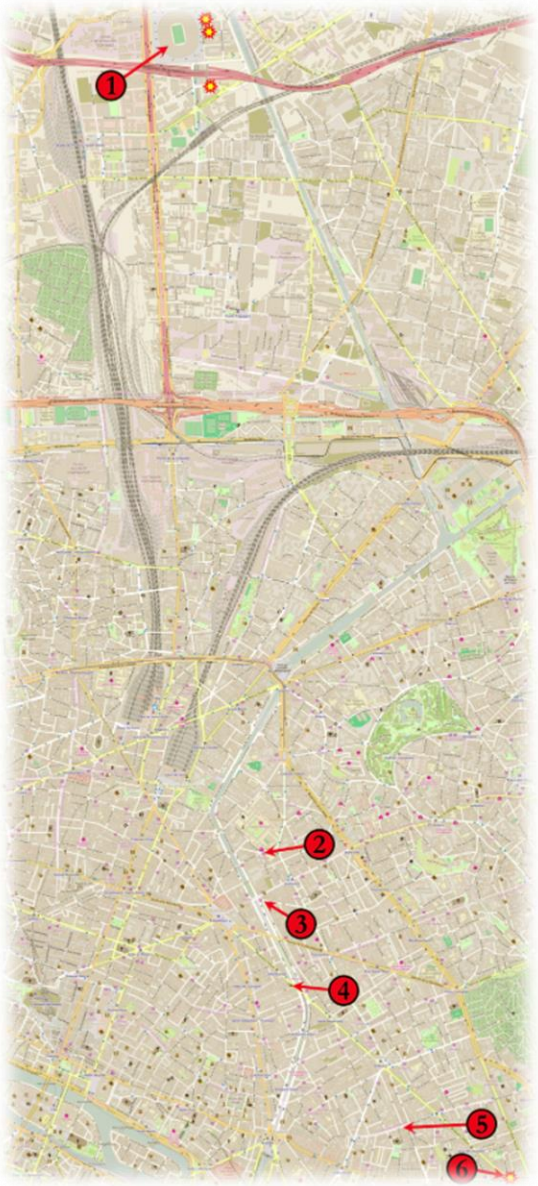

Additional stories were released based on this data, and the full list of companies was released in early May 2016.[61] The ICIJ later announced the release on May 9, 2016 of a searchable database containing information on over 200,000 offshore entities implicated in the Panama Papers investigation and more than 100,000 additional companies implicated in the 2013 Offshore Leaks investigation.[62] Mossack Fonseca asked the ICIJ not to publish the leaked documents from its database. "We have sent a cease and desist letter," the company said in a statement.[63]

The sheer quantity of leaked data greatly exceeds the WikiLeaks Cablegate leak in 2010[49] (1.7 GB),[64] Offshore Leaks in 2013 (260 GB), the 2014 Lux Leaks (4 GB), and the 3.3 GB Swiss Leaks of 2015. For comparison, the 2.6 TB of the Panama Papers equals approximately 2,660 GB.

NOV 2015 – PARIS ATTACKS (BATACLAN, STADE DE FRANCE, LE PETIT CAMBODGE, LA COSA NOSTRA, LA BELLE EQUIPE, BOLEVARD VOLTAIRE)

OFFICIAL OVERVIEW

The November 2015 Paris attacks were a series of coordinated terrorist attacks that occurred on Friday, 13 November 2015 in Paris, France and the city's northern suburb, Saint-Denis.[11] Beginning at 21:16 CET, three suicide bombers struck outside the Stade de France in Saint-Denis, during a football match. This was followed by several mass shootings and a suicide bombing, at cafés and restaurants. Gunmen carried out another mass shooting and took hostages at an Eagles of Death Metal concert in the Bataclan theatre, leading to a stand-off with police. The attackers were shot or blew themselves up when police raided the theatre.[12]

The attackers killed 130 people,[2] including 89 at the Bataclan theatre.[13] Another 413[4] people were injured,[14] almost 100 seriously.[5][6] Seven of the attackers also died, while the authorities continued to search for accomplices.[3] The attacks were the deadliest on France since the Second World War,[15][16] and the deadliest in the European Union since the Madrid train bombings in 2004.[17] France had been on high alert since the January 2015 attacks on Charlie Hebdo offices and a Jewish supermarket in Paris that killed 17 people and wounded 22, including civilians and police officers.[18]

The Islamic State of Iraq and the Levant (ISIL) claimed responsibility for the attacks,[7][8] saying that it was retaliation for the French airstrikes on ISIL targets in Syria and Iraq.[9][10] The President of France, François Hollande, said the attacks were an act of war by ISIL.[19][20][21] The attacks were planned in Syria and organised by a terrorist cell based in Belgium.[22] Most of the Paris attackers had French or Belgian citizenship, two were Iraqis,[23][24] and all had fought in Syria.[25] Some of them had entered Europe among the flow of migrants and refugees.[26][27]

In response to the attacks, a three-month state of emergency was declared across the country to help fight terrorism, which involved the banning of public demonstrations, and allowing the police to carry out searches without a warrant, put anyone under house arrest without trial and block websites that encouraged acts of terrorism.[28] On 15 November, France launched the biggest airstrike of Opération Chammal, its contribution to the anti-ISIL bombing campaign, striking ISIL targets in Raqqa.[29] On 18 November, the suspected lead operative of the attacks, Abdelhamid Abaaoud, was killed in a police raid in Saint-Denis, along with two others.[30]

KEY (RECENT) EVENTS

MAR 2016 – PODESTA EMAILS

OFFICIAL OVERVIEW

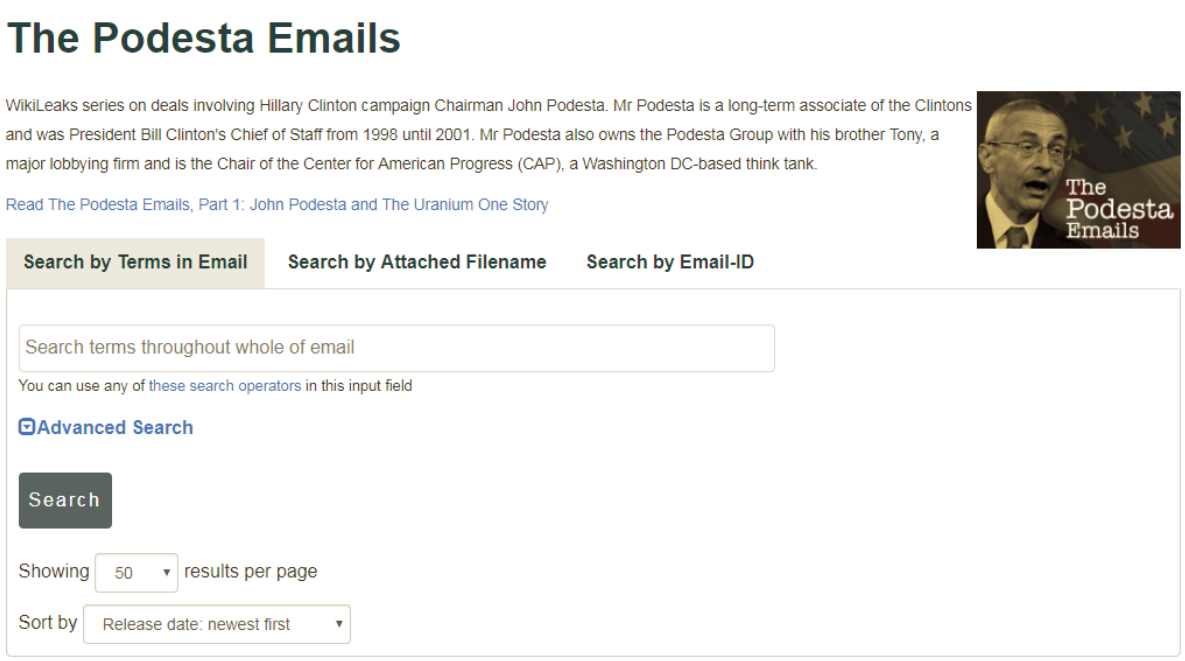

In March 2016, the personal Gmail account of John Podesta, a former White House chief of staff and the chairman of Hillary Clinton's 2016 U.S. presidential campaign, was compromised in a data breach, and a collection of his emails, many of which were work-related, were stolen. Cybersecurity researchers as well as the United States government attributed responsibility for the breach, which was accomplished via a spear-phishing attack, to the hacking group Fancy Bear, allegedly affiliated with Russian intelligence services.[1]

Some or all of the Podesta emails were subsequently obtained by WikiLeaks, which published over 20,000 pages of emails, allegedly from Podesta, in October and November 2016.[2] Podesta and the Clinton campaign have declined to authenticate the emails.[3] Cybersecurity experts interviewed by PolitiFact believe the majority of emails are probably unaltered, while stating it is possible that the hackers inserted at least some doctored or fabricated emails into the collection.[4] An investigation by U.S. intelligence agencies reported that the files obtained by WikiLeaks during the U.S. election contained no "evident forgeries."[5]

JUL 2016 – 2016 DEMOCRATIC NATIONAL COMMITTEE (DNC) EMAIL LEAK

OFFICIAL OVERVIEW

The 2016 Democratic National Committee email leak is a collection of Democratic National Committee (DNC) emails stolen by Russian intelligence agency hackers and subsequently published (leaked) by DCLeaks in June and July 2016[1] and by WikiLeaks on July 22, 2016. This collection included 19,252 emails and 8,034 attachments from the DNC, the governing body of the United States' Democratic Party.[2] The leak includes emails from seven key DNC staff members, and date from January 2015 to May 2016.[3] The leaked contents, which suggested the party's leadership had worked to sabotage Bernie Sanders' presidential campaign, prompted the resignation of DNC chair Debbie Wasserman Schultz before the Democratic National Convention.[4] After the convention, DNC CEO Amy Dacey, CFO Brad Marshall, and Communications Director Luis Miranda also resigned in the wake of the controversy.[5]

WikiLeaks did not reveal its source. A self-styled hacker going by the moniker Guccifer 2.0 claimed responsibility for the attack. On July 25, 2016, the FBI announced that it would investigate the hack.[6] The same day, the DNC issued a formal apology to Bernie Sanders and his supporters, stating, "On behalf of everyone at the DNC, we want to offer a deep and sincere apology to Senator Sanders, his supporters, and the entire Democratic Party for the inexcusable remarks made over email," and that the emails did not reflect the DNC's "steadfast commitment to neutrality during the nominating process."[7] On November 6, 2016, WikiLeaks released a second batch of DNC emails, adding 8,263 emails to its collection.[8]

On December 9, 2016, the CIA told U.S. legislators that the U.S. Intelligence Community concluded Russia conducted operations during the 2016 U.S. election to prevent Hillary Clinton[9] from winning the presidency.[10] Multiple U.S intelligence agencies concluded people with direct ties to the Kremlin gave WikiLeaks hacked emails from the Democratic National Committee.[10]

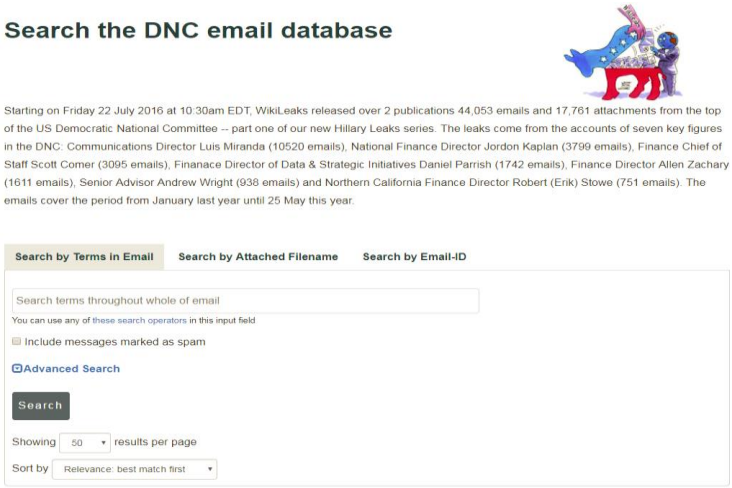

In June 2017, former Secretary of Homeland Security Jeh Johnson, who was appointed by and served under President Barack Obama, testified before a House Select committee that his department offered their assistance to the DNC during the campaign to determine what happened to their server, but said his efforts were "rebuffed".[11]

MAR 2017 – WIKILEAKS – VAULT 7 RELEASE

OFFICIAL OVERVIEW

Vault 7 is a series of documents that WikiLeaks began to publish on 7 March 2017, that detail activities and capabilities of the United States Central Intelligence Agency to perform electronic surveillance and cyber warfare. The files, dated from 2013–2016, include details on the agency's software capabilities, such as the ability to compromise cars, smart TVs,[1] web browsers (including Google Chrome, Microsoft Edge, Mozilla Firefox, and Opera Software ASA),[2][3][4] and the operating systems of most smartphones (including Apple's iOS and Google's Android), as well as other operating systems such as Microsoft Windows, macOS, and Linux[citation needed].

In February 2017, WikiLeaks began teasing the release of "Vault 7" with a series of cryptic messages on Twitter, according to media reports.[5] Later on in February, WikiLeaks released classified documents describing how the CIA monitored the 2012 French presidential election.[6] The press release for the leak stated that it was published "as context for its forthcoming CIA Vault 7 series."[7]

In March 2017, US intelligence and law enforcement officials said to the international wire agency Reuters that they have been aware of the CIA security breach, which led to Vault 7, since late-2016. Two officials said they were focusing on "contractors" as the possible source of the leaks.[8]

PUBLICATIONS

The first batch of documents named "Year Zero" was published by WikiLeaks on 7 March 2017, consisting of 7,818 web pages with 943 attachments, purportedly from the Center for Cyber Intelligence,[9] which already contains more pages than former NSA contractor and leaker, Edward Snowden's NSA release.[10] WikiLeaks did not name the source, but said that the files had "circulated among former U.S. government hackers and contractors in an unauthorized manner, one of whom has provided WikiLeaks with portions of the archive."[1] According to WikiLeaks, the source "wishes to initiate a public debate about the security, creation, use, proliferation and democratic control of cyberweapons" since these tools raise questions that "urgently need to be debated in public, including whether the C.I.A.'s hacking capabilities exceed its mandated powers and the problem of public oversight of the agency."[1]

WikiLeaks redacted names and other identifying information from the documents before their release,[1] while attempting to allow for connections between people to be drawn via unique identifiers generated by WikiLeaks.[11][12] It also said that it would postpone releasing the source code for the cyber weapons, which is reportedly several hundred million lines long, "until a consensus emerges on the technical and political nature of the C.I.A.'s program and how such 'weapons' should be analyzed, disarmed and published."[1] WikiLeaks founder Julian Assange claimed this was only part of a larger series.[10]

The CIA released a statement saying, "The American public should be deeply troubled by any WikiLeaks disclosure designed to damage the Intelligence Community's ability to protect America against terrorists or other adversaries. Such disclosures not only jeopardize US personnel and operations, but also equip our adversaries with tools and information to do us harm."[13]

Assange held a press conference on 9 March to offer to share unpublished data from Vault 7 with technology companies to enable them to fix vulnerabilities detailed therein. He stated that only 1% of the total leak has been released and that much of the remainder of the leak included unpatched vulnerabilities but that he was working with Microsoft, Apple and Google to get these vulnerabilities patched as he would not release information which would put the public at risk, and as fixes were released by manufacturers he would release details of vulnerabilities. As such, none of the vulnerabilities currently released are zero-day exploits. In this press release Assange also read an official statement by Microsoft which stated Microsoft's desire for the "next Geneva Convention" which would protect people from government cyber weapons the same way the previous Geneva Conventions have protected noncombatants from warfare.[14]

In a statement issued on 19 March 2017, Assange said the technology companies who had been contacted had not agreed, disagreed or questioned what he termed as WikiLeaks' standard industry disclosure plan. The standard disclosure time for a vulnerability is 90 days after the company responsible for patching the software is given full details of the flaw.[15] According to WikiLeaks, only Mozilla had been provided with information on the vulnerabilities, while "Google and some other companies" only confirmed receiving the initial notification. WikiLeaks stated: "Most of these lagging companies have conflicts of interest due to their classified work with US government agencies. In practice such associations limit industry staff with US security clearances from fixing holes based on leaked information from the CIA. Should such companies choose to not secure their users against CIA or NSA attacks users may prefer organizations such as Mozilla or European companies that prioritize their users over government contracts".[16][17]

WIKILEAKS PRESS RELEASE - TUESDAY 7 MARCH 2017

Today, Tuesday 7 March 2017, WikiLeaks begins its new series of leaks on the U.S. Central Intelligence Agency. Code-named "Vault 7" by WikiLeaks, it is the largest ever publication of confidential documents on the agency.

The first full part of the series, "Year Zero", comprises 8,761 documents and files from an isolated, high-security network situated inside the CIA'sCenter for Cyber Intelligence in Langley, Virgina. It follows an introductory disclosure last month of CIA targeting French political parties and candidates in the lead up to the 2012 presidential election.

Recently, the CIA lost control of the majority of its hacking arsenal including malware, viruses, trojans, weaponized "zero day" exploits, malware remote control systems and associated documentation. This extraordinary collection, which amounts to more than several hundred million lines of code, gives its possessor the entire hacking capacity of the CIA. The archive appears to have been circulated among former U.S. government hackers and contractors in an unauthorized manner, one of whom has provided WikiLeaks with portions of the archive.

"Year Zero" introduces the scope and direction of the CIA's global covert hacking program, its malware arsenal and dozens of "zero day" weaponized exploits against a wide range of U.S. and European company products, include Apple's iPhone, Google's Android and Microsoft's Windows and even Samsung TVs, which are turned into covert microphones.

Since 2001 the CIA has gained political and budgetary preeminence over the U.S. National Security Agency (NSA). The CIA found itself building not just its now infamous drone fleet, but a very different type of covert, globe-spanning force — its own substantial fleet of hackers. The agency's hacking division freed it from having to disclose its often controversial operations to the NSA (its primary bureaucratic rival) in order to draw on the NSA's hacking capacities.

By the end of 2016, the CIA's hacking division, which formally falls under the agency's Center for Cyber Intelligence (CCI), had over 5000 registered users and had produced more than a thousand hacking systems, trojans, viruses, and other "weaponized" malware. Such is the scale of the CIA's undertaking that by 2016, its hackers had utilized more code than that used to run Facebook. The CIA had created, in effect, its "own NSA" with even less accountability and without publicly answering the question as to whether such a massive budgetary spend on duplicating the capacities of a rival agency could be justified.

In a statement to WikiLeaks the source details policy questions that they say urgently need to be debated in public, including whether the CIA's hacking capabilities exceed its mandated powers and the problem of public oversight of the agency. The source wishes to initiate a public debate about the security, creation, use, proliferation and democratic control of cyberweapons.

Once a single cyber 'weapon' is 'loose' it can spread around the world in seconds, to be used by rival states, cyber mafia and teenage hackers alike.

Julian Assange, WikiLeaks editor stated that "There is an extreme proliferation risk in the development of cyber 'weapons'. Comparisons can be drawn between the uncontrolled proliferation of such 'weapons', which results from the inability to contain them combined with their high market value, and the global arms trade. But the significance of "Year Zero" goes well beyond the choice between cyberwar and cyberpeace. The disclosure is also exceptional from a political, legal and forensic perspective."

Wikileaks has carefully reviewed the "Year Zero" disclosure and published substantive CIA documentation while avoiding the distribution of 'armed' cyberweapons until a consensus emerges on the technical and political nature of the CIA's program and how such 'weapons' should analyzed, disarmed and published.

Wikileaks has also decided to redact and anonymise some identifying information in "Year Zero" for in depth analysis. These redactions include ten of thousands of CIA targets and attack machines throughout Latin America, Europe and the United States. While we are aware of the imperfect results of any approach chosen, we remain committed to our publishing model and note that the quantity of published pages in "Vault 7" part one ("Year Zero") already eclipses the total number of pages published over the first three years of the Edward Snowden NSA leaks.

CIA MALWARE TARGETS IPHONE, ANDROID, SMART TVS

CIA malware and hacking tools are built by EDG (Engineering Development Group), a software development group within CCI (Center for Cyber Intelligence), a department belonging to the CIA's DDI (Directorate for Digital Innovation). The DDI is one of the five major directorates of the CIA (see this organizational chart of the CIA for more details).

The EDG is responsible for the development, testing and operational support of all backdoors, exploits, malicious payloads, trojans, viruses and any other kind of malware used by the CIA in its covert operations world-wide.

The increasing sophistication of surveillance techniques has drawn comparisons with George Orwell's 1984, but "Weeping Angel", developed by the CIA's Embedded Devices Branch (EDB), which infests smart TVs, transforming them into covert microphones, is surely its most emblematic realization.

The attack against Samsung smart TVs was developed in cooperation with the United Kingdom's MI5/BTSS. After infestation, Weeping Angel places the target TV in a 'Fake-Off' mode, so that the owner falsely believes the TV is off when it is on. In 'Fake-Off' mode the TV operates as a bug, recording conversations in the room and sending them over the Internet to a covert CIA server.

As of October 2014 the CIA was also looking at infecting the vehicle control systems used by modern cars and trucks. The purpose of such control is not specified, but it would permit the CIA to engage in nearly undetectable assassinations.

The CIA's Mobile Devices Branch (MDB) developed numerous attacks to remotely hack and control popular smart phones. Infected phones can be instructed to send the CIA the user's geolocation, audio and text communications as well as covertly activate the phone's camera and microphone.

Despite iPhone's minority share (14.5%) of the global smart phone market in 2016, a specialized unit in the CIA's Mobile Development Branch produces malware to infest, control and exfiltrate data from iPhones and other Apple products running iOS, such as iPads. CIA's arsenal includesnumerous local and remote "zero days" developed by CIA or obtained from GCHQ, NSA, FBI or purchased from cyber arms contractors such as Baitshop. The disproportionate focus on iOS may be explained by the popularity of the iPhone among social, political, diplomatic and business elites.

A similar unit targets Google's Android which is used to run the majority of the world's smart phones (~85%) including Samsung, HTC and Sony. 1.15 billion Android powered phones were sold last year. "Year Zero" shows that as of 2016 the CIA had 24 "weaponized" Android "zero days" which it has developed itself and obtained from GCHQ, NSA and cyber arms contractors.

These techniques permit the CIA to bypass the encryption of WhatsApp, Signal, Telegram, Wiebo, Confide and Cloackman by hacking the "smart" phones that they run on and collecting audio and message traffic before encryption is applied.

CIA MALWARE TARGETS WINDOWS, OSX, LINUX, ROUTERS

The CIA also runs a very substantial effort to infect and control Microsoft Windows users with its malware. This includes multiple local and remote weaponized "zero days", air gap jumping viruses such as "Hammer Drill" which infects software distributed on CD/DVDs, infectors for removable media such as USBs, systems to hide data in images or in covert disk areas ("Brutal Kangaroo") and to keep its malware infestations going.

Many of these infection efforts are pulled together by the CIA's Automated Implant Branch (AIB), which has developed several attack systems for automated infestation and control of CIA malware, such as "Assassin" and "Medusa".

Attacks against Internet infrastructure and webservers are developed by the CIA's Network Devices Branch (NDB).

The CIA has developed automated multi-platform malware attack and control systems covering Windows, Mac OS X, Solaris, Linux and more, such as EDB's "HIVE" and the related "Cutthroat" and "Swindle" tools, which are described in the examples section below.

CIA 'HOARDED' VULNERABILITIES ("ZERO DAYS")

In the wake of Edward Snowden's leaks about the NSA, the U.S. technology industry secured a commitment from the Obama administration that the executive would disclose on an ongoing basis — rather than hoard — serious vulnerabilities, exploits, bugs or "zero days" to Apple, Google, Microsoft, and other US-based manufacturers.

Serious vulnerabilities not disclosed to the manufacturers places huge swathes of the population and critical infrastructure at risk to foreign intelligence or cyber criminals who independently discover or hear rumors of the vulnerability. If the CIA can discover such vulnerabilities so can others.

The U.S. government's commitment to the Vulnerabilities Equities Process came after significant lobbying by US technology companies, who risk losing their share of the global market over real and perceived hidden vulnerabilities. The government stated that it would disclose all pervasive vulnerabilities discovered after 2010 on an ongoing basis.

"Year Zero" documents show that the CIA breached the Obama administration's commitments. Many of the vulnerabilities used in the CIA's cyber arsenal are pervasive and some may already have been found by rival intelligence agencies or cyber criminals.

As an example, specific CIA malware revealed in "Year Zero" is able to penetrate, infest and control both the Android phone and iPhone software that runs or has run presidential Twitter accounts. The CIA attacks this software by using undisclosed security vulnerabilities ("zero days") possessed by the CIA but if the CIA can hack these phones then so can everyone else who has obtained or discovered the vulnerability. As long as the CIA keeps these vulnerabilities concealed from Apple and Google (who make the phones) they will not be fixed, and the phones will remain hackable.

The same vulnerabilities exist for the population at large, including the U.S. Cabinet, Congress, top CEOs, system administrators, security officers and engineers. By hiding these security flaws from manufacturers like Apple and Google the CIA ensures that it can hack everyone &mdsh; at the expense of leaving everyone hackable.

'CYBERWAR' PROGRAMS ARE A SERIOUS PROLIFERATION RISK

Cyber 'weapons' are not possible to keep under effective control.

While nuclear proliferation has been restrained by the enormous costs and visible infrastructure involved in assembling enough fissile material to produce a critical nuclear mass, cyber 'weapons', once developed, are very hard to retain.

Cyber 'weapons' are in fact just computer programs which can be pirated like any other. Since they are entirely comprised of information they can be copied quickly with no marginal cost.

Securing such 'weapons' is particularly difficult since the same people who develop and use them have the skills to exfiltrate copies without leaving traces — sometimes by using the very same 'weapons' against the organizations that contain them. There are substantial price incentives for government hackers and consultants to obtain copies since there is a global "vulnerability market" that will pay hundreds of thousands to millions of dollars for copies of such 'weapons'. Similarly, contractors and companies who obtain such 'weapons' sometimes use them for their own purposes, obtaining advantage over their competitors in selling 'hacking' services.

Over the last three years the United States intelligence sector, which consists of government agencies such as the CIA and NSA and their contractors, such as Booz Allan Hamilton, has been subject to unprecedented series of data exfiltrations by its own workers.

A number of intelligence community members not yet publicly named have been arrested or subject to federal criminal investigations in separate incidents.

Most visibly, on February 8, 2017 a U.S. federal grand jury indicted Harold T. Martin III with 20 counts of mishandling classified information. The Department of Justice alleged that it seized some 50,000 gigabytes of information from Harold T. Martin III that he had obtained from classified programs at NSA and CIA, including the source code for numerous hacking tools.

Once a single cyber 'weapon' is 'loose' it can spread around the world in seconds, to be used by peer states, cyber mafia and teenage hackers alike.

U.S. CONSULATE IN FRANKFURT IS A COVERT CIA HACKER BASE

In addition to its operations in Langley, Virginia the CIA also uses the U.S. consulate in Frankfurt as a covert base for its hackers covering Europe, the Middle East and Africa.

CIA hackers operating out of the Frankfurt consulate ("Center for Cyber Intelligence Europe" or CCIE) are given diplomatic ("black") passports and State Department cover. The instructions for incoming CIA hackers make Germany's counter-intelligence efforts appear inconsequential: "Breeze through German Customs because you have your cover-for-action story down pat, and all they did was stamp your passport"

Your Cover Story (for this trip)
Q: Why are you here?
A: Supporting technical consultations at the Consulate.

Two earlier WikiLeaks publications give further detail on CIA approaches to customs and secondary screening procedures.

Once in Frankfurt CIA hackers can travel without further border checks to the 25 European countries that are part of the Shengen open border area — including France, Italy and Switzerland.

A number of the CIA's electronic attack methods are designed for physical proximity. These attack methods are able to penetrate high security networks that are disconnected from the internet, such as police record database. In these cases, a CIA officer, agent or allied intelligence officer acting under instructions, physically infiltrates the targeted workplace. The attacker is provided with a USB containing malware developed for the CIA for this purpose, which is inserted into the targeted computer. The attacker then infects and exfiltrates data to removable media. For example, the CIA attack system Fine Dining, provides 24 decoy applications for CIA spies to use. To witnesses, the spy appears to be running a program showing videos (e.g VLC), presenting slides (Prezi), playing a computer game (Breakout2, 2048) or even running a fake virus scanner (Kaspersky, McAfee, Sophos). But while the decoy application is on the screen, the underlaying system is automatically infected and ransacked.

HOW THE CIA DRAMATICALLY INCREASED PROLIFERATION RISKS

In what is surely one of the most astounding intelligence own goals in living memory, the CIA structured its classification regime such that for the most market valuable part of "Vault 7" — the CIA's weaponized malware (implants + zero days), Listening Posts (LP), and Command and Control (C2) systems — the agency has little legal recourse.

The CIA made these systems unclassified.

Why the CIA chose to make its cyberarsenal unclassified reveals how concepts developed for military use do not easily crossover to the 'battlefield' of cyber 'war'.

To attack its targets, the CIA usually requires that its implants communicate with their control programs over the internet. If CIA implants, Command & Control and Listening Post software were classified, then CIA officers could be prosecuted or dismissed for violating rules that prohibit placing classified information onto the Internet. Consequently the CIA has secretly made most of its cyber spying/war code unclassified. The U.S. government is not able to assert copyright either, due to restrictions in the U.S. Constitution. This means that cyber 'arms' manufactures and computer hackers can freely "pirate" these 'weapons' if they are obtained. The CIA has primarily had to rely on obfuscation to protect its malware secrets.

Conventional weapons such as missiles may be fired at the enemy (i.e into an unsecured area). Proximity to or impact with the target detonates the ordnance including its classified parts. Hence military personnel do not violate classification rules by firing ordnance with classified parts. Ordnance will likely explode. If it does not, that is not the operator's intent.

Over the last decade U.S. hacking operations have been increasingly dressed up in military jargon to tap into Department of Defense funding streams. For instance, attempted "malware injections" (commercial jargon) or "implant drops" (NSA jargon) are being called "fires" as if a weapon was being fired. However the analogy is questionable.

Unlike bullets, bombs or missiles, most CIA malware is designed to live for days or even years after it has reached its 'target'. CIA malware does not "explode on impact" but rather permanently infests its target. In order to infect target's device, copies of the malware must be placed on the target's devices, giving physical possession of the malware to the target. To exfiltrate data back to the CIA or to await further instructions the malware must communicate with CIA Command & Control (C2) systems placed on internet connected servers. But such servers are typically not approved to hold classified information, so CIA command and control systems are also made unclassified.

A successful 'attack' on a target's computer system is more like a series of complex stock maneuvers in a hostile take-over bid or the careful planting of rumors in order to gain control over an organization's leadership rather than the firing of a weapons system. If there is a military analogy to be made, the infestation of a target is perhaps akin to the execution of a whole series of military maneuvers against the target's territory including observation, infiltration, occupation and exploitation.

EVADING FORENSICS AND ANTI-VIRUS

A series of standards lay out CIA malware infestation patterns which are likely to assist forensic crime scene investigators as well as Apple, Microsoft, Google, Samsung, Nokia, Blackberry, Siemens and anti-virus companies attribute and defend against attacks.

"Tradecraft DO's and DON'Ts" contains CIA rules on how its malware should be written to avoid fingerprints implicating the "CIA, US government, or its witting partner companies" in "forensic review". Similar secret standards cover the use of encryption to hide CIA hacker and malware communication (pdf), describing targets & exfiltrated data (pdf) as well as executing payloads (pdf) and persisting (pdf) in the target's machines over time.

CIA hackers developed successful attacks against most well known anti-virus programs. These are documented in AV defeats, Personal Security Products, Detecting and defeating PSPs and PSP/Debugger/RE Avoidance. For example, Comodo was defeated by CIA malware placing itself in the Window's "Recycle Bin". While Comodo 6.x has a "Gaping Hole of DOOM".

CIA hackers discussed what the NSA's "Equation Group" hackers did wrong and how the CIA's malware makers could avoid similar exposure.

FREQUENTLY ASKED QUESTIONS

Why now?

WikiLeaks published as soon as its verification and analysis were ready.

In Febuary the Trump administration has issued an Executive Order calling for a "Cyberwar" review to be prepared within 30 days.

While the review increases the timeliness and relevance of the publication it did not play a role in setting the publication date.

Redactions

Names, email addresses and external IP addresses have been redacted in the released pages (70,875 redactions in total) until further analysis is complete.

1. Over-redaction: Some items may have been redacted that are not employees, contractors, targets or otherwise related to the agency, but are, for example, authors of documentation for otherwise public projects that are used by the agency.
2. Identity vs. person: the redacted names are replaced by user IDs (numbers) to allow readers to assign multiple pages to a single author. Given the redaction process used a single person may be represented by more than one assigned identifier but no identifier refers to more than one real person.
3. Archive attachments (zip, tar.gz, ...) are replaced with a PDF listing all the file names in the archive. As the archive content is assessed it may be made available; until then the archive is redacted.
4. Attachments with other binary content are replaced by a hex dump of the content to prevent accidental invocation of binaries that may have been infected with weaponized CIA malware. As the content is assessed it may be made available; until then the content is redacted.
5. The tens of thousands of routable IP addresses references (including more than 22 thousand within the United States) that correspond to possible targets, CIA covert listening post servers, intermediary and test systems, are redacted for further exclusive investigation.
6. Binary files of non-public origin are only available as dumps to prevent accidental invocation of CIA malware infected binaries.

Organizational Chart

The organizational chart corresponds to the material published by WikiLeaks so far.

Since the organizational structure of the CIA below the level of Directorates is not public, the placement of the EDG and its branches within the org chart of the agency is reconstructed from information contained in the documents released so far. It is intended to be used as a rough outline of the internal organization; please be aware that the reconstructed org chart is incomplete and that internal reorganizations occur frequently.

Wiki pages
"Year Zero" contains 7818 web pages with 943 attachments from the internal development groupware. The software used for this purpose is called Confluence, a proprietary software from Atlassian. Webpages in this system (like in Wikipedia) have a version history that can provide interesting insights on how a document evolved over time; the 7818 documents include these page histories for 1136 latest versions.
The order of named pages within each level is determined by date (oldest first). Page content is not present if it was originally dynamically created by the Confluence software (as indicated on the re-constructed page).

What time period is covered?
The years 2013 to 2016. The sort order of the pages within each level is determined by date (oldest first).
WikiLeaks has obtained the CIA's creation/last modification date for each page but these do not yet appear for technical reasons. Usually the date can be discerned or approximated from the content and the page order. If it is critical to know the exact time/date contact WikiLeaks.

What is "Vault 7"
"Vault 7" is a substantial collection of material about CIA activities obtained by WikiLeaks.

When was each part of "Vault 7" obtained?
Part one was obtained recently and covers through 2016. Details on the other parts will be available at the time of publication.

Is each part of "Vault 7" from a different source?
Details on the other parts will be available at the time of publication.

What is the total size of "Vault 7"?
The series is the largest intelligence publication in history.

How did WikiLeaks obtain each part of "Vault 7"?
Sources trust WikiLeaks to not reveal information that might help identify them.

Isn't WikiLeaks worried that the CIA will act against its staff to stop the series?
No. That would be certainly counter-productive.

Has WikiLeaks already 'mined' all the best stories?
No. WikiLeaks has intentionally not written up hundreds of impactful stories to encourage others to find them and so create expertise in the area for subsequent parts in the series. They're there. Look. Those who demonstrate journalistic excellence may be considered for early access to future parts.

Won't other journalists find all the best stories before me?
Unlikely. There are very considerably more stories than there are journalists or academics who are in a position to write them.

OCT 2017 – LAS VEGAS SHOOTING

OFFICIAL OVERVIEW

On the night of October 1, 2017, a gunman opened fire on a crowd of concertgoers at the Route 91 Harvest music festival on the Las Vegas Strip in Nevada, leaving 58 people dead and 546 injured. Between 10:05 and 10:15 p.m. PDT, 64-year-old Stephen Paddock of Mesquite, Nevada, fired more than 1,100 rounds from his suite on the 32nd floor of the nearby Mandalay Bay hotel. About an hour after Paddock fired his last shot into the crowd of 22,000, he was found dead in his room from a self-inflicted gunshot wound. His motive is unknown.

The incident is the deadliest mass shooting committed by an individual in the United States. The shooting reignited the debate about gun laws in the U.S., with attention focused on bump fire stocks, which Paddock used to allow his semi-automatic rifles to fire at a rate similar to that of a fully automatic weapon.

NOV 2017 – THE PARADISE PAPERS / SECRETS OF THE GLOBAL ELITE

OFFICIAL OVERVIEW

The Paradise Papers are a set of 13.4 million confidential electronic documents relating to offshore investments that were leaked to the German reporters Frederik Obermaier and Bastian Obermayer[1] from the newspaper Süddeutsche Zeitung. The newspaper shared them with the International Consortium of Investigative Journalists,[2] and a network of more than 380 journalists. Some of the details were made public on 5 November 2017.

Countries with politicians, public officials, or close associates named in the leak

The documents originate from offshore magic circle member Appleby, the corporate services providers Estera and Asiaciti Trust, and business registries in 19 tax jurisdictions.[3] They contain the names of more than 120,000 people and companies.[4] Among those whose financial affairs are mentioned are, separately, AIG,[5] Prince Charles[6] and Queen Elizabeth II,[7] President of Colombia Juan Manuel Santos, and U.S. Secretary of Commerce Wilbur Ross.[8] At 1.4 terabytes in size, this is second only to the Panama Papers of 2016 as the biggest data leak in history.[9]

BACKGROUND

On 20 October 2017, an anonymous Reddit user hinted at the existence of the Paradise Papers.[10] Later that month, the International Consortium of Investigative Journalists (ICIJ) approached the offshore law firm Appleby with allegations of wrongdoing. Appleby said that some of its data had been stolen in a cyberattack the previous year, and denied the ICIJ's allegations.[11] After media outlets started reporting on the documents, the company said that there was "no evidence of wrongdoing", that they "are a law firm which advises clients on legitimate and lawful ways to conduct their business", and that they "do not tolerate illegal behaviour".[12]

Appleby stated the firm "was not the subject of a leak but of a serious criminal act" and that "this was an illegal computer hack". "Our systems were accessed by an intruder who deployed the tactics of a professional hacker", the company said.[13][14]

> "There is this small group of people who are not equally subject to the laws as the rest of us, and that's on purpose"

The documents were acquired by the German newspaper Süddeutsche Zeitung, which had also obtained the Panama Papers in 2016. According to the BBC, the name "Paradise Papers" reflects "the idyllic profiles of many of the offshore jurisdictions whose workings are unveiled", so-called tax havens, or "tax paradises".[3] The BBC also notes that the name "dovetails nicely with the French term for a tax haven—paradis fiscal".[3] The data comprises some 13.4 million documents—totaling about 1.4 terabytes—from two offshore service providers, Appleby and Asiaciti Trust, and from the company registers of 19 tax havens.[15] Süddeutsche Zeitung journalists contacted the ICIJ, which has been investigating the documents with 100 media partners. The consortium made the data available to the media partners using Neo4j,[16] a graph-database platform made for connected data, and Linkurious,[17] graph-visualization software. This allowed journalists across the globe to undertake collaborative investigative work. The documents were released by the consortium on 5 November 2017.[8][18]

COMPANIES NAMED

According to the papers, Facebook, Twitter, Apple, Disney, Uber, Nike, Walmart, Allianz, Siemens, McDonald's, and Yahoo! are among the corporations that own offshore companies,[19][20] as well as Allergan, the manufacturer of Botox. According to The Express Tribune, "Apple, Nike, and Facebook avoided billions of dollars in tax using offshore companies."[21]

Apple criticised the reports as inaccurate and misleading, saying that it is the largest taxpayer in the world and that it "pays every dollar it owes in every country around the world".[22][dubious – discuss]

Among the Indian companies listed in the papers are Apollo Tyres, the Essel Group,[23] D S Construction, Emaar MGF, GMR Group, Havells, Hinduja Group, the Hiranandani Group, Jindal Steel, the Sun Group[24] and Videocon.[25]

Apple

A great deal of the company's intangible property was exposed around the time of an internal Apple Inc. reorganization of three Irish subsidiaries. The company's 2015 gross domestic product showed a 26% increase, and close to $270 billion of intangible assets suddenly appeared in Ireland as the year began – more than the entire value of all residential property in Ireland. This may indicate that Apple took advantage of a tax incentive known as a capital allowance, which gives Irish companies generous tax breaks for buying intangible property – essentially intellectual property like patents. In other words, Apple (some suggest) transferred them to a subsidiary located in Ireland for the tax incentives, and didn't have to pay any tax on the transaction in Bermuda either, on the value it declared on the property when it sold them to itself.[citation needed]

Following a 2013 US Senate investigation, which featured testimony by CEO Tim Cook, Ireland announced that henceforth Irish companies would be required to declare tax residency somewhere in the world. Apple had been paying a lower rate of corporate taxes in Ireland in a so-called sweetheart deal. This attracted the attention of EU regulators as many multinationals were doing the same thing. As the tax break in the Netherlands came to a scheduled end, Apple's law firm, Baker McKenzie, researched island tax havens, asking Appleby officials in numerous jurisdictions to confirm "that an Irish company can conduct management activities ... without being subject to taxation in your jurisdiction." Two of the subsidiaries moved to Jersey and took intellectual property with them. The third is receiving tax breaks in Ireland for buying Apple IP from another Apple subsidiary.[citation needed]

The EU, under the leadership of Jean-Claude Juncker, threatened to sue Ireland over its tax deals, although Juncker himself had approved similar tax deals in his own country, Luxembourg. Apple paid all of its taxes in Ireland as required by that country so Ireland is appealing the EU decision. HP, Nike, Microsoft and others use the same tax arrangements in Ireland, Luxembourg and other countries,[citation needed] but Apple is frequently cited as a media example.[26] Irish companies are required to pay taxes in Ireland, but if they convince authorities[which?] that they are "managed and controlled" from abroad, the companies may win an exemption. Apple now holds $252 billion offshore.[27]

Avianca

Germán Efromovich, founder of Synergy Group, is linked to an offshore conglomerate used for the aerocommercial holding business with ramifications in Bermuda, Panama, and Cyprus. Efromovich used a Panamanian offshore that hid more than 20 firms located in tax havens. The conglomerate was used by Synergy Group's subsidiary Avianca Holdings in the purchase of MacAir Jet, now Avianca Argentina, aircraft company owned by Macri Group, for an amount of $10 million. Allowing Avianca to make headway in the low-cost carrier business in Argentina. The Argentine government accepted this offshores as a financial guarantee to assign air routes to Avianca. The whole operation of assigning air routes is investigated by the Argentine federal justice system in a case called "Avianca" in which the President of Argentina Mauricio Macri and other officials were imputed.[28]

DST Global

A Kremlin-owned firm, VTB Bank, put $191 million into DST Global, an investment firm part of Mail.ru Group and founded by Russian billionaire Yuri Milner, which used it to buy a large share of Twitter in 2011. A subsidiary of the Kremlin-controlled Gazprom funded an investment company that partnered with DST Global to buy shares in Facebook, reaping millions when the social media giant went public in 2012. Twitter similarly went public in 2013. The US government sanctioned VTB in 2014 because of the Russian military intervention in Crimea, but DST Global had by then sold its stake in Twitter. Four days after the Facebook IPO, a DST Global subsidiary sold more than 27 million shares of Facebook for approximately $1 billion.[29]

Glencore

In 2009, Glencore, an Anglo–Swiss multinational commodity trading and mining company, loaned $45 million to Israeli billionaire Dan Gertler in exchange for his help with officials of the Democratic Republic of Congo in negotiations over a joint venture with state-owned Gécamines at the Katanga copper mine.[30][31] The current DRC president, Joseph Kabila, the son of Laurent Kabila, who sold Congolese diamond rights to Gertler, then used the proceeds to take power in a coup.[citation needed]

One of the Katanga board members was Glencore major shareholder Telis Mistakidis, a former employee whose stock options made him a billionaire in the IPO. Glencore, which had effectively taken over Katanga, agreed to vote for the joint venture. The loan document specifically provided that repayment would be owed if agreement was not reached within three months. Gertler and Glencore each have denied wrongdoing. Appleby had worked for Glencore and its founder Marc Rich on major projects in the past, even after his indictment in 1983.[32][33] Rich was indicted in the United States on federal charges of tax evasion and making controversial oil deals with Iran during the Iran hostage crisis.[34] He received a controversial presidential pardon from U.S. President Bill Clinton on 20 January 2001, Clinton's last day in office.[35]

A separate ICIJ project found that tax auditors in Burkina Faso accused a Glencore subsidiary of deducting from its taxes "fictitious" payments to other Glencore subsidiaries, and of selling the zinc from its mine (to another Glencore compary) in unrefined form to minimize its revenue, which it publicly said in 2015 had not recovered from a 2017 downturn. Its CEO told shareholders before this that it expected a spike in demand, which did materialize. The mine is owned by Nantou Mining SA, which is owned by Merope Inc, a Bermuda shell company set up by Appleby with directors provided by the firm. Glencore sold Merope in April 2017 but before that it was 100% owned by Glencore Finance (Bermuda) Ltd, which was, according to a document from the Paradise Papers leaks, 100% owned by Glencore Group Funding Ltd of the United Arab Emirates, an entity in turn 100% owned by Swiss firm Glencore International AG, itself a wholly owned subsidiary of Glencore plc, registered in Jersey.[36]

Documents were also discovered discussing Glencore's desire to keep its substantial stake in SwissMarine a secret, and that although the subsidiary's annual report showed revenues of $1.9 billion in 2014, Glencore does not mention it in its disclosures to the London Stock Exchange or any other public filing because, it said, it did not consider this a significant investment.[37]

The Australian branch of Glencore has been demonstrated to have carried out some $25 billion in cross-currency interest rate swaps, complex financial instruments the Australian Taxation Office suspects of being used to avoid paying taxes in Australia.[38]

Nike

Appleby documents detail how Nike boosted its after-tax profits by, among other maneuvers, transferring ownership of its Swoosh trademark to a Bermudan subsidiary, Nike International Ltd. This transfer allowed the subsidiary to charge royalties to its European headquarters in Hilversum, Netherlands, effectively converting taxable company profits to an account payable in tax-free Bermuda.[39] Although the subsidiary was effectively run by executives at Nike's main offices in Beaverton, Oregon – to the point where a duplicate of the Bermudan company's seal was needed – for tax purposes the subsidiary was treated as based in Bermuda. Its profits were not declared in Europe and came to light only because of a mostly unrelated case in US Tax Court, where papers filed by Nike briefly mention royalties in 2010, 2011 and 2012 totaling $3.86 billion.[39] Under an arrangement with Dutch authorities, the tax break was to expire in 2014, so another reorganization transferred the intellectual property from the Bermudan company to a Dutch commanditaire vennootschap or limited partnership, Nike Innovate CV.

Dutch law treats income earned by a CV as if it had been earned by the principals, who owe no tax in the Netherlands if they do not reside there. One in six dollars of foreign profit earned by US multinationals was earned, at least on paper, through a Dutch CV subsidiary. Companies with similar structures include Tesla, NetApp and Uber.[39]

Odebrecht

Appleby managed 17 offshore companies for Odebrecht, a Brazilian conglomerate, and at least one of them was used as a vehicle for paying bribes in the Operation Car Wash. Some of these offshore companies are publicly known to operate for Odebrecht in Africa and be involved in bribes. Among those involved in the operation who also are named in the papers are Marcelo Odebrecht, Brazilian businessman and former Odebrecht' CEO, his father Emílio Odebrecht and his brother Maurício Odebrecht.[40]

PokerStars

Appleby and various banks in the Isle of Man, including Conister Bank which is owned by Arron Banks and Jim Mellon, had business with PokerStars and its founders, Mark Scheinberg and his father Isai Scheinberg, until it was sold for $4.9 billion in 2014 to The Stars Group, formerly known as Amaya. PokerStars and its founders were pursued by the US Department of Justice for allegedly money laundering billions until they negotiated a settlement in 31 July 2012.[41] The Stars Group along with its former member of board of directors Wesley Clark and former CEO David Baazov also did business with Appleby. In March 2016, David Baazov and other executives were charged by Canadian regulators with multiple securities fraud charges related to the acquisition of PokerStars.[42][43]

LITIGATION

On 18 December 2017 it was reported that Appleby had issued legal proceedings against the BBC and The Guardian for breach of confidence. The BBC and The Guardian said they would "vigorously" defend the action.[118]

A lot of persons and countries were also named and directly pointed at with facts. Read more on the International Consortium of Investigative Journalist (ICJI)'s website.

HIVE

9 November, 2017

Today, 9 November 2017, WikiLeaks publishes the source code and development logs to Hive, a major component of the CIA infrastructure to control its malware.

Hive solves a critical problem for the malware operators at the CIA. Even the most sophisticated malware implant on a target computer is useless if there is no way for it to communicate with its operators in a secure manner that does not draw attention. Using Hive even if an implant is discovered on a target computer, attributing it to the CIA is difficult by just looking at the communication of the malware with other servers on the internet. Hive provides a covert communications platform for a whole range of CIA malware to send exfiltrated information to CIA servers and to receive new instructions from operators at the CIA.

Hive can serve multiple operations using multiple implants on target computers. Each operation anonymously registers at least one cover domain (e.g. "perfectly-boring-looking-domain.com") for its own use. The server running the domain website is rented from commercial hosting providers as a VPS (virtual private server) and its software is customized according to CIA specifications. These servers are the public-facing side of the CIA back-end infrastructure and act as a relay for HTTP(S) traffic over a VPN connection to a "hidden" CIA server called 'Blot'.

The cover domain delivers 'innocent' content if somebody browses it by chance. A visitor will not suspect that it is anything else but a normal website. The only peculiarity is not visible to non-technical users - a HTTPS server option that is not widely used: Optional Client Authentication. But Hive uses the uncommon Optional Client Authentication so that the user browsing the website is not required to authenticate - it is optional. But implants talking to Hive do authenticate themselves and can therefore be detected by the Blot server. Traffic from implants is sent to an implant operator management gateway called Honeycomb (see graphic above) while all other traffic go to a cover server that delivers the insuspicious content for all other users.

Digital certificates for the authentication of implants are generated by the CIA impersonating existing entities. The three examples included in the source code build a fake certificate for the anti-virus company Kaspersky Laboratory, Moscow pretending to be signed by Thawte Premium Server CA, Cape Town. In this way, if the target organization looks at the network traffic coming out of its network, it is likely to misattribute the CIA exfiltration of data to uninvolved entities whose identities have been impersonated.

The documentation for Hive is available from the WikiLeaks Vault7 series.

DEC 2017 – NEW YORK CITY SUBWAY ATTACK – BANGLADESHI FIREWORK PIPE BOMB

OFFICIAL OVERVIEW

On December 11, 2017, a pipe bomb partially detonated in the subway station adjoining the Port Authority Bus Terminal in Midtown Manhattan, New York City, injuring four people including the suspect. Mayor Bill de Blasio described the incident as "an attempted terrorist attack."[1] The suspected bomber was identified by police as 27-year-old Akayed Ullah, a Salafi Muslim immigrant from Bangladesh.[2]

EVENTS

At approximately 7:20 a.m., during morning rush hour, a pipe bomb partially detonated in the New York City Subway's Times Square–42nd Street/Port Authority Bus Terminal station, within the underground passageway between Seventh and Eighth Avenues. The suspected bomber was taken to Bellevue Hospital for treatment.[3][4] There were four non-life-threatening injuries.[5] According to the city's fire department commissioner, the suspect suffered burns to his hands and torso while three bystanders had "ringing ears and headaches."[6][7] The bombing severely disrupted subway service for several hours, leading to a slight decline in ridership.[8]

SUSPECT

After the incident, the New York City Police Department arrested a "would-be suicide bomber" armed with a pipe bomb (which was filled with sugar and Christmas tree lights[9]) and a battery pack. The suspect was identified as 27-year-old Brooklyn resident Akayed Ullah.[10][1]

One year after he arrived in the US, his father died. He subsequently converted to Salafism and pressured his family to pray regularly and adopt conservative religious beliefs.[2] Ullah's wife and child live in Bangladesh,[11] where he kept books by Muhammad Jasimuddin Rahmani, the spiritual leader of extremist group Ansarullah Bangla Team which is linked to the terror group al-Qaeda in the Indian Subcontinent.[12][11] Ullah wrote handwritten notes on his passport, including "O AMERICA, DIE IN YOUR RAGE." [13] He was a licensed cab driver from March 2012 to March 2015. He had posted a warning on Facebook, "Trump you failed to protect your nation", before the attack.[14][15][16] Prosecutors allege he told police after the blast "I did it for the Islamic State."[13]

After being questioned, Ullah explained he was "following ISIS on the internet and reading Inspire magazine".[17] Through online instructions, he learned how to make the explosive device.[16] A law enforcement source told CNN that Ullah said he carried out the attack in response to recent Israeli actions in Gaza.[18][19] The Associated Press, however, reported law enforcement sources told them he was retaliating against U.S. military aggression.[20] He also sought reprisal for American air attacks on Muslims in Syria and elsewhere.[16][21][22] According to statements by law enforcement officials, reported in The New York Times, he chose the Times Square area because of its Christmas-themed advertising.[23]

Ullah had at times frequented the Masjid Nur Al Islam, a mosque in Kensington, Brooklyn, which was placed on the NYPD Intelligence Division's "Mosques of Interest" list in 2004. Four members of the mosque are also on the NYPD's "Most Dangerous" list.[24]

Visa status

Ullah is a permanent U.S. resident.[25] His uncle won a diversity visa lottery which enabled him to bring Ullah to the United States under the family reunification provisions of the Immigration and Nationality Act of 1965.[26][27][28]

LEGAL PROCEEDINGS

Ullah was charged with possessing a criminal weapon, making terroristic threats and supporting an act of terrorism.[29]

REACTION

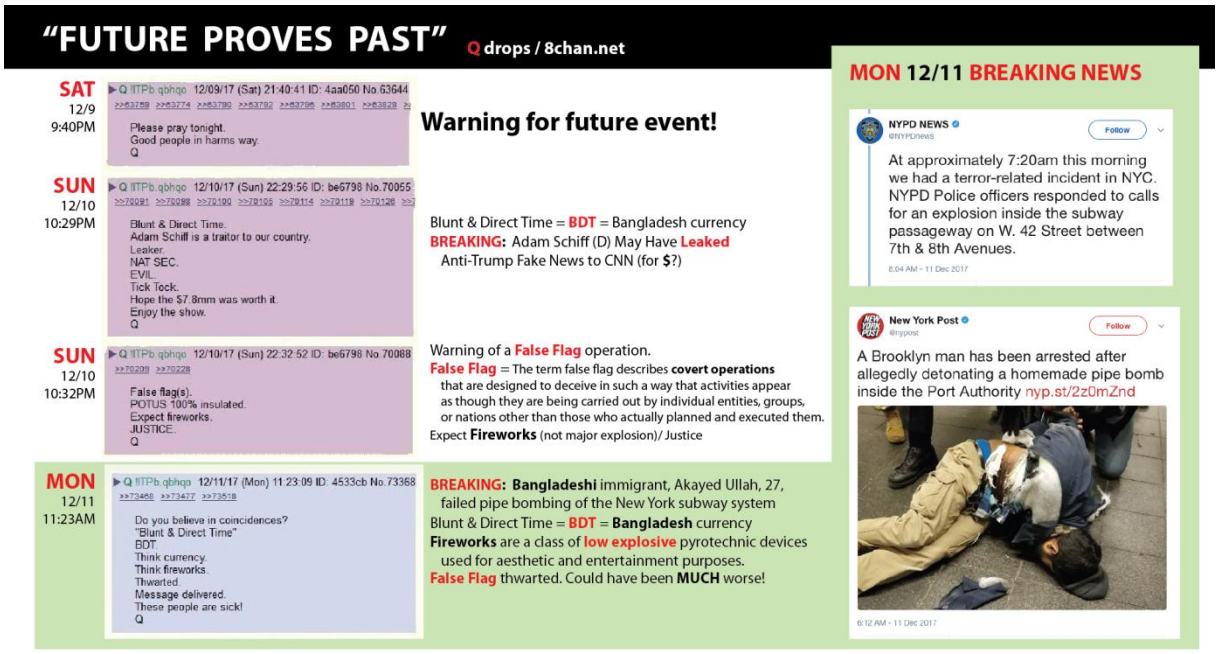

President Donald Trump said, "There have now been two terrorist attacks in New York City in recent weeks carried out by foreign nationals here on green cards. The first attacker came through the visa lottery, the second came through chain migration. We're going to end both of them."[13][30][31] He called for the end of the Diversity Immigrant Visa and chain migration after this attack, and had made a similar statement following the October 31, 2017, truck attack in Lower Manhattan.[32]

The Bangladeshi consulate in New York City condemned the attack and reiterated the Bangladeshi government policy of zero tolerance against terrorism.[33] Bangladeshi-Americans in New York City denounced the attack, as well as President Trump's suggestion to end chain migration.[34] Bangladesh's Counterterrorism Police stated that they did not find a link between Ullah and domestic terrorist groups in Bangladesh. The counterterrorism police also said that they had placed his family members under surveillance after the attack.[35]

DEC 2017 - ATLANTA'S AIRPOWER POWER OUTAGE INCIDENT

OFFICIAL OVERVIEW

On December 17, 2017, the airport suffered a power outage due to a fire in an underground Georgia Power electrical facility. The outage began shortly after 1 p.m. ET. Tens of thousands of passengers were stranded and over 900 outgoing flights had to be cancelled. Power was restored to one concourse by 7:30 p.m. ET. The FAA maintained that the tower was functional throughout the outage. However, flight operations were disrupted as the concourses did not have power.[113][114][115][116] The effects of the power outage spilled into the following Monday with flights continuing to be cancelled despite power being partially restored at the airport.[117]

DEC 2017 - AMTRAK TRAIN'S INCIDENT NEAR DUPONT, WASHINGTON.

OFFICIAL OVERVIEW

On December 18, 2017, Amtrak Cascades passenger train 501 derailed near DuPont, Washington, United States. It was the inaugural southbound revenue service run on the Point Defiance Bypass, a new passenger rail route south of Tacoma, Washington. The bypass was intended to reduce congestion and separate passenger and freight traffic, and was designed for faster speeds and shorter travel times (from Seattle to Portland about ten minutes less) than the previous route used by Cascades.[1]

The lead locomotive and all twelve cars derailed while approaching a bridge over Interstate 5 (I-5). The trailing locomotive remained on the rails. A number of automobiles on southbound I-5 were crushed and at least three people on board the train died. The train derailed a short distance from where the new route merges with the previous route.

Preliminary data from the data recorder showed that the train was traveling 50 miles per hour (80 km/h) over the speed limit when the incident happened.[2]

JAN 2018 – AMTRAK GOP TRAIN CRASH, CROZET, VIRGINIA.

OFFICIAL OVERVIEW

The Crozet, Virginia train crash was a railway accident that occurred on January 31, 2018. A chartered Amtrak train named Congressional Special Train 923, following the route normally used by the Amtrak Cardinal and carrying a group of politicians and lawmakers from the Republican Party, collided with a garbage truck at a level crossing at Lanetown Road in Crozet, Virginia, 12 miles west of Charlottesville, Virginia. The train was chartered by Republican lawmakers for transportation from Washington Union Station to an annual retreat at The Greenbrier in White Sulphur Springs, West Virginia.[2] Several politicians brought their spouses and children with them for the trip; no members of the general public were passengers.

Aftermath of the crash with the trash strewn about the accident site.

CRASH

Initial reports indicate that the train struck a garbage truck operated by Time Disposal at a railroad crossing at Lanetown Road near Crozet. The crossing is protected by flasher lights and gates, which were operating at the time of collision. According to a witness, the train sounded a prolonged warning with its horn as the truck was trying to cross the track.[3] According to an Albemarle County Police Department statement, 28-year old truck passenger Christopher Foley died; he had mistakenly been identified by some as the driver. Another passenger was airlifted in critical condition, and the truck driver was taken to the hospital in serious condition.[2] Passengers on the train reported minor injuries. Amtrak reported that two of their employees were injured.[4]

Several politicians on the train made statements on the scene to media outlets. Representative Thomas Massie of Kentucky described the incident as "... loud and surprising. Some minor bumps and bruises in this car. We saw debris go by the left side of the train. The part of the truck we can see was decimated. Very relieved when the train came to a stop and still on the tracks."[1]
Six injured individuals were taken to the University of Virginia Medical Center in Charlottesville. The hospital reported that one of the injured was in critical condition.[1] One member of Congress, Representative Jason Lewis of Minnesota, was taken to the hospital with a concussion. He was treated and released, rejoining the group at the retreat in the early evening.[1]Representative Roger Marshall, M.D. of Kansas, a passenger on the train, administered first aid and CPR to the injured, as did other passengers and local residents with medical training.[6]

At 1:15 p.m. EST, the partially derailed lead locomotive was removed from the train to allow the investigation to continue. The remainder of the train was then moved back to Charlottesville Union Station where the passengers were transferred to waiting buses to continue their trip to the Greenbrier.[1]

INVESTIGATION

The crash is under investigation, with the National Transportation Safety Board (NTSB) serving as the lead investigative agency. The Federal Railroad Administration, Albemarle County Police Department, Amtrak and the Buckingham Branch Railroad, who operates the rail line for CSX Transportation, are assisting the NTSB in the investigation.[1]

FEB 2018 – PARKLAND, FLORIDA SCHOOL SHOOTING

OFFICIAL OVERVIEW

On the afternoon of February 14, 2018, a mass shooting occurred at Marjory Stoneman Douglas High School in Parkland, Florida, in the Miami metropolitan area. Seventeen people were killed and fourteen more were taken to hospitals, making it one of the world's deadliest school massacres.[2][3] The suspected perpetrator, Nikolas Jacob Cruz, was arrested shortly afterward and confessed, according to the Broward County Sheriff's Office.[4] He was charged with 17 counts of premeditated murder.

In September 2017, the FBI learned "nikolas cruz" had posted a YouTube comment, "Im going to be a professional school shooter", but the agency could not identify the individual who made the statement. In January 2018, it got another tip, that Cruz had made a death threat, but due to an error, its Miami field office was not notified. Police and prosecutors have not yet established a motive for the rampage and are looking into "a pattern of disciplinary issues and unnerving behavior".[5]

SHOOTING

The shooting took place during the afternoon of February 14, 2018, at Marjory Stoneman Douglas High School in Parkland, Florida. The suspected shooter, Nikolas Cruz, requested an Uber ride and was dropped off at the school at 2:19 p.m. EST.[6] He was carrying a backpack and a long bag.

Cruz entered the "freshman building",[note 2] a three-story structure containing 30 classrooms typically occupied by about 900 students and 30 teachers.[7] He activated a fire alarm while he was armed with an AR-15 style semi-automatic rifle and multiple magazines, and began shooting indiscriminately at students and teachers.[8][9][10] He had purchased the rifle legally from a nearby Coral Springs gun store in February 2017.[11] At approximately 2:21, near dismissal time, staff members heard gunfire and activated a "code red" lockdown.[12][13][14]
The shooting lasted six minutes,[15] after which Cruz abandoned his rifle on the 3rd floor of the building and left the scene by blending in with fleeing students. He walked to a Walmart, where he purchased a soda at its Subwayrestaurant. He then walked to a McDonald's and lingered before leaving on foot at 3:01.[6] At about 3:40 p.m., he was stopped by a police officer in Coral Springs—two miles from the school—and taken into custody without incident.[16][1][17] He was taken to a hospital emergency room with "labored breathing",[note 3] released after 40 minutes, then booked into the Broward County Jail.[4][18]
School surveillance cameras confirmed Cruz as the perpetrator.[19][20]

Fourteen students and three staff members were killed and many others wounded or injured, including at least 14 who were taken to area hospitals.[21][22][23] Three people remained in critical condition the next day[24] and one the day after that.[25] Of those killed, twelve died in the school, two just outside the school buildings, one on the street, and two at the hospital.[21] The dead were:[26]

- Alyssa Alhadeff, 14
- Scott Beigel, 35
- Martin Duque, 14
- Carmen Schentru, 16
- Nicholas Dworet, 17
- Aaron Feis, 37
- Jaime Guttenberg, 14
- Peter Wang, 15
- Chris Hixon, 49
- Luke Hoyer, 15
- Cara Loughran, 14
- Gina Montalto, 14
- Joaquin Oliver, 17
- Alaina Petty, 14
- Meadow Pollack, 18
- Helena Ramsay, 17
- Alex Schachter, 14

Scott Beigel, a geography teacher at the school, was shot dead after he unlocked a classroom for students to hide; some students survived because the gunman did not enter the classroom.[27][28] Aaron Feis was an assistant football coach and security guard at the school; he was shot and killed as he shielded two students.[29] Chris Hixon, the school's athletic director, was killed as he ran toward the sound of the gunfire.[30]

Fifteen-year-old Peter Wang was last seen in his Junior Reserve Officers' Training Corps (JROTC) uniform holding open doors so others could get out more quickly. Wang was called a hero and many called to bury him with full military honors.[31][32] Cadets Peter Wang, Alaina Petty, and Martin Duque were all posthumously honored by the U.S. Army with the ROTC Medal for Heroism at their services, and Wang was buried in his JROTC Blues uniform. On February 20, 2018, Wang was awarded a rare posthumous admission to the United States Military Academy.[33]

FEB 2018 – WINTER OLYMPIC GAMES – PYEONGCHANG 2018

OFFICIAL OVERVIEW

The 2018 Winter Olympics, officially known as the XXIII Olympic Winter Games (Korean: 제23회 동계 올림픽, translit. Jeisipsamhoe Donggye Ollimpik) and commonly known as PyeongChang 2018, is an ongoing international multi-sport event hosted by the county of Pyeongchang, South Korea. The county was selected as the host city in July 2011, during the 123rd IOC Session in Durban, South Africa. It marks the first time that South Korea has hosted the Winter Olympics, and the second being the 1988 Summer Olympics in Seoul.

The Winter Olympics runs from 8 to 25 February 2018. The games feature 102 events in fifteen sports, including the addition of big air snowboarding, mass start speed skating, mixed doubles curling, and mixed team alpine skiing to the Winter Olympic programme. A total of 2,952 athletes from 92 National Olympic Committees are slated to compete, including the debut of Ecuador, Eritrea, Kosovo, Malaysia, Nigeria and Singapore.

The lead-up to these Games was affected by the ongoing tensions between South Korea and North Korea, and also the ongoing missile crisis involving the country. These led to security concerns, with several countries threatening to skip the games if their safety was not ensured, including the United States. In January 2018, after their first high-level talks in over two years, North Korea agreed to participate in the Games. The countries also marched together during the opening ceremony and agreed to field a unified women's hockey team.

Ask yourself, why is NK participating in the O-games this year?
Ask yourself, why is the 'sister' w/ Pence?
Ask yourself, if controlled, how might you protect yourself and look for a way out?
Ask yourself, what is a distraction?
Ask yourself, why did Korea come together as a country v N&S?
Ask yourself, what occurred in Asia (ref pics) just prior to the O-games?
Ask yourself, what does FREED mean?
Ask yourself, do we want a WAR?
Ask yourself, who is trying to start a WAR?
Ask yourself, if a missile was launched by rogue actors, what would be the purpose?
Ask yourself, what would/should immediately start a WAR?
Ask yourself, would the PUBLIC understand the following statement: "Rogue actors (Clowns/US former heads of State) initiated a missile launch in order to 'force' the US into a WAR/conflict against X?"
Be the autists we know you are.
Those who cannot understand that we cannot simply start arresting w/o first ensuring the safety & well-being of the population, shifting the narrative, removing those in DC through resignation to ensure success, defeating ISIS/MS13 to prevent fail-safes, freezing assets to remove network-to-network abilities, kill off COC to prevent top-down comms/org, etc etc. should not be participating in discussions.
Q

It is not the first time and probly wasn't the last time Q mentioned North Korea, implying it is controlled by the Clowns In America (CIA) black hats (the bad guys), that are a part of the Cabal.

Here are 2 posts made by anons that resume it well, they are replies to Q above post:

The previous cabal plan was for North Korea to be not participating in the Olympics and to attack South Korea during the Olympics, starting WW3. Now that the CIA (cabal) is being dismantled, NK is looking to be a free country and to gain allies. If NK and SK are competing as one Korea, then it makes no sense that NK would strike SK. Pence and the sister being together provides mutual security. An attack on one would likely result in both dying. Also, if the cabal launches a missile, the U.S. and NK can communicate quickly and directly through sister / Pence. If controlled (by cabal), you can seek a way out by allying with a stronger entity (U.S.). The "Asia event" freed NK from the cabal?

>>339818

Q just told us that NK is no longer under clown control, and have come under our wing. Otherwise, Kim's sister wouldn't be seen with Pence, NK and SK wouldn't be united as one in the Olympics, and that they are now FREED. NK is no longer an "enemy", they were hostages, being used by rogues to hold the US and the world hostage. they are now FREED from that predicament. Be proud of POTUS and his work, he DID say that him and Kim could be friends...

The Cabal have been and still is trying to start World War III as they started the previous ones.

MAR 2018 – UK – SERGEI & YULIA SKRIPAL NAVICHOK POISONING

OFFICIAL OVERVIEW

Sergei Skripal is a former Russian military officer and British spy who acted as a double agent for the UK's intelligence services during the 1990s and early 2000s, until his arrest in December 2004. On 4 March 2018, he and his daughter Yulia Skripal were poisoned in Salisbury, England, with a Novichok nerve agent, according to official UK sources[3][4] and the Organisation for the Prohibition of Chemical Weapons (OPCW).[5] After three weeks in a critical condition, Yulia regained consciousness and was able to speak.[6] Sergei was also in a critical condition until he regained consciousness one month after the attack.[7][8]

A police officer was also taken into intensive care after being contaminated when he went to Sergei Skripal's house. By 22 March he had recovered enough to leave the hospital.[9] An additional 48 people sought medical advice after the attack, but none required treatment.[10][d]
In the 1990s, Sergei Skripal was an officer for Russia's Main Intelligence Directorate (GRU) and worked as a double agent for the UK's Secret Intelligence Service from 1995 until his arrest in Moscow in December 2004. In August 2006, he was convicted of high treason and sentenced to 13 years in a penal colony by a Russian court.[12] He settled in the UK in 2010 following the Illegals Program spy swap.[13] Sergei holds dual Russian and British citizenship; Yulia is a Russian citizen, and was visiting her father from Moscow.[14]

Later in March, the British government accused Russia of attempted murder and announced a series of punitive measures against Russia, including the expulsion of diplomats. The UK's official assessment of the incident was supported by 28 other countries which responded similarly. Altogether, an unprecedented 153 Russian diplomats were expelled.[15] Russia denied the accusations and responded similarly to the expulsions and "accused Britain of the poisoning."[16]

POISONING "OFFICIAL" TIMELINE

- At 14:40 on 3 March 2018 Yulia Skripal flew to Heathrow Airport from Russia.
- At 9:15 on 4 March the car of Sergei Skripal was seen in the area of London Road, Churchill Way North and Wilton Road at Salisbury.
- At 13:30 Sergei's car was seen on Devizes Road on the way towards the town center.
- At 13:40 Sergei and Yulia arrived in the upper level car park at the Maltings, Salisbury and then went to the Bishops Mill Pub in the town center.
- At 14:20 they dined at Zizzi Restaurant.
- At 15:35 they left Zizzi Restaurant.[17]
- At 16:15 an emergency services call reported that Sergei Skripal, a 66-year-old resident of Salisbury, and his 33-year-old daughter Yulia had been found unconscious on a public bench in the centre of Salisbury by a passing doctor and nurse.[18][19][20] An eyewitness saw Yulia foaming at the mouth with her eyes wide open but completely white.[21] According to a later British government statement they were "slipping in and out of consciousness on a public bench".[22]
- At 17:10, they were taken separately to Salisbury District Hospital by an ambulance and an air ambulance.[23]

According to the UK government, the two were poisoned with a nerve agent.[2] The police declared a major incident as multiple agencies were involved.[24] Following the incident, health authorities checked 21 members of the emergency services and the public for possible symptoms;[25][26] two police officers were treated for possible minor symptoms, said to be itchy eyes and wheezing, while one, Detective Sergeant Nick Bailey, who had been sent to Sergei Skripal's house, had been in a serious condition.[27][28]

On 22 March 2018, Detective Sergeant Nick Bailey was discharged from the hospital. In a statement he said "normal life for me will probably never be the same" and also thanked the hospital staff.[9] As of 26 March 2018, Skripal and his daughter remained critically ill.[29][30] On 29 March 2018 it was announced that Yulia Skripal's condition was improving and she was no longer in a critical condition.[31] On 5 April 2018 doctors said that Sergei Skripal was no longer in critical condition and was responding well to treatment.[32] On 9 April 2018, Yulia Skripal was discharged from hospital and taken to a secure location.[33][34] On 18 May 2018, Sergey Skripal was discharged from the hospital too.[35] On 23 May 2018, Yulia Skripal posed for the media for the first time after the poisoning. She stated that she was lucky to be alive after the poisoning and thanked the staff of the Salisbury hospital. She described her treatment as slow, heavy and extremely painful and she had a scar on her neck, apparently from a tracheotomy. She expressed her hope that someday she would return to Russia. She thanked the Russian embassy for its offer of assistance but said she and her father were "not ready to take it".[36]

On 17 March 2018, The Sun reported that the Skripals' vet had contacted the police on 4 March regarding the Skripals' pet cat and two guinea pigs and said the "cat and the guinea pigs were removed from the house and taken away to be assessed."[37] On 5 April 2018, British authorities said that inside Sergey Skripal's house, which had been sealed by the police, two guinea pigs were found dead by vets, when they were allowed in, along with a cat in a distressed state.[38] The guinea pigs were reported to have died of thirst; the cat was taken for testing to the Porton Down chemical weapons facility, where all three bodies were incinerated.[39]

According to the declaration, the leaders of North and South Korea agreed to work together on ending the Korean War and the Korean conflict, beginning a new era of peace and sharing commitments in ending divisions and confrontation by approaching a new era of national reconciliation, peace and prosperity and improvements to inter-Korean relations.[1]

This declaration includes the denuclearization of the Korean Peninsula.[2]

MAY 2018 – PRESIDENT TRUMP US WITHDRAW FROM THE IRANIAN NUCLEAR AGREEMENT

OFFICIAL OVERVIEW

On May 8, 2018, the United States withdrew from the Joint Comprehensive Plan of Action.[1][2][3][4] Unofficially known as the "Iran Deal" or the "Iran Nuclear Deal", the Joint Comprehensive Plan of Action is an agreement on the nuclear program of Iran reached in July 2015 between Iran, the P5+1 (the five permanent members of the United Nations Security Council—China, France, Russia, United Kingdom, United States—plus Germany)[5][6] and the European Union. In a joint statement responding to the U.S. withdrawal, the leaders of France, Germany and the United Kingdom stated that United Nations Security Council resolution endorsing the nuclear deal remained the "binding international legal framework for the resolution of the dispute".[7]

The withdrawal caused concerns in Iran due to its impacts on the economy.[8] The withdrawal was praised by American conservatives in the United States, who saw the deal as weak.[9][10] Others in the US, including the previous president Barack Obama and his vice president Joe

Biden criticized the decision by the Trump administration, while various European countries that had been signatories including the UK, France, and Germany expressed regret at the decision.[11][12]

On 17 May 2018 the European Commission announced its intention to implement the blocking statute of 1996 to declare the US sanctions against Iran illegal in Europe and ban European citizens and companies from complying with them. The Commission also instructed the European Investment Bank to facilitate European companies' investment in Iran.[13][14][15]

SOURCE: https://en.wikipedia.org/wiki/United_States_withdrawal_from_the_Joint_Comprehensive_Plan_of_Action

BACKGROUND

In July 2015, an agreement was concluded with Iran, China, France, Germany, Russia, the United Kingdom, the United States and the European Union. It provided that Iran's nuclear activities would be limited, in exchange for reduced sanctions.[16] According to the JCPOA, the President of the United States would certify - among other things - that Iran would adhere to the terms of the agreement every ninety days.[17] Leading up to the United States' withdrawl, IAEA asserted that its inspectors had verified that Iran had implemented its nuclear-related commitments since the agreement.[18] Describing the view of the U.S. State Department, Julia Frifield, the assistant secretary for legislative affairs wrote that "The JCPOA is not a treaty or an executive agreement, and is not a signed document. The JCPOA reflects political commitments between Iran, the P5+1, and the EU."[19]

With the conclusion of the agreement, then-candidate Donald Trump made the renegotiation of the JCPOA one of his main foreign affairs campaign promises[20], stating at a campaign rally that "this deal, if I win, will be a totally different deal. This will be a totally different deal. Ripping up is always tough."[21] Trump described the Iran deal with terms such as "disaster",[22]"the worst deal ever",[22] and so "terrible" that could lead to "a nuclear holocaust".[22][23] Under the Trump administration, the State Department did make that certification in March 2017 and July 2017.[24][25] On October 13, 2017, Trump announced that the United States would not make the certification provided for under U.S. domestic law, on the basis that the suspension of sanctions was not "proportionate and appropriate," but stopped short of terminating the deal.[26]

SOURCE: https://en.wikipedia.org/wiki/United_States_withdrawal_from_the_Joint_Comprehensive_Plan_of_Action#Background

INTERNATIONAL CONTEXT

The JCPOA ended some of the sanctions on Iran, but only suspended others, subject to waivers. These include waivers of oil sanctions implemented in January 2012, which require periodic re-certification. Trump had been contemplating not recertifying, and thus effectively pulling out of the deal throughout 2017. [27] According to Jarrett Blanc of the Obama administration, since the JCPOA is not a treaty but an agreement between several countries , it has no formal provisions for withdrawal, but a member of the deal could stop to comply with its obligations.[27]

Following Trump's denial of the deal, The European Union's foreign policy chief, Federica Mogherini said JCPOA was a firm decision and no one country could break the deal concluded by Britain, France, Germany, Russia, China and the European Union. She proposed a "collective process" to preserve the deal, saying: "This deal is not a bilateral agreement ... The international community, and the European Union with it, has clearly indicated that the deal is, and will, continue to be in place."[28] French President Emmanuel Macron warned President Donald Trump not to withdraw from the Iran deal, and told German magazine Der Spiegel that doing so "would open the Pandora's box. There could be war."[29] The Global Times, a Chinese newspaper, wrote that America's reputation as a major power would be undermined in the eyes of the world if it reneged on a deal simply because of a transition in government.[30]

JUN 2018 – DONALD J. TRUMP & KIM JONG-UN: SINGAPORE SUMMIT
BEFORE THE EVENT - OFFICIAL OVERVIEW

The North Korea–United States summit is an upcoming summit between the leaders of North Korea and the United States. It is scheduled to take place on June 12, 2018 at the Capella Hotel on Sentosa Island in Singapore.[2] This will be the first meeting between a sitting U.S. President and the leader of North Korea.

The White House confirmed the planned meeting between President Donald Trump and Chairman Kim Jong-un on March 8, 2018. White House Press Secretary Sarah Huckabee Sanders said that "in the meantime, all sanctions and maximum pressure must remain".[3] Kim referenced preparations for the meeting in remarks to the Politburo of the Workers' Party of Korea on April 9.[4][5]

North Korea abruptly cut off talks with South Korea on May 15, 2018, and threatened to cancel planned North Korea–U.S. summit, citing military exercises between the United States and South Korea. Nine days later, President Trump issued a statement cancelling the summit.[6] However, the following day, President Trump reversed course and left open the possibility of the June 12 Singapore summit with North Korea happening anyway, in response to a message from North Korea (who was still willing to meet with Trump and discuss denuclearization "at any time") which Trump found surprisingly friendly.[7]

On June 1, Trump announced the summit would resume as scheduled for June 12 after he met Kim Yong-chol at the White House.[8] On June 6, it was announced that Singapore was making preparations for the summit.[9]

TENSIONS, TRUMP'S CANCELLATION, AND REINSTATEMENT

American Vice President Mike Pence said on May 21, 2018, that "this will only end like the Libyan model ended if Kim Jong-un doesn't make a deal" to "dismantle his nuclear weapons program". Similar remarks were made by American President Trump on 17 May, as he described that Libya's fate is "what will take place if we don't make a deal". These comments were in reference to the killing of Libyan leader Muammar Gaddafi after military intervention by Americans and Europeans in 2011. After a NATO airstrike prevented Gaddafi's escape, the Libyan rebels captured, beat up, sodomized and executed Gaddafi. However, Libya under Gaddafi had already in 2003 voluntarily ended its nuclear weapons program and complied with conditions set by Western powers. As a result, North Korean vice foreign minister Choe Son-hui called Pence's remarks "ignorant and stupid" and threatened a "nuclear-to-nuclear showdown".[48][49][50]

Trump cancelled the summit on May 24, 2018, via a letter to Chairman Kim, writing that "based on the tremendous anger and open hostility displayed in your most recent statement, I feel it is inappropriate, at this time, to have this long-planned meeting...You talk about your nuclear capabilities, but ours are so massive and powerful that I pray to God they will never have to be used." Even though it was Trump who decided to cancel, Trump told Kim, "If you change your mind having to do with this most important summit, please do not hesitate to call me or write."[51][52]

South Korean President Moon was left "very perplexed" by Trump's cancellation, while the South Korean minister in charge of inter-Korean affairs Cho Myoung-gyon said that North Korea "remains sincere" on "efforts on denuclearization and peace building".[53]

In response to Trump's cancellation, North Korean vice foreign minister Kim Kye-gwan expressed his country's "willingness to sit down face-to-face with the US and resolve issues anytime and in any format", being "open-minded in giving time and opportunity to the U.S." for the "peace and stability for the world and the Korean Peninsula".[53] Trump's cancellation had come on the day North Korea had detonated explosives at its only known nuclear test site, at Punggye-ri in front of international journalists; North Korea claimed that this would have demolished the test site.[54]

On May 25, however, Trump announced that the summit could resume as scheduled following a "very nice statement" he received from North Korea and that talks were now resuming.[55]

The following day, White House Press Secretary Sarah Sanders confirmed in a statement that a "pre-advance team for Singapore will leave as scheduled in order to prepare should the summit take place." The team, consisting of about thirty staffers from both the White House and State Department, met with North Korean counterparts over Memorial Day weekend.[56]

On May 30, North Korean general Kim Yong-chol arrived in New York City to meet with U.S. Secretary of State Mike Pompeo.[57] Negotiations between Kim and Pompeo continued the next day, and Pompeo later stated at a press conference that "good progress" had been made.[58] Kim Yong-chol, who is the Vice Chair of Central Committee of the Workers' Party of Korea, is the highest-ranking North Korean official to visit the U.S. since 2000 (when Jo Myong-rok met with U.S. President Bill Clinton in Washington, D.C.).[59][60][61]

On June 1, Trump announced the summit would resume as scheduled for June 12 after he met Kim Yong-chol at the White House.[62] Kim Yong-chol delivered a letter from Kim Jong-un to Trump,[63] of which Trump first told reporters that it was "a very nice" and "a very interesting letter", yet eight minutes later Trump said "I haven't seen the letter yet. I purposely didn't open the letter".[64][65]

On June 6, the Wall Street Journal reported that President Trump's lawyer, Rudy Giuliani said that after Trump cancelled the summit, "Kim Jong Un got back on his hands and knees and begged for it [to be reinstated], which is exactly the position you want to put him in."[66]

OFFICIAL OVERVIEW

The 2018 North Korea–United States summit, or Singapore summit, is the first summit between a United States President and the North Korean leader. It took place on June 12, 2018 at the Capella Hotel on Sentosa Island in Singapore.[2]

The White House confirmed the planned meeting between President Donald Trump and Chairman Kim Jong-un on March 8, 2018. White House Press Secretary Sarah Huckabee Sanders said that "in the meantime, all sanctions and maximum pressure must remain".[3] Kim referred to preparations for the meeting in remarks to the Politburo of the Workers' Party of Korea on April 9.[4][5]

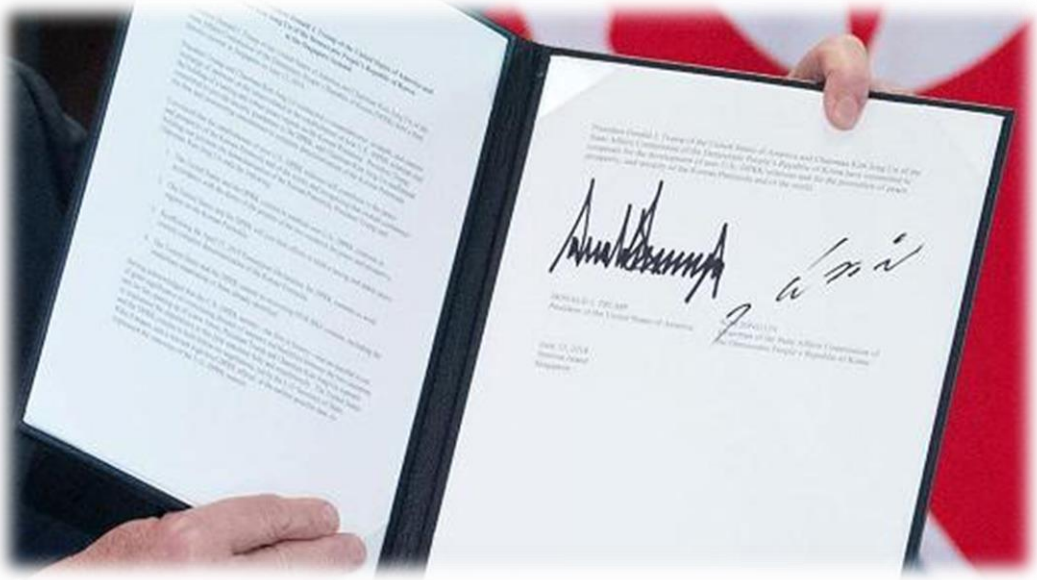

North Korea abruptly cut off talks with South Korea on May 15, 2018 and threatened to cancel the planned summit, citing Max Thunder military exercises between the United States and South Korea. On May 24, Trump cancelled the summit citing aggressive rhetoric from a North Korean official.[6] However, Trump reversed course the following day in response to a message from Kim, who said that he was still willing to meet with Trump and discuss denuclearization "at any time".[7] The United States subsequently resumed preparations for the summit, and invited Kim Yong-chol, Vice Chairman of the Workers' Party of Korea, to the White House. On June 1, Trump announced that the summit would take place as scheduled for June 12.[8]

Singapore made thorough preparations to host the summit.[9] According to Prime Minister Lee Hsien Loong, the summit had cost the Singapore government S$20 million (US$15 million), half of which was for security measures.[10]

KEY TOP SECRET PROJECTS & OPERATIONS

1945 - OPERATION PAPERCLIP

OFFICIAL OVERVIEW

Operation Paperclip was a secret program of the Joint Intelligence Objectives Agency (JIOA) in which more than 1,600 German scientists, engineers, and technicians, such as Wernher von Braun and his V-2 rocket team, were recruited in post-Nazi Germany and taken to the U.S. for government employment, primarily between 1945 and 1959; many were former members and some were former leaders of the Nazi Party.[1][2]

The primary purpose for Operation Paperclip was U.S. military advantage in the Russo–American Cold War, and the Space Race. The Soviet Union were more aggressive in forcibly recruiting (at gunpoint) some 2,000 German scientists with Operation Osoaviakhim during one night. The Joint Chiefs of Staff (JCS) established the first secret recruitment program, called Operation Overcast, on July 20, 1945, initially "to assist in shortening the Japanese war and to aid our postwar military research".[3] The term "Overcast" was the name first given by the German scientists' family members for the housing camp where they were held in Bavaria.[4] In late summer 1945, the JCS established the Joint Intelligence Objectives Agency (JIOA), a subcommittee of the Joint Intelligence Community, to directly oversee Operation Overcast and later Operation Paperclip.[5]

1946 – OPERATION HIGHJUMP (ANTARCTICA)

OFFICIAL OVERVIEW

Operation Highjump, officially titled The United States Navy Antarctic Developments Program, 1946–1947, was a United States Navy operation organized by Rear Admiral Richard E. Byrd, Jr., USN (Ret), Officer in Charge, Task Force 68, and led by Rear Admiral Richard H. Cruzen, USN, Commanding Officer, Task Force 68. Operation Highjump commenced 26 August 1946 and ended in late February 1947. Task Force 68 included 4,700 men, 13 ships, and 33 aircraft. Operation Highjump's primary mission was to establish the Antarctic research base Little America IV.[1][2]

Highjump's objectives, according to the U.S. Navy report of the operation, were:[citation needed]

1. Training personnel and testing equipment in frigid conditions;
2. Consolidating and extending the United States' sovereignty over the largest practicable area of the Antarctic continent (publicly denied as a goal even before the expedition ended);[citation needed]
3. Determining the feasibility of establishing, maintaining, and utilizing bases in the Antarctic and investigating possible base sites;
4. Developing techniques for establishing, maintaining, and utilizing air bases on ice, with particular attention to later applicability of such techniques to operations in interior Greenland, where conditions are comparable to those in the Antarctic;
5. Amplifying existing stores of knowledge of electromagnetic, geological, geographic, hydrographic, and meteorological propagation conditions in the area;
6. Supplementary objectives of the Nanook expedition (a smaller equivalent conducted off eastern Greenland).[2]

1947 – OPERATION WINDMILL (ANTARCTICA)

Operation Windmill (OpWml) was the United States Navy's Second Antarctica Development s Project, an exploration and training mission to Antarctica in 1947–1948. This operation was a follow up to the First Antarctica Development Project known as Operation Highjump. The expedition was commanded by Commander Gerald L. Ketchum, USN, and the flagship of Task Force 39 was the icebreaker USS Burton Island.

Missions during Operation Windmill varied including supply activities, helicopter reconnaissance of ice flows, scientific surveys, underwater demolition surveys, and convoy exercises.

The icebreaker USS Edisto (AG-89) sailed on 1 November 1947 for the Panama Canal to rendezvous with the Burton Island for the expedition.[1][2]

1950 – PROJECT MOCKINGBIRD

OFFICIAL OVERVIEW

Operation Mockingbird was an alleged large-scale program of the United States Central Intelligence Agency (CIA) that began in the early 1950s and attempted to manipulate news media for propaganda purposes. It funded student and cultural organizations and magazines as front organizations.

According to writer Deborah Davis, Mockingbird recruited leading American journalists into a propaganda network and oversaw the operations of front groups. CIA support of front groups was exposed after a 1967 Ramparts magazine article reported that the National Student Association received funding from the CIA. In the 1970s, Congressional investigations and reports also revealed Agency connections with journalists and civic groups. None of these reports, however, mentions an Operation Mockingbird controlling or supporting these activities.

A Project Mockingbird is mentioned in the CIA Family Jewels report, compiled in the mid-1970s. According to the declassified version of the report released in 2007, Project Mockingbird involved wire-tapping of two American journalists for several months in the early 1960s.

1950 – PROJECT MKULTRA (MIND CONTROL)

See also: Project ARTICHOKE; Project MKDELTA; Project MKCHICKWIT; Project MKOFTEN; Project MKSEARCH; Project MKNAOMI.

OFFICIAL OVERVIEW

Project MKUltra, also called the CIA mind control program, is the code name given to a program of experiments on human subjects, at times illegal, designed and undertaken by the United States Central Intelligence Agency.[1]Experiments on humans were intended to identify and develop drugs and procedures to be used in interrogations and torture in order to weaken the individual to force confessions through mind control. Organized through the Scientific Intelligence Division of the CIA, the project coordinated with the Special Operations Division of the U.S. Army's Chemical Corps.[2]

The operation began in the early 1950s, was officially sanctioned in 1953, was reduced in scope in 1964, further curtailed in 1967, and officially halted in 1973.[3] The program engaged in many illegal activities,[4][5][6] including the use of unwitting U.S. and Canadian citizens as its test subjects, which led to controversy regarding its legitimacy.4[7][8][9] MKUltra used numerous methods to manipulate people's mental states and alter brain functions, including the surreptitious administration of drugs (especially LSD) and other chemicals, hypnosis,[citation needed] sensory deprivation, isolation and verbal abuse, as well as other forms of psychological torture.[10][11]
The scope of Project MKUltra was broad, with research undertaken at 80 institutions, including 44 colleges and universities, as well as hospitals, prisons, and pharmaceutical companies.[12] The CIA operated through these institutions using front organizations, although sometimes top officials at these institutions were aware of the CIA's involvement.[13] As the US Supreme Court later noted in CIA v. Sims 471 U.S. 159 (1985) [14] MKULTRA was:

concerned with "the research and development of chemical, biological, and radiological materials capable of employment in clandestine operations to control human behavior." The program consisted of some 149 subprojects which the Agency contracted out to various universities, research foundations, and similar institutions. At least 80 institutions and 185 private researchers participated. Because the Agency funded MKUltra indirectly, many of the participating individuals were unaware that they were dealing with the Agency.[15]
Although the Supreme Court sided with the CIA that sources' names could be redacted for their protection, it nonetheless validated the existence of MKULTRA to be used in future court cases and confirmed that the CIA for 14 years performed clandestine experiments on human behavior.

Between 1953 and 1966, the Central Intelligence Agency financed a wide-ranging project, code-named MKULTRA, concerned with the research and development of chemical, biological, and radiological materials capable of employment in clandestine operations to control human behavior.

Project MKUltra was first brought to public attention in 1975 by the Church Committee of the U.S. Congress, and a Gerald Ford commission to investigate CIA activities within the United States. Investigative efforts were hampered by the fact that CIA Director Richard Helms ordered all MKUltra files destroyed in 1973; the Church Committee and Rockefeller Commission investigations relied on the sworn testimony of direct participants and on the relatively small number of documents that survived Helms' destruction order.[16]

In 1977, a Freedom of Information Act request uncovered a cache of 20,000 documents relating to project MKUltra, which led to Senate hearings later that same year.[4][17] In July 2001, some surviving information regarding MKUltra was declassified.

Forty-four American colleges or universities, 15 research foundations or chemical or pharmaceutical companies including Sandoz (now Novartis) and Eli Lilly and Company, 12 hospitals or clinics (in addition to those associated with universities), and three prisons are known to have participated in MKUltra.[18][19]

1952 - PROJECT BLUEBOOK

OFFICIAL OVERVIEW

Project Blue Book was one of a series of systematic studies of unidentified flying objects (UFOs) conducted by the United States Air Force. It started in 1952, and it was the third study of its kind (the first two were projects Sign (1947) and Grudge (1949)). A termination order was given for the study in December 1969, and all activity under its auspices ceased in January 1970.

Project Blue Book had two goals:

1. To determine if UFOs were a threat to national security, and
2. To scientifically analyze UFO-related data.

Thousands of UFO reports were collected, analyzed and filed. As the result of the Condon Report (1968), which concluded there was nothing anomalous about UFOs, Project Blue Book was ordered shut down in December 1969 and the Air Force continues to provide the following summary of its investigations:

1. No UFO reported, investigated and evaluated by the Air Force was ever an indication of threat to our national security;
2. There was no evidence submitted to or discovered by the Air Force that sightings categorized as "unidentified" represented technological developments or principles beyond the range of modern scientific knowledge; and
3. There was no evidence indicating that sightings categorized as "unidentified" were extraterrestrial vehicles.[1]

By the time Project Blue Book ended, it had collected 12,618 UFO reports, and concluded that most of them were misidentifications of natural phenomena (clouds, stars, etc.) or conventional aircraft. According to the National Reconnaissance Office a number of the reports could be explained by flights of the formerly secret reconnaissance planes U-2 and A-12.[2] A small percentage of UFO reports were classified as unexplained, even after stringent analysis. The UFO reports were archived and are available under the Freedom of Information Act, but names and other personal information of all witnesses have been redacted.

1955 – OPERATION DEEP FREEZE I & II (ANTARCTICA)

OFFICIAL OVERVIEW

Operation Deep Freeze (OpDFrz or ODF) is the codename for a series of United States missions to Antarctica, beginning with "Operation Deep Freeze I" in 1955–56, followed by "Operation Deep Freeze II", "Operation Deep Freeze III", and so on. (There was an initial operation before Admiral Byrd proposed 'Deep Freeze'). Given the continuing and constant US presence in Antarctica since that date, "Operation Deep Freeze" has come to be used as a general term for US operations in that continent, and in particular for the regular missions to resupply US Antarctic bases, coordinated by the United States military.

The impetus behind Operation Deep Freeze I was the International Geophysical Year 1957–58. IGY as it was known was a collaborative effort among forty nations to carry out earth science studies from the North Pole to the South Pole and at points in between. The United States along with New Zealand, the United Kingdom, France, Japan, Norway, Chile, Argentina, and the U.S.S.R. agreed to go to the South Pole, the least explored area on Earth. Their goal was to advance world knowledge of Antarctic hydrography and weather systems, glacial movements, and marine life. The U.S. Navy was charged with supporting the U.S. scientists for their portion of the IGY studies.

In 1955, Task Force 43 was formed to carry out this work.[1] Operation Deep Freeze I prepared a permanent research station and paved the way for more exhaustive research in later Deep Freeze operations. The expedition transpired over the Antarctic summer of November 1955 to April 1956, and was filmed by the U.S. Navy and Walt Disney Studios.[2] For having designed the emblem of Task Force 43, Walt Disney became an honorary member of the expedition.[3]

Admiral Richard Byrd on board USS Wyandot (Dec 1955)

The operation involved the following ships:

- USS Wyandot (AKA-92), freighter
- USS Arneb (AKA-56), freighter
- USS Edisto (AGB-2), ice breaker
- USS Glacier (AGB-4), ice breaker
- USCGC Eastwind (WAGB-279), ice breaker
- USS Nespelen (AOG-55), gasoline tanker
- USNS Greenville Victory (T-AK-237), merchant marine freighter

On 31 October 1956, US Navy Rear Admiral George J. Dufek [4] and others successfully landed an R4D Skytrain (Douglas DC-3) aircraft at the South Pole, as part of the expeditions mounted for the IGY. This was the first aircraft to land at the South Pole and the first time that Americans had set foot on the South Pole. The aircraft was named Que Sera, Sera after a popular song and is now on display at the Naval Aviation Museum in Pensacola, Florida. This marked the beginning of the establishment of the first permanent base, by airlift, at the South Pole (today known as the Amundsen–Scott South Pole Station) to support the International Geophysical Year. It was commissioned on January 1, 1957. The original station ("Old Byrd") lasted about four years before it began to collapse under the snow. Construction of a second underground station in a nearby location began in 1960, and it was used until 1972. The station was then converted into a summer-only field camp until it was abandoned in 2004-05.[1]The mission's 2nd base, The Byrd Station a (former) research station established by the United States during the International Geophysical Year by the U.S. Navy during Operation Deep Freeze II in West Antarctica[5].[1]The United States Antarctic Program airfield, built to service Operation Deep Freeze (first mission) was later named Williams Field or Willy Field[6].

Holy shit, I think I just figured out why POTUS announced re-election today - November 8th was election today, which, if we wind the clock, is the day we should be on today, 2/27.
"CLOCK ACTIVATED" on 2/18
"WE HEAR YOU" Q on 11/2
"I hear You" POTUS 2/21

OK Q posted "Clock Activated" on 2/18. Remember, Q started dropping Intel around 10/30. So if we "Wind the Clock" we go backwards. If we go all the way back to the beginning, things start to line up:
2/18 "Clock Activated"
2/21 3 days later. Potus has listening session with kids and parents from FL shooting. He writes "I hear you" on line 5 of a piece of paper right when Q Q posted that day "[SIG_5:5_READ]"
Three days after 10/30 is 11/2 when you posted "WE HEAR YOU." So we know that 11/2 is "IN SYNC" with 2/21 - plus the digits are the same, just reversed like a mirror. Big tip that this is our synchronization point.
Then 5 days later in the Q drops on 11/7 we have a picture of North Korea. 5 days later in reality (2/26) is the same day North Korea is in the news for chemical weapons. The next day in the Q drops was the anniversary of election victory 11/8. The next day in reality is today, 2/27, and POTUS announces reelection bid. This confirms that we are on the same time line. Matt Drudge makes himself look a little foolish to those not in the know by making a big deal over something that seems trivial (of course POTUS is running - the headlines were actually a message to we Anons that we are still on the November timeline.
Wonderful work lad.

TIMETABLE – CLOCK THEORY

Is it a coincidence that on 1/31 Q posted with 55 exclamation points and 1/31 just so happens to fall on :55 on the clock is it just a coincidence that 5:5 or 5:25 looks like a Q and also COINCIDENTALLY has 10/28 (the first Q post) as date at :25 just a coincidence that all the pen pics point to the correct time on the Q clock to correspond with their dates ?

SNOWDEN

SNOWDEN

Think Jason Bourne, Deep Dream.

Part I

What if the NSA learned of the CIA's plans, turned him and now he works for the good guys? How would that view of events color Q's drops about Snowden? What if Snowden decided he was no longer their guy, but not exactly our guy either?

> Why was Jason Bourne (CIA/Dream) repeated?

Dual Meaning. Its not just about (CIA/Dream), Snowden is Jason Bourne. Jason Bourne raided the CIA and stole the documents proving American citizens had been targeted, then gave it to someone else who blew the whistle. Bourne/Landy = Snowden/JA.

> Operations underway.
> Disinformation is necessary.

Snowden is the bridge.

His testimony will link it all together and blow the whole thing wide open. A corroborating witness to certain electronic evidence. The man who could explain he infiltrated the NSA in order to give their tech to the CIA so they could use it in ways the NSA would never have permitted.

> How did @Snowden clear customs/immigration in HK AFTER the public release?
> Why wouldn't he FIRST travel to final destination prior to public release?
> If wanted by the US govt would he be cleared to travel?
> Who provided support to escape?

He got help from the clowns, which proves the CIA was behind the Snowden leaks.

Perhaps Snowden didn't know who he could trust (like Bourne) and he's been on his own doing what he could. At a certain point, it's all circles within circles. Who can you trust? It can drive you insane. Maybe Q finally got through to him.

> @SNOWDEN
> WHERE ARE YOU?
> NOT RUSSIA.
> [EYES ON]
> YOU ARE NOW A LIABILITY.
> HELPING @JACK?
> PROJECT DEEPDREAMv2[A]].
> WE WILL NEVER FORGET.
> ES FAILED.
> WHERE IS ES?
> JOHN PERRY BARLOW.
> DEFINE THE END?
> THE DAY OF RECKONING IS UPON US.
> JOHN 3:16

Snowden was challenged to believe (trust) in POTUS/Q

For God so loved the world that He gave His only begotten Son, that whosoever believes in Him shall not perish but have everlasting life.

Snowden accepted the offer.

> GOOD.
> GO WITH GOD.
> THE CLOCK IS ACTIVATED.

CLEAN ACTION APPROVED.
HIGHEST AUTHORITY.

Following that exchange Q symbolically "wipes the slate clean" by deleting the Great Awakening board.

How does that characterize the following messages to Snowden?

Call it a shift in perspective.

Edward Snowden, NSA whistleblower, studied for a Masters degree in Computer Security at the University of Liverpool

It is believed that the former CIA technical assistant learned many skills here which informed his work for the US government

In the fall of 1989, the American consul-general in Hong Kong, Donald Anderson, asked a retired local politician to imagine the future: What might life be like after July 1, 1997, the day that Britain's century-old lease on Hong Kong would expire and socialist China would assume sovereignty over the territory? It was possible to imagine at least two distinct futures. In the mid-nineteen-eighties, the Chinese Communist Party agreed to a treaty pledging not to interfere in Hong Kong's laissez-faire capitalism for fifty years after 1997. The agreement, called "one country, two systems," would allow Hong Kong to retain its independent civil service, judiciary, financial authority, border controls, and civil liberties. It promised a future with few changes for Hong Hong, except the absence of the Crown insignia on government buildings and stationery. Then, in June, 1989, Chinese authorities sent tanks to put down pro-democracy protesters in Tiananmen Square, in Beijing. Hong Kongers watched the bloodbath on live television. Here was an alternative vision of the future under Chinese rule. Speaking just a few months after the crackdown, the retired politician answered Anderson's question by reciting a poem by Li Shangyin, a ninth-century imagist who witnessed the bloody fracturing of the Tang Dynasty. Anderson dutifully included the verse in a cable he sent back to Washington:

HOng Kong is still basically Crown ruled
When did Jonathan Evans Retire as Head of MI5? April 2013
When was Snowden done collecting his Data? April 2013
When did leave for HK? May 20 of 2013
Who could possibly protect you from the United States in Hong Kong? hmmm maybe the JUST RETIRED DIRECTOR OF MI5
This is why snowden is so important.
Who was the whole world coming after? JA
Where did Snowden request asylum? Ecuador.
I don't know what this means, but it sure looks like Snowden was coming after Assange or trying to draw him out.
Who became LORD Evans in 2014? socratic tautology.
Coincidence on feb 22 2018 HSBC announced they were resigning 1/3 of their board of directors? "
""This fella was long time partners with brennan and clapper. It sure looks like the former director of MI5 went to the exact place Snowden had supposedly left at the exact same time as he retired. Could he have been the handler? Could all of the hype of credibility these guys created around Snowden do a 180 if Snowden Flips and uses his voice to tell the truth?
What happened to that torpedo in red october? It turned around and sunk the submarine that fired it.
I think this is the Snowden story fellow anons.
Putin knows Snowden isn't in russia. So do all of the "Celebrities Clowns" Remember John Oliver's Snowden interview from Russia? Cusack? Snowden can unlock the entire disaster."
SNOWDEN works for the Crown.. not russia/china
Obama meeting with the Prince.. coincidence?
Snowden is an MI5/MI6 operation. He is a Brit. I have had this theory all along but when Q talked about the Circus yesterday and pointed to the post from Anon mentioning John LeCarre, I was totally convinced this is the truth.
Everything fits from this including the Steele dossier

I also found this post interesting:

>>606374

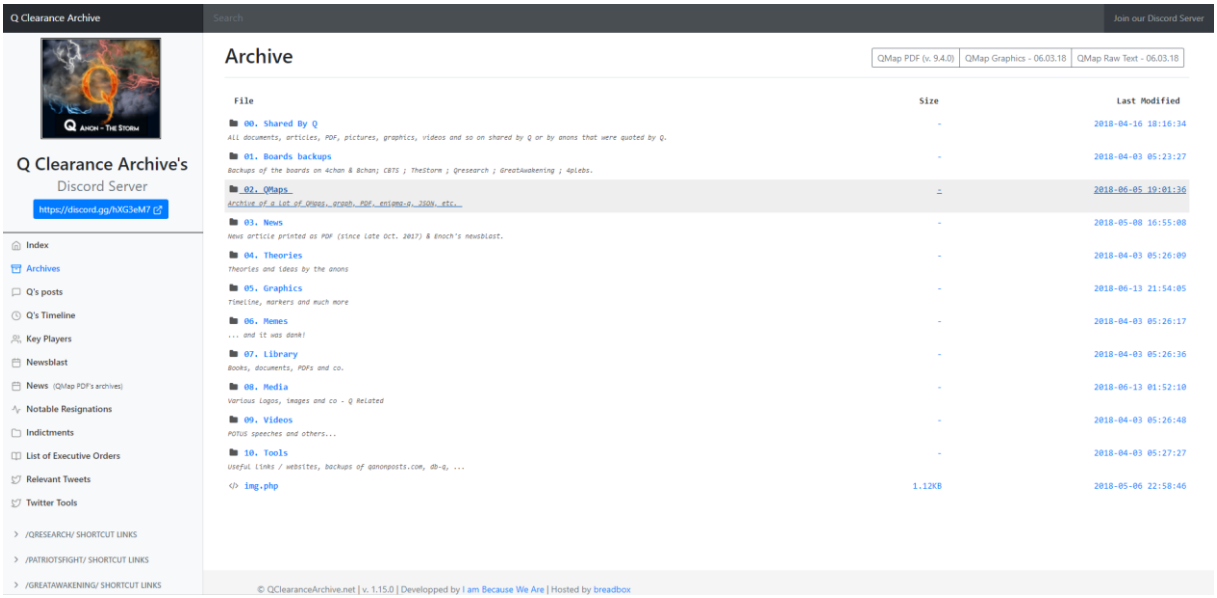

7 DWARVES = computers
Evil Queen from "SNOWWHITE" = Queen Elizabeth Windsor who poisoned the 7 DWARVES and hid data
SNOWWHITE = 3 letter agency computer systems which include the 7 dwarves
SNOWDEN = The prince that can awaken SNOWWHITE with a "kiss of true love" = encryption key to disclose data which will bring down the evil queen and her cabal
THAT is why snowden is so important

Who financed 9-11?
Who was Bin Laden's handler?
Why was the Clowns In America tasked to hunt/kill/capture UBL?
Why not MI?
If we found UBL, eliminated his security, why would we immediately kill him and not take him alive?
Why wouldn't we want to capture UBL alive and extract other possible T-level events?
Perhaps someday people will understand 'they' had a plan to conduct 'another' mass extinction event.
WWI & II - orchestrated and planned by select families?
Fantasy land.
Remember, the more people there are, the more power the people have.
Why do D's push for gun control 'directly' after every tragic incident?
Why is this so very important to their agenda?
We, the people, are who they are afraid of.
We, the people, are who they fear will one day awake.
Our Father who art in heaven,
Hallowed be thy name.
Thy kingdom come.
Thy will be done
on earth as it is in heaven.
Give us this day our daily bread,
and forgive us our trespasses,
as we forgive those who trespass against us,
and lead us not into temptation,
but deliver us from evil.

Pope Francis Suggests Changing The Words To The 'Lord's Prayer'

December 8, 2017 · 11:54 AM ET

LAUREL WAMSLEY

In an interview this week, Pope Francis criticized the phrasing about temptation in the Lord's Prayer. The pontiff is pictured here at the Vatican in April.

Pope Francis isn't pleased with the words to the Lord's Prayer — specifically, the part about temptation.

In an interview with an Italian TV network, the pontiff said that the current language of the Our Father prayer "is not a good translation."

One anon had this idea about the map and how to dimension it, how to work it and read it using the markers.

Anonymous 01/10/18 (Wed) 22:00:22 ID: 672213 No.14813

IMPORTANT MAP UPDATE

Anons, this is a graphic I made to represent the latest on my ideas for the MAP.

Please read this carefully and share any feedback, good or bad. I need to get out of my own head and to hear some ideas from other autists.

On the graphic, I have separated each interpretation as it applies to the subject, to enable modular discussion of the working theory. This way if one Idea is solid but another shaky, they can be easily considered individually.

I am not here to say that I have solved it, but merely that these ideas are new, and seem at least directionally true. I hope some anons can run with them and solve more.

The next step from here would be:

>Figuring out a method for placing the content
Probably involves timestamps of some kind
Look into modular arithmetic, I'm thinking if you run the times through mod 6, maybe you could "wind the clock" and place the object somewhere?
This is what I need help with, from all our CLOCK and TIMESTAMP anons out there especially.

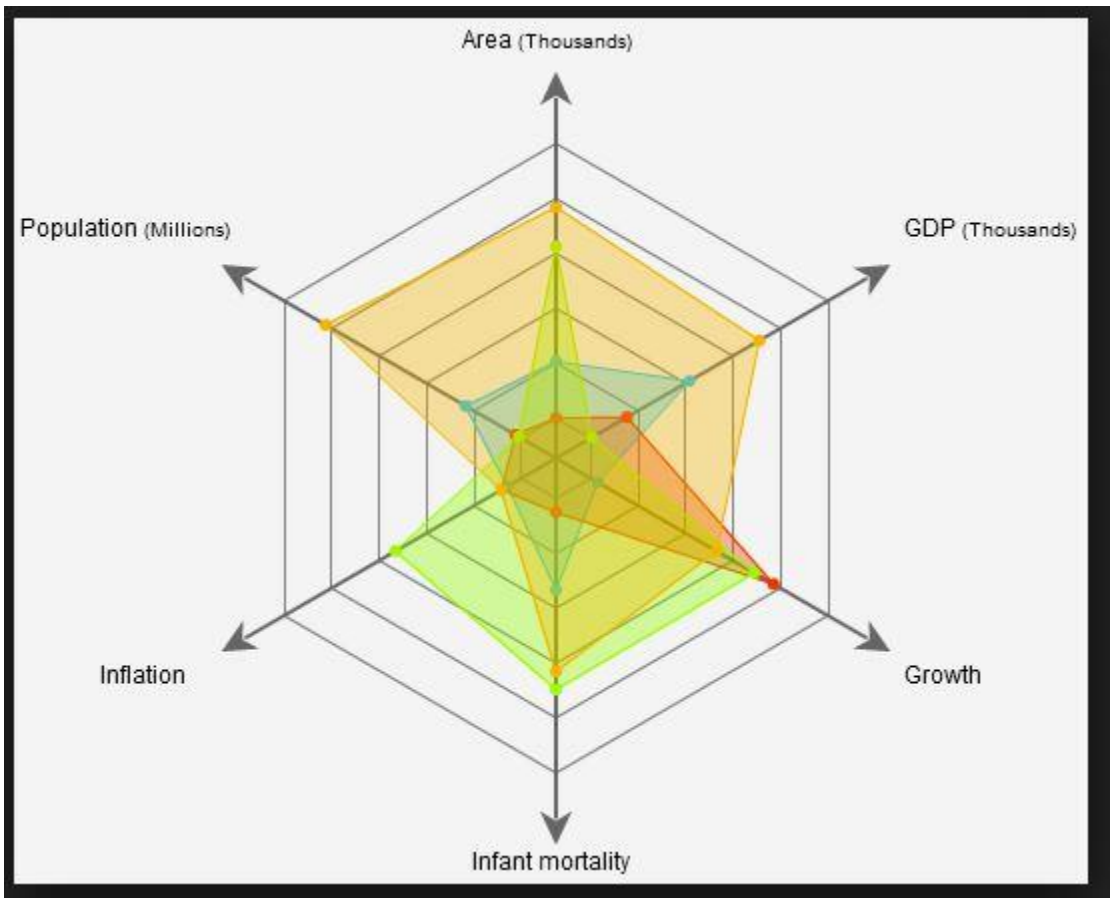

I've attached another method of tracking data on the same format (radar charts), I think it's promising as well but I don't have as developed an idea about it, so it didn't make the graphic. It doesn't fit as well with winding the CLOCK, so I am working with the other theory for now.

PLEASE TAKE TIME AND READ THIS CAREFULLY

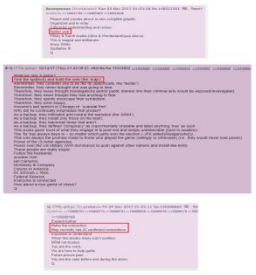

I promise you it will be more worth your time than the 15 shill posts you will read otherwise, and this shit takes me a lot of time, that I could be spent coming up with more shit.

Even if I am completely wrong, this will at least draw attention to key hints at how to read the MAP that I feel anons are mostly ignoring.

https://8ch.net/qresearch/res/14550.html#14813

LEARN TO READ THE MAP

Spiderwebs

Q has repeatedly referred to the MAP as a "spider web."

MAP has 43 connections.

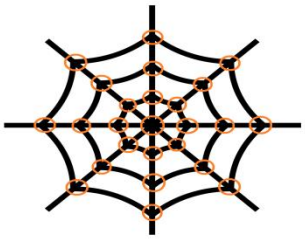

Connections on a Spider web are the intersections.

To build a web with 43 connections, the dimensions need to be 6 x 7.

6x7 = 42 (+1 for center) = 43

So we know how we are supposed to lay out the MAP, and we know the dimensions...but which way? 6 Spokes and 7 layers, or vice versa?

To confirm that, we need the Keystone

Keystone

Q has confirmed the narrative meaning of "Keystone." But didn't it bother you how often we were told to find it, and apply it to the MAP?

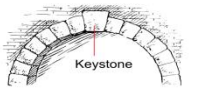

Obviously, there is more than one meaning for this term.

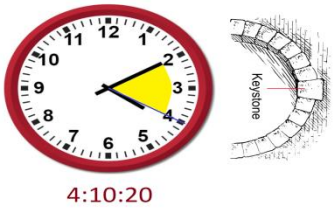

Thematically, it should be the thing that holds the entire MAP together. What makes it possible to lay out and read.

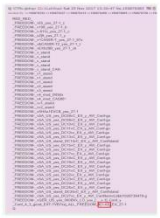

Which also brings us to 4,10,20. Yes, it spells out DJT. But obviously there is some other importance we never found.

What happens if it becomes 4:10:20 instead?

Notice the shape of the time Delta, and the exact size of it

Apply the Keystone, build the MAP

Now that we have the keystone, we know that the dimensions of the MAP will have 6 "spokes."

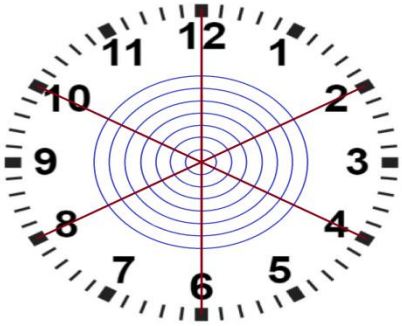

To create the 43 connections, we need 7 circles intersecting each spoke.

Now, we have created a container that can hold 42 objects, plus 1 as the center.

Q has given us this list of 43 objects, which seemingly COMMANDS that are tied to different confirmation states.

Is that what is in each "section" of the web?

Is POTUS confirming progress on this sections when he confirms a Q post with a [marker] tweet?

A MAP of hidden Progress

Q reiterates 4-10-20

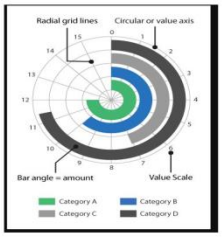

9 states still classified, ready to go-live.

34 Commands LIVE.

Total of 43.

This indicates that we are progressing through the 43 COMMANDS, with 9 more to go.

If we knew how to lay the content out on to this MAP, could we be following the progress by matching [marker] confirmations by the POTUS to a COMMAND, indicating that it is now ACTIVE?

Q/POTUS Countdown

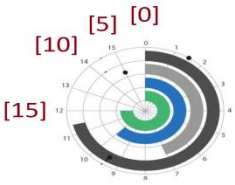

What about the [markers] that don't trigger any COMMANDS?

These are the 15-10-5-1 countdown that Q has mentioned to us.

If you think of those numbers as minutes remaining, then you can map them out on our new MAP concept.

These numbers now become an indication of the progress level that different levels are at.

CHONGQING, China — For more than a decade, Chinese automakers have been talking about starting large-scale exports to North America and Europe, prompting periodic worries in the West that companies like General Motors, Ford and Volkswagen might be crippled by Chinese competition the way they were by Japanese imports a generation ago.

DELIVERING INTELLIGENCE TO KENNEDY, JOHNSON, NIXON, & FORD
The Collection of the President's Briefing Products from 1961 to 1977
Celia Mansfield
This collection of presidential briefing products, spanning the Kennedy, Johnson, Nixon, and Ford presidential administrations, is the first large-scale release of its kind. The President's Intelligence Checklists (PICLs) [an acronym pronounced "pickles"] and The President's Daily Briefs (PDBs) in this collection include more than 4,000 documents spanning about 15 years. This is an unprecedented release because of the exclusiveness of the documents in the collection. These documents were, and still are "eyes only," all-source[1] publications written specifically for the president; they summarize the day-to-day intelligence and analysis on current and future national security issues. In addition to the PDBs and PICLs, the collection includes The President's Intelligence Review and its replacement, Highlights of the Week, as well as ad hoc supplemental products from othe intelligence organizations and annexes that feature topics of presidential interest. Unlike the PICLs and PDBs, which were prepared every day except Sunday, The President's Intelligence Review and Highlights of the Week, were only produced twice a week (see Figure 1).
A SECOND RELEASE OF THESE DECLASSIFIED DOCUMENTS IN 2016 WILL CONTAIN PDBS FROM THE NIXON AND FORD ADMINISTRATIONS.

A former colleague, Capt. Phil Croucher, said: "I shared a cup of tea with him only on Thursday morning. He was a true gentleman."
Capt Croucher continued: "He was probably the most well-respected instructor in the country. He achieved a very high position within the Army as an instructor.
"He was an absolutely dedicated instructor. If you wanted a training instructor there's no one more highly qualified. Almost everybody in the country has been instructed by him. Most instructors have been trained by him."

In finance, a dead cat bounce is a small, brief recovery in the price of a declining stock. Derived from the idea that "even a dead cat will bounce if it falls from a great height", the phrase, which originated on Wall Street, is also popularly applied to any case where a subject experiences a brief resurgence during or following a severe decline.

PENTAGON KILLS LIFELOG PROJECT
THE PENTAGON CANCELED its so-called LifeLog project, an ambitious effort to build a database tracking a person's entire existence.
Run by Darpa, the Defense Department's research arm, LifeLog aimed to gather in a single place just about everything an individual says, sees or does: the phone calls made, the TV shows watched, the magazines read, the plane tickets bought, the e-mail sent and received. Out of this seemingly endless ocean of information, computer scientists would plot distinctive routes in the data, mapping relationships, memories, events and experiences.
LifeLog's backers said the all-encompassing diary could have turned into a near-perfect digital memory, giving its users computerized assistants with an almost flawless recall of what they had done in the past. But civil libertarians immediately pounced on the project when it debuted last

Stopping Robert Mueller to protect us all Just In...
The "deep state" is in a deep state of desperation. With little time left before the Justice Department inspector general's report becomes public, and with special counsel Robert Mueller having failed to bring down Donald Trump after a year of trying, they know a reckoning is coming.
At this point, there is little doubt that the highest echelons of the FBI and the Justice Department broke their own rules to end the Hillary Clinton "matter," but we can expect the inspector general to document what was done or, more pointedly, not done. It is hard to see how a year-long investigation of this won't come down hard on former FBI Director James Comey and perhaps even former Attorney General Loretta Lynch, who definitely wasn't playing mahjong in a secret "no aides allowed" meeting with former President Clinton on a Phoenix airport tarmac.
With this report on the way and congressional investigators beginning to zero in on the lack of hard, verified evidence for starting the Trump probe, current and former intelligence and Justice Department officials are dumping everything they can think of to save their reputations.
But it is backfiring.

History will show the Obama administration as the most corrupt in US history.
They were in good shape up until Donald Trump defeated Hillary Clinton. Then, the house of cards started to fall.

As a federal prosecutor, Giuliani was credited with bringing the "perp walk", parading of suspects in front of the previously alerted media, into common use as a prosecutorial tool.[36] After Giuliani "patented the perp walk", the tool was used by increasing numbers of prosecutors nationwide.[37]

Is Q real? Do you believe in coincidences?

Context:

- MSM published inaccurate story about Donald Trump Jr collusion with WikiLeaks, had to retract
- This is very embarrassing to MSM and plays into Trump's rallying cry that MSM is FAKE NEWS
- MSM claims confidential sources gave them the story -- Q drops hints that CA Representative Adam Schiff was MSM source
- Speculation: Adam Schiff, who sits on House Intelligence Committee, was given false information as part of a FBI sting to catch leakers
- What happens when Dems-MSM-Deep State look bad? They retaliate to distract the public (e.g., false flags events)

The individuals currently LARPing as Q Anon are claiming to have access to the 8chan source. Pic related. How is this possible? And if it isn't, then can Codemonkey confirm for us that current Q is a LARP?
Thanks.

/cbts/ Board Owner aka Baruch The Scribe. He not the BO of /sudo/ he just keep name fagging around using «The Board Owner» as the nickname (instead of anonymous) with his Super Secure Tripcode, the same as on the /cbts/ board, which has been dead silent for months now.

Q posted an image and got an error. The image was in a format that 8chan didn't recognize. 8chan returned an error saying something along the lines of: "There was an error on line 1183".
Line 1183 of post.php is a modification that we added to 8chan but wasnt merged into the openib public source code. Line 1183 sends images to our image processing server and waits to receive notification that the thumbnails were generated correctly.
>pic related

>>73155

Explain why you keep other 8chan features such as those related to the nerve center closed source when there is no reason to do so.
It doesn't matter if OpenIB works for the general public. What does matter is that you actually keep it open source. You keeping it closed source for no reason makes me think that you are compromised and running backdoored code.

>>73156

>>73155
That is exactly what they are doing. 8 chan is now being run by the clowns in America, with back-door code running in secret.

>>73158

>>73156
I don't doubt it for a second. Why chan administrators feel the need to be two faced like this makes no sense at all. First it is Sunshine, with promises to make it up with open sourcing. Then we get a software rebrand, called OpenIB. Initially, things are pushed. Then they suddenly stop completely.
It's not hard in the slightest:

git add -A git commit -m "Message."
git push

Something is being hidden.

>>73165

>>73158

The C-I-A most likely killed the original code monkey and the Sunshine coder, shut-off the code, is running it as a back door IP logger now and that explains why we get an all across the baord ban on our Google browser when we prove Q anon is a larp and a hoax. Code Monkey and Q are both Clowns in America agents. I just got my internet dropped by the clowns when typing this here. Had to come-back with a different IP to post this.

>>72878

Q can no longer be trusted. There may have been a legit Q last year...but since then the current Q is a clown op. I think the clowns took over the code monkey account also.

The Board Owner !!!ZTY0ZjM1M2UwOWM5 ID: N/A >> 72890 /sudo/ 03.26.18 GMT+1: 00:49:37

>>72887

Correct. Q was legit last year (dozens of proofs) but since Jan 5th it's been 100% LARP. Wouldn't surprise me to hear CM was comped at the same time.

>>72906

>>72890

Ok, I keep hearing this thing about Jan. 05th. Where did that story originate? I heard it spreading on cbts. Did not such a theory originate there?

Or maybe Q since inception has been a larper....considering nothing or not much of what Q has been saying since last year has actually taken place....

The Board Owner !!!ZTY0ZjM1M2UwOWM5 ID: N/A >> 73183 /sudo/ 03.28.18 GMT+1: 01:27:51

>>72906

On Jan 5th, Q connected from an IP that he'd never used before. I called this out and said Q's tripcode had probably been cracked. LARP Q immediately said "IP address is the same as always" which was of course a clear lie. He then posted a bunch of illiterate made-up crap that sounded NOTHING like the real Q and summarily announced that /cbts/ was compromised - which was bullshit. Codemonkey sided with LARP Q in the confusion and claimed that he'd 'triple-checked' it was the real Q. But my mod logs show that a) Q had never used that IP before and b) he was now using the same IP for all of his subsequent posts on /thestorm/. This was clearly not Q - he used to use six different devices to post to /cbts/ as the mod logs also show.

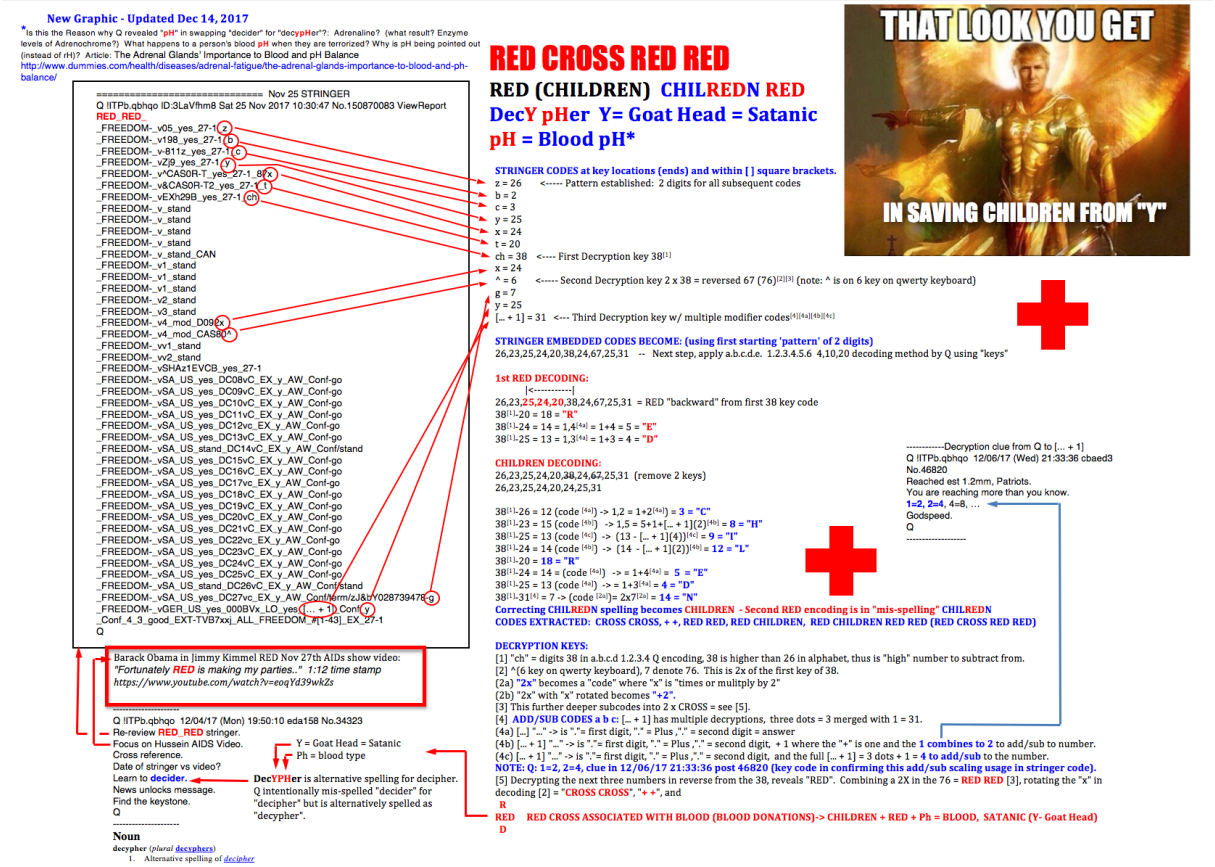

There is a lot more messages on this board, I only copied a few and the one that were mentioned by the anon quoted by Q on March 28.

But it is basically Baruch the Scribe's come back to try to delegitimize Q again, especially after the American Intelligence Media YouTube Channel's video about Q being a psyop. Those are very laughabale disruptive attempts. But anyone that actual take the time to double check or that where there when things happenned can disprove their theory.

Of course, it is only my 2 cents, as I always say, make your own opinion, research, verify !

A new conspiracy theory called "The Storm" has taken the grimiest parts of the internet by, well, storm. Like Pizzagate, the Storm conspiracy features secret cabals, a child sex-trafficking ring led (in part) by the satanic Democratic Party, and of course, countless logical leaps and paranoid assumptions that fail to hold up under the slightest fact-based scrutiny. However, unlike Pizzagate, the Storm isn't focused on a single block of shops in D.C., or John Podesta's emails. It's much, much bigger than that.

Perhaps he could not in good conscious see the world burn.
Why, hours after the election, did seven people travel to an undisclosed location to hold a very private & highly secured/guarded meeting?
Why didn't HRC give a concession speech?
When was the last time a presidential candidate didn't McCallum's interest was piqued. She asked Gowdy for additional details.

"You have this insurance policy in the Spring of 2016 and then the day after the election ... there's a text exchange between these two FBI agents -- these two (supposed to be objective, fact-centric) FBI agents saying, 'perhaps this is the first meeting of the secret society,'" Gowdy explained. "So of course I'm gonna want to know what 'secret society' are you talking about -- because you're supposed to be investigating objectively the person who just won the Electoral College."

Fascinating...on 13 Jan, Q asked if we trusted the Chain of Command. Today, @DeptofDefense tweeted about National Geographic's airing of "Chain of Command"...and there just happened to be a coffee mug in the show with the letter Q!

Fellow Patriots:
What you are about to learn should not only scare you, but intensify your resolve to take back control [Freedom]. The information that will become public will further demonstrate the criminal & corrupt [pure evil] abuse of power that the Hussein administration undertook in joint efforts w/ domestic and foreign dignitaries. The snowball has begun rolling - there is no stopping it now.

Blackwater founder and former Navy SEAL Erik Prince told Breitbart News Daily on SiriusXM that according to one of his "well-placed sources" in the New York Police Department, "The NYPD wanted to do a press conference announcing the warrants and the additional arrests they were making" in the Anthony Weiner investigation, but received "huge pushback" from the Justice Department.

The Honorable Bob Goodlatte, Chair
House Judiciary Committee
Re: Special Agent Peter Strzok
Dear Chairman Goodlatte:
I represent Special Agent Peter Strzok. I have read press reports that you are initiating the process to issue a subpoena to Special Agent Strzok to testify before your committee. While you are, of course, free to continue pursuing this process, it is wholly unnecessary. Special Agent Strzok, who has been fully cooperative with the DOJ Office of Inspector General, intends to voluntarily appear and testify before your committee and any other Congressional committee that invites him.
Very truly yours,
/s/ Aitan Goelman

James Baker, general counsel - FIRED.
Andrew McCabe, deputy director - FIRED.
James Comey, director - FIRED.
Bill Priestap, Head of Counterintelligence and Strzok's boss

Peter Strzok, Deputy Assistant Director of the Counterintelligence - cooperating witness [power removed].
Counsel - cooperating witness [power removed].
Conspiracy?
Think about the above.
Only the above.
Get the picture?

Q-Post
„Peter Strzok is a cooperating witness“

1. The poor: work and work,

2. The rich: exploit the poor,

3. The soldier: protects both,

4. The taxpayer: pays for all three,

5. The wanderer: rests for all four,

6. The drunk: drinks for all five,

7. The banker: robs all six,

8. The lawyer: misleads all seven,

9. The doctor: kills all eight,

10. The undertaker: buries all nine,

11. The Politician: lives happily on the account of all ten.

This has lasted for way too long. It obviously doesn't "work", since it is not the purpose of it for "us", it works for "them".

It is time that we end this, that everyone takes back their own power, their voice, their actions!

Be the glorious changes that you seek and want to see upon this World,

Treat others as you would like to be treated,

Love unconditionally.
